1 Foreword

Sustainability in times of upheaval

2025 was a year of challenges for sustainable investors: There was a strong headwind from the US, with the Donald Trump administration more or less openly declaring war on ESG. The climate is also rubbing off on investors, many US organisations have announced their membership in investor initiatives. This will probably not stop the megatrend in its further development.

It is obvious: In the US – but not only there – politicians are trying to turn back the clock and deny what is obvious to everyone. The following fact also remains: Those in power in Washington can deny climate change, but they will not be able to prevent it. It is real, it is upon us, and it is why most investors will continue to focus on it as fact. After all, those who buckle now will be losers in the long run. Sustainability will not disappear, but rather will increase in importance, even if it is overshadowed by other headlines. We are already seeing a significant increase in extreme weather conditions, forest fires, droughts and floods with greater and greater intensity. This puts pressure on people on the ground, as well as on companies whose business models can be put at risk overnight. In keeping with the truism that prophylaxis is always cheaper than remediation, the chances are good that sustainable solutions will eventually prevail. Citizens are not the only ones that need to keep an eye on costs; this affects public limited companies too. Anything other than a sustainable solution would simply be too expensive.

Disappointment in Belem

Unfortunately, this insight was only evident in isolated instances at the 30th Conference of the Parties (COP 30). Ten years after the success of the Paris Conference of the Parties, the major results and agreements have once again failed to materialise. However, the conference did offer the opportunity to reach agreements in smaller alliances. Despite all the disappointment, there were also encouraging signs, such as a platform for innovative approaches called the Tropical Forests Forever Facility (TFFF), which aims to turn climate and species protection into a liquid investment for institutional investors. It was important for Union Investment to be there as an investor to talk to government representatives from various countries about their precautions and contributions to climate protection. This is because, unlike with companies, it is often much more difficult for investors to obtain reliable information on government issuers (see detailed report in this report).

Meanwhile, the next stage of Union Investment's oil and gas strategy came into force last year. This stipulates that our ESG mutual funds may no longer invest in oil and gas producers, thereby impacting prominent names such as TotalEnergies, BP and Shell. From 2030 onwards, oil and gas producers will be excluded from all funds unless they have a credible strategy to adapt their production behaviour to a net-zero world. This is not only due to the concept of sustainability, but also to fundamental analysis. Companies that rely on fossil fuels as a source of income for too long run the risk of losing their intrinsic value in times of energy transition. This damage to Union Investment's portfolios and to our clients must be averted promptly.

UnionVote – Exercise of Voting Rights according to Agenda Items

1 Jan 2025 - 31 Dec 2025

For: To approve the motion.

Against: To reject the motion.

Withhold: For technical/formal reasons, some countries, especially the US, only have a choice between 'for' and 'withhold', for example when electing individual candidates to a committee. This makes 'withhold' equivalent to a rejection.

Abstain: In some cases, a deliberate abstention may be considered if the arguments provided do not constitute sufficient support for a decision. An abstention means voting neither in favour of nor against a motion. Instead, it is intended to signal to management that reservations or dissatisfaction exist, but that there are insufficient grounds for voting against the motion.

Not voted: Organisational agenda items or those that only serve to provide information are not voted on. No vote is cast in such cases.

2.3 Highlights General Meetings and Speeches

Engagement at Siemens

The general meeting of Siemens AG was held virtually on 13 February 2025. Vera Diehl, Portfolio Manager at Union Investment, represented the interests of Union Investment. Extracts from her speech:

Since Ronald Busch took over as CEO on 3 February 2021, the Siemens share has provided investors with a total return of 76%, based on share price development and dividend payments. This is slightly better than the MSCI World Industrials index at 75%, but worse than its competitors Schneider Electric and ABB, which managed 110% and 142% over the same period. In the remuneration system, MSCI World Industrials, which tracks the average of global competitors, is the official benchmark against which the Management Board's performance is measured.

The path to One Tech Company is right if it means that Siemens AG will now focus on the two most profitable business segments of digital industries and smart infrastructure and will then NO longer be a conglomerate, but rather a focused, efficient, highly profitable and fast-growing tech company that will be valued higher on the stock exchange. But the question is how to bring life to the One Tech Company.

Lay the groundwork to further reduce emissions

As a sustainable investor, Union Investment attaches great importance to environmental, social and governance-related criteria, for short: ESG criteria. Without a decisive commitment to the reduction of Scope 1, 2 and 3 emissions, climate change cannot be stopped. Siemens has finally raised the level of ambition when it comes to climate protection and put it behind it with ambitious Scope 3 targets.

We support the path we have taken and are already seeing some early successes in emissions in 2024. At the same time, the company must now lay the groundwork to continuously reduce emissions. In order to give greater emphasis to the ambitious climate protection targets in the Scope 3 area, the Siemens Management Board should be able to measure its variable remuneration against successful implementation!

What investments and changes is Siemens planning to the product portfolio in order to implement the ambitious climate protection targets in the field of product emissions? How can Siemens ensure the avoidance of human rights risks in the highly complex supply chain? What specific consequences were drawn for conspicuous suppliers in the last financial year?

With regard to the agenda, we voted against a number of points, including the format of future general meetings. The amendment to the Articles of Association authorising the virtual general meeting has become somewhat more transparent. However, we reject resolutions that do not reveal any obligation on the part of the company to allow the physical presence of shareholders at general meetings again in future. That was the case with the existing resolution, and we therefore refused to approve it. We will not issue a blank cheque for the "virtual only" option.

We also voted against the authorisation to buy back shares because the five-year term for the share buyback programmes is higher than the two-year term defined by us as the upper limit. We also rejected the exaggerated anticipatory capital resolution.

Engagement at Siemens Energy

The general meeting of Siemens Energy AG was held on 20 February 2025. Arne Rautenberg, Portfolio Manager at Union Investment, represented the interests of Union Investment. Extracts from his speech:

Rarely were “the ecstasy of joy” and “the depths of despair” so close together. The horror year of 2023, which plunged Siemens Energy's share price to 6.40, is still on our minds. But then there was a sensational comeback like a phoenix from the ashes, which pushed the share price to more than 60 euros in 15 months. There has never been such a dizzying roller coaster ride in the world of Siemens!

Christian Bruch passed through the crucible as CEO, even though not all operational problems have been solved. What lessons is the company drawing from the quality issues at Siemens Gamesa, especially in product development? When can Siemens Gamesa be profitable? These are just two of the many issues up for discussion.

When can full climate targets be expected?

As a sustainable investor, we attach great importance to compliance with ESG criteria. Without a decisive commitment to the reduction of Scope 1, 2 and 3 emissions, climate change cannot be stopped. While Siemens has finally raised the level of ambition in terms of climate protection and followed up with long-term Scope 3 targets, such a step at Siemens Energy is still in the pipeline. When can we expect full climate targets for Scope 3 beyond 2030? After initial good progress, Siemens Energy's emissions have increased significantly.

How is the company getting back on track in reducing emissions, even if there are further shifts in demand for gas power plants and wind turbines?

The remuneration system that has been proposed today and is temporarily adjusted is approved by Union Investment as an exception, even if it is unusual practice. The Management Board has produced a very good performance, which is reflected in the share price, and must also be adequately paid for this even in times of the German government's counter-guarantee. In fact, the system proposed today still has transparency weaknesses with regard to the absolute level. So we want to know: What is the planned amount of the retention component and the early exit component?

As part of the agenda, we voted against the proposed election of Feiyu Xu to the Supervisory Board, which we were unable to support because of the accumulation of board memberships. We agreed with all the other candidates proposed for election. We are particularly pleased that Joe Kaeser, who forms a tried and tested duo with Christian Bruch, is available for another term as the Supervisory Board Chairman.

Engagement at Bayer

The general meeting of Bayer AG was held on 25 April 2025. Janne Werning, Head of ESG Capital Markets & Stewardship at Union Investment, represented Union Investment's interests. Extracts from his speech:

Since the Monsanto acquisition, Bayer's market value and share price have only known one direction: down. Before that, the Group was temporarily worth more than EUR 100 billion on the stock exchange; today, it is only about EUR 20 billion, a fraction of the purchase price that Bayer paid for Monsanto. That said, the decline in recent years has not accelerated further. The company's situation is serious, but not hopeless. This is because, in addition to dark clouds, there are also bright spots: The new organisational model "Dynamic Shared Ownership" has got off to a good start, and the pharmaceutical business is no longer the problem child, thanks to new product approvals and additions to existing drugs.

But there are still dark clouds: Almost no progress is being made on reducing the debt – despite sharp dividend cuts and dynamic shared ownership. The agricultural sector, for which Monsanto has been acquired, is the new problem child: things are not running so smoothly in an operational sense, there is not much of the promised synergies between crop protection and seeds, and the wave of lawsuits in the USA continues unchecked. It's a vicious circle. Bayer has already spent USD 10 billion on settlements with plaintiffs in the U.S. and has made additional provisions of USD 5.9 billion at the end of 2024. But the money doesn't seem to be enough because Bayer asked shareholders to authorize a possible increase in the share capital by up to 35%. And that's despite the fact that CEO Bill Anderson categorically ruled out one in an interview with the Financial Times on 7 March 2024. For years, it has not been possible to resolve US litigation through generous settlements.

Why should everything be different this time and suddenly break the wave of lawsuits with more money when that has not been possible in the past?

Convincing climate strategy

At the general meeting, which once again took place only virtually, Bayer kept its distance from its shareholders instead of facing them directly on site. This is a missed opportunity. With regard to the agenda, we therefore voted against the authorisation to hold further virtual general meetings: We will not issue a blank cheque for the "virtual only" option. The Management Board and the Supervisory Board are supposed to respond to the shareholders personally, which was the case at Bayer last before the pandemic in 2019, instead of hiding and ducking away in virtual space year after year. What is possible at other DAX companies must be possible again at Bayer. And it would be very important for Bayer to regain lost shareholder trust.

As a sustainable investor, Union Investment attaches great importance to environmental, social and governance-related criteria, for short: ESG criteria. Without a decisive commitment to the reduction of Scope 1, 2 and 3 emissions, climate change cannot be stopped. We welcome the fact that Bayer is a pioneer in the field of climate protection and is once again a top performer in Union Investment's DAX 40 climate ranking. Bayer has an impressive climate strategy and should submit it to shareholders for a vote at the general meeting as a next step. Why did they decide against a "Say on Climate" in 2025, even though the plan was different? Will there be a "Say on Climate" for the first time next year? We would very much welcome that!

Engagement at Mercedes-Benz

The general meeting of Mercedes-Benz AG was held on 7 May 2025. Moritz Kronenberger, Portfolio Manager at Union Investment, represented the interests of Union Investment. Extracts from his speech:

Things are getting more and more uncomfortable for Mercedes-Benz: sales volume, revenue, margin, free cash flow and profit – and consequently also the share price and dividend – are in decline. And it's not a purely cyclical decline in business. It's a crash that was long in the making: China has problems, as do "Electric only" and US. The hope of offsetting falling sales in China with rising sales in the US has been dashed by Trump's tariffs.

The company is looking entirely to luxury products. Only purely electric luxury, but now more broadly. Luxury means scarcity. Fewer than two million vehicles sold at Mercedes-Benz Cars in 2024 are not a deliberate shortage, but merely an adjustment to the downturn. For demand to pick up now, the new models will have to offer more; otherwise the price premium will not be justified, particularly in relation to Chinese competition. What is Plan B if luxury doesn't work?

Falling behind in climate change

As a sustainable investor, we attach great importance to compliance with ESG criteria. Mercedes-Benz has formulated an ambitious climate strategy with "Ambition 2039". But the current trend is increasingly at odds with that. Mercedes-Benz has fallen back from 4th to 15th place in Union Investment's DAX 40 climate ranking. One has the impression that the sustainable transformation is stalling. The CO2 intensity of vehicle use is not falling fast enough to keep pace with global climate targets.

In the face of falling electric car sales, watered down targets and its engagement to ease EU climate regulation, how does the Group intend to maintain the credibility of its climate strategy?

The Chairman of the Supervisory Board, Dr Martin Brudermüller, is responsible for ensuring that the long-term ESG goals are not only formally enshrined in the remuneration system, but also adequately address the strategically crucial transformation challenges in terms of content – i.e. decarbonisation, human rights, resource use and security. When will these fields be systematically included in the objective? And why was there not a Supervisory Board member or committee with clear ESG responsibility at the end of the day?

Transformation is not an afterthought. It is a strategic core and should be equally weighted in compensation, oversight and control. Mercedes-Benz can set the course – but only if strategy, implementation and control reinforce each other. We are currently seeing: ambition and reality have increasingly less in common. That correlation needs to be re-established.

As part of the agenda, we voted against the re-election of Olaf Koch to the Supervisory Board because of the accumulation of offices. We also rejected the share buyback programmes as a five-year term seems to us to be too long. We consider two years to be appropriate here. We also voted against a capital measure, as the sum of all stockpile resolutions was close to 50%, well above the 20-percent threshold, which we consider appropriate. We also opposed the authorisation to hold further virtual general meetings. The Management Board and the Supervisory Board are expected to answer the shareholders personally, which was the case at Mercedes Benz most recently before the pandemic in 2019.

Engagement with RWE

The general meeting of RWE AG was held on 30 April 2025. Dr Henrik Pontzen, Chief Sustainability Officer at Union Investment, represented the interests of Union Investment. Extracts from his speech:

Like the year before, 2024 was a weak year for RWE shares. Once again, the share certificates underperformed the DAX 40 Index and RWE investors also suffered significant discounts compared to the SX6P sector index. When RWE shares rose 10%, the DAX rose 21% over the same period and the peer group rose 22%.

So the share price doesn't fit in. The strategy, however, does. The world needs more and more green energy and RWE produces it. This is and will remain the right approach to a successful future. We are also convinced by the capital discipline shown. What is missing are opportunities to invest profitably. The problem is not RWE. The problem is that policymakers still lack the power and competence to create the necessary framework conditions. An example of this is the federal government's power plant strategy. There still has not been a call for tenders for hydrogen-capable gas power plants. Coal-fired power plants have still not been released from the capacity reserve in case of spikes in electricity prices. Germany's oft-invoked energy transition, though better, is still slow-going. One thing is clear: This energy transition can only be achieved with RWE. There are great opportunities for the company here and great responsibility too because RWE is critical for the system in Germany. The Group should become even more involved in the public debate and use its influence as a key shareholder of E.ON.

With Donald Trump's second term as US president, the US market for RWE is likely to have declined significantly for the foreseeable future.

The risks of international expansion are becoming apparent here. The Group's reluctance to invest is accordingly consistent. But what happens next? Patience and renunciation alone do not create a future. We believe that the next step is very clear. If capital cannot currently be invested profitably, it should be distributed – directly through a special dividend. There is no point in distributing capital indirectly through share buybacks.

However, the distribution alone does not lead us into the future. Do the ambitious expansion plans – especially outside Germany – still hold up in light of the outlined environment and the obvious risks? What is next for the green hydrogen project?

Leadership in sustainable transformation

As a sustainable investor, Union Investment attaches great importance to compliance with ESG criteria. Over the past few years, RWE has been steadily and systematically moving forward in the sustainable transformation against which we measure all companies, and has recently even been at the forefront of Union Investment's DAX 40 climate ranking. We invest in companies that reliably pursue ambitious targets. The objectives of RWE are ambitious: net-zero via Scope 1, 2 and 3 until 2040. We see and recognise the consistent approach. The company should keep its course and pace towards a sustainable future.

With regard to the agenda, we voted against the authorisation to hold virtual general meetings. We agreed with all the other agenda items.

Engagement with BASF

The general meeting of BASF SE was held on 02 May 2025. The interests of Union Investment were represented by Arne Rautenberg, who at the time was Group Leader and is now Head of Equity Portfolio Management at Union Investment. Extracts from his speech:

With seven interconnection locations soon – two in Europe, two in North America and three in Asia – BASF is positioned for the future and has all the prerequisites to be economically successful. It is right and necessary to concentrate on the network and to let go of the non-core business. In its new strategy, the Group is refocusing on what it does best and what it is.

As a sustainable investor, Union Investment attaches great importance to environmental, social and governance-related criteria in addition to the key financial figures, for short: ESG criteria. Despite some progress, we still see the greatest need for improvement in climate protection. Without a decisive commitment to the reduction of Scope 1, 2 and 3 emissions, climate change cannot be stopped. BASF has now set a long-term Scope 3 upstream target. This is a big step in the right direction. When will BASF extend its Scope 3 target to the downstream sector? Or: When can we at least expect an extension of the circularity objective?

?BASF stands for chemistry for a sustainable future.? This aspiration, formulated in the integrated company report, must be made tangible.

In an environment of globally diverging sustainability efforts, how seriously is the company still taking sustainability? Why is there still no Supervisory Board member with clear ESG responsibility or committee?

No blank cheque for virtual general meetings

With regard to the agenda, we voted against the authorisation to hold further virtual general meetings: We will not issue a blank cheque for the “virtual only” option. The Management Board and the Supervisory Board should be able to answer the shareholders personally instead of hiding in the virtual domain and avoiding the issue. There is no reason for this, especially as BASF is known for successful general meetings. Hopefully, next year back in person and back in Mannheim.

Engagement with BMW

The general meeting of BMW AG was held on 14 May 2025. Janne Werning, Head of ESG Capital Markets & Stewardship at Union Investment, represented Union Investment's interests. Extracts from his speech:

Not only are Germany's car companies in a profound technological upheaval; they are now also caught in the maelstrom of a global trade war. BMW cannot escape this either – one look at the weak share price performance makes that clear. For now, the group remains convinced that China is experiencing a cyclical slowdown, not a structural one. How long will BMW continue to watch its volumes decline before it decides to show a bit more resolve in its countermeasures? With regard to tariffs: BMW produces many models in the USA, but also exports from the USA to China. How is the company dealing with this reality? How does this exacerbate the China problem?

There is also reason for hope. Electric vehicle sales are encouraging. Given the strong demand, BMW would probably have independently met the EU CO2 requirements for 2025. The margin parity of the combustion engine and electric drive is also within sight thanks to significant cost savings for the new generation of batteries. The hybrid design makes BMW independent of political decisions for or against either technology. What more has to happen for combustion engines and electric cars to achieve the same margins in BMW?

Transformation process deserves recognition

We pay particular attention to ESG criteria. BMW has positioned itself strategically clearly in the transformation process of the automotive industry in recent years. That deserves recognition.

We welcome the fact that CO2 emissions from the new EU fleet per kilometre have fallen again and that BMW has included upstream emissions as a key performance indicator since 2024.

Transparency on target paths, intermediate objectives and governance tools is very important.

The company pursues ambitious goals with its climate strategy, particularly with regard to Scope 3 emissions throughout the value chain. At the same time, it is advocating at the political level for powertrains to be regulated in a technology-open manner starting from 2035. How is it ensured that this is compatible with the long-term climate objectives of the BMW Group – and how is this consistency checked internally?

From the point of view of Union Investment: BMW should stay on track and maintain its course. We expect strategic clarity and a proactive attitude. Possible shifts in the regulatory framework must not lead to ambitious climate targets being relativised or necessary transformation processes being slowed down. Reliability in implementation is crucial – both for the company and for us as investors.

As concerns the agenda, we therefore voted against the authorisation to hold further virtual general meetings. We also rejected the share buyback programmes because we think a five-year term is too long.

Engagement with Commerzbank

The general meeting of Commerzbank AG was held on 15 May 2025. Union Investment represented the interests of Alexandra Annecke, Senior Portfolio Manager at Union Investment. Extracts from her speech:

In the twelve months before the general meeting, the Commerzbank share has provided investors with a total return of 77 percent, based on share price performance and dividend payments. Over five years, the figure amounts to 669 percent. This is a sensational outperformance compared to the STOXX Europe 600 banking index, which generated 42 percent over one year and 291 percent over five years.

The armament industry is still not sustainable for us as an ESG investor and is therefore not permitted for sustainability funds. But Germany needs more investment in armament and defence – both state and private. This development affects not only industry, but also the financial sector, and in particular presents new strategic and ethical considerations to banks.

How much can Commerzbank maximise its engagement in the defence sector? Does it also see risks here? If so, what are they? Which policy changes are needed and which types of weapons should continue to be excluded?

Banks play an important role in tackling climate change

Banks also play an important role in combating climate change. First of all, we welcome the fact that Commerzbank remains firmly committed to climate-related transformation. The path to net zero is also convincing in our view.

But Commerzbank is ranked 20th in Union Investment's current DAX 40 climate finance, which is 15 places worse than a year ago. The other companies have caught up.

In this context, we see more potential in terms of transparency and ambition, such as sustainable lending. We consider the conversion from an absolute target of EUR 300 billion to a sustainable loan ratio of ten percent to be a sensible development – but we still see the target as capable of expanding. What is the current level of this quota? And should it be raised further? If so, on what time frame?

With regard to the agenda, Union Investment voted against the remuneration report because the criteria between short-term incentive (STI) and long-term incentive (LTI) did not appear sufficiently separate in the current remuneration system. In addition, we rejected the authorisation to hold a virtual general meeting because, among other things, we lacked a clear explanation of the specific conditions under which the Management Board intends to make use of the authorisation. The remarks were too vague. We will not issue a blank cheque for virtual general meetings.

Engagement at Deutsche Börse

The general meeting of Deutsche Börse AG was held on 14 May 2025. Union Investment represented the interests of Alexandra Annecke, Senior Portfolio Manager at Union Investment. Extracts from her speech:

At Deutsche Börse, the signs are pointing to a new beginning. After seven years as CEO, Theodor Weimer has handed over the baton to Stephan Leithner. After 16 years as CFO, Gregor Pottmeyer handed over to Jens Schulte and Martin Jetter handed over to Clara-Christina Streit after five years as Supervisory Board Chairman. So many changes in leading positions at once are very unusual and often signal a crisis.

Artificial intelligence (AI) is a key driver of innovation in the financial industry. Deutsche Börse also wants to be a technological pioneer in this area. As a sustainable investor, it is therefore important to Union Investment that not only economic benefits, but also environmental and social impacts are taken into account when implementing AI. The company should therefore establish clear governance structures to ensure ethical standards, transparency and sustainability in dealing with AI. So we asked: What social and environmental impact does the use of AI have on Deutsche Börse and its stakeholders?

New remuneration system with minor weaknesses

The Group put a new remuneration system to the vote at the general meeting. We saw minor weaknesses in the details. The level of ambition of the relative total shareholder return appeared cautious compared to the newly selected peer group.

In this context, we would welcome it if the composition of the peer group were to be more closely aligned with Deutsche Börse's specific business model and international footprint in future. In our view, it would also make sense to take traditional profitability ratios into account in order to provide a holistic picture of operating performance. Finally, a focus on social KPIs in the current ESG environment is highly commendable - nevertheless, we suggested reflecting all three ESG components in a balanced relationship to Deutsche Börse's business model. Overall, however, the new remuneration system fulfils the basic criteria from Union Investment's perspective.

With regard to the agenda, we voted against a capital measure, as the potential volume of all anticipatory resolutions was too high for us at over 40 percent. We consider 20 percent to be appropriate. In addition, we spoke out against the authorisation to hold a virtual general meeting because, among other things, we lacked a clear explanation of the specific conditions under which the Management Board intends to make use of the authorisation. We will not issue a blank cheque for virtual general meetings. There is no reason for this, as Deutsche Börse is known for its successful general meetings in person.

Engagement at Deutsche Post

The general meeting of Deutsche Post AG was held on 2 May 2025. The interests of Union Investment were represented by Dr Vanda Rothacker, Senior ESG strategist at Union Investment. Extracts from her speech:

An investment in DHL was not favourable in the year before the general meeting, because, while the DAX 40 index gained a good 25 percent, DHL shareholders had to accept a loss of just under one percent even after taking the dividend into account.

However, their capital market communication was not reliable. No sooner had the company confirmed at its capital market conference for 2030 in September that it would reach the lower end of its own EBIT forecast had it issued a profit warning just a few weeks later. This does nothing to strengthen the confidence of investors.

Important milestone in diversity

Let us now turn to a topic that is very important to Union Investment as a sustainable investor: Compliance with ESG criteria, i.e. environmental, social and governance-related aspects of corporate management.

The transformation in the logistics sector is complex. It requires long-term planning and social responsibility. DHL has made significant progress, in particular by continuing to develop its decarbonisation strategy and strengthen its governance structures. This development must be continued.

DHL has positioned itself ambitiously with the goal of net zero by 2050 and a binding interim target of less than 29 million tonnes of CO2 by 2030. This is an expression of clear climate responsibility. The task now is to implement the climate strategy in operations. Ambitious goals require concrete, reliable measures and progress reports. When will the Group deliver them by?

The company has reached an important milestone in terms of diversity: The target of increasing the proportion of women in the first two management levels below the Management Board to at least 30 percent by 2025 was achieved. This is not only statistically significant, it is a sign of equality in practice. It is particularly positive that DHL is not content with this, but has set itself a new target of at least 34 percent by 2030. We expressly welcome this, because diversity is not just a passing fashion: diversity is important.

In terms of governance, the company deserves high praise. It has strengthened its governance structures and moved up from 5th place to 2nd place in Union Investment's corporate governance ranking. The fact that our long-standing demand for independence in the chairmanship of the Audit Committee was fulfilled also contributed to this. We also welcome the fact that the remuneration system proposed today finally includes ESG criteria in the long-term remuneration component.

As part of the agenda, we voted against the share buyback programmes, as we consider a term of 5 years to be too long. We also voted against the authorisation for the virtual general meeting. We lack a concrete idea of when DHL would like to make use of this authorisation and how the virtual GM should be structured exactly while fully complying with shareholders' rights.

Engagement at Deutsche Telekom

The general meeting of Deutsche Telekom AG was held on 9 April 2025. Dr Henrik Pontzen, Chief Sustainability Officer at Union Investment, represented the interests of Union Investment. Extracts from his speech:

2024 was a perfect year for Telekom and its shareholders. With a sensational outperformance, the T share not only outperformed the DAX 40 index and the telecommunications sector, but also the global share index MSCI World.

As a sustainable investor, Union Investment attaches great importance to environmental, social and governance-related, for short: ESG criteria. Without a decisive commitment to the reduction of Scope 1, 2 and 3 emissions, climate change cannot be stopped. We welcome the fact that Telekom is a pioneer in the field of climate protection and is once again a top performer in Union Investment's DAX 40 climate ranking.

But from an ESG perspective, apart from climate protection, it's not all sunshine and roses at Telekom: Therefore we ask: What measures has the Group taken to prevent further data breaches, in particular by T-Mobile US? How will it be ensured that the introduction of the new AI phone takes social and environmental risks into account, prevents the spread of fake news and achieves positive effects for society?

The remuneration system: Good work - good money, that much is clear. Mr Höttges has done a brilliant job. It is only fair that this should also be appropriately remunerated. So far we are in agreement. Nevertheless, the adjustment of the remuneration system raises questions. A system should establish rules that are universally valid and thus act as a guide. Should it now be a new rule that CEOs only stay on if a kind of retention bonus is offered and upper limits are arbitrarily extended? That can't be right. However, this is suggested by the reasons given.

The fact that the current CEO was prepared to extend his mandate early once again should be taken into account. We assume that Timotheus Höttges will remain with Telekom for longer because he has impressive plans for the company and identifies with it.

However, the elephant in the room is not the maximum remuneration, but the question of an organised succession plan for the CEO. How does the Supervisory Board ensure that the course for a successful future beyond the Höttges era is set now? And what is the current status of succession planning?

Vote against discharge

With regard to the agenda, Union Investment voted against the discharge of the Supervisory Board as the chair of the Audit Committee is not independent. Dagmar Kollmann cannot be considered independent due to her long-standing membership of the Supervisory Board since 2012. In addition, the composition of the Supervisory Board committees must be criticised due to a lack of independence. The Audit Committee is not just any committee, it is as important to the company as brakes are to a car. When it comes to independence, we cannot make any compromises. We also rejected the authorisation for a virtual general meeting. The 'when and how' was too vague for us. We also spoke out against the planned share buyback programmes. At five years, they significantly exceed the term of two years that we consider appropriate. We refused to approve the remuneration system for the reasons stated.

2.5 Engagement in the Spotlight

VW departs Xinjiang: The long way to the goal

It was a great success, a confirmation of the years of work and a sign that engagement is working. In 2024, the Volkswagen Group met a year-long demand from Union Investment by announcing its withdrawal from its production site in the Chinese province of Xinjiang.

China has been accused of oppressing more than one million Uyghurs and members of other Muslim minorities in the Xinjiang region since 2017. The United Nations, international media and human rights organisations report political re-education camps, forced labour, widespread surveillance, and systematic restrictions on religious freedom. On 22 March 2021, EU Member States, coordinated with the UK, US and Canada, imposed sanctions on four Chinese authorities and party officials, as well as a facility in Xinjiang. Both the German government and the EU are speaking of serious violations of human rights in this context.

As early as November 2020, Union Investment identified 35 relevant issuers that were mentioned in media and non-governmental reports and are represented in our funds. The sectors affected were consumer goods, industry, IT and raw materials. The allegations concerned the use of forced labour products and the provision of components for surveillance technology.

Most of the 35 identified issuers stopped operating quickly in Xinjiang. At the beginning of 2024, BASF was the penultimate group leaving the region after a long engagement by Union Investment: Volkswagen was the last remaining major German conglomerate to have manufactured there as part of a joint venture – until the news came in November 2024 that Volkswagen was selling the plant.

The move was an overdue response to years of demands from Union Investment and other VW shareholders.

For almost five years, representatives of Union Investment have repeatedly contacted Volkswagen and referred to the situation in Xinjiang, the situation of the Muslims on the ground and the resulting risks for Volkswagen. Since a United Nations report recorded serious human rights violations in 2022, engagement with VW has been further intensified. At the 2023 general meeting in Berlin, which was accompanied by protests by climate and human rights activists, Union Investment publicly called on Volkswagen to appoint an external and independent audit firm to investigate VW's activities in Xinjiang. The group countered that this was only possible with the consent of the joint venture partner SAIC due to contractual obligations.

Letter to the Chief Executive Officer

In a letter to CEO Oliver Blume in May 2023, we then requested the following: “Actively engage with your partner SAIC to allow an external and independent audit firm access to your Xinjiang plant. Create transparency.

An independent and external review of the activities of SAIC Volkswagen in Xinjiang is, in our opinion, essential to achieve clarity on the observance of human rights on the ground – for us as investors, but also for our customers and the public, who are increasingly critical of your activities in the Xinjiang region. We look forward to hearing from you within the next four weeks. As an active and responsible investor, we will make this dependent on whether we can keep Volkswagen AG investable for sustainable products in the future. Because human rights are not negotiable.”

The Group make concessions: It commissioned a German appraiser to audit the Xinjiang plant and announced in December 2023 that the investigation carried out had not identified any wrongdoing on the ground. Both internal and public voices quickly expressed doubts about the audit firm's findings and pointed to significant shortcomings in the review. For example, the presence of a Chinese law firm on the ground raised questions about the independence of the audit. Confidential interviews with workers are said to have been broadcast during a live stream. There are new allegations in early 2024: Uyghur forced workers are said to have been deployed to build a test track that Volkswagen had built with Chinese joint venture partner SAIC Motor Corporation Limited in Xinjiang and has operated jointly since 2019. This test track was not the subject of the audit, which raises additional doubts as to the effectiveness of the audit carried out.

Opportunity not fully exploited

VW does not appear to have taken full advantage of the opportunity for comprehensive investigation. Against this backdrop, in February 2024, Union Investment had no choice, but to use one of the sharpest instruments in engagement. Due to the production in Xinjiang and the handling of the allegations and the demand for an independent audit, Volkswagen was excluded from all sustainable mutual funds for investment. As a result, VW's securities from the sustainable portfolios had to be sold.

Months of talks and demands followed, until the news of the stock market tickers ran on 27 November 2024: VW is selling the controversial Xinjiang plant to Shanghai Motor Vehicle Inspection Certification (SMVIC), a subsidiary of the state-owned Shanghai Lingang Development Group, in response to the demands of Union Investment and other shareholders. As a consequence, Volkswagen's securities were again investable for UI's sustainable mutual funds.

Engagement remains a challenge

However, engagement with Volkswagen remains an ongoing challenge. In particular, poor corporate governance remains the car manufacturer's Achilles heel. For example, the dual role of Oliver Blume as CEO of Volkswagen and Porsche AG is an issue. The second point of criticism concerns the lack of independence on the Supervisory Board. In fact, the structures for independent control of management are not in place within the VW Group. This means the work of portfolio management in dialogue with Volkswagen management is not finished and continues, despite its positive milestones.

Corporate governance in the spotlight

Good corporate governance is crucial for sustainable corporate success. For this reason, Union Investment has developed a corporate governance ranking with proxy adviser IVOX Glass Lewis, which is now available for the seventh time for the DAX and for the fifth time for the MDAX.

The ranking aims to raise awareness of the importance of the issue and to disclose shortcomings. At the same time, companies should see the ranking not as criticism, but rather as an incentive. Then the capital market becomes the engine for good corporate governance, benefiting companies and shareholders alike. What is important is: Corporate governance should not be considered in isolation, but should be seen in a broader ESG context. Union Investment, as trustee of its clients, seeks to actively support companies in the transition towards greater sustainability. After all, sustainability has become fundamental.

The score has worsened

In the DAX, it was 2.8 (previous year: 2.7) and in the MDAX 3.6 (previous year: 3.3), which is down from the previous survey of the ranking. The ranking was slightly revised and the bar was slightly higher in terms of requirements. One focus was on criteria where there is still room for improvement. We have, for example, looked even more closely at the composition of the Supervisory Board, the remuneration of the Management Board and the proportion of women in top management than in previous years. It became clear that: The proportion of women in management remains a shortcoming. Only 13 companies in the Dax achieve a 30-percent share of women on the board. Only eight companies show this ratio at the two management levels below.

This is unsatisfactory because such a low proportion does not create a pool of candidates. A threshold of 30% would be necessary for the diversity criteria to lead to the desired result. Furthermore, the issues of independence and the accumulation of offices amongst Supervisory Board members remain perennial in view of governance deficits.

But there are also bright spots: For example, there are slight improvements in the independence of individual positions across all companies – e.g. in the Chair of the Remuneration Committee. There is also a small improvement in the accumulation of offices, but it is still too big. On the positive side, it was surprising that the discharge rates of Supervisory Board members have increased in general meetings. Overall attendance is also higher than in previous years. More and more companies are setting up sustainability committees and committing to a biodiversity policy. Companies are making progress on many issues, but are still too slow. Implementation is moving slowly.

Infineon tops the list

The top performer in the DAX with a score of 2 is Infineon, ahead of Deutsche Post and Deutsche Börse. Infineon presents the competence profile of the Supervisory Board in a very transparent manner. It can be seen how the assigned competencies are reflected in the CVs of the committee members. Unfortunately, few companies offer this, so Infineon is a clear model here. In addition, the Bavarian semiconductor manufacturer has an impressively broad level of independence on the Supervisory Board, which also applies to the Chairman of the Supervisory Board and the Chair of the Audit Committee. The remuneration structures are presented transparently, and there is no accumulation of offices on the Supervisory Board.

E.ON and Mercedes Benz as well as Merck and RWE also received scores of 2. The laggards are Porsche AG with a score of 5+ and Porsche Automobil Holding SE with 5. The biggest improvers are Merck, Beiersdorf and Deutsche Telekom, and the companies that deteriorated the most were Vonovia, SAP and MTU.

Real estate group leads in MDAX

In the MDAX, TAG Immobilien leads the field with a score of 2-, while eight companies do not achieve the minimum score of 50 points required for a sufficient performance: Bechtle, Rational, United Internet, Auto1 Group, Hypoport, Nemetschek, CTS Eventim and Traton. In view of the major differences in grades in the MDAX, it is important to note: If you look further down the rankings, many companies still have some homework to do.

80 questions for companies

The ranking is based on 80 questions on seven topics relevant to Union Investment when assessing corporate governance: 1. Capital, 2. Management Board, 3. Supervisory Board, 4. Management Board remuneration 5. Supervisory Board remuneration, 6. Audit and 7. Transparency and shareholder rights. The collected data points are weighted on a rating scale from 0 to 3. A maximum of 100 points can be reached. The total score is translated into a school grade system: A minimum of 50 points must be achieved for sufficient performance (score 4). The ranking is purely quantitative in terms of the best possible objectivity and comparability and is based on a broad data base. The valuation basis for all companies is the publicly available data as of January 2025.

Engagement trip leads to Uganda

The oil and gas company TotalEnergies is facing serious allegations over production projects in Mozambique and Uganda. Leon Ließem, ESG analyst in portfolio management at Union Investment, inspected the situation on the ground.

The field trip was quite unique, explains Ließem – “both for me personally and for the ESG team?”. The research is based on serious environmental and human rights allegations against TotalEnergies in Uganda and Mozambique. Union Investment is in conventional funds and was heavily invested in the ESG funds in phases. “So the reputational risk for us was high, which is why we have had an intensive engagement dialogue with the company for some time.” The group operates several pipelines and platforms in the region, and the criticism carries real weight. As a consequence of the controversy, several major rating agencies downgraded the company. “TotalEnergies is no longer investable for our sustainable funds because of the allegations, but also because of our oil and gas strategy?”, explains Ließem.

Expropriation along the pipeline

In Uganda, the project that Ließem was able to visit, several thousand people are also said to have been forcibly dispossessed and poorly compensated along the EACOP pipeline. At the same time, environmental organisations are warning of the danger to fragile ecosystems on the ground. TotalEnergies therefore faces major legal and reputational challenges.

We have repeatedly called for an independent investigation into the allegations because the company has always rejected the allegations.

But TotalEnergies failed to do so, citing the sovereignty of Mozambique and Uganda. So a stalemate situation arose that Total wanted to resolve. So the group invited Union Investment and other investors to show first hand what the situation is like on the ground in Uganda.

Violation of the UN Global Compact

In principle, in the case of controversies of this kind, there is always the question of violating the UN Global Compact, which could also have relevance for the conventional investment funds of Union Investment. In contrast, TotalEnergies' very high portfolio relevance, as well as the close and transparent relationship that has long existed between Union Investment and TotalEnergies.

However, Ließem didn't just want to rely on the company's portrayal during the field trip. He arranged appointments with a local NGO in advance to hear a version different from the one the company wanted to present. Frankly, I already had the impression that TotalEnergies had gone to great lengths in Uganda to cushion the impact of the drilling project, reports the ESG analyst. Of course, drilling for oil in a nature reserve is always very worrying from a sustainability perspective, but we had insights into biodiversity management and discussions with the Ugandan Wildlife Authority, and the company at least made an ambitious impression.

However, some ambiguities remained. For example, TotalEnergies operates a drilling platform called Kingfisher, which operates in a joint venture with CNOOC and is also operated by the Chinese company, even though TotalEnergies holds 60 percent of the stake. The NGOs say they do not have access to Kingfisher, although there are said to be major problems there.

Other issues concern the level of compensation, further restrictions on the work of local NGOs and also environmental and biodiversity interventions.

Human rights in focus

In particular, however, the focus was on transparency regarding human rights issues. At the heart of the matter are the serious controversies in Mozambique and the resettlement in Uganda. The project directly or indirectly affects about 13,000 people in Uganda and Tanzania, with several hundred households having to be relocated. There is still a lot to be done here, says Ließem. How much was revealed when he compared the information from TotalEnergies with the way the NGOs portrayed the situation to be. An example: TotalEnergies says they have relocated and provided compensation to 99 percent of people. The NGO says that 99 percent of households are involved, and a household in this region can also be defined as a tribe, with a total of 50 to 100 people. When ownership structures – such as for land and property – are unclear in a family structure like this, it becomes a problem. This is particularly true because in many cases they are former community property. In some families, there are legal disputes because of this, and TotalEnergies can and will – naturally – only make payments once these issues have been resolved. On the whole, that is not satisfactory.

At first, Ließem's research journey did not change the assessment of the issuer. The exclusion for TotalEnergies for the sustainable funds remains. However, he has brought away many points that will help with future engagement with the group. Both sides now know exactly what they are at, and TotalEnergies is well aware of what needs to be done to meet the engagement demands made by Union Investment – e.g. for an independent investigation.

It also helps Union Investment, as a trustee, to be able to better assess and minimise the risks of investing in TotalEnergies. I think that is a promising starting point and reinforces our ambition as an investor to actively evaluate such controversies and risks.?

COP 30: Reason to hope

As an active investor, it is always necessary to get in touch in person, directly and on the ground. Sometimes you have to go a long way to get there. Bastian Grudde, Senior ESG Analyst in Portfolio Management at Union Investment, attended the COP 30 Climate Change Conference in Belem, Brazil, in November.

The location was chosen carefully by the organisers. For the first time in years, the COP was held in a country that is itself in urgent need of effective climate and species protection. The venue in the middle of the Amazon made the effects of climate change directly tangible - heat, heavy tropical rainfall and the need for climate adaptation. "You realise here every day that climate protection is essential for survival," emphasises Grudde. The conference was very eventful. The Brazil's diplomats may have set important topics right from the start of the conference through their professionalism and great commitment and brought positive energy to the negotiations. Particularly noteworthy was the commitment of Brazilian President Lula da Silva, who surprisingly put the key issue of phasing out fossil fuels on the agenda.

Brief interruption

However, there were also tangible incidents such as the clashes between security forces and indigenous demonstrators, which led to a brief interruption of the negotiations. This has shown how much pressure the indigenous population there is under: Climate and species protection are not abstract issues in the Amazon, but are crucial to daily survival in an acutely endangered ecosystem. Towards the end of the conference, however, the producers of fossil fuels were able to assert themselves on key points.

Great frustration and tensions were palpable at times, for example in connection with the threatened departure of the European delegation and the eventual agreement to a minimal compromise.

Despite the sometimes disappointing results, there were some real reasons for hope. “There are also many encouraging points in the details that are relevant for us as investors,” says Grudde. This includes, for example, tripling the funding for climate adaptation over the next ten years. At the same time, various new alliances were formed at the conference that can achieve real progress - and thus also create new opportunities for sustainable investments. An example: Around 80 countries have joined forces to draw up a roadmap for phasing out fossil fuels and will develop joint plans in the coming year to organise the phase-out outside the official UN processes if necessary.

50,000 conference participants

The issue of climate protection was highly relevant for Union Investment in Belem, not only for environmental reasons, but also for economic ones. With around 50,000 participants, the conference offers the opportunity to make contact with numerous stakeholders. “In Belem, I sought contact with diplomats from almost 20 countries in which we have significant investments,” reports Grudde. In some countries, such as Denmark, Portugal, Sweden, Finland or Chile, the talks focussed on climate adaptation, i.e. protection against flooding, heat or drought. For countries such as Canada and Indonesia, the focus was more on inadequate climate protection targets.

Recognisable benefits for clients

Direct engagement with diplomats and representatives of ministries offers recognisable benefits for Union Investment and its clients. As an active investor, reliable and, in the best case, exclusive knowledge is an important competitive advantage. “What we do is also largely based on the fact that we know which local sources we can trust when it comes to major environmental or human rights controversies, for example. At the conference, I was also able to talk directly with representatives of NGOs from South America and establish new contacts with experts who are monitoring climate change where it is relevant for us as investors. For us, participation also means a real edge in knowledge,” says Grudde.

Search for new investment opportunities

In addition to the topic of engagement, other aspects also play an important role. Another goal in Belem was to find investment opportunities for us, particularly in the areas of climate adaptation and species protection. Both issues are highly relevant for Union Investment, but it has been difficult to turn them into liquid investments thus far. Among other things, the Climate Change Conference was a platform for innovative approaches such as the Tropical Forests Forever Facility (TFFF), which aims to make species protection a liquid investment for institutional investors. To this end, an initial USD 25 billion is to be raised from various donors. They will then be used to borrow a further USD 100 billion. The capital is then invested in bonds, primarily from emerging markets, so that the proceeds, estimated at around USD four billion per year, can be invested in protecting the rainforest.

This is highly relevant both for investors with a focus on sustainability and for investors in emerging markets, as TFFF investments are likely to be felt in the bond markets in general.

Positive conclusion

Grudde's verdict after the conference visit is positive. "As an active, sustainable investor and trustee, we have sent a clear signal and made many new contacts with state representatives at the conference." These contacts are to be intensified with a view to the future. "Following the promising start at the conference, we are therefore continuing to pursue our approach of engaging states in order to invest our customers' funds in a way that creates long-term benefits."

Principles for Responsible Investment

The Principles for Responsible Investment are six principles developed by international institutional investors under the auspices of the UNEP Finance Initiative and the UN Global Compact. These six principles serve as a guideline for investors to understand the impact of responsible investment and to take it into account in their decision-making. Supporters of this initiative commit to abide by these six principles. The principles are seen as a corset for implementing the 10 principles of the UN Global Compact in the supporters' individual investment strategies. Union Investment committed to these principles in 2010.

UN Global Compact

The vision of the UN Global Compact is to pave the way for a sustainable and inclusive global economy that brings lasting benefits to people, communities and markets. The UN Global Compact helps companies conduct business responsibly by incorporating the ten principles on human rights, labour standards, environmental protection and anti-corruption into their strategies and activities, and by taking strategic action to achieve broader societal goals such as the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

Forum Nachhaltige Geldanlagen

The Forum Nachhaltige Geldanlagen (FNG) has been the professional association for sustainable investments in Germany, Austria, Liechtenstein and Switzerland since 2001. Its aim is to provide the general public and decision-makers from politics, business and science with up-to-date and comprehensive information and thus to increase awareness of sustainable investments in the financial sector and among the general public. The aim is to strengthen the networking of the relevant actors and to demonstrate the positive steering effect of sustainable investments for society and the environment. At the same time, the aim is to help shape the political, legal and economic framework. Union Investment has been an active member of the Sustainable Investment Forum since 2010..

PRI Montréal Pledge

Carbon Disclosure Project (CDP)

Climate Bonds Initiative (CBI)

Task Force on Climate-Related Financial Disclosures (TCFD)

Details

By signing the Montréal Carbon Pledge, investors commit to measuring and publishing the carbon footprint of their investment portfolio annually. The pledge was adopted in Montréal on 25 September 2014 and is supported by the organisations Principles for Responsible Investment (PRI) and the United Nations Environment Programme Finance Initiative (UNEP FI).

CDP is an independent, non-profit, international organisation founded in London in 2000. In partnership with the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) and 655 institutional investors, CDP maintains the world's largest database of company-relevant climate information. The results serve capital market participants as information for the evaluation of CO₂ emissions, climate risks and CO₂ reduction targets of companies. In Germany, the World Wide Fund For Nature (WWF) is a long-standing strategic partner of the CDP. The CDP's overarching goal is to make CO₂ emissions transparent and tangible in order to reduce them sustainably in the long term..

The Climate Bonds Initiative (CBI) is the only organisation in the world committed to expanding the sustainable bond market. As a non-profit organisation, its goal is to create the largest possible, liquid and sustainable bond market, thereby reducing the costs of further climate protection projects in developed but also in growing markets. It supports investments in assets that promote the low-emission, resource-efficient and climate-resilient economy.

The Task Force on Climate-Related Financial Disclosures (TCFD) was established in 2015 with the aim of developing voluntary and consistent reporting on climate-related financial risks. Having fulfilled its remit, TCFD disbanded in October 2023. Access to comparable and reliable data improves the assessment, pricing and management of climate-related financial risks. Union Investments fully applies reporting standards specified by TCFD.

In this way, KnowTheChain supports companies in the fight against forced labour.

THRIVE initiative: Union Investment's human rights engagement

The THRIVE initiative was developed by the ESG team in the portfolio management of Union Investment. THRIVE is the Targeted Human Rights Investor Engagement initiative, which aims to identify, prioritise and encourage companies to take appropriate countermeasures for human rights violations directly and indirectly linked to business activities.

We are closely aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the Principles for Responsible Investment (PRI), which provide us with important guidelines and recommendations for implementing human rights due diligence obligations. As part of the THRIVE initiative, Union Investment integrates these into our structured approaches to human rights risk identification and assessment. We have developed a Human Rights Risk sector heatmap that identifies the following high risk sectors: agriculture, consumer goods, clothing, footwear, consumer goods, ICT (information and communication technology), raw materials, construction and services (hospitality and tourism).

These sectors are highly relevant because, for example, the long supply chains have a high probability of human rights violations. In addition, our initiative focuses on companies in these sectors where we are particularly highly invested and which are showing particularly poor human rights performance according to the World Benchmarking Alliance (WBA).

One example that illustrates the investment relevance of this issue is the Dakota Access Pipeline.

Here, the construction led to huge protests and legal clashes as indigenous land rights were violated. The resulting financial losses for investors and the reputational damage for the companies involved demonstrate that human rights risks can have a significant impact on financial performance. Inadequate treatment of human rights can therefore have not only moral, but also significant economic consequences.

Clear schedule for the THRIVE initiative

Q2 + Q3 2025: Start the engagement with initial discussions, accompanied by a human rights teach-in for the ESG analysts in portfolio management.

Q4 2025: Undertake an interim review to review Engagement 2.0 milestones, which include milestones such as addressing, understanding, development and implementation. Company progress is measured using THRIVE KPIs and the creation of a Union Investment Ranking.

In the event of insufficient implementation of human rights due diligence obligations, an escalation will take place in line with our established engagement escalation cascade. This may include, among other things, that in the absence of a human rights policy, we use our voting rights accordingly and, for example, do not discharge the Management Board.

CDP update

In the context of the introduction of new European standards for ESG reporting, Union Investment experts have dealt with the various requirements and maintain their preference for CDP reporting.

Union Investment has supported the work and targets of the Carbon Disclosure Project (CDP) since 2001 (see Engagement Report Q4 2019 and Q2 2021). In order for investors to be able to assess and compare environmental risks of individual companies, it is necessary for relevant data to be collected, documented and published accordingly by the corporations on a regular basis. CDP offers an internationally recognised standard. That is why we are taking action against companies that refuse to report CDP. This means that Groups that have a market capitalisation of more than one billion euros and do not disclose CDP reporting threaten consequences, for example in the form of non-discharge of the Management Board and the Supervisory Board at the general meeting.

The new European Union (EU) Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive (CSRD) now raises the question of whether it can replace CDP reporting. To start with: In our view, this would not make sense for a number of reasons.

CDP allows international comparability

CDP is an international standard. It allows and promotes comparison with non-European companies, including scoring. In addition, the ESRS standards that European companies must fulfil in order to meet their reporting requirements are currently being revised and are expected to be significantly simplified. It is likely that less climate reimbursement will be mandatory in the future.

With regard to Scope 3, it is already the case that all 15 categories are queried in the context of the CDP report, but in the context of ESRS this only happens if they have been classified as “material”. Moreover, CDP’s requirements are much more detailed in quantifying climate-related financial risks and opportunities. The greater detail depth of CDP means, for example, quantification of the “Risk”, “Region” and “Time horizon” categories, as well as a monetary range.

Expense for CDP reporting justifiable

CDP and EFRAG, the organisation responsible for sustainability reporting at EU level, cooperate to ensure widespread interoperability. The additional effort required for CDP reporting is therefore not disproportionately high in our view.

Our Proxy Voting Policy therefore remains unchanged: Union Investment insists on CDP reporting. If a company does not comply with this, we refuse to discharge the Management Board and the Supervisory Board.

New climate standards for financial institutions

The Science Based Target Initiative (SBTi) sets out scientifically validated targets for industry that they need to achieve for a lower-carbon world. Meanwhile, SBTi has also provided a standard for financial institutions.

The new set of rules was first presented in July 2025. This is a science-based framework that allows financial institutions to balance financial flow management with opportunities to limit global warming and achieve net-zero emissions by 2050 at the latest.

In the run-up to the new standard, there was intensive dialogue. The standard has been developed and tested in close consultation with financial institutions. 16 companies were involved in the pilot phase. The aim was to create a framework suitable for institutions of different sizes and with different business models. They can use the standard, for example, in their lending and investment practices as well as in capital market activities.

The standard aims to achieve the greatest possible impact. The focus on financial institutions reflects the fact that the financial industry plays a key role in mitigating climate change by managing and providing financing. The aim is to become the gold standard for financial institutions in the coming years when it comes to climate-compliant business activities. There is a lot of interest: 135 financial institutions have already announced that they will comply with the new standard and set targets for it.

The requirements placed on – for example – banks, insurance companies and asset managers are high.

They should set themselves comprehensive climate targets, both for Scope 1 and 2 and for Scope 3, i.e. emissions along the entire value chain. Institutions will also report publicly on their progress towards zero emissions. Financial institutions must review their progress at the end of each target period (five years) and set new targets if necessary. In addition, the SBTi requires detailed information on the extent to which the respective institutions are in contact with the companies, for example in the portfolio and in the lending book, and the level of engagement being undertaken.

One of the key requirements set for financial institutions to meet targets in line with the new standard is the publication of a fossil fuel transparency policy. This requires financial institutions to publish guidelines to end project financing associated with fossil-fuel expansion activities. Project financing for companies involved in the coal expansion will also be discontinued. Financing of oil and gas companies, which are expanding, is expected to end by 2030.

Union Investment is currently considering joining the SBTi. Many of the core requirements, such as the funding freeze for coal producers, the implementation of an oil and gas strategy and transparency on emissions, have already been met or under way at Union Investment.

Initiative: Net Zero Asset Managers (NZAM)

The Net Zero Asset Managers (NZAM) initiative has softened its targets and objectives due to the headwind facing sustainability in the USA. Union Investment nevertheless remains a member of NZAM and sees advantages for European providers in the development in the United States.

Union Investment has been a member of the Net Zero Asset Managers (NZAM) initiative since 2021. Until recently, the initiative stood for binding targets and standards that asset managers could use to reduce their CO2 emissions to net zero by 2050. The members have been committed to this since the initiative was founded in 2020.

In the wake of increasing political pressure on the industry, particularly in the USA, to move away from climate targets and other sustainable activities such as the promotion of diversity, NZAM has decided to soften its own targets and objectives. The reason for this was the fate of the Net Zero Banking Alliance. After many US heavyweights left the initiative, the alliance ceased its activities in October 2025.

NZAM was faced with a dilemma when making the decision. If it had maintained its strict objectives, it would have run the risk of US members leaving here too. On the other hand, there was a risk that, conversely, the European members would leave if the targets were softened.

The initiative decided to pause its activities in 2025 in order to review and revise its framework. A fresh start is planned for January 2026, with a new approach that relaxes the rigid 2050 target and the commitment to interim targets to allow more flexibility.

Europe benefits from headwind in the USA

In other words: The initiative ultimately decided in favour of a watered-down version in order to accommodate the US members - with success. Asset managers from the United States have so far largely remained on board - with the exception of Blackrock. Their early withdrawal was the trigger for the initiative's self-imposed pause. The adjustments include reducing the 1.5°C target by 2050 to comply with the Paris climate targets and remain well below 2°C. The year 2050 no longer plays a role as the latest date by which climate neutrality must be achieved. And above all: Compliance is now voluntary and has therefore become the responsibility of the individual organisations and is no longer mandatory.

And the Europeans have not yet made any moves to leave the NZAM either. On the contrary, they are benefiting from the headwind that sustainability is experiencing in the USA. In recent months, large institutional investors, especially pension funds, including those from the United States, have shifted volumes in the double-digit billion range to European asset managers where they can be sure that the strict climate requirements will be met.

The initiative therefore remains a valuable platform for dialogue within the industry. But now European providers such as Union Investment have the opportunity to distinguish themselves through their own climate targets and objectives and thus attract inflows from investors focused on sustainability. This is because: When choosing an asset manager, it is no longer enough for investors to look for membership of NZAM. You now have to look at the providers' objectives for yourself and then decide on an individual basis.

UnionVote – Exercise of Voting Rights according to Agenda Items

1 Jan 2025 - 31 Dec 2025

² Characteristics of voting behaviour:

For: To approve the motion.

Against: To reject the motion.

Withhold: For technical/formal reasons, some countries, especially the US, only have a choice between 'for' and 'withhold', for example when electing individual candidates to a committee. This makes 'withhold' equivalent to a rejection.

Abstain: In some cases, a deliberate abstention may be considered if the arguments provided do not constitute sufficient support for a decision. An abstention means voting neither in favour of nor against a motion. Instead, it is intended to signal to management that reservations or dissatisfaction exist, but that there are insufficient grounds for voting against the motion.

Not voted: Organisational agenda items or those that only serve to provide information are not voted on. No vote is cast in such cases.

³ The column "Holdings voted" informs you of securities holdings registered for the relevant proxy voting event. The voting instructions are placed with the utmost care. However, due to technical and organizational reasons, as well as due to the involvement of various intermediaries, we are unable to agree the actual exercise of voting rights in every case. Please note that there may be various reasons why it is not possible to register the entire holdings of securities when exercising voting rights. Reasons for this could be corporate law requirements of selected voting countries as well as trading freezes. Equity holdings of your Union Investment target funds capable of voting will also be voted on and will be included in this summary table and subsequent individual statements for your information. However, voted target fund holdings are not reflected in the column "Holdings voted".

³ The column "Holdings voted" informs you of securities holdings registered for the relevant proxy voting event. The voting instructions are placed with the utmost care. However, due to technical and organizational reasons, as well as due to the involvement of various intermediaries, we are unable to agree the actual exercise of voting rights in every case. Please note that there may be various reasons why it is not possible to register the entire holdings of securities when exercising voting rights. Reasons for this could be corporate law requirements of selected voting countries as well as trading freezes. Equity holdings of your Union Investment target funds capable of voting will also be voted on and will be included in this summary table and subsequent individual statements for your information. However, voted target fund holdings are not reflected in the column "Holdings voted".

However, due to technical and organizational reasons, as well as due to the involvement of various intermediaries, we are unable to agree the actual exercise of voting rights in every case. Please note that there may be various reasons why it is not possible to register the entire holdings of securities when exercising voting rights. Reasons for this could be corporate law requirements of selected voting countries as well as trading freezes. Equity holdings of your Union Investment target funds capable of voting will also be voted on and will be included in this summary table and subsequent individual statements for your information. However, voted target fund holdings are not reflected in the column "Holdings voted".

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Ratification of Fredrik Lundberg	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to current member of the Board of Directors and the Chief Executive Officer at the company. However, several governance and transparency requirements have not been met: The board of directors is not sufficiently independent. The audit committee and remuneration committee are not sufficiently independent. The audit committee chair is not independent. The Company has failed to disclose its biodiversity policy. As this is contrary to policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Ratification of Helena Stjernholm (CEO)	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to current member of the Board of Directors and the Chief Executive Officer at the company. However, several governance and transparency requirements have not been met: The board of directors is not sufficiently independent. The audit committee and remuneration committee are not sufficiently independent. The audit committee chair is not independent. The Company has failed to disclose its biodiversity policy. As this is contrary to policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Board Size	For	The Swedish Corporate Governance Code stipulates that the the board must consist of no fewer than three members. This proposal does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Directors' Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect Pär Boman	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Pär Boman. However, given the information provided, the candidate holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (Vice chair - AB Industrivärden; Chair - Svenska Handelsbanken AB; Director - Skanska AB; Chair - Volvo AB). In addition, as the board of directors and audit committee do not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Further, the policy requires the audit committee chair to be independent. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Christian Caspar	Against	As the board of directors and audit committee do not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Consequently, we are opposing the election of non-independent nominee Christian Caspar.

Elect Fredrik Lundberg	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Fredrik Lundberg. However, given the information provided, the candidate holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (Chair - AB Industrivärden; Chair - Holmen AB; Chair - Hufvudstaden AB; CEO - L E Lundbergföretagen AB; Director - Svenska Handelsbanken AB). In addition, the nominee has already been a non-executive member of the board for more than 15 years, which is against policy. Further, as the board of directors, audit committee and remuneration committee do not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Also, the policy requires the compensation committee chair to be independent Moreover, the Company has failed to disclose a detailed record of the proxy voting results from the last annual meeting, thereby prohibiting shareholders from assessing significant opposition to specific resolutions. The disclosure of vote results assists shareholders in gaining a better understanding of the outcome of general meetings, establishing engagement priorities, and tracking companies' responses to material (minority) shareholder dissent on any of the agenda items. In this case, the chair of the board is being held responsible for this lack of disclosure. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Katarina Martinson	Against	As the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Consequently, we are opposing the election of non-independent nominee Katarina Martinson.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The Company's short-term remuneration exceeds the long-term remuneration. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria, which is based solely on TSR relative to SIXRX index. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Adoption of Share-Based Incentives (Long-Term Share Savings Program 2025)	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. The proposed dilution is in line with policy, consequently we are voting for this proposal.

Resolution on the discharge of the Supervisory Board members for the 2024 financial year	Against	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Supervisory Board. However, some relevant transparency points and/or governance aspects are not in place and the following points are missing: CVs of the Management Board members that comply with the guidelines No specific objectives with regard to the composition of the Supervisory Board (C1) Structural independence of the Supervisory Board (below 33%) Committees do have have an independent majority The chair of the Audit Committee is not independent Standard length of service for Supervisory Board members Targets of zero percent women in the composition of committees Disclosure of sustainability expertise in a qualification matrix The Supervisory Board does not report in the corporate governance statement whether and how a self-assessment was carried out (D.12) No report on succession planning (deviation B.2) Due to some shortcomings with regard to transparency or non-compliance with certain governance requirements, a very critical view should be taken of the discharge. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Election of the auditor of the financial statements and the auditor of the consolidated financial statements for the 2025 financial year	Against	The responsible auditor is explicitly referred to by name, as stipulated in the guidelines. Contrary to the guidelines, however, no information is provided on the term of office. A critical view should therefore be taken of the motion. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Election of the auditor of sustainability reporting for the 2025 financial year	For	There are no indications that constitute a violation of the guidelines. This motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report for the 2024 financial year	Against	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2021 and achieved an approval rate of 86.09%. However, there are numerous weaknesses in the system, which is why the report on the system cannot comply with the guidelines: Fixed remuneration of 50-75%, fixed remuneration can therefore often exceed the variable remuneration Monthly advance payments of max. 50% of the target STI possible Restricted stock units only subject to share price Application of ESG criteria not comprehensible No ESG in the LTI No clawback (deviation G.11) No share ownership guidelines Deviations G.7 GCGC Special payments possible (Pritim Kumar Krishnamoorthy received a special bonus in 2024 and 2023 of EUR 200,000; Christof Leiber received - as a third party service - a special payment of EUR 1,210,000) Overall, the motion should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the approval of the remuneration system for the members of the Management Board	Against	The remuneration system has been partially revised but is essentially very similar to the previous system. However, there are numerous weaknesses in the system that do not comply with the guidelines: Special bonuses possible Monthly advance payments of max. 50% of the target STI possible ESG objectives only via modifiers and not explained in detail No ESG in the LTI Absence of a clearly defined and transparently presented peer group No clawback (deviation G.11) No share ownership guidelines Remuneration system is sometimes vague and the discretion of the Supervisory Board is not comprehensible The motion should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the remuneration of members to the first Supervisory Board of ATOSS Software SE	For	There are no indications that would conflict with this agenda item. The motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

Resolution on the election to the Supervisory Board: Moritz Zimmermann	Against	The Supervisory Board has four members, but there is not at least one female member. As this is contrary to the guidelines, the election of male candidates and therefore the election of Moritz Zimmermann should be viewed critically. In addition, a deviation from C.1 GCGC is declared, i.e. there is no skills profile and no qualification matrix. This is also not consistent with the guidelines. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the election to the Supervisory Board: Rolf Baron Vielhauer von Hohenhau	Against	The Supervisory Board has four members, but there is not at least one female member. As this is contrary to the guidelines, the choice of male candidates should be viewed critically. In addition, a deviation from C.1 GCGC is declared, i.e. there is no skills profile and no qualification matrix. This is also contrary to the guidelines. This Supervisory Board member has been a member of the Supervisory Board for at least 15 years, which is why re-election is contrary to the guidelines. In addition, it is contrary to the guidelines that less than 50% of the members can be considered independent, which is why the election of non-independent members should be viewed critically. The election of Rolf Baron Vielhauer von Hohenhau should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the election to the Supervisory Board: Klaus Bauer	Against	The Supervisory Board has four members, but there is not at least one female member. As this is contrary to the guidelines, the choice of male candidates should be viewed critically. In addition, a deviation from C.1 GCGC is declared, i.e. there is no skills profile and no qualification matrix. This is also not consistent with the guidelines. It also does not comply with the guidelines that less than 50% of the members may be considered independent, so the election of non-independent members should be viewed critically. According to the guidelines, this Supervisory Board member cannot be considered to be independent. As it is not in line with the guidelines for a non-independent member to chair the Audit Committee, the election of Klaus Bauer should be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Accounts and Reports; Non Tax-Deductible Expenses	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Consolidated Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
2024 Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Executive remuneration is not published individually. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
2024 Remuneration of Antoine Gosset-Grainville, Chair	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
2024 Remuneration of Thomas Buberl, CEO	For	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. In addition, the remuneration paid to the executive board is not excessive and is comparable with industry peers. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
2025 Remuneration Policy (Chair)	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
2025 Remuneration Policy (CEO)	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, the board possesses discretion to adjust awards under its short-term incentive plan, departing from the effective achievement level of performance goals. The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Special Auditors Report on Regulated Agreements	For	The audit report states that there are no new agreements of this type to be submitted for shareholder approval. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect Guillaume Faury	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Guillaume Faury. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Ramon Fernandez	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Ramon Fernandez. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Ratification of the Co-option of Ewout Steenbergen	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Ewout Steenbergen. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Cancel Shares and Reduce Capital	For	This is a routine request in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 39.4% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights. As this exceeds the limit set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 9.59% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 39.4% for all share issuances. As the global ceiling exceeds the cumulative limit for all share issuances set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Therefore, if the proposed plan is fully implemented, employee shareholdings would remain reasonable and in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Performance Shares	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.

Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. Individual STIP payouts are largely discretionary The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Elimination of Supermajority Requirement	Against	Supermajority vote requirements can act as impediments to takeover proposals, impede shareholders' ability to approve ballot items that are in their interests and are not in line with market best practice. On the other hand, they serve as protection against discrimination against minority shareholders and are applied in particular to corporate decisions of material significance. Although the threshold of 80 % is unreasonably high, the company seeks to eliminate all supermajority rights regarding this topic and does not propose to lower the supermajority requirement to a more reasonable threshold. Since it is advantageous in some cases to have supermajority rights for corporate decisions like amendments to bylaws, we are voting against this proposal.

Final Dividend	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Directors' Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Ratification of Auditor's Acts	For	In accordance with local law, the Company must submit the actions of the auditors during the year for shareholder approval. While discharging the auditors may limit shareholders' rights to take legal action against them, it does not release them from their fiduciary duties owed to the Company and its shareholders. This ratification will not be valid if the financial statements contain any omission or false statement on behalf of management with regards to the Company's financial performance. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Appointment of Auditor and Authority to Set Fees	Against	No information regarding the proposed auditor has been provided. As this is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. There is a retention plan envisaged to be paid for the CEO, equivalent to a maximum of €1,500,000 under the condition that the CEO remains in the Company until March 31, 2026. Under the 2024 STIP, 25% of the annual bonus is subject to discretionary metrics. Further, the Company disclosed that said portion of the award vested at maximum opportunity (120% of target) in the past fiscal year which appears to be equivalent to a bonus. The Company has failed to respond to shareholder dissent. Specifically, without further disclosure, it seems that all free float present at the general meeting voted against the remuneration report in the past AGM. In the past fiscal year, the Company disclosed that the CEO received an overall compensation of €3,770,000. Specifically, the base salary of the CEO was €950,000, while big portion of said remuneration was attached to the attainment of the 2022-2025 LTIP (payout of 91,346 shares, equal to €2,393,000). Further, while the total compensation of the CEO increased 63.13%, the average remuneration of the workforce decreased 9.78% (from €92,000 in FY2023 to €83,000 in FY2024). The Company has also not disclosed the benchmark process utilised for setting such high levels of base salary. Moreover, under the current policy the board maintains discretion to increase the maximum opportunity of the STIP to 60% of base salary (currently at 36%). This quantum of compensation appears excessive. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Elect Mikael Dolsten	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Mikael Dolsten. However, the Company has failed to disclose its biodiversity policy. As this is the only criticism, we are voting for the re-election of the nominee after carefully weighing the arguments.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. Specifically, annual adjusted EPS under the LTI and both adjusted revenue and adjusted operating margin under the STI. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, RSU retention awards were awarded to three non-CEO NEOs. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Elimination of Supermajority Requirement	Against	Supermajority vote requirements can act as impediments to takeover proposals, impede shareholders' ability to approve ballot items that are in their interests and are not in line with market best practice. On the other hand, they serve as protection against discrimination against minority shareholders and are applied in particular to corporate decisions of material significance. In this case, the company is seeking to eliminate all supermajority rights. Since it is advantageous in some cases to have supermajority rights for corporate decisions, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Board Declassification	For	Empirical evidence has shown that classified boards may reduce the firm's value and an annual election of directors provides maximum accountability of directors to shareholders. Moreover, an increasing number of major corporations have adopted a declassified board structure, and ultimately the ability to withhold votes from or vote against directors is a powerful mechanism through which shareholders may express dissatisfaction with company or director performance. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.

Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Ratification of Board Acts	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to current member of the Board of Directors and the Chief Executive Officer at the company. Long-Term Incentive Plan Renewal	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. Employee Share Purchase Plan Renewal	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Shareholder Rights Plan Renewal	For	Generally, an acceptable rights plan is designed to provide the board and shareholders with adequate time to pursue value-maximizing alternatives. These rights plans, when drafted properly, encourage a potential acquirer to either negotiate with the board directly or to proceed by way of a "permitted bid," which requires the take-over bid to satisfy certain criteria designed to promote fairness. Having reviewed the terms of the rights plan it does not appear to include problematic features such as unnecessary or inappropriate restrictions on permitted bids. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. The clawback policy is restatement dependent only. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria, which is based solely on Relative TSR. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Contested Meeting Rules	Against	In this case, it does not appear that the proponent has successfully demonstrated that the Company's existing bylaws present a significant risk to shareholders or that they unreasonably restrict the ability of shareholders to run a dissident campaign. Moreover, in light of some of the problematic provisions of this proposal, such as the provision which would effectively require the Company to pre-fund a dissident campaign, adoption of this proposal would not necessarily serve shareholders' interests at this time. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Disclosure of Food Waste	For	Currently, the Company discusses its efforts to reduce waste, including food waste, in its operations and affirms that it has implemented several programs to reduce the quantity of its food waste. The Company also states that its approach focuses on ensuring food waste prevention and diversion programs are implemented and adhered to across its whole footprint, eliminating the need to estimate the amount of food waste generated or the annual percentage reduced. It also affirms that it receives measured diversion weight data from its food waste-hauling vendors. Nonetheless, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Human Rights Policy and Due Diligence Process	For	Although the Company does not provide a stand-alone human rights policy, its Code of Ethics and Vendor Code of Conduct explicitly prohibit forced labor, child labor, and other human rights violations. Further, vendors are contractually bound to adhere to all applicable human rights laws and regulations, ensuring voluntary labor and compliance with minimum age requirements. The Company also states it is committed to continuously strengthening its efforts to govern human rights risks. Nonetheless, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Costs from State Policies Restricting Reproductive Health Care	For	The Company appears to provide significant information regarding its privacy practices and policies, and states that it closely monitors the impact of state policies on its associates and operations and responds as needed to best support its workforce. The Company also has processes to assess, respond to, and mitigate potential impacts from changes in legislation, state policies and other external factors, including those related to reproductive healthcare. It also asserts that the protection of its customer, employee, and vendor data is critically important to the Company. Nonetheless, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, and given that the requested reporting does not violate policy, we are supporting this proposal.

Wiederwahl und Wahl des Präsidenten und der Mitglieder des Verwaltungsrates: Dieter Spälti	Against	Es ergeben sich keine Anhaltspunkte, welche Zweifel an der Qualifikation von Dieter Spälti begründen könnten. Allerdings bestehen Bedenken hinsichtlich der Zahl der Mandate. Gemäß den Analyserichtlinien sollte ein Mitglied mit einer exekutiven Position nicht mehr als insgesamt drei Mandate innehaben. Dieter Spälti hat 7 Mandate, was nicht in Einklang mit den Richtlinien ist. Daher sollte die Wahl sehr kritisch gesehen werden. Somit stimmen wir gegen diese Wahl. Mandate Alcon Inc. Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Ratify Tom Erixon (CEO)	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to current member of the Board of Directors and the Chief Executive Officer at the company. Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. The relative weights of fixed, short-term and long-term elements within the CEO's targeted pay-mix are as follows: 47.6% - 28.6% - 23.8%. The Company's remuneration policy does not cover the long-term incentive plans approved by the general meeting. In the absence of any equity-based incentivization dependent on diversified performance metrics, and the relatively high overall CEO remuneration, shareholders can reasonably expect the Company to amend its remuneration policy with improved coverage and disclosure, to include varied performance metrics across its incentive plans and to have a long-term focus in its paymix. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Board Size	For	The Swedish Corporate Governance Code stipulates that the the board must consist of no fewer than three members. This proposal does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Number of Auditors	For	This proposal does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Elect Jerry YANG Chih-Yuan	Against	As the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Furthermore, the policy requires the compensation committee chair to be independent. Consequently, we are opposing the election of non-independent nominee Jerry YANG Chih-Yuan.
Elect Wan Ling Martello	Against	As the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Consequently, we are opposing the election of non-independent nominee Wan Ling Martello.

The aforementioned notwithstanding, and as stipulated by Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002/Title II, "It shall be unlawful for a registered public accounting firm to provide audit services to an issuer if the lead (or coordinating) audit partner (having primary responsibility for the audit), or the audit partner responsible for reviewing the audit, has performed audit services for that issuer in each of the 5 previous fiscal years of that issuer."
		In spite of this, we are voting for this proposal.

New election to the Supervisory Board: Ralf Peter Thomas	For	Since there are no indications of a violation of the guidelines, the election of Ralf Peter Thomas to the Supervisory Board can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Revised version of the Articles of Association	For	There are no indications that would conflict with this agenda item. Although different motions are voted on as a whole, the majority of these votes concern editorial changes or adjustments which do not fundamentally relate to any impairment of governance. It is therefore understandable to group them together and the motion can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Amendment to the Articles of Association to enable virtual general meetings	For	In this case, the guidelines will not be fully complied with, as the following criteria are not met: The amendment to the Articles of Association does not explicitly stipulate that the Management Board may not convene a virtual general meeting without the consent of the Supervisory Board (does not enter into the Articles of Association, only close coordination and with the consent of the Supervisory Board is specified). The consent of the Supervisory Board is formulated in the documents for the general meeting. Even if it is not written down in the Articles of Association as stipulated in the guideline, the statement and procedure are listed in the documents for the general meeting and thus exist - albeit elsewhere. We therefore voting in favour of the motion in this case.

Elect Larry Page	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Larry Page. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Furthermore, as the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. In addition, this nominee attended less than 75% of the meetings held by the board in the past financial year, and the Company has failed to disclose proper justification, which is against policy. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Sergey Brin	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Sergey Brin. Elect John L. Hennessy	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee John L. Hennessy. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Furthermore, as the board of directors and nominating and corporate governance committee do not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. In addition, the Company maintains a multi-class share structure with unequal voting rights and has not provided for a reasonable time-based sunset of the multi-class share structure (generally seven years or less). Multi-class voting structures are not in line with policy. It is believed that it is the responsibility of the chair of the nominating and corporate governance committee to ensure that the economic stake of each shareholder matches their voting power and that no small group of shareholders, family or otherwise, has voting rights different from those of other shareholders. Moreover, the nominee has already been a non-executive member of the board for more than 15 years, which is against policy. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Frances H. Arnold	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Frances H. Arnold. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect R. Martin Chavez	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee R. Martin Chavez. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect L. John Doerr	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee L. John Doerr. Elect K. Ram Shriram	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee K. Ram Shriram. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Elect Robin L. Washington	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Robin L. Washington. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Excluding Share Repurchases in Executive Compensation	Against	This proposal is requesting that the Company adopt a policy that financial performance metrics be adjusted, to the extent practicable, to exclude the impact of share repurchases when determining the amount or vesting of any senior executive incentive compensation grant or award. The proponent has neither provided any evidence that executives repurchased shares in order to receive higher levels of compensation, that the Company's repurchases damaged shareholder value, nor that the Company engaged in egregious, illegal, or detrimental capital allocation activities. Notably, the Company maintains a largely discretionary short-term incentive plan, under which non-CEO executive bonuses are determined by a subjective review of company-wide performance and individual contributions, not a formulaic approach based on achievement against pre-determined goals. Under the long-term incentive plan, the Company grants performance awards based on TSR performance. Given that the Company's awards are not excessively tied to EPS, and thus, subject to significant manipulation through the Company's use of buybacks, it is unclear how TSR could be adjusted in the manner requested by the proposal. Moreover, the exclusion of share buybacks for executive compensation purposes could disincentivize share buybacks, many of which benefit shareholders. Further, all share buybacks must be approved by the board, thus minimizing the risks that executives would carry out share repurchases solely for the purpose of gaming the metrics on which they are evaluated for compensation purposes. In light of the above, this proposal appears to be overly prescriptive and ultimately not in line with policy. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Discrimination Risk of Charitable Contributions	Against	This shareholder proposal has been brought by anti-ESG proponents. Bowyer Research describes itself as 'deeply skeptical about an ESG approach to corporate governance'. The American Family Association states it has 'been on the front lines of America's culture war' and that it has become 'one of the largest and most effective pro-family organizations in the country with hundreds of thousands of supporters'. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Participation in Human Rights Campaign's Corporate Equality Index	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPr"). NCPPr has a history of submitting shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NCPPr describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPr, the Free Enterprise Project, routinely engages companies on issues such as healthcare, immigration, gun rights, energy, taxes, religious freedom, media bias, corporate free speech, and ideological diversity, among other issues, often by questioning executives at annual meetings or through the submission of shareholder proposals. This proposal has also been labeled as "Anti-ESG" due to the shareholder proponent. These proponents have generally submitted proposals that address environmental and social issues and their aims are fairly clearly articulated in their supporting statements. Support for this resolution could buoy the proponents arguments and would advance a narrative that may contradict that of investors concerned about companies ESG performance. Moreover, the proposed request is not in line with policy. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Disclosure Related to 2030 Climate Goals	For	The proponent requests that the Company provide a report explaining how it will meet the climate change-related commitments it has made on greenhouse gas emissions, given the massively growing energy demand from artificial intelligence and data centers that the Company is planning to build. For example, the proponent appears to take issue with the Company's data centers hosting AI functions, noting their energy consumption is "outpacing" the Company's ability to bring on clean energy projects. However, in situations such as this, it is believed that companies should be afforded some latitude in how they deliver on their broader climate plans. There will likely be more advancements in AI and in energy technology in the coming years. Nonetheless, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Recapitalization	For	Allowing one vote per share is in line with policy and generally operates as a safeguard for common shareholders by ensuring that those who hold a significant minority of shares are able to weigh in on issues set forth by the board, especially in regard to the director election process. Therefore, we are supporting this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Third-Party Report on Due Diligence in Conflict-Affected and High-Risk Areas	For	While the Company faces significant human rights-related risks, at this time, the Company's current disclosure is considered to be adequate for shareholders to understand such risks. Further, the proponent has failed to provide sufficiently compelling evidence that the Company's current policies, procedures, or practices with respect to human rights represent an imminent threat to shareholder value. Nonetheless, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding GenAI Discrimination	Against	In this case, the proponent of this proposal is an anti-ESG proponent. Inspire Investing is an asset manager that offers a lineup of index-based portfolios that follow 'diligent biblically responsible investing principles' that use the Inspire Impact Score methodology. It states that this methodology is a "rules-based scoring system [that] rates companies based on their alignment with biblical values and the degree to which they operate as a blessing to their customers, communities, workforce, and the world." On its website, it also provides the scores for over 47,000 tickers. It also offers investment advisory services and an ETF arm that manages over $1.7 billion in faith-based ETF assets as of December 31, 2024. It states that as of December 31, 2023, it provided continuous management services for over $2.5 billion in client assets on a discretionary basis. This proponent has generally submitted proposals that appear to be focused on E&S issues on their face but are designed to frustrate the company's actions around ESG performance. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Risks of AI Data Sourcing	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Legal and Policy Center ("NLPC"), which has submitted shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear to be consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NLPC describes itself as a 501(c)(3) that "promotes ethics in public life through research, investigation, education, and legal action," and believes "the best way to promote ethics is to reduce the size of government." As part of the corporate integrity project on its website, the NLPC shares its concerns regarding "woke" corporate executives, for instance posting articles about inclusive content "devaluing" the Pixar franchise or about how the NLPC has reported Visa's chair and CEO to the SEC for ongoing "wokeness." The project also examines a supposed pushback against ESG initiatives, featuring pieces such as one describing corporate America's anti-racism programs as racist against white people and another promoting the NLPC's efforts to nominate a fossil-fuel-supporting director candidate to the board of Exxon Mobil Corporation. This proposal has also been labeled as "Anti-ESG" due to the shareholder proponent. These proponents have generally submitted proposals that address environmental and social issues and their aims are fairly clearly articulated in their supporting statements. Support for this resolution could buoy the proponents arguments and would advance a narrative that may contradict that of investors concerned about companies ESG performance. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Human Rights Impact Assessment of AI-Driven Targeted Advertising	For	The Company provides substantial disclosure regarding its target advertising policies and practices, including its annually updated Ads Safety Report, as well as regarding its human rights commitments and its privacy initiatives. Additionally, the Company recently released a third-party civil rights audit that addresses the Company's targeted advertising policies and practices. Given the Company's preeminent role on the internet, the Company has an especially important role in ensuring the integrity of the information on its platform. As has been seen at the Company and elsewhere, allowing for violations of human rights on its platforms or via its advertising could lead to significant legal, reputational, regulatory, and operational risks. In recent years, regulators and governmental bodies have begun to address how to minimize the misuse of social media and online platforms, and much of the focus of these efforts has been targeted at the Company and others in its industry. Given the international attention to the issues of content management, including targeted advertising, we believe that the Company should take appropriate steps to mitigate any attendant risks to its operations. We believe that inattention to this issue could lead to fines, lawsuits, or other governmental intervention. As such, we deem this issue to be a material risk for the Company. Shareholders would be better served by an independent review of how the Company is managing these issues. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Alignment of Lobbying and Policy Influence Activities with Child Safety Commitments	For	At present, the Company's current lobbying policies and level of disclosure are considered to be reasonable to allow shareholders to gauge the risks presented by the Company's political involvement. Regarding the Company's alignment of lobbying and policy influence activities with its child safety policy and commitments, it is believed it has provided robust disclosure about both topics (though separately), which sufficiently enables shareholders to understand the Company's risk management of these issues. Additionally, the Company provides its Legislative Framework to Protect Children and Teens Online, which describes the principles it considers when making decisions regarding public policy action. Further, the proponent has not provided sufficient evidence that the Company is managing compliance with its child safety policy in relation to any of its activities, including lobbying activities, in a manner that threatens shareholder value. Nonetheless, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report and Targets on Child Safety Impacts	For	In this case, the Company provides ample disclosure about its efforts and technologies to fight child exploitation, including recent updates and enhancements to its efforts. For example, in its CSAM Transparency Report, the Company provides information, which can be filtered in 6-month increments- going back to January 2020- and that includes data from Google and/or YouTube concerning: (i) total pieces of content reported to NCMEC; (ii) CyberTipline reports to NCMEC; (iii) accounts enforced for CSAM violations; (iv) accounts enforced by country (top ten); (v) URLs reported and de-indexed for CSAM from Google Search; and (vi) CSAM hashes contributed to the NCMEC database. It is believed that this disclosure sufficiently provides "quantitative metrics appropriate to assessing whether and how Alphabet/YouTube has improved its performance globally regarding child safety impacts and actual harm reduction to children on its platforms", as requested by this proposal. Nonetheless, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Report on Non-Financial Information	For	This is a routine presentation of the reports. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. Specifically, Adjusted EPS under the STI and LTI. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Ratification of Board Acts	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to current member of the Board of Directors and Chief Executive Officer at the company. In the absence of any evidence of improper or illegal behaviour on the part of the Board of Directors and Chief Executive Officer, one should view these items as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Board Size	For	There are no indications of any controversy regarding the board size at this company. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect Leo Puri	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Leo Puri. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect William L. Connelly	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee William L. Connelly. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.

Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The Company has failed to implement performance-based incentive plan. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Separation of CEO and Chair Positions	For	The presence of a separate, and preferably independent, chair fosters the creation of a thoughtful and dynamic board not dominated by the views of a CEO and is ultimately in line with policy. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Risk from Discriminatory Ad Policies	Against	In this case, the proposal requests that the Company conduct an evaluation and issue a report evaluating how it oversees risks related to discrimination against ad buyers and sellers based on their political or religious status or views. As discussed above, the Company publicly discloses information regarding its marketing strategies. Moreover, the Company provides board-level oversight of the issues raised by this proposal as the corporate responsibility committee oversees the Company's initiatives, programs, and strategies related to corporate responsibility matters, including brand trust and government relations, in a manner consistent with the Company's corporate purpose and values, as well as reviews and monitors the Company's strategies and efforts to address its short- and long-term brand trust opportunities and brand leadership priorities that are significant to the Company, its customers, franchisees, developmental licensees, and other stakeholders. Overall, the Company provides substantial disclosure on issues related to those raised by the proponent. Moreover, this proposal appears to implicitly attempt to intervene in the Company's advertising strategies, an area of day-to-day management that generally does not fall under the purview of shareholders, and could be considered overreaching. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Disclosure of Material Scope 3 Emissions	For	Currently, the Company's GHG emissions disclosure appears to relatively align with that of its peers, as they all disclose their carbon footprints, with data on Scopes 1, 2, and 3. All three companies also provide Scope 3 category breakdowns and discuss initiatives to work with suppliers and vendors to report Scope 3 emissions in their value chains. Moreover, among other disclosure, the Company discloses Scope 3 emissions, including breakdowns by category (with new categories added to this year's disclosure), with its 2023 carbon footprint and states that in 2023, its Scope 3 emissions decreased by 5% from 2022. Despite efforts made by the Company thus far, requests for increased transparency around GHG emissions are generally in line with the basic policy requirements. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Climate Commitments and AI Data Centers	For	Currently, the Company provides robust climate disclosures and maintains explicit board-level oversight of climate. It also maintains a number of initiatives to reduce carbon emissions and minimize waste in its data centers. However, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Third-Party Assessment of Board Oversight of AI	For	The Company provides a broad range of disclosures related to its use of AI as well as its oversight of the technology. The Company explicitly discusses the use of responsible AI practices as well as its human rights considerations in a manner that allows shareholders to fully comprehend how the Company is considering and overseeing these matters. Ultimately, requests for further reporting are in line with policy
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Plastic Packaging	For	Currently, the Company has provided meaningful and detailed disclosure concerning its packaging-related initiatives and policies. We also note that Whole Foods Market is currently working toward making 100% of its own packaging, including private label and in-store food service packaging, reusable, recyclable, or compostable. Nonetheless, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Working Conditions	For	There are serious concerns about the numerous allegations of worker health and safety issues at the Company, and shareholders would benefit from an additional, independent review of how the Company is managing such risks. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Risk of AI Data Sourcing	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Legal and Policy Center ("NLPC"), which has submitted shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear to be consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NLPC describes itself as a 501(c)(3) that "promotes ethics in public life through research, investigation, education, and legal action," and believes "the best way to promote ethics is to reduce the size of government." As part of the corporate integrity project on its website, the NLPC shares its concerns regarding "woke" corporate executives, for instance posting articles about inclusive content "devaluing" the Pixar franchise or about how the NLPC has reported Visa's chair and CEO to the SEC for ongoing "wokeness." The project also examines a supposed pushback against ESG initiatives, featuring pieces such as one describing corporate America's anti-racism programs as racist against white people and another promoting the NLPC's efforts to nominate a fossil-fuel-supporting director candidate to the board of Exxon Mobil Corporation. This proposal has also been labeled as "Anti-ESG" due to the shareholder proponent. These proponents have generally submitted proposals that address environmental and social issues and their aims are fairly clearly articulated in their supporting statements. Support for this resolution could buoy the proponents arguments and would advance a narrative that may contradict that of investors concerned about companies ESG performance. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, James E. Bradner received sign-on awards, comprised of both cash and RSUs. While the majority of the value of these awards were structured as make-whole grants, to offset forfeited awards from his prior employer, a portion was not tied to this purpose. Further, these awards are not subject to any performance criteria. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Beschlussfassung über den Vergütungsbericht	Against	Über den Vergütungsbericht wurde zuletzt im Jahr 2024 abgestimmt und erlangte eine Zustimmungsquote von lediglich 52,37%. Zudem gibt es im System einige Schwachstellen, weshalb auch der Bericht über das System nicht richtlinienkonform sein kann: Keine Shareownership Guidelines STI übersteigt LTI Leistungszeitraum im LTI enthält eine jährliche Bemessungsgrundlage Der Bericht bietet keine Transparenz über ausgewählte Indizes, Benchmarks oder Peer-Groups Insgesamt sollte der Antrag daher sehr kritisch gesehen werden. Somit stimmen wir gegen den Antrag.

Remuneration Policy	For	As it stands, for FY2025 there will be no long-term incentive plan in force. In light of the public offer made on November 6, 2024, by Banco BMP on the Company's shares, the board verified and activated the conditions for the change in control provisions envisaged under the 2021-2023 and 2024-2026 LTI plans, thus determining the accelerated vesting of outstanding awards under the LTIPs in place. On November 6, 2024, Banco BMP made a public offer on the Company's shares. As a consequence, the change in control provisions envisaged under the 2021-2023 and 2024-2026 LTI plans were triggered, which resulted in the accelerated vesting of outstanding awards under the plans. As such, the Company stated that no new long-term incentive plan will be included in the proposed 2025 policy, and any potential new plans will be submitted for shareholder approval at a future stage. Nonetheless, the Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. In addition, the remuneration paid to the executive board is not excessive and is comparable with industry peers. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	On November 6, 2024, Banco BMP made a public offer on the Company's shares. As a consequence, the change in control provisions envisaged under the 2021-2023 and 2024-2026 LTI plans were triggered, which resulted in the accelerated vesting of 100% of the awards under the second and third cycles of the 2021-2023 LTIP, and of the 85% (pro-rated) of awards under each of the three cycles of the 2024-2026 LTIP. As such, - in addition to 318,415 shares, which regularly vested under the first cycle of the 2021-2023 plan, amounting to €1,410,578. An overall award equal to €17,562,475 (approximately 2307% of the CEO's base salary) was paid to Alessandro Melzi D'Eril during FY2024, of which €16,151,897 as a result of accelerated vesting. Although, payments made under the 2021-2023 and 2024-2026 LTIPs were aligned with the provisions established for the plans at the time of their approvals, and that both plans had been supported by the majority of shareholders at the 2021 and 2024 AGMs, respectively. Nevertheless, our concerns on the size of this payment are amply magnified by the fact that awards under the second and third cycles of the 2024-2026 LTIP had not even been granted yet at the time of payment. the decision to pay such significant awards disregarding a complete performance evaluation, which is strikingly out of line with market practice. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. The Company's decision to increase Mr. Cook's already-high pay package by raising his long-term award target from $40 million to $50 million, which has likely contributed to a moderate broadening of the pay-performance gap compared to prior years is particularly noteworthy. Pay for other executives is likewise significantly outsized compared to peers. However, the context of the relative size and scope of the Company should be noted. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria, which is based solely on relative TSR. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The countine methodology for share ownership guidelines has not been adequately disclosed. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Risks of AI Data Sourcing	Against	In this case, the proponent requests that the Company prepare a report to assess the risks to the Company's operations and finances, and to the greater public health, safety, and welfare, presented by its unethical or improper usage of external data in the development and training of its artificial intelligence projects and implementation; what steps the Company takes to mitigate those risks; and how it measures the effectiveness of such efforts. Additional disclosure could allow shareholders a better understanding of how it is ensuring it is mitigating risks associated with data sourcing. Further, such disclosure could provide customers additional assurance that their personal data is not being used in a manner that compromises their privacy and security. Moreover, the Company has recently settled a $95 million class action lawsuit claiming its voice-activated Siri assistance violated users' privacy, and it maintains a partnership with OpenAI, a firm that is currently involved in several copyright lawsuits dealing with issues raised by this proposal. In light of these issues, the requested report could serve as a means to encourage the Company to ensure that its future disclosures are robust and provide a solid context for shareholders to allow them to assess the potential risks to the Company from its use of external data in the development and training of its AI projects and implementation. However, it should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is an anti-ESG proponent, the National Legal & Policy Center ("NLPC"). The NLPC describes itself as a 501(c)(3) that "promotes ethics in public life through research, investigation, education, and legal action," and believes "the best way to promote ethics is to reduce the size of government." As part of the corporate integrity project on its website, the NLPC shares its concerns regarding "woke" corporate executives, for instance posting articles about inclusive content "devaluing" the Pixar franchise or about how the NLPC has reported Visa's chair and CEO to the SEC for ongoing "wokeness." The project also examines a supposed pushback against ESG initiatives, featuring pieces such as one describing corporate America's anti-racism programs as racist against white people and another promoting the NLPC's efforts to nominate a fossil-fuel-supporting director candidate to the board of Exxon Mobil Corporation. The NLPC has submitted other shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear to be consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. Given the above, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Transparency Report on CSAM Identifying Software	Against	In this case, the proponent requests that the Company prepare a transparency report on the costs and benefits of the company's decisions regarding its use of child sex abuse material (CSAM) identifying software. Additional disclosure could allow shareholders a better understanding of how it is ensuring it is mitigating risks associated with child safety. It is also worth noting that the Company is currently facing potential class action litigation claiming that it has failed in its responsibility to protect its young users from CSAM and that it has not kept up with industry standards. The case involves 2,680 eligible victims and could cost the Company more than $1.2 billion if found liable. As such, the requested report would provide shareholders with valuable information, so they can better understand this sensitive issue in the context of the Company's efforts to minimize harmful content on its platforms. However, it should be noted that the proponents of this proposal are anti-ESG proponents. The American Family Association ("AFA") is a non-profit 501(c)(3) organization founded in 1977 by a pastor of First United Methodist Church in Southaven, Mississippi. Since 1977, the AFA states it has "been on the front lines of America's culture war" and that it has become "one of the largest and most effective pro-family organizations in the country with hundreds of thousands of supporters". Bowyer Research is an investment, macroeconomic forecasting, and corporate engagement and proxy consulting firm. The firm was founded by Jerry Bowyer, who is the former editor of the business channel of The Christian Post and the former host of Business in the Kingdom podcast on the Edifi Podcast network. With regard to its principles regarding proxy voting and engagement, Bowyer has developed guidelines that "are designed to appeal to investors who hold to a traditional understanding of the obligations of a company towards its shareholders--that is, a focus on shareholder capitalism as opposed to stakeholder capitalism-- and which are deeply skeptical about an ESG approach to corporate governance." Given the above, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Abolishing Inclusion and Diversity Program and Policies	Against	This proposal requests that the Company consider abolishing its inclusion & diversity program, policies, department and goals, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPr"). The NCPPr describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." As NCPPr is not an investor, it does not appear to have AUM. The NCPPr states that it "trains its sights" on the following issues: (i) shareholder activism; (ii) new leadership for Black America (Project 21) (iii) environmental policy; (iv) regulatory policy; (v) fiscal policy, health care, and retirement security; (vi) government accountability and legal reform; (vii) national defense; (viii) national sovereignty; and (ix) emerging issues. A division of the NCPPr, the Free Enterprise Project ("FEP") describes itself as the "original and premier opponent of the woke takeover of American corporate life and defender of true capitalism." It files shareholder resolutions, engages corporate CEOs and board members, submits public comments, engages state and federal leaders, crafts legislation, files lawsuits and directs media campaigns to push corporations to respect their fiduciary obligations and to stay out of political and social engineering." As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Discrimination Risk of Charitable Contributions	Against	While increased disclosure around charitable giving is generally in line with policy, in this case the proponent is an anti-ESG proponent and makes clear from its supporting statements that it wishes to "refocus" the company's charitable giving to be more in line with its views. The proponent also expresses concern regarding the Company's support of the Southern Poverty Law Center, the Human Rights Campaign, and the Center for American Progress. The proponent of this proposal is Inspire Investing, an asset manager that offers a lineup of index-based portfolios that follow "diligent biblically responsible investing principles" that use the Inspire Impact Score methodology. It states that this methodology is "an objective, rules-based scoring system that rates companies based on their alignment with biblical values and the degree to which they operate as a blessing to their customers, communities, workforce, and the world." With regard to its corporate engagement program, it states that it "advocates for transformation within companies by reaching out to companies when they violate exclusionary screens and advocating for the values of [its] investors." It states that this is a "powerful means of inspiring transformation not just in businesses, but across our entire culture." Given the above, we are voting against this proposal.

However, this director will be serving as the combined Chair/CEO in the upcoming year, which is against policy. However, the Company has failed to disclose the board oversight of ESG, which is not in line with policy. As such, we are holding this director, as the chair of the nominating and corporate governance committee, accountable for this issue. Further, the Company maintains a multi-class share structure with unequal voting rights and has not provided for a reasonable time-based sunset of the multi-class share structure (generally seven years or less). Multi-class voting structures are not in line with policy. It is believed that it is the responsibility of the chair of the nominating and corporate governance committee to ensure that the economic stake of each shareholder matches their voting power and that no small group of shareholders, family or otherwise, has voting rights different from those of other shareholders. Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, I. Roig received an interim service award, comprised of RSUs, valued at $1,000,000. It should be noted that these awards are not subject to any performance measures. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Length of Share Ownership Required to Call Special Meetings	Against	In this case, the Company currently allows shareholders owning at least 10% of its shares for one year to call a special meeting. However, these shareholders must have owned these shares for one year in order to qualify to call a special meeting. This proposal would eliminate this requirement. Given the exceptionally low threshold for calling a special meeting, the Proponent has failed to provide convincing rationale that removing this requirement is necessary at this time. While this does place some restrictions on shareholders' ability to call a special meeting, it should not be viewed as an entirely negative feature as it is believed the Company should install protections that ensure that meetings are not called in a manner that could harm long-term shareholder interests. Accordingly, the Company has shown responsiveness to shareholders through the adoption of a low special meeting threshold and therefore is not believed that shareholders would derive significant value from adoption of this proposal at this time. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The Company has failed to implement a long-term incentive plan. Concerns are mitigated somewhat considering the CEO is also one of its major shareholders. As such, there is a natural alignment between the interests of management and shareholders. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. In this case, the Company granted a discretionary award without providing sufficient details as to whether it was based on exceptional performance, whether it was established under the current incentive plan and what performance metrics it was based on. Furthermore, the Company did not provide sufficient justification for granting the discretionary bonuses. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. The Company has not disclosed the individual limits on awards made under the short-term incentive plan which runs contrary to best practices and shareholder interests. Moreover, the CEO short-term incentive payout for 2024 is equal to 743% of the CEO's base salary. Furthermore, the CEO is also the Company's founder and one of its major shareholders. For the last three years, the Company has received increasing votes against their remuneration proposals and the Company does not appear to have responded to shareholder concerns. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Long Term Incentive Plan	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. In this case, while the proposed dilution is in line with policy, the following issues should be noted: Due to the lack of disclosure surrounding performance metrics, it is unclear whether the LTI includes any ESG criteria. The Company has failed to disclose performance metrics. There is no disclosed cap on incentive limits for LTI awards. Specifically, awards granted to participants who are not executive directors may not exceed such limits as may be determined by the remuneration committee from time to time. For executive directors, under the remuneration policy, they will not be eligible to be granted awards under the LTIP, other than in connection with recruitment, where an award under the LTIP is considered more appropriate than an award under the RSP. In the event that the remuneration policy were to be revised, awards to executive directors under the LTIP would be limited to the values specified in the revised remuneration policy. In this case, it should be noted that the plan is intended to operate mainly for employees who are not executive directors, and that awards for executive directors under the plan, if any, will be made in line with the relevant shareholder-approved remuneration policy. Nonetheless, as the aforementioned concerns are not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 66% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights. As this exceeds the limit set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with the authorization in Proposal 19, exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase Shares	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. Consequently, as these authorizations are within the recommended thresholds, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Set General Meeting Notice Period at 14 Days	For	A shortened general meeting notice period is permitted by the UK Corporate Governance Code and the EU Shareholders Rights Directive, provided that a company conforms to specific electronic voting and communication requirements, as is the case here. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

However, the nominee has already been a non-executive member of the board for more than 15 years, which is against policy. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Elect Ognjen Redzic	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Ognjen Redzic. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Paul J. Reilly	Against	The policy requires the audit committee chair to be independent. As nominee Paul J. Reilly is not considered independent, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Kevin M. Warren	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Kevin M. Warren. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, Francesca L. Luthi and Keith R. Meier received promotion awards, valued at approximately $830,220 and $1,106,960 respectively. These awards consist of both PSUs and RSUs. It should be noted that the RSU portion of the awards is not contingent on performance conditions. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Adoption of Right to Call a Special Meeting	Against	In this case, the Company does not currently maintain a special meeting right. As such, a 25% right would be a significant improvement in this regard. However, given the shareholder proposal under Proposal 7 requesting that the Company adopt a 10% special meeting right is more in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Amendment to Charter to Limit the Liability of Certain Officers	Against	The proposed amendment essentially removes liability for an officer's breach of his or her duty of care. Such protections are counter to the interests of shareholders. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Miscellaneous Charter Amendments	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments, which are largely technical and intended to align with regulatory changes. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Right to Call Special Meetings	For	A 10% threshold for calling a special meeting is appropriate given the Company's size and shareholder base. Further it does not violate policy and is more in line with policy than the alternative threshold proposed in Proposal 4. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The Company has failed to implement a performance based long-term incentive plan. Awards are exclusively tied to the share price. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, the CEO was paid an additional annual cash bonus of NOK 1,500,000 and the Company has not provided a sufficient rationale for this award. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Corporate Governance Report	For	This resolution is a routine formality in this market.

The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. It should also be noted that the Company is moving from a share-based LTI plan to a cash-based plan. However, the Company notes that 'Avio's top management is already directly involved in the business risk through their participation in the capital of Avio, held through the investment vehicle In Orbit S.p.A., which today represents 3.0% of the share capital'. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The Company's short-term remuneration exceeds the long-term remuneration. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Directors' liability action	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. As a result, it is recommended to view this item in a non-critical fashion should it occur. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Cancellation of Preference Shares	For	The board states that the Preference Shares were issued in support of the requirement for financial firms to maintain a minimum level of capital reserves that were designed to absorb losses in times of financial stress while protecting policyholders and enabling the financial institution to continue as a viable business. Since the Preference Shares were issued in 1992-1993, the rules which stipulate the requirements for eligible capital issuance have changed and, as a result, the preference shares will cease to provide any capital benefit for the group with effect from January 1, 2026. As a result, the board has determined that the preference shares represent an inefficient form of funding that no longer serves the purpose for which they were intended. Moreover, the board states that the cancellation or reduction of the Preference Shares will remove or reduce (as the case may be) the funding costs associated with paying the fixed coupons on those Preference Shares, which are perpetual in nature and are paid out in priority to ordinary shareholders. Given that the proposed cancellation does not violate policy, we are voting for this proposal.

Preference Shares Tender Offer	For	The board states that, in the case wherein Proposals 1 and 2 do not pass at the general meeting, a tender offer is being proposed to eligible preference shareholders to tender any or all of their Preference Shares for purchase. The board notes that the Preference Shares were issued in support of the requirement for financial firms to maintain a minimum level of capital reserves that were designed to absorb losses in times of financial stress while protecting policyholders and enabling the financial institution to continue as a viable business. Since the Preference Shares were issued in 1992-1993, the rules which stipulate the requirements for eligible capital issuance have changed and, as a result, the preference shares will cease to provide any capital benefit for the group with effect from January 1, 2026. As a result, the board has determined that the preference shares represent an inefficient form of funding that no longer serves the purpose for which they were intended. The terms of the proposed tender offer are reasonable and do not violate policy. Moreover, approval of the proposal would not require that shareholders participate in the offer. Shareholders can remain fully invested in the Company if they determine to not tender their shares. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics under the STI. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Approval of the Company's Climate-related Financial Disclosure	For	In this case, the Company has clearly articulated that shareholders will only be voting on its climate-related reporting, which appears strikes the right balance between allowing shareholders to voice concerns or support for a company's climate strategies and considerations and ensuring the board can be held accountable for its ultimate climate strategy. Moreover, the TCFD-aligned disclosures contain emissions information that has been independently assured (pp.72-75) and it states that its key actions include decarbonizing its operational sites, operational supply chain, underwriting, and claims as part of its ambition to be net zero by 2040 (p.4). Additionally, the Company has set a science-based near-term target aligned with a 1.5°C scenario, certified by the SBTi, and has committed to aligning its net zero target with the SBTi. Having reviewed the circumstances at the Company, shareholder support for this proposal appears to be warranted at this time. The Company has provided thorough information concerning its climate-related considerations and provided shareholders with a basis to understand how it is managing its climate-related risks and opportunities. Accordingly, we are voting for this proposal.

Authority to Issue Solvency II Securities w/o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 17.0% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights in relation to the issue of Solvency II securities. However, if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposals 21, 22 and 23, exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase Shares	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. Consequently, as these authorizations are within the recommended thresholds, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase 83/4% Preference Shares	For	If approved, the board of directors will be authorised to repurchase up to 100% of the Company's 8 3/4% preference shares. The directors have no present intention of exercising these authorities to purchase the Company's preference shares, but will keep the matter under review, taking into account other investment opportunities and opportunities to replace the preference share capital with more cost-effective forms of finance should they arise. At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. Moreover, preference shares will no longer be eligible as regulatory capital under SII from 2026. As such, we are voting for this proposal.

Elect Pietro Giuliani as Chair of Board of Directors	Against	There are serious concerns regarding the Company's choice to convene the AGM in a closed-door format despite shareholders rejecting amendments to the articles of association to allow for the possibility at the 2024 AGM. Ultimately, the Company failed to disclose any action taken to engage with shareholders on this matter. In this case, it is reasonable to hold the incumbent and proposed chair accountable for the Company's apparent failure to address shareholder sentiment. Beschlussfassung über die Ermächtigung des Vorstands zum Erwerb eigener Aktien	For	In diesem Fall schlägt die Gesellschaft eine Laufzeit von 30 Monaten vor. Dies entspricht nicht den Richtlinien, welche eine maximale Laufzeit von 2 Jahren vorsehen. Zudem hat die Gesellschaft die erforderliche Preisspanne beim Erwerb von Aktien über ein öffentliches Kaufangebot (mit 50 Prozent) überschritten. Allerdings generieren Banken in der momentanen wirtschaftlichen Situation hohe Eigenkapitalrenditen. Die daraus resultierenden Cashflows werden zu etwa 50% in Form von Dividenden an Aktionäre zurückgegeben. Da die Ausleihungen in Europa aktuell ein geringes Wachstum verzeichnen, fällt die Kapitalallokation hierauf entsprechend gering aus. Aus diesem Grund ist es zu befürworten, dass Banken Kapital in Form von Aktienrückkäufen flexibel an die Aktionäre zurückgeben. Wir stimmen daher für den Antrag.

Financial Statements and Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	Against	The Company states that its financial statements provided in the meeting circular have not been audited and may be adjustable upon the completion of independent auditor's audit. As this is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Elect HWANG Hwan Jo	Against	As the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Additionally, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Consequently, we are opposing the election of non-independent nominee HWANG Hwan Jo.
Elect CHA Kyung Hwan	Against	As the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Additionally, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Further, the nominee serves as a lawyer of KIM & CHANG which has provided legal services to the Company.. The need for the Company to engage in consulting relationships with its directors should be questioned. Such relationships can potentially create conflicts for directors, as they may be forced to weigh their own interests in relation to shareholder interests when making board decisions. In addition, the Company's decision regarding where to turn for the best professional services may be compromised when doing business with a professional services firm represented by the Company's directors. Consequently, we are opposing the election of non-independent nominee CHA Kyung Hwan.
Elect CHOI Ja Won	Against	As the Company failed to disclose its auditor's report or to confirm whether its financial statements presented in the meeting circular were fully audited, we are voting against all audit committee members who are up for re-election this year. Consequently, we are voting against CHOI Ja Won.
Election of Independent Director to Be Appointed as Audit Committee Member: CHO Ja Young	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee CHO Ja Young. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Accounts and Reports; Non Tax-Deductible Expenses	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. Consolidated Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.

2025 Remuneration Policy (CEO)	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The LTI does not include ESG criteria. Fixed salary increased by more than 10% within one year without a valid reason. Specifically, the CEO's base salary will increase by 24.8% in FY2025. The CEO's base salary amounts to €2,300,000 in 2025. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
2025 Remuneration Policy (Deputy CEO)	For	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. Remuneration of Identified Staff	For	In this case, the disclosure and structure of identified staff's remuneration is adequate and remains within existing regulations. Moreover, it should be noted that the pool of participants is large. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Grant Super-Subordinated Convertible Bonds (Contingent Capital) Through Private Placement	For	The Company proposes to transform the write-down clause in its AT1 issuances into a conversion clause to allow the Company to issue AT1s in US currency. Under the proposed authority, super-subordinated convertible bonds would convert automatically into equity capital only if the Company's capital ratio falls below a specific regulatory threshold. However, we note that the issuance of AT1s will not cause dilution to existing ordinary shareholders unless a trigger event causes them to be converted into equity. Considering the Company's rationale for the authority, this authority may benefit the Company's shareholders by allowing the Company to offset the impact of US currency fluctuations and to maintain access to the most favourable forms of financing, while providing flexibility in its capital structure in light of the mandatory capital requirements. As this is in line with policy, we are voting for this proposal.
Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Currently, employees do not hold a significant portion of the Company's share capital. Therefore, if the proposed plan is fully implemented, employee shareholdings would remain reasonable and in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Merger/Acquisition (Public Exchange Offer for Banca Popolare di Sondrio S.p.A.)	For	Overall, the Company has presented a reasonable rationale for the proposed acquisition, and BPER shareholders could benefit from the participation in the enlarged entity, should the Offer be completed. Moreover, the Offer value implies a discount to the fair value of the BP Sondrio shares and represents a reasonable premium to its unaffected stock price, from the perspective of the Company and its shareholders, which together suggest favorable financial terms of the Offer for BPER. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.

The Company disclosed that discretionary awards can be granted to encourage the attraction and retention of resources. The board also possesses discretion to adjust awards under both short- and long-term incentive plan, departing from the effective achievement level of performance goals. Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company's short-term remuneration exceeds the long-term remuneration annually. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. As disclosed on page 72 of the 2025 Remuneration Report, a deputy general manager and 8 individuals pertaining to the key personnel (2 of which executives with strategic responsibilities) terminated their employment with the Company in 2024. The board stated that the former CEO and general manager, Piero Luigi Montani, did not receive any severance indemnities, being only recognised with pro-rated STI and LTI awards, as foreseen under the "good leaver clause". However, as stated on page 83 of the 2025 Remuneration report, termination indemnities amounting to a total of €2,001,000 were paid to two deputy general managers, of which i) €580,000 as severance, ii) €960,000 as non-compete, iii) €553,000 as indemnity in lieu of notice and iv) €8,000 as settlement indemnity. Fixed salary increased by more than 10% within one year without a valid reason. Specifically, the new CEO's total remuneration for FY2024 was equal to €3,106,000. At the EGM held on July 3, 2024, the Company proposed some amendments to the remuneration policy, which included a new CEO's base salary set at €1,500,000, representing a 25% premium to his predecessor's base salary for the role of CEO (€1,200,000), and a 20% increase in board fees, from €75,000 to €90,000. Further, the payout limit under the short-term incentive plan for the CEO was increased by 98%, to 117% of salary (previously 59% of base salary). As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Approval of 2025 Variable Incentive Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.

Deliberations on Possible Legal Action Against Directors if Presented by Shareholders	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. Elect Ruta Armone	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Ruta Armone. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Appointment of Auditor	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and all necessary information regarding the auditor have been provided in the Company's filings. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Set Auditor's Fees	For	The fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authorisation of Political Donations	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. This is primarily technical item. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 66% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights. As this exceeds the limit set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Amendment to the Performance Share Plan	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. While the proposed dilution is in line with policy, the following issues should be noted: Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria, which is solely based on EPS. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposals 17 and 20, exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ o Preemptive Rights (Specified Capital Investment)	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposals 17 and 19, exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The Company has failed to implement a long-term incentive plan, which is out of line with market's best practice. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. The company has the ability to adjust awards at their discretion. Specifically, in case of exceptional circumstances, the Company may derogate from the elements of the remuneration policy. The board disclosed that derogation may be applied to: (i) variable remuneration economic indicators, and (ii) severance cap and calculation methods due to additional indemnities under collective bargaining agreements. Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. In this case, the Company limits severance payments at two years of fixed remuneration plus the average of the short-term incentive amounts received in the three years prior to termination. Further, the Company failed to disclose whether executives are entitled to additional termination payments, such as indemnity in lieu of notice under their collective bargaining agreements. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The Company has failed to implement a long-term incentive plan, which is out of line with market's best practice. Under the remuneration policy currently in force, severance indemnities exceeding €100,000 are paid in cash and financial instruments. Further, for payments exceeding €424,260, a portion of at least 62% is deferred for five years. In this case, the Company disclosed that in FY2024, 20 employees received severance indemnities which exceeded the cost of the notice, paid according to the terms and methods envisaged by current legislation. Specifically, a severance indemnity exceeding €100,000 was paid to two employees belonging to the Identified Staff. Further, with reference to the plan of financial instruments intended for variable remuneration and for severance payments approved at the 2024 AGM, 68,987 phantom shares were paid by way of severance to an executive manager of the Company. Shareholders should reasonably expect a more detailed disclosure with regard to the exact amount of the severance indemnity exceeding the cap of €100,000 paid during the year under review, as well the deferral terms and the beneficiaries of the payments above, given that those amounts are not identifiable in the remuneration report tables provided by the Company. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
2025 Short-Term Incentive Plan	Against	Please refer to Proposal 0030 for further details of the plan. Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. While the proposed dilution is within policy limits, it should be noted that the plan is a part of the remuneration policy, which we opposed. Consequently, we are opposing this proposal.

Acquisition (Issuance of Shares for Acquisition of Mediobanca Banca di Credito Finanziario S.p.A.)	For	The proposed combination of Mediobanca with MPS carries identifiable execution risks, particularly in terms of cultural integration and the potential disruption to Mediobanca's franchise. In this regard, MPS must ensure that it avoids brand dilution, retains key personnel and preserves existing client relationships at Mediobanca. While this presents a relatively unique challenge in the context of bank mergers, these concerns appear manageable with disciplined execution. Furthermore, the relatively successful track record of MPS's CEO in navigating M&A transactions in his prior roles at other banks helps to mitigate at least some of these risks. MPS has presented a coherent strategic and financial rationale to justify proceeding with its efforts to acquire Mediobanca. The combination would create a more diversified Italian banking group with national relevance across retail and commercial banking, wealth management, consumer finance, and capital-light investment banking. MPS's balance sheet and retail distribution capabilities appear well-suited to complement Mediobanca's advisory, private banking, and consumer finance franchises. The stated integration model - centered on maintaining brand autonomy while consolidating back-end infrastructure and selectively enabling cross-selling - appears pragmatic and designed to limit disruption. To the extent that MPS can achieve its projected run-rate synergies, the deal would be double-digit accretive to MPS's adjusted earnings per share and could accelerate the ongoing re-rating of the Company's shares. In addition, the deal would result in immediate improvements to the Company's key funding ratios. The proposed share authorization of up to 2.23 billion new MPS shares moderately exceeds the estimated number of shares needed to complete the Offer. However, the additional capacity is primarily intended to provide the Company's board with the flexibility to accommodate Mediobanca's treasury shares, equity incentive awards, and any misalignment of dividend payments, while also allowing the board to increase the stock exchange ratio by a reasonable level, if deemed necessary. Notably, even a modest increase to the Offer Consideration would imply forward earnings multiples that remain broadly consistent with those of Mediobanca's peer group. As this proposed transaction does not otherwise violate policy, we are voting for this proposal.

Amendments to Article 14 (Closed-Door Meeting)	Against	The company is proposing an amendment that would allow for the appointment of a shareholder representative. This means that when shareholders are unable to attend meetings in person, they can designate someone to represent them and participate on their behalf. Under the previous version of the company's bylaws, there was no provision for appointing a shareholder representative. This amendment marks a significant change in the governance of the company, allowing for greater flexibility in how shareholders can engage with the company during meetings. Despite welcoming the amendment, the organization expresses concern about the potential for general meetings to be held with exclusive participation of just the designated shareholder representative. This means that other shareholders would not have the opportunity to attend or participate directly in the meeting. The passage highlights that a closed-door meeting format limits physical participation to just the representative holding proxies. Furthermore, companies are not required to facilitate virtual participation for other shareholders or to provide a livestream of the meeting, which could lead to a lack of transparency and engagement. As this is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Amendments to Article 15 (Co-Option of Directors)	For	The Company is amending article 15 to implement structured processes around the co-option of directors in case a resignation happens mid-term. Under the current formulation of the Company's articles of association, no specific process is illustrated, and the nominating committee is indicated as the appointed body to assist the board in identifying the right profiles in case of replacement of resigning directors. While some shareholders may question the need to introduce stricter processes at this point in time, the proposed amendment does not appear strikingly out of line with similar provisions at other Italian companies, and the procedures will apply to all lists equally, including lists presented by institutional investors and minority shareholders at large. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.

Acquisition (Increase in Tender Offer Price for Anima Holding S.p.A., and Authority to Waive Closing Conditions)	For	Overall, the proposed changes to the Anima Offer proposed by the Company appear reasonable. The nearly 13% increase in the offer price is certainly significant, but it was a move that was almost certainly necessary given that Anima's shares had consistently traded above the Original Anima Offer Price in recent months. Even at the higher price, the implied valuation and market premium of the Anima Offer remain relatively reasonable, from the Company's perspective.

Moreover, an acquisition of Anima is strategically compelling, as the move is complementary to the Company's medium-term strategy and will enable the Company to diversify its revenue stream. Additionally, the changes contemplated under this proposal will empower the Company's board to waive certain remaining closing conditions of the Anima Offer as it deems necessary and appropriate. This change should give the board the flexibility to proceed with the Anima Offer without undue restrictions.

As a result, we are voting for this proposal.

Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The Company's short-term remuneration exceeds the long-term remuneration. The CEO will receive a base salary increase of 17.2% in 2025 which is particularly troubling in light of the recent 20.8% increase to the CEO's base salary in 2023. However, the Company currently finds itself in a rather unique situation, having recently consolidated its control over Anima Holding's stake while also being object of an ongoing takeover offer by Unicredit. Moreover, it should be acknowledged that the CEO's base salary will remain overall aligned with executive remuneration at the Company's industry and market peers. As the above is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. Executive remuneration is not published individually. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
2025 Short-Term Incentive Plan	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. While the level of dilution is compliant with policy, the Company's short-term remuneration exceeds the long-term remuneration. Consequently, we are opposing this proposal.

2025-2027 Long-Term Incentive Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Severance Agreements	For	The proposed severance agreements do not violate policy. Therefore, we are supporting this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares to Service Variable Incentive Plans	Against	The share repurchase authority does not violate policy. However, this proposal seeks to use the repurchase authority to service variable incentive plans. While the level of dilution of the variable incentive plans is compliant with policy, the Company's short-term remuneration exceeds the long-term remuneration. Consequently, we are opposing this proposal.
Directors' liability action	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. As a result, it is recommended to view this item in a non-critical fashion should it occur.
		Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

The report was drafted on the basis of the CSRD Directive (EU) 2022/2024 and complemented with Spanish legal requirements and verified by Ernst & Young. Therefore, we are supporting this proposal.

Renew Delegation Resolution Regarding Increase Capital in Consideration for Contributions in Kind	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 19.5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which exceeds the limit set by policy. However, it should be noted that the shares will be issued specifically to facilitate the scrip-for-scrip share swap and the tender offer launched for up to 100% of the shares of Banco Sabadell S.A. Overall, the proposal appears to be transparent and as such, there are no immediate governance concerns which could be linked to a violation of the guidelines. As the increase in capital serves a specific reason and is comprehensible, we are voting for this proposal.
Maximum Variable Pay Ratio	For	The Company proposes to set the maximum ratio of the variable to fixed components of compensation for certain staff at a ratio of 2:1. This proposal does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Appointment of Auditor	For	As per Spanish market practice, the lead auditor's tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. However, Article 40 of the Law 22/2015 (20th July) requires rotation of the lead auditor every five years. Buy-Out Policy	For	In this case, the proposed policy is limited to buy-out awards, which compensate newly hired executives and other employees for variable pay that they would forego by leaving their current employer; this practice has become increasingly common as more pay for executives and other high level staff is made subject to deferral restrictions. Further, the policy would allow for awards to be granted in equity or linked to equity; this is preferable alternative to granting awards in cash, as equity should serve to align the employee's interest with those of shareholders. The size of the proposed authority should be noted here, which would allow for buy-out awards equivalent to up to €40 million during fiscal year 2025 and until the annual general meeting in 2026. While this quantum limit is somewhat high, it should be noted that the authority could be used in relation to recruitment of below-board Identified Staff as well as executives. Although some questions may be raised about the application of this authority in the view of the withdrawal of the appointment of CEO in 2019 its potential necessity in recruitment outweighs any related concerns. In addition, it should be noted that shareholder approval for the buy-out policy is required given the possibility of delivery of shares. As this does not violate policy, we are voting for this proposal.

Dismissal of Independent Directors	For	Although the above-mentioned legal disputes are still under investigation, shareholders should be concerned with any type of investigation involving the director of the Company, as such matters could potentially expand in scope and prove to dampen shareholder value. Benennung eines Vorstandsmitgliedes als zuständig für ESG-Fragen (No ESG oversight) Nachhaltigkeitsberichterstattung ist sehr kurz gehalten und entspricht nicht der Marktpraxis Aufgrund einiger Mängel bei der Transparenz bzw. Nichterfüllung einiger Governance-Anforderungen sollte die Entlastung sehr kritisch betrachtet werden. Daher stimmen wir gegen den Antrag.

Resolution on the appropriation of net income	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. In the event of negative total Group earnings but positive earnings per share measured against adjusted earnings per share from continuing operations, the company proposes to pay only the statutory minimum dividend. If free cash flow is still positive, the motion can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of the Management Board members	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Management Board. However, the acquisition of Monsanto and, as a result, a wave of complaints regarding the herbicide glyphosate continues to weigh on the company, with some initial successes appearing to be on the horizon. Since the reappointment of Bill Anderson on 1 June 2023, earnings and the share price have continued to fall. However, given the renewal and heavy legacy burdens, it seems premature to derive non-discharge from this already, but it should continue to be monitored. In addition, Bafin is investigating possible violations of publicity obligations in connection with planned corporate actions. It is not yet known whether further investigations will be forthcoming. As there is no proven violation of the guidelines from the aspects listed, we are voting this year in favour of the discharge of the Management Board after weighing up the arguments and consulting with the portfolio manager.

Since the reappointment of Bill Anderson on 1 June 2023, earnings and the share price have continued to fall. However, given the renewal and heavy legacy burdens, it seems premature to derive non-discharge from this already, but it should continue to be monitored. In addition, Bafin is investigating possible violations of publicity obligations in connection with planned corporate actions. It is not yet known whether further investigations will be forthcoming. As there is no proven violation of the guidelines from the aspects listed, we are voting this year in favour of the discharge of the Supervisory Board after weighing up the arguments and consulting with the portfolio manager.
Election to the Supervisory Board: Alberto Weisser	For	Since there are no indications of a violation of the guidelines, the election of Alberto Weisser to the Supervisory Board can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report	For	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2024 and achieved an approval rate of 91.21%. The remuneration report was last voted on in 2024 and achieved an approval rate of 74.41%. There is a weakness in the system, which is why the report on the system cannot comply with the guidelines either: In the event of a change of control, Management Board members are entitled to a severance payment under strict conditions. As this is the only criticism listed, we are voting in favour of the remuneration report after weighing up the arguments.
Resolution on the remuneration of Supervisory Board members	For	There are no indications that would conflict with this agenda item. The motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Creation of Authorised Capital 2025 with the possibility to exclude subscription rights and an amendment to Section 4(2) of the Articles of Association	For	Increasing the share capital by €875,000,000.00 would lead to a 34.8% capital dilution. This is not within the scope of the analysis guidelines (max. 10% per stock decision, 20% cumulative), even if the intended use is limited and subscription rights exclusions have been limited to peak amounts. Given Bayer's current corporate situation, the limited purpose of the corporate action, several discussions with management and extensive internal votes, we are voting in favour of the motion in this individual case.
Resolution on the renewed authorisation of the Management Board to provide for the holding of virtual general meetings (amendment of Section 13(2) of the Articles of Association)	Against	In this case, the guidelines are not complied with, since the following criteria are not met: A written declaration will be made as to whether and under which conditions an authorisation of the Management Board should be used in the future (credible, detailed explanation of the circumstances). Since a general meeting has not taken place in person since 2021 and such a meeting will not be explicitly announced for the following year, it is not clear which specific conditions will lead to a virtual GM or a GM in person. This motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Election of the auditor and the auditor for any review of the semi-annual report and interim financial reports	For	There are no indications that constitute a violation of the guidelines. This motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Ad hoc (shareholders)	Against	Since no information in this respect can be provided in the run-up to the general meeting, only a general power of attorney could be issued in this instance. Since it is not possible to evaluate any proposals, critical scrutiny must be recommended at this juncture. However, it should be noted that abstaining is not useful since chance majorities cannot be avoided in this way. To avoid chance majorities, a critical evaluation must be performed here. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The clawback policy is strictly restatement-dependent. Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. Specifically, adjusted revenues, adjusted EPS, adjusted operating margin and adjusted FCF as a percentage of sales. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. However, it should be noted that vesting under the restricted share plan may be decreased on the basis of ESG considerations. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, the remuneration structure allows for a one-time grant of share options, which are not subject to any performance criteria. Fixed salary increased by more than 10% within one year without a valid reason. Specifically, following a benchmarking review, chief executive Rob Perrins and CFO Richard Stearn received base salary increases of 31.5% and 25.9%, respectively, effective for FY2025/26. Moreover, on his appointment as CEO following the 2025 AGM, Richard Stearn will receive a further salary increase of approximately 22.5% to £625,000. In aggregate, his salary will be increased by approximately 54.3% for FY2025/26. His total remuneration cap will also be raised by approximately 47.9% to £5,000,000 to reflect his higher salary and new role. The remuneration policy provides for the immediate vesting of awards. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Remuneration Policy	For	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. In addition, the remuneration paid to the executive board is not excessive and is comparable with industry peers. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Performance Share Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Elect Rachel Downey	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Rachel Downey. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.

Authority to Issue Shares w/ o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposals 14 and 16, exceeds the limit set by policy. Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Framework Manufacturing Outsourcing and Agency Agreement and Proposed Annual Caps	For	The management and the board should be in the best position to determine what operational decisions are best in the context of the business. This proposal does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect GAO Dekang	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee GAO Dekang. However, this director will be serving as the combined Chair/CEO in the upcoming year, which is against policy. Further, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. In addition, as the board of directors, remuneration committee and nominating committee do not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Also, this nominee received RMB5,047,000 and RMB2,106,183,000 during fiscal year 2025. The need for the Company to engage in real estate transactions with its directors or an entity in which one of its directors owns a substantial interest is questionable. Such relationships may be viewed as potentially creating conflicts for board members, as they may be forced to weigh their own interests in relation to shareholder interests when making board decisions. In addition, a company's decision regarding where to turn for the best products and services may be compromised when doing business with one of the company's board members. Moreover, the board does not have an independent vice chair. An independent chair is better able to oversee the executives of the Company and set a pro-shareholder agenda without the management conflicts that a CEO or other executive insider often faces. This, in turn, leads to a more proactive and effective board of directors. Thus, if the chair is a part of the management team, the board should instead appoint at least one independent vice chair or senior/leading independent director. Here, it is believed that this nominee, as the chair of the nominating committee, should bear responsibility for failure to appoint at least one independent vice chair. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Elect DONG Binggen	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee DONG Binggen. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Further, the nominee has already been a non-executive member of the board for more than 15 years, which is against policy. In addition, as the board of directors, audit committee, remuneration committee and nominating committee do not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Directors' Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Appointment of Auditor and Authority to Set Fees	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor have been disclosed. Moreover, fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and all necessary information regarding the auditor have been provided in the Company's filings. However, as per market practice: The company does not publish for how long the auditing company has already been in office. The company does not publish for how long lead auditor has already been in office. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 20% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights. As this exceeds the limit set by policy, and the Company has not provided the maximum discount rate in the Company's disclosures, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum and minimum price has not been disclosed. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Repurchased Shares	Against	This proposal is conditional upon the passing of the Proposals 5 and 6, which we opposed. In addition, the Company has not provided the maximum discount rate in its disclosures, which is against policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Simple Majority Vote	Against	Supermajority vote requirements can act as impediments to takeover proposals, impede shareholders' ability to approve ballot items that are in their interests and are not in line with market best practice. On the other hand, they serve as protection against discrimination against minority shareholders and are applied in particular to corporate decisions of material significance. In this case, the proponent is seeking to eliminate all supermajority rights. Since it is advantageous in some cases to have supermajority rights for corporate decisions, we are voting against this proposal.

Under LTI the Company may grant PSUs and MSUs. MSUs are measured solely by the stock price. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics under STI. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Formation of Corporate Sustainability Committee	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPR"). NCPPR has a history of submitting shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NCPPR describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPR, the Free Enterprise Project, routinely engages companies on issues such as healthcare, immigration, gun rights, energy, taxes, religious freedom, media bias, corporate free speech, and ideological diversity, among other issues, often by questioning executives at annual meetings or through the submission of shareholder proposals. This proposal has also been labeled as 'Anti-ESG' due to the shareholder proponent. These proponents have generally submitted proposals that address environmental and social issues and their aims are fairly clearly articulated in their supporting statements. Support for this resolution could buoy the proponents arguments and would advance a narrative that may contradict that of investors concerned about companies ESG performance. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Presentation of the adopted annual financial statements and the approved consolidated financial statements, the combined management report for CANCOM SE and the group with the explanatory report on the information pursuant to Sections 289a and 315a of the German Commercial Code (HGB) and the Supervisory Board report for the 2024 financial year	Not voted	There was no vote on this agenda item.
Resolution on the appropriation of net income for the 2024 financial year	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. An acceptable distribution ratio is generally between 20% and 100%. In this case, the distribution ratio measured by earnings per share is only marginally above 100%, so the motion can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of the Management Board for the 2024 financial year	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Management Board. There are also no other specific governance issues or guidelines violations that could oppose discharge of the members of the Management Board. The discharge can therefore be considered uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of the Supervisory Board for the 2024 financial year	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Supervisory Board. However, the following transparency points and/or governance issues are not satisfied or are missing: No standard length of service for Supervisory Board members (cannot be clearly determined, see Corporate Governance Statement 24, p. 4) The company informed us upon request that the Supervisory Board is dealing with the issue. We were also offered a continuous exchange to improve corporate governance. At the moment, we see a greater chance of success in engagement and we are therefore voting in favour of the motion after weighing up the arguments.
Resolution on the election of the auditor of the financial statements and the consolidated financial statements for the 2025 financial year	For	There are no indications that constitute a violation of the guidelines. This motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the election of the auditor of the sustainability report for the financial year	For	There are no indications that constitute a violation of the guidelines. This motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

Resolution on the approval of the remuneration system for the Management Board members	Against	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2021 and achieved an approval rate of just 82.83%. The remuneration structure appears comprehensible and constitutes an improvement. However, there are weaknesses in the system, which is why the system cannot comply with the guidelines: Fixed remuneration can exceed the variable remuneration in target remuneration No ESG in the LTI Overall, the motion should be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report in accordance with Section 162 of the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG) for the 2024 financial year	Against	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2021 and achieved an approval rate of just 82.83%. The remuneration report was last voted on in 2024 and achieved an approval rate of 69.02%. There are weaknesses in the system, which is why the report on the system cannot comply with the guidelines either: Fixed remuneration can exceed the variable remuneration in the target remuneration Lastly, no application of ESG criteria in the STI No ESG in the LTI The same performance criteria are used for the short-term and long-term variables (EBITA) The long-term remuneration is measured exclusively by the EBITA The absence of a clearly defined and transparent peer group Overall, the motion should be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on a supplementary election to the Supervisory Board: Lukas Abegg	For	Since there are no indications of a violation of the guidelines, the election of Lukas Abegg to the Supervisory Board can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on amending Section 9(1)(1) of the Articles of Association	Against	An explanation is that even a Supervisory Board with five members can continue to operate very efficiently and, at the same time, meet the Supervisory Board's stated objectives in terms of its composition. However, it is important to consider that after the reduction in size of the Supervisory Board, a predominantly independent composition of the Supervisory Board may become problematic. Furthermore, diversity is traditionally much more difficult, especially in terms of competence requirements, which are becoming increasingly complex and diverse. A critical view should therefore be taken of the motion. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Resolution on amending Section 10(1) of the Articles of Association	For	There are no criteria that would indicate a violation of the guidelines. The motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on amending Section 14(4) of the Articles of Association	Against	In this case, the guidelines are not complied with, since the following criteria are not met and there are therefore shortcomings: No written explanation is given as to whether and under what conditions an authorisation of the Management Board should be used in the future (however, recently three GMs in person in 2025, 2024 and 2023) No written explanation on the specific structure of shareholder rights (in particular no GM with mandatory submission of questions beforehand) The motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on a capital increase from company funds, a subsequent ordinary capital reduction, the reclassification of Conditional Capital 1/2018 and the reclassification of Conditional Capital 2023 as well as the associated amendments to the Articles of Association	For	There are no criteria that would indicate a violation of the guidelines. The motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the renewal of the authorisation to purchase and use treasury shares in accordance with Section 71(1)(8) of the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG) with the possibility to exclude subscription and tender rights and withdraw treasury shares	Against	In this case, the company proposes a term of three years. This does not comply with the guidelines, which stipulate a maximum term of two years. This motion should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Incentive Plan	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. As it stands, there are serious reservations about the terms of the plan. In particular, it is worth questioning the use of a share price performance condition and the absence of recovery provisions. As this is contrary policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report for the 2023/24 financial year	Against	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2022 and achieved an approval rate of 91.98%. Resolution of the increase in remuneration for the Supervisory Board chair, change to the Articles of Association (Section 113(3) (1) of the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG))	For	There are no indications that would conflict with this agenda item. Resolution on amending Section 15(3) of the Articles of Association (authorisation to hold virtual general meetings)	Against	In this case, the approval period is limited to two years, which is to be welcomed. It should also be noted that the last two general meetings were held in person. According to the motion, the following declaration will be issued for this authorisation: "The authorisation will be granted for a period of two years following the entry of the corresponding change to the Articles of Association in line with the previous self-commitment. The Management Board and Supervisory Board still believe that the virtual general meeting format has proven its worth in the general meetings of 2021 to 2023 and the option of holding general meetings virtually in future should be kept. At the same time, the Management Board and Supervisory Board communicated their understanding of the importance of the personal dialogue with shareholders. As in the past, the authorisation should therefore only be used with a sense of proportion if this is in the interests of the company. Furthermore, if the Management Board convenes a virtual general meeting, it remains committed to exercising its discretion regarding the modalities of the right to ask questions in such a way that shareholders are granted at least the same substantive right to ask questions during the general meeting as they would have at a face-to-face general meeting. The requirements regarding the terms for exercising the right to ask questions at the virtual general meeting remains unaffected by this." Individual shareholders should decide on a case-by-case basis to what extent this explanation meets their expectations. This motion should therefore be at least be viewed critically. A precautionary recommendation of "AGAINST" is therefore given, with the note "ABSTAIN".

Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, the Company's policy allows the board to pay exceptional remuneration to the CEO in case of overperformance or extraordinary operations. The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. There are concerns around the possibility of retesting for the performance units under the LTI plan. Moreover, the Stock Option Plan contains a provision allowing for accelerate vesting due to the change in control of the Company. This provision may discourage potential buyers from making an offer for the Company both because the purchase price will be higher and because substantial numbers of employees may earn significant amounts of money and decide to leave their positions with the Company. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

2025 Stock Grant Plan	Against	Overall, there are serious reservations about the terms of the plan. In particular, there are concerns with the use of re-testing provisions under the plan, retesting is a significant divergence from best practice that undermines the "at-risk" nature of the award. In addition, there are questions around the target structure, which allows full vesting for hitting a single hurdle of median performance against the peers. Furthermore, the accelerated vesting of a portion of awards in case of change of control and the lack of individual limits is also contrary to shareholder interests. Finally, the Company's minority shareholders expressed a significant dissent on the approval of the 2024 Stock Grant Plan at last year's AGM. Given that the 2025 Stock Grant Plan will maintain the same structural features of the previous plan, we are voting against this proposal for this and the above issues.
Cancellation of Shares	For	The proposed request is in line with policy. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt with Limited or w/o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 57.3% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights. Elect Timothy S. Bitsberger	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Timothy S. Bitsberger. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. In addition, the nominee has already been a non-executive member of the board for more than 15 years, which is against policy. Further, as the board of directors and compensation committee do not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. In this case, the Company has failed to disclose the report. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.

Appointment of Auditor and Authority to Set Fees	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor have been disclosed. Further, fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and all necessary information regarding the auditor have been provided in the Company's filings. Moreover, rotating auditors is considered to be an important safeguard against the relationship between the auditor and the Company becoming too close, resulting in a lack of oversight due to complacency or conflicts of interest. New Master Supply Agreement	For	In the opinion of Ballas Capital Limited, an independent financial adviser, the proposed agreements and annual caps are entered into on normal commercial terms and in the ordinary and usual course of business of the Company, fair and reasonable, and are in the interest of the Company and its shareholders. Moreover, the proposed agreement does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
New Financial Services Master Agreement	For	It is a common practice in China for companies listed in Hong Kong to make deposit transactions through a financial arm of their parent company or within their groups. Such pooling of the group's cash through an unlisted financial vehicle may give the parent company control over the listed company's finances. In addition, such practices may lead to lax lending practices within the parent group, potentially exposing the shareholders of a listed company to undisclosed risks. However, in light of the nature and the extent of COSCO SHIPPING's control over the Company, and considering the agreement does not appear to otherwise violate policy. we are voting for this proposal.

Elect Sherman L. Miller	Withhold	As the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Consequently, we are opposing the election of non-independent nominee Sherman L. Miller.
Elect Camille S. Young	Withhold	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Camille S. Young. However, the Company has failed to disclose the board oversight of ESG, which is not in line with policy. As such, we are holding this nominee, as the most senior member of the nominating and corporate governance committee standing for election, accountable for this issue. In addition, on March 27, 2025, the Company disclosed in a Form 8-K that the board had made a number of amendments to the Company's charter and bylaws pursuant to the conversion agreement by and among the Company, DLNL, LLC, and its members, namely Adolphus B. Baker, and his spouse and her three sisters, who are the four daughters of the Company's late founder Fred R. Adams, Jr. While the elimination of the multi-class share structure benefits the shareholders, it is not believed that the board has sufficiently demonstrated the benefit of the rest of the amendments to shareholder rights. Given that the restrictive amendments were implemented without shareholder approval, it is considered appropriate to hold this nominee, as the most senior member of the nominating and corporate governance committee standing for election, accountable for this issue. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Election of Directors	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Casimir Lindholm, Eric Alström, Raija-Leena Hankonen-Nybom, Jukka Moisio, Tuija Pohjolainen-Hiltunen, Ritva Sotamaa and Luca Sra. Consequently, we are supporting these director's elections. However, the policy requires the compensation committee chair to be independent. Further, Ilkka Herlin has already been a non-executive member of the board for more than 15 years, which is against policy. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election. While we would normally support the election of some of these nominees, it should be noted that the Company is bundling all elections under one resolution. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Elect HUNG Shui Shu	Against	In this case, of the total candidates, seven directors (including three independent directors) will be elected. The elected candidates will serve a three-year term from 2025 to 2028. For further analysis, including performance and governance factors, please refer to the attached report.

At face value, TIHL's current platform does not adequately support majority board turnover here, noting generally competitive shareholder returns and seemingly reasonable cost management in the wake of the 2020 divestiture of Catcher's smartphone chassis business. Nevertheless, TIHL draws reasonable attention to Catcher's sluggish pace of transformation and its very heavy weighting toward financial assets and non-operating sources of income. The prospective need for incremental change, however, is meaningfully amplified with reference to Catcher's governance architecture, elements of which have seemingly facilitated, among other things, an antagonistic and ultimately failed lawsuit, a questionably reasoned dismissal of an ongoing insider trading investigation and curt acknowledgment of existing faults in oversight efficacy (e.g. issues relating to Messrs. Chan and Lei).

While the dissident makes a compelling argument, there ultimately remains underlying governance concerns regardless of the slate of directors chosen, most notably a lack of gender diversity and two instances of overboarding for nominees CHAN Wen Hsiung and KUO Su Huei. If these concerns are put aside, a compromise with the dissident nominees appears like the best option, in this case voting against management nominees LEI Mon Huan and CHAN Wen Hsiung and voting for dissident nominees Allen WANG and Andrew C. HSU.

Nonetheless, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors, including HUNG Shui Shu. As this is against policy, and taking into consideration the above arguments regarding the dissident nominees, we are voting against this proposal.

Release of the Director from Non-Competition Restriction	For	Releasing the board of directors from these restrictions, which prohibit board members from conducting any activities that can be considered to be competitive with the business affairs of the Company, may lead to potential conflicts of interest for directors. Compensation Terms of CEO	Against	There are reservations with the lack of basic disclosure of fundamental features of the CEO's pay package. Notably, the Company does not disclose much information about its performance metrics, weightings or goals under either STIP or LTIP. Such disclosure is common practice among the Company's peer group of mostly U.S. companies, at minimum on a retrospective basis after the plans have run their course and commercial sensitivity is a weaker justification for non-disclosure. It is also worht noting that this is the second year of the CEO's compensation package being brought before shareholders and there has not been notable improvement in this respect, Moreover, the following issues are not in line with policy: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The compensation components are not disclosed in detail. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria. The Company has failed to disclose performance metrics. The remuneration structure allows for vesting of awards in under 3 years. The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Stock Option Grant of Executive Chair	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. While the proposed dilution is within policy limits, it should be noted that the Company does not appear to utilize an objective, formula-based approach to setting compensation levels. Moreover, the proposed equity grants, which make up almost 100% of Mr. Shwed's annual compensation, are not tied to performance, but they are options carrying an exercise price. Moreover, Mr. Shwed currently holds 25% of the Company's shares, and thus he already has a vested interest in seeking long-term growth in share value. As such, the need to add to his share of the Company by way of regular equity grants, especially those not tied to performance metrics, should be questioned here. Also, the continued share buybacks may raise the ownership percentage of the shares tied to the chair's stock options proposed here. As aforementioned, the plan is not performance-based and as such is not tied to ESG metrics. As this is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Compensation Policy	Against	In this case, the Company has provided limited disclosure with respect to its compensation practices and incentive plans. Moreover, the following issues are not in line with policy: Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The compensation components are not disclosed in detail. The Company has failed to disclose performance metrics under the LTI. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, the Company has the authority to award special bonuses at up to 100% of annual base salary. The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Amendment to the Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.

Article 12 and 13	For	The proposed amendments are in line with policy. Consequently, we are supporting this proposal.
Article 32	For	The proposed amendments are in line with policy. Consequently, we are supporting this proposal.
Elect JANG Byeong Wan	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee JANG Byeong Wan. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. In addition, the Company has failed to disclose the board oversight of ESG and its biodiversity policy, which is not in line with policy. As such, we are holding this nominee, as the sole director up for election, accountable for this issue. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Directors' Fees	Against	The proposed fees are excessive if compared to those paid by the Company's peers. In this case, the Company has failed to outline a need for such a considerable annual cap. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.
Corporate Auditors' Fees	Against	Taking into account similarly-sized companies and market position, the Company's corporate auditor fees are excessive. Further, there is no compelling rationale to support paying corporate auditor fees that are significantly higher than those of its peers. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Board Size	For	There are no indications of any controversy regarding the board size at this company. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Election of Niels Thestrup to the Board of Directors	Abstain	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Niels Thestrup. However,, as the board of directors and the compensation committee do not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Consequently, we are opposing the election of non-independent nominee Niels Thestrup. Finally, it worth noting that Niels Thestrup received DKK 449,000 from the Company for legal services during the most recently completed fiscal year. Such relationships can potentially create conflicts for directors, as they may be forced to weigh their own interests in relation to shareholder interests when making board decisions. Moreover, the Company's decision regarding where to turn for the best professional services may be compromised when doing business with the legal firm of one of the Company's directors. In Denmark, it is generally not possible to vote against proposals that involve elections due to plurality voting requirements. Here, the proxy card does not allow for against votes. As a result, the recommendation is "AGAINST" with a reference to "ABSTAIN".

In light of the lack of rationale provided by the proponents, and absent any egregious conduct of the current board, we are voting against this proposal. However, as per market practice the company does not publish for how long lead auditor has already been in office. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal. Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The company has failed to implement a performance based long-term incentive plan. Variable remuneration consists solely of participation in the annual bonus plan, which risks encouraging executives to place undue emphasis on short-term performance, potentially hindering growth over the long-term. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. Executive remuneration is not published individually. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. In this case, the CEO received a retention bonus amounting to DKK 1,000,000 in the past fiscal year. Payment of the grant will be made at a later date. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Re-Appointment of Auditor	Against	The fees paid for non-audit-related services exceed those paid for audit-related services. This raises concerns about the objectivity of the accountants in conducting the audit. It is crucial that auditors are not beholden to management due to compensation they receive for non-audit work. When management and the auditor enter into significant financial relationships unrelated to the audit, the independence of the auditor and the integrity of the Company's financial statements are compromised. As this is contrary to best practice, we are voting against this proposal.

Financial Services Framework Agreement	For	It is a common practice in China for companies listed in Hong Kong to make deposit transactions through a financial arm of their parent company or within their groups. Such pooling of the group's cash through an unlisted financial vehicle may give the parent company control over the listed company's finances. In addition, such practices may lead to lax lending practices within the parent group, potentially exposing the shareholders of a listed company to undisclosed risks. However as this does not violate policy, and in light of the nature and the extent of the Parent company's control over the Company, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Value of Inclusion Programs	Against	This proposal requests that the Company conduct an evaluation and issue a report assessing how the Company's inclusion programs provide positive financial value to shareholders, accounting for cognizable litigation risk. However, it does not appear that the proponent has provided a clear rationale as to why the Company's disclosure is insufficient to allow shareholders to understand how the Company is managing broader inclusion-related considerations nor is there any reason to suspect that the Company's management of this issue has presented a risk to the Company or its shareholders. Moreover, the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPr). The NCPPr describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." As NCPPr is not an investor, it does not appear to have AUM. The NCPPr states that it "trains its sights" on the following issues: (i) shareholder activism; (ii) new leadership for Black America (Project 21) (iii) environmental policy; (iv) regulatory policy; (v) fiscal policy, health care, and retirement security; (vi) government accountability and legal reform; (vii) national defense; (viii) national sovereignty; and (ix) emerging issues. A division of the NCPPr, the Free Enterprise Project ("FEP") describes itself as the "original and premier opponent of the woke takeover of American corporate life and defender of true capitalism." It files shareholder resolutions, engages corporate CEOs and board members, submits public comments, engages state and federal leaders, crafts legislation, files lawsuits and directs media campaigns to push corporations to respect their fiduciary obligations and to stay out of political and social engineering." As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Elect Jane N. Fraser	Against	As the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Consequently, we are opposing the election of non-independent nominee Jane N. Fraser.
Elect Duncan P. Hennes	Against	As the board of directors and compensation committee do not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Furthermore, the policy requires the compensation committee chair to be independent. As nominee Duncan P. Hennes is not considered independent, we are opposing this director's election.

Elect James S. Turley	Against	As the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Furthermore, the policy requires the audit committee chair to be independent. As nominee James S. Turley is not considered independent, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Casper W. von Koskull	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Casper W. von Koskull. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. The Company's STIP awards are largely discretionary. Moreover, incentive limits on STIP awards are not clearly disclosed. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. In connection with his hiring, Mr. Raghavan received a sign-on deferred stock award with a value of approximately $39 million and was awarded a deferred cash award with a value of $12.9 million. For context, the aggregate value of the awards is larger than the compensation that Ms. Fraser earned as CEO based on 2024 performance. To provide another comparison point for the size of the awards, they exceed the value of the aggregate total compensation received by all other non-CEO NEOs combined. While the Company does provide substantial disclosure regarding these awards, they are excessive. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Amendment to the 2019 Stock Incentive Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Severance Approval Policy	For	It is line with policy for shareholder approval to be sought for severance arrangements that exceed 2.99 times the sum of salary and short-term bonus. Therefore, we are supporting this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Human Rights Standards for Indigenous Peoples	For	The requested reporting of the effectiveness of Citigroup's policies, practices, and performance indicators in respecting internationally-recognized human rights standards for Indigenous Peoples' rights is in line with policy. Therefore, we are supporting this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Audited Report on Financial Statement Assumptions Regarding Climate Change	Against	In its response to this proposal, the Company states that, as a global systemically important bank, it is subject to extensive regulation to ensure its safety and soundness in the U.S. and global financial and real economy system. As such, the Company is required to perform scenario analyses, including both regulatory-defined and internally developed scenarios that aim to highlight extreme but plausible outcomes that the Company must manage risk against. Moreover, in this case, the proponent is an anti-ESG proponent, the National Center for Public Policy Research (NCPPR). The NCPPR describes itself as a 'communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems' that believes 'the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century.' Given the above, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Oversight of Animal Welfare	For	The Company provides its policies regarding oversight of material risks and board oversight of ESG matters, but it does not appear to include any explicit reference to board-level oversight of animal welfare. Given that the requested disclosure is in line with policy, we are supporting this proposal.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	For	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. In addition, the remuneration paid to the executive board is not excessive and is comparable with industry peers. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	For	In this particular case, the shareholder proponent has put forth adequate justification for their proposal. Such a proposal enhances shareholders rights and is not considered detrimental financially or structurally. The company has also demonstrated that it already has undertaken certain steps which improve shareholder rights and protections; however, this proposal will push the company to adopt a core tenant of good corporate governance. Moreover, the separation of the chair and CEO is in line with policy. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Plastic Production and Packaging Policies	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Legal and Policy Center ("NLPC"), which has submitted shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear to be consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NLPC describes itself as a 501(c)(3) that "promotes ethics in public life through research, investigation, education, and legal action," and believes "the best way to promote ethics is to reduce the size of government." As part of the corporate integrity project on its website, the NLPC shares its concerns regarding "woke" corporate executives, for instance posting articles about inclusive content "devaluing" the Pixar franchise or about how the NLPC has reported Visa's chair and CEO to the SEC for ongoing "wokeness." The project also examines a supposed pushback against ESG initiatives, featuring pieces such as one describing corporate America's anti-racism programs as racist against white people and another promoting the NLPC's efforts to nominate a fossil-fuel-supporting director candidate to the board of Exxon Mobil Corporation. This proposal has also been labeled as "Anti-ESG" due to the shareholder proponent. These proponents have generally submitted proposals that address environmental and social issues and their aims are fairly clearly articulated in their supporting statements. Support for this resolution could buoy the proponents arguments and would advance a narrative that may contradict that of investors concerned about companies ESG performance. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Presentation of Board and Auditor Report	Not voted	This resolution is a routine formality in this market.
Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to disclose key details of its executive remuneration system. As such., it is unclear whether the Company's current remuneration plan adequately links pay with performance. The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The proposed remuneration policy lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The Company has failed to implement a long-term incentive plan. Given the absence of a LTIP, no ESG criteria are linked to long term awards. The benchmark used for pay-setting has not been disclosed. The Company's remuneration practices have been the subject of significant shareholder dissent and the Company has failed to adequately address this dissent in a meaningful manner. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits	For	The proposed profit distribution policy appears reasonable and does not violate policy. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.

Ratification of Board Acts	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to current member of the Board of Directors and the Chief Executive Officer at the company. However, several governance and transparency requirements have not been met: The board of directors is not sufficiently independent. The audit committee is not sufficiently independent. CVs (age) of directors are not published. The Company has failed to establish a nomination committee. As this is contrary to policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Ratification of Auditor's Acts	For	This ratification will not be valid if the financial statements contain any omission or false statement on behalf of management with regards to the Company's financial performance. There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the Company's auditors. In the absence of any specific concerns one should consider this request as routine. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Appointment of Auditor	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect Senne Hermans	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Senne Hermans. However, as the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. In addition, the Company has not published this director's CV (age) as is required by policy. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Hilde Cerstelotte	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Hilde Cerstelotte. However, as the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. In addition, the Company has not published this director's CV (age) as is required by policy. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Rika Coppens	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Rika Coppens. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Rudi Peeters	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Rudi Peeters. However, the Company has not published this director's CV (age) as is required by policy. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Elect Chantal De Vrieze	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Chantal De Vrieze. However, given the information provided, the candidate holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (Director - Colruyt Group N.V; Director - EVS Broadcast Equipment SA; Managing director - Econocom Group SA). Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward employees for good performance. Elect Kenneth J. Bacon	Withhold	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Kenneth J. Bacon. However, the nominee has already been a non-executive member of the board for more than 15 years, which is against policy. Furthermore, as the nominating and corporate governance committee does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors on this committee. Lastly, the Company maintains a multi-class share structure with unequal voting rights and has not provided for a reasonable time-based sunset of the multi-class share structure (generally seven years or less). Multi-class voting structures are not in line with policy. It is believed that it is the responsibility of the chair of the nominating and corporate governance committee to ensure that the economic stake of each shareholder matches their voting power and that no small group of shareholders, family or otherwise, has voting rights different from those of other shareholders. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Thomas J. Baltimore, Jr.	Withhold	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Thomas J. Baltimore, Jr. However, given the information provided, the candidate holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (Director - American Express Company; Director - Comcast Corporation; Chair/CEO - Park Hotels & Resorts Inc). Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Madeline S. Bell	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Madeline S. Bell. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Louise F. Brady	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Louise F. Brady. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Edward D. Breen	Withhold	The policy requires the compensation committee chair to be independent. As nominee Edward D. Breen is not considered independent, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Jeffrey A. Honickman	Withhold	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Jeffrey A. Honickman. However, the nominee has already been a non-executive member of the board for more than 15 years, which is against policy. Furthermore, as the nominating and corporate governance committee does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors on this committee. Also, the policy requires the audit committee chair to be independent. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Elect Wonya Y. Lucas	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Wonya Y. Lucas. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Asuka Nakahara	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Asuka Nakahara. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect David C. Novak	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee David C. Novak. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Brian L. Roberts	Withhold	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Brian L. Roberts. However, this director will be serving as the combined Chair/CEO in the upcoming year, which is against policy. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Amendment to the 2011 Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	It is believed that employee stock purchase programs align the interests of employees and shareholders and encourage a sense of ownership at companies. Having reviewed the qualitative terms and the number of shares requested, there is no reason to believe that the Company will use its equity in an unreasonable manner under this plan. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. Clawback policy is restatement dependent only. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Including Pay Ratio in Executive Compensation	For	Disclosure of the CEO pay ratio is in line with policy. Therefore, we are supporting this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Legal and Policy Center ("NLPC"), which has submitted shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear to be consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NLPC describes itself as a 501(c)(3) that "promotes ethics in public life through research, investigation, education, and legal action," and believes "the best way to promote ethics is to reduce the size of government." As part of the corporate integrity project on its website, the NLPC shares its concerns regarding "woke" corporate executives, for instance posting articles about inclusive content "devaluing" the Pixar franchise or about how the NLPC has reported Visa's chair and CEO to the SEC for ongoing "wokeness." The project also examines a supposed pushback against ESG initiatives, featuring pieces such as one describing corporate America's anti-racism programs as racist against white people and another promoting the NLPC's efforts to nominate a fossil-fuel-supporting director candidate to the board of Exxon Mobil Corporation. This proposal has also been labeled as "Anti-ESG" due to the shareholder proponent. These proponents have generally submitted proposals that address environmental and social issues and their aims are fairly clearly articulated in their supporting statements. Support for this resolution could buoy the proponents arguments and would advance a narrative that may contradict that of investors concerned about companies ESG performance. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Resolution on the discharge of members of the Management Board: Bettina Orlopp	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Management Board. There are also no other specific governance issues or guidelines violations that could oppose discharge of the members of the Management Board. Last year, the possible takeover of Commerzbank by Italian Unicredit dominated the company's reporting, including the recent measures to maintain its independence. Whether shareholders want to see a path of independence or a takeover path pursued may neutrally not be part of the recommendation to discharge the Management Board. The discharge of the Management Board and therefore of Bettina Orlopp Manfred Knof Michael Kotzbauer Sabine Mlnarsky Jörg Oliveri del Castillo-Schulz Thomas Schaufler Bernhard Spalt Christiane Vorspel-Rüter can thus be viewed critically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

Resolution on the discharge of the members of the Supervisory Board: Daniela Mattheus	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Supervisory Board. There are also no other specific governance issues or breaches of guidelines which could oppose a discharge of the members of the Supervisory Board. Last year, the possible takeover of Commerzbank by Italian Unicredit dominated the company's reporting, including the recent measures to maintain its independence. Whether shareholders want to see a path of independence or a takeover path pursued may neutrally not be part of the recommendation to discharge the Supervisory Board in its control function. Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report for the 2024 financial year	Against	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2022 and achieved an approval rate of only 84.6%. The remuneration report was last voted on in 2024 and reached an approval rate of 93.69%. However, there are some weaknesses in the system, which is why the report on the system cannot comply with the guidelines either: The Management Board member may already have the long-term variable grant amounts in less than four years No clear separation between STI and LTI, which is why there are no fundamentally different criteria The scope of the personal investment cannot be achieved in at least four years Overall, the motion should be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the approval of the remuneration system for the Management Board members	For	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2022 and achieved an approval rate of just 84.6%. The remuneration structure appears to be comprehensible and constitutes an improvement. However, there is a weakness in the system, which is why the system cannot comply with the guidelines: The scope of the personal investment cannot be achieved in at least 4 years. As this is the only criticism listed and there is a share ownership guideline overall, we are voting in favour of the remuneration system overall after weighing up the arguments.
Resolution on the system for compensating the members of the Supervisory Board and on amendments to the Articles of Association regarding Supervisory Board compensation	For	There are no indications that would conflict with this agenda item. The motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Election of two new members of the Supervisory Board: Sabine Lautenschläger-Peiter	For	Since there are no indications of a violation of the guidelines, the election of Sabine Lautenschläger-Peiter to the Supervisory Board can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Election of two new members of the Supervisory Board: Michael Gorriz	For	Since there are no indications of a violation of the guidelines, the election of Michael Gorriz to the Supervisory Board can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on authorisation to purchase and use treasury shares in accordance with Section 71(1)(8) of the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG) with the option of excluding shareholders' subscription rights	For	In this case, the company proposes a term of five years. This does not comply with the guidelines, which stipulate a maximum term of two years. However, banks achieve high returns on equity in the current economic climate. Approximately 50% of the resulting cash flows are distributed to shareholders in the form of dividends. As credit business in Europe is currently growing at a low level, the capital allocation for this is correspondingly low. That is why banks should flexibly return capital to shareholders in the form of share buybacks. We are therefore voting in favour of this proposal.

Resolution on the authorisation to acquire treasury shares via multilateral trading facilities and the use of derivatives in connection with the acquisition of treasury shares pursuant to Section 71(1)(8) of the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG)	For	In this case, the company proposes a term of five years. This does not comply with the guidelines, which stipulate a maximum term of two years. However, banks achieve high returns on equity in the current economic climate. Resolution on an amendment to the Articles of Association with regard to the authorisation to hold a virtual general meeting	Against	In this case, the guidelines are not complied with, since the following criteria are not met and there are therefore deficiencies: The amendment to the Articles of Association explicitly stipulates that the Management Board may not convene a virtual general meeting without the consent of the Supervisory Board (not entered into the Articles of Association, only the agreement with the Supervisory Board Chairman is specified) No written declaration is made as to whether and under what conditions an authorisation of the Management Board should be used in the future (credible, detailed explanation of the circumstances: but an in-person GM this year) The motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the approval to amend the domination and profit transfer agreement with Commerz Direktservice GmbH	For	There are no criteria that would indicate a violation of the guidelines. The motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Ad hoc	Against	Since no information in this respect can be provided in the run-up to the general meeting, only a general power of attorney could be issued in this instance. Since there is no possibility of evaluating any proposals, critical scrutiny would be advisable at this juncture. However, in order to prevent unwanted random majorities, the motion should be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against this form of motions.

Accounts and Reports; Non Tax-Deductible Expenses	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Consolidated Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Special Auditors Report on Regulated Agreements	For	The auditors' special report on related-party transactions was available for review in advance of this shareholders' meeting, in accordance with best-practice recommendations. As such, it was possible to determine the routine nature of the business transactions discussed therein. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect Benoit Bazin	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Benoit Bazin. However, this director will be serving as the combined Chair/CEO in the upcoming year, which is against policy. Moreover, given the information provided, the candidate holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (Chair/CEO - Compagnie de Saint Gobain SA; Director - Vinci). Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Sibylle Daunis-Opfermann As Employee Shareholder Representative	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Sibylle Daunis-Opfermann. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Maya Hari	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Maya Hari. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Antoine de Saint-Affrique	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Antoine de Saint-Affrique. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Hans Sohlström	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Hans Sohlström. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
2024 Remuneration of Pierre-André de Chalendar, Chair until June 6, 2024	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

2024 Remuneration of Benoit Bazin, CEO until June 6, 2024	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The remuneration structure lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. Fixed salary increased by more than 10% within one year without a valid reason. Specifically, the Company increased the base salary of its CEO Benoit Bazin by 30%, from €1,000,000 to €1,300,000, when he was appointed chair and CEO of the Company on June 7, 2024. Under the terms of the short-term incentive plan, in 2022 the Company introduced compensatory over-performance for quantitative metrics. The over-performance of one quantitative metric can be used to compensate for under-performance in another quantitative metric. The board disclosed that it decided to introduce a compensatory option for the quantitative metrics in light of volatility of the environment in which the Group operates, which makes it difficult to forecast each metric. It is worth noting that from 2023 the payout of the financial metrics in case of overperformance was reduced from 60% to 54% of the STI maximum opportunity if one financial metric lapses in full. Shareholders may question the appropriateness of the Company's rationale to feature a mechanism that is not in line with market best practices. As this is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

2025 Remuneration Policy (Chair and CEO)	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The remuneration structure lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The board possesses discretion to adjust awards under both short- and long-term incentive plan, departing from the effective achievement level of performance goals. Specifically, the board may adjust the targets of the metric related to the reduction of CO2 emissions in the STI plan and the targets for all the metrics under the LTI plan in exceptional circumstances, specifically in the event of a change in the Group's scope of consolidation or a change in accounting method, in order to neutralise the consequences of these circumstances on the objectives set on the grant date. Under the terms of the short-term incentive plan, in 2022 the Company introduced compensatory over-performance for quantitative metrics. The over-performance of one quantitative metric can be used to compensate for under-performance in another quantitative metric. The board disclosed that it decided to introduce a compensatory option for the quantitative metrics in light of volatility of the environment in which the Group operates, which makes it difficult to forecast each metric. 2025 Remuneration Policy (Board of Directors)	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/ Preemptive Rights	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 20% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and/or Convertible Debt w/o Preemptive Rights; W/ or W/o Priority Subscription	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt Through Private Placement	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Greenshoe	For	This authority grants the Company the flexibility to increase an over-subscribed issuance by up to 15%, so long as such increase takes place on the same terms and within thirty days of the initial issuance. In this case, the proposed greenshoe is subject to a cumulative limit of 20% of share capital for all share issuances, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Consideration for Contributions In Kind	For	This authority grants the Company the flexibility to increase an over-subscribed issuance by up to 15%, so long as such increase takes place on the same terms and within thirty days of the initial issuance. In this case, the proposed greenshoe is subject to a cumulative limit of 20% of share capital for all share issuances, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Currently, employees do not hold a significant portion of the Company's share capital. Therefore, if the proposed plan is fully implemented, employee shareholdings would remain reasonable and in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Cancel Shares and Reduce Capital	For	This is a routine request in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Grant Stock Options	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Authority to Issue Performance Shares	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Distribution of Earnings for the Year 2024	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendment to the Articles of Incorporation	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Release of Non-competition Restrictions for Directors	For	Releasing the board of directors from these restrictions, which prohibit board members from conducting any activities that can be considered to be competitive with the business affairs of the Company, may lead to potential conflicts of interest for directors. In this case, the Company proposes to release its director from non-compete obligation with respect to their directorships in Companies in an unrelated industry, wholly-owned subsidiaries, controlled subsidiaries, substantial shareholders and their subsidiaries or joint ventures. There is no indication that participation in the operations of such entities will lead to conflicts of interest for directors. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Extraordinary Motions	Against	In Taiwan, many companies place an item for extraordinary motions on their proxy forms. However, shareholders of Taiwanese companies who vote via proxy technically may not exercise their voting rights preemptively for any extraordinary motions raised at the general meeting of shareholders. Instead, proxies have full authority to exercise their discretion in supporting or opposing any such motions. As granting unfettered discretion is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, Noelle O'Mara received sign on awards, comprised of RSUs, performance shares and cash, totalling approximately $3,218,741. It should be noted that the Company did not clearly disclose any details of how the structure of these awards was determined or whether there was any consideration for potential awards that may have been forfeited to join the Company. The CEO's compensation outpaces the compensation of its self-selected peer group, despite relatively low market capitalization compared to the same peers. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Directors' Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. Adoption of the Share Award Scheme	Against	While the proposed dilution is in line with policy, the following issues should be noted: Range of Participants: The scheme allows the grant of share options to a broad range of participants, such as any customer, supplier, consultant or advisor of the Group. Options should be granted as a form of compensation to people who directly contribute to the company's operations and/or performance and should serve to encourage the grantees to protect and improve shareholder value. As such, it is appropriate for executive directors and employees to be the sole recipients of these awards. Given the current broad range of participants allowed under the proposed scheme, the board may abuse its authority and serve its own interests by granting options to a party of the Company who has an affiliation with the board or the Company. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Adoption of the Service Provider Sublimit	Against	While the proposed dilution is in line with policy, the following issues should be noted: Range of Participants: The scheme allows the grant of share options to a broad range of participants, such as any customer, supplier, consultant or advisor of the Group. Amendments to Articles	For	The Company seeks approval to amend its Articles to allow for the repurchased shares to be held as treasury shares. Without this amendment, any repurchased shares must be cancelled. The amendment reflects the updated Listing Rules which took effect from June 11, 2024, allowing issuers to retain repurchased shares as treasury shares instead of mandating their cancellation. The proposed amendment seeks to harmonise with regulator intentions which is the basis for standard market practices, and therefore the amendment appears supportable. As this does not otherwise violate policy, we are voting for this proposal.

Allocation of Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Approval of the Employee Stock Ownership Plan	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. In principle, an acceptable dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of the share capital. While the proposed dilution is in line with policy, the following issues should be noted: The proposed plan lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The proposed plan is not performance based. Non-executive directors are entitled to participate in this plan. In accordance with best practice recommendations in Europe and the Dutch Corporate Governance Code, non-executive directors should not receive equity-based awards, particularly if the awards are granted on the same terms as to executives. Moreover, awards vest subject to continuous service, which could be a strong disincentive to directors expressing dissenting views at the board and, in extreme cases, taking the ultimate step of resigning. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Elect John O'Dea to the Board of Directors	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee John O'Dea. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Further, there are concerns regarding a cash bonus to non-executive director, Mauro Ajani during the year under review. Specifically, he received additional remuneration of €148,000 and a cash bonus of €2,451,161. In this case, the Company has failed to disclose the quantitative methodology regarding these additional payments, which appears in contrast to shareholders' best interest. The members of the remuneration committee have the responsibility of reviewing all aspects of the remuneration program for a company's executive officers. As such, in this case, it appears the members of the remuneration committee have not fulfilled their duties to the satisfaction of all shareholders. Nominee O'Dea serves as chair of the remuneration committee. Therefore, absent a separate vote on the Company's remuneration report, it is deemed appropriate to hold this nominee accountable for the remuneration committee's shortcomings in the year under review. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics under the STI. Awards under the long-term incentive plan appear to be eligible for vesting upon the achievement of only one of the two listed criteria. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, Javier Polit received an award comprised of cash, valued at $3,100,000, along with an award of RSUs valued at $2,413,905. In this case, it is unclear whether the cash award was granted as a make-whole payment in consideration of awards forfeited from a previous employer or whether it is subject to any repayment provisions. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Risks of Maintaining DEI Efforts	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPr"). NCPPr has a history of submitting shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NCPPr describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPr, the Free Enterprise Project, routinely engages companies on issues such as healthcare, immigration, gun rights, energy, taxes, religious freedom, media bias, corporate free speech, and ideological diversity, among other issues, often by questioning executives at annual meetings or through the submission of shareholder proposals. In this particular case, the shareholder proponent was not able to put forth adequate justification for their proposal. Specifically, the proponent has not provided a sufficient rationale to suggest the Company has mismanaged matters related to diversity. Moreover, this proposal has also been labeled as "Anti-ESG" due to the shareholder proponent. These proponents have generally submitted proposals that address environmental and social issues and their aims are fairly clearly articulated in their supporting statements. Support for this resolution could buoy the proponents arguments and would advance a narrative that may contradict that of investors concerned about companies ESG performance. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Financial Statements and Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	In this case, the Company has disclosed its auditor's report and there are no issues in the financial statements in the Company's meeting circular. A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Introduction of Cumulative Voting (Shareholder Proposal)	For	For more detailed analysis of these competing amendments, please refer to the attached report. While acknowledging the substance of Coway's rebuttal, there is no clear identifiable limited risk in endorsing what is a fairly fundamental governance enhancement. As a foundational starting point in this regard, cumulative voting generally operates as a safeguard for shareholders by ensuring that those who hold a significant minority of shares are able to elect a candidate of their choosing to the board, ultimately fostering a board dynamic more responsive to all shareholders. Ultimately, Align has offered investors a sound basis to support what appears to be a reasonable, low-risk governance enhancement, particularly given what appear to be relatively modest guardrails surrounding Netmarble's possible influence and the board's seemingly hasty adoption and disclosure of policies which seem to speak directly, if incrementally, to the value-crimping concerns previously raised in private by the Dissident. It is also worth emphasizing that shareholders should in turn reject Coway's cross-conditional amendment to any cumulative voting protocol, finding that it may effectively hamper the practical application of the standard in future elections. As this does not violate policy and appears to improve the Company's corporate governance practices, we are voting for this proposal.
Application of Cumulative Voting for Executive and Outside Directors Separately (Board Proposal)	Against	Following the analysis in Proposal 2.1, we are voting against this proposal.
Addition of Business Objectives (Board Proposal)	For	In this case, there's no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Revision of Record Date for Dividends (Board Proposal)	For	In this case, there's no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

2025 Remuneration Policy of Philippe Brassac, Outgoing CEO (Until May 14, 2025)	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company's existing remuneration structure provides executives with a larger maximum payout under the annual bonus scheme than the long-term incentive arrangements. Under the terms of the short- and long-term incentive plans, over-performance in one metric can compensate for under-performance of the other metrics. This means that full payout for one metric can be achieved even if the targets are not attained and is not in line with best practice. The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. As this is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

2025 Remuneration policy of Jérôme Grivet (Deputy CEO)	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. Fixed salary increased by more than 10% within one year without a valid reason. Specifically, Jérôme Grivet's base salary will increase by 43% from €700,000 to €1,000,000 in 2025. the overall variable compensation payable in any one year, including both STI and LTI plans, cannot be more than 140% of fixed salary for the deputy CEO, thus being lower than the regulatory cap on variable compensation for executives at EU banks, which cannot exceed 200% of base salary, somewhat mitigating concerns. As this is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Authority to Issue Performance Shares	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Authorisation of Legal Formalities	For	This is a routine legal formality in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
SHP Regarding Discount on Equity Remuneration for Employees	Against	As noted above, this shareholder proposal is binding and, if approved, will therefore be implemented as drafted. Ultimately, the proposed change is not in line with policy and, in this case, the choice of the discount applicable to the equity-based compensation to employees is best left up to management. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Length of Share Ownership Required to Call Special Meetings	Against	In this case, the Company currently allows shareholders owning at least 15% of its shares for one year to call a special meeting. However, these shareholders must have owned these shares for one year in order to qualify to call a special meeting. This proposal would eliminate this requirement. Given the exceptionally low threshold for calling a special meeting, the Proponent has failed to provide convincing rationale that removing this requirement is necessary at this time. While this does place some restrictions on shareholders' ability to call a special meeting, it should not be viewed as an entirely negative feature as it is believed the Company should install protections that ensure that meetings are not called in a manner that could harm long-term shareholder interests. Accordingly, the Company has shown responsiveness to shareholders through the adoption of a low special meeting threshold and therefore is not believed that shareholders would derive significant value from adoption of this proposal at this time. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding GHG Reduction Targets	For	This proposal requests that the Company disclose measurable targets for reducing its GHG emissions. Further, it should be noted that the Company has not set GHG reduction targets, though it does list the steps it is taking to reduce GHG emissions. For example, in response to this proposal, the Company states that it is making progress in executing strategies to: (i) broaden its understanding of environmental impacts and improve its emissions data quality, especially across Scope 3; (ii) evaluate climate risk to its operations and supply chain with regular and appropriate board oversight; and (iii) disclose the material data and risk factors about such matters to its shareholders and other stakeholders. Nonetheless, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

2024 Business Report and Financial Statements	For	All of the necessary financial statements and reports are disclosed in the Company's meeting materials. It should be noted that in the opinion of the statutory auditors, the Company's independent auditor, the Company's financial statements and business report have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in Taiwan, 'Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and International Financial Reporting Standards'. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendments to Articles	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Extraordinary Motions	Against	In Taiwan, many companies place an item for extraordinary motions on their proxy forms. However, shareholders of Taiwanese companies who vote via proxy technically may not exercise their voting rights preemptively for any extraordinary motions raised at the general meeting of shareholders. Instead, proxies have full authority to exercise their discretion in supporting or opposing any such motions. As granting unfettered discretion is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

2025 Remuneration Policy (Corporate Officers)	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However, The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. Moreover, until 2022, the performance targets attached to awards made under the Company's long-term incentive plan are based upon a single metric. Indeed, payouts under past long-term incentive plans are the main reason the CEO's pay far exceeds what his colleagues at peer companies can receive. As way of illustration, shareholders may note vested awards of €29.5 million in 2023. These sums are larger than what is typically seen in the French market by an order of magnitude. On December 31, 2023, Bernard Charlès stepped down from his role as CEO, but retained his role as executive chair of the board of directors. The Company set the annualised fixed remuneration for Bernard Charlès at €2,000,000, representing a 38.4% premium compared to his base salary as CEO. Although he will only receive fixed remuneration in the role, shareholders may question why the Company decided to set the executive chair's fixed salary at a 38.4% premium in comparison to the fixed salary he received as chair and CEO of the Company. It is also worth noting that Bernard Charlès, the chair and CEO of the Company, retired from his position as CEO on December 31, 2023, but has remained executive chair of the board. In this case, performance shares granted to him under the 2020, 2021, 2022 and 2023 LTI plans have not been pro-rated for time served. The Company notes that the shares granted to him under the 2020 plan, the second tranche of the 2021 plan, the 2022 and the 2023 plans will vest, subject to the relevant performance and continued employment conditions. In particular, the Company specifies that the continued employment condition will be met should Bernard Charlès be chair of the board of directors at the end of the presence condition. However, shareholders may question the Company's decision not to prorate the remaining 750,000 performance shares granted to Bernard Charlès under the second tranche of the 2021 plan, as well as the 1,500,000 performance shares granted under each of the 2022 and 2023 plans. The CEO was awarded performance shares for a four-year period under the second tranche of the 2021 plan, while he was CEO for only two years and a half out of the four years. Moreover, the CEO was solely present for one year and a half and approximately six months out of the three-year period under the 2022 and 2023 plans, respectively. As noted above, concerns in this regard are further heightened by the fact that until 2022, the performance targets attached to the CEO's LTI plan were

2024 Remuneration of Bernard Charlès, Chair	Against	As noted in Proposal 5, on December 31, 2023, Bernard Charlès stepped down from his role as CEO, but retained his role as executive chair of the board of directors. 2024 Remuneration of Pascal Daloz, CEO	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However, The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. Moreover, the total pay opportunity under the long-term incentive plans significantly exceeds peers. Although this marks a 70% discount in comparison to the number of performance shares granted to his predecessor there remains concerns with the size of the awards, which is significantly larger than grants typically allocated to CEOs of the CAC 40 companies. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

2024 Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However, The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. Moreover, until 2022, the performance targets attached to awards made under the Company's long-term incentive plan are based upon a single metric. Indeed, payouts under past long-term incentive plans are the main reason the CEO's pay far exceeds what his colleagues at peer companies can receive. As way of illustration, shareholders may note vested awards of €29.5 million in 2023. These sums are larger than what is typically seen in the French market by an order of magnitude. On December 31, 2023, Bernard Charlès stepped down from his role as CEO, but retained his role as executive chair of the board of directors. 2025 Director's Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect Marie-Hélène Habert-Dassault	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Marie-Hélène Habert-Dassault. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Nathalie Rouvet Lazare	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Nathalie Rouvet Lazare. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.

Elect Soumitra Dutta	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Soumitra Dutta. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has not been disclosed. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Cancel Shares and Reduce Capital	For	This is a routine request in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/ Preemptive Rights	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 9.7% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/o Preemptive Rights	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 9.7% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Greenshoe	For	This authority grants the Company the flexibility to increase an over-subscribed issuance by up to 15%, so long as such increase takes place on the same terms and within thirty days of the initial issuance. In this case, the proposed greenshoe is subject to a cumulative limit of 9.7% of share capital for all share issuances, which is in line with policy. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Consideration for Contributions In Kind	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Performance Shares	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. While the level of dilution under this plan is acceptable, there are significant concerns regarding the Company's LTIP, under which these performance shares would be granted. In particular, the total pay opportunity under the LTIP is excessive and significantly exceeds peers. For more information, please refer to the Remuneration Report and Policy. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Grant Stock Options	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Currently, employees do not hold a significant portion of the Company's share capital. Therefore, if the proposed plan is fully implemented, employee shareholdings would remain reasonable and in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Stock Purchase Plan for Overseas Employees	For	Currently, employees do not hold a significant portion of the Company's share capital. Therefore, if the proposed plan is fully implemented, employee shareholdings would remain reasonable and in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendment to Articles Regarding Written Consultations	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authorisation of Legal Formalities	For	This is a routine legal formality in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Re-elect Deepa Sita	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Deepa Sita. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Appointment of Auditor	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and all necessary information regarding the auditor have been provided in the Company's filings. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect Audit, Risk and Compliance Committee Member (Mfundiso Johnson N. (JJ) Njeke)	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Mfundiso Johnson N. (JJ) Njeke. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.

Approve Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company's short-term remuneration exceeds the long-term remuneration. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria, which is based solely on absolute TSR. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, the remuneration committee may, in highly exceptional circumstances, award bonuses to management for the successful execution of significant disposal transactions which generate exceptional value for shareholders. In such rare circumstances, the committee would consult with shareholders in advance of making such awards. The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Authority to Repurchase Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, in this case, the board will be authorised to potentially repurchase up to 20% of the Company's current issued share capital. Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. However, the CEO owns 69% of the Company's issued share voting rights. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. The report does not provide transparency on chosen benchmarks. The Company's remuneration practices have been the subject of significant shareholder dissent. The Company has failed to address shareholder dissent in a meaningful manner. The payout limit under the short-term incentive plan for the CEO and executive vice chair increased by 25%, to 150% of salary (previously 120% of base salary). The Company has not provided any rationale for the increase. However, while the current remuneration package of the Company is aligned with the industry and market, the necessity of applying year-over-year increases in maximum opportunity is concerning. The remuneration policy foresees the grant of equity awards to the CEO, who is also a major shareholder of the Company. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Amendments to General Meeting Regulations (Closed-Door Meetings)	Against	In this case, the proposed amendments to general meeting regulations are mainly aimed at aligning the text with the updated version of the articles of association, which was approved by shareholders to include the possibility to hold general meetings in a closed-door format. However, preventing in-person attendance or active virtual participation leads to a substantial reduction in the ability of shareholders to exercise their rights and enter into dialogue with company directors and other stakeholders. As this will have a negative impact on shareholder rights, we are voting against this proposal.
Amendments to Article 11 (Honorary Chair)	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendments to Article 5 (Par Value)	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Deliberations on Possible Legal Action Against Directors	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. As a result, it is recommended to view this item in a non-critical fashion should it occur. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Discharge of the Management Board members for the 2024 financial year: Christian Sewing (Chairman of the Management Board)	For	There are no known pending proceedings against Management Board members. In recent years, the discharge of the Management Board has been critically questioned or even considered problematic over a longer period of time, but as in the previous year, there were no serious new issues that would have been added. There are still issues associated with fines, but the transactions involved were a long time ago, are of a rather small scale or have now been completed. For example, DWS had to accept a fine on greenwashing allegations, but the public prosecutor's office has so far only found an administrative offence and not a criminal offence. In view of the fact that, with regard to previous critical issues, a critical view on our part has already often resulted either through non-discharge or critical discussion in company discussions and no current violations of the guidelines are apparent, the discharge of the Management Board, and therefore of Christian Sewing, James von Moltke, Fabrizio Campelli, Bernd Leukert, Alexander von zur Mühlen, Laura Padovani, Claudio de Sanctis, Rebecca Short, Stefan Simon and Olivier Vigneron, could be viewed uncritically. Overall, we are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

Discharge of the Management Board members for the 2024 financial year: Laura Padovani (Management Board member since 1 July 2024)	For	There are no known pending proceedings against Management Board members. In recent years, the discharge of the Management Board has been critically questioned or even considered problematic over a longer period of time, but as in the previous year, there were no serious new issues that would have been added. There are still issues associated with fines, but the transactions involved were a long time ago, are of a rather small scale or have now been completed. For example, DWS had to accept a fine on greenwashing allegations, but the public prosecutor's office has so far only found an administrative offence and not a criminal offence. In view of the fact that, with regard to previous critical issues, a critical view on our part has already often resulted either through non-discharge or critical discussion in company discussions and no current violations of the guidelines are apparent, the discharge of the Management Board, and therefore of Christian Sewing, James von Moltke, Fabrizio Campelli, Bernd Leukert, Alexander von zur Mühlen, Laura Padovani, Claudio de Sanctis, Rebecca Short, Stefan Simon and Olivier Vigneron, could be viewed uncritically. Overall, we are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

Overall, we are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Discharge of the Supervisory Board members for the 2024 financial year: Dagmar Valcárcel	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Supervisory Board. Since the discharge of the Supervisory Board should be at least critically questioned or even looked at critically over a longer period of time in recent years, no other serious issues have recently been added as was the case in the previous year. There are still issues associated with fines, with the associated transactions already being far in the past, of a rather small scale or now being completed. For example, DWS has also had to accept a further fine on the greenwashing allegations, but the public prosecutor's office has now found an administrative offence, not a criminal offence. In view of the fact that, with regard to previous critical issues, a critical view on our part has already often resulted either through non-discharge or critical discussion in company discussions and no current violations of the guidelines are apparent, the discharge of the Supervisory Board and therefore of Alexander Wynaendts, Frank Schulze, Norbert Winkeljohann, Susanne Bleidt, Mayree Clark, Jan Duscheck, Manja Eifert, Claudia Fieber, Sigmar Gabriel, Florian Haggenmiller, Timo Heider, Birgit Laumen, Gerlinde M. Siebert, Yngve Slyngstad, Stephan Szukalski, John Alexander Thain, Jürgen Tögel, Michele Trogni, Dagmar Valcárcel, Theodor Weimer and Frank Witter could be viewed uncritically. Overall, we are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

Election of the 2025 sustainability reporting auditor	For	There are no indications that constitute a violation of the guidelines. This motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report for the 2024 financial year prepared and audited in accordance with Section 162 of the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG)	For	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2024 and achieved an approval rate of 97.32%. The remuneration report was last voted on in 2024 and achieved an approval rate of 86.81%. There is a weakness in the system, which is why the report on the system cannot comply with the guidelines either: It is possible to grant dividend equivalents. However, these are presented and explained transparently, so that they could be viewed uncritically. Overall, we are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Authorisation to acquire treasury shares pursuant to Section 71(1)(8) of the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG) and to use them with the possible exclusion of subscription rights	For	In this case, the company proposes a term of five years. This does not comply with the guidelines, which stipulate a maximum term of two years. However, banks achieve high returns on equity in the current economic climate. Approximately 50% of the resulting cash flows are distributed to shareholders in the form of dividends. As credit business in Europe is currently growing at a low level, the capital allocation for this is correspondingly low. That is why banks should flexibly return capital to shareholders in the form of share buybacks. We are therefore voting in favour of this motion.

Withdrawal of the authorised capital pursuant to Section 4(5) of the Articles of Association, creation of new authorised capital for the cash capital increase (with the possibility of excluding subscription rights for fractional amounts and in favour of option and conversion beneficiaries) and corresponding amendments to the Articles of Association in Section 4(3), (5) and (6)	Against	Increasing the share capital by €1,995,000,000 would lead to a 40.0% capital dilution. In addition, 20% can be exceeded on a cumulative basis. Even if the subscription rights exclusions are restricted to 10% overall, this is not within the limits of the analysis guidelines (max. 20% on a cumulative basis, max. 10% exclusion of subscription rights on a cumulative basis). A critical view should therefore be taken of the motion. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Withdrawal of the authorised capital pursuant to Article 4(4) of the Articles of Association, creation of new authorised capital for the cash capital increase (with the option to exclude subscription rights, inter alia, pursuant to Article 186(3)(4) AktG) and a corresponding amendment to the Articles of Association in Section 4(4)	Against	Increasing the share capital by €498,000,000 would lead to a 10.0% capital dilution. However, 20% can be exceeded on a cumulative basis. Even if the subscription rights exclusions are restricted to 10% overall, this is not within the limits of the analysis guidelines (max. 20% on a cumulative basis, max. 10% exclusion of subscription rights on a cumulative basis). A critical view should therefore be taken of the motion. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Authorisation to issue profit participation certificates and other hybrid debt instruments that meet the requirements for regulatory recognition as Additional Tier 1 Capital (AT1 Capital)	For	As the issue of profit participation rights does not comply with the guidelines, this motion should actually be viewed critically. As a form of participation, profit participation rights or participating bonds are hybrid forms of financing that are very risky and do not carry voting rights. Although the company's shareholders do not suffer any dilution of their shares, the existence of participating bonds and profit participation rights does reduce the shareholders' share of profits. The approval of the annual general meeting with a majority of 75% is therefore also required. On the other hand, it is a legitimate means of financing where market participants must decide for themselves whether they want to bear the risk of a participating bond. In the case of banks, the special feature is that the issue of profit participation rights can serve to cover any future need for own funds that can be recognised under banking supervisory law because the European own funds requirements in accordance with the CRR demand that banks have adequate own funds. This means that the motion is comprehensible, especially in the case of banks. After weighing up the arguments, we are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

Amendment to the Articles of Association to renew the authorisation of the Management Board to plan for a general meeting to be held virtually	For	In this case, the guidelines are complied with, since the following criteria are met: The authorisation is limited to two years The amendment to the Articles of Association explicitly stipulates that the Management Board may not convene a virtual GM without the consent of the Supervisory Board A written explanation is given as to whether and under what conditions an authorisation of the Management Board should be used in the future (credible, detailed explanation of the circumstances, e.g. at least one GM also took place in person in the last four years or an in-person GM is announced specifically for next year) Written explanation of the specific configuration of shareholder rights (especially no GM with a mandatory submission of questions in advance) The motion can therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Special audit relating to the formation of provisions due to Postbank	Against	All aforementioned questions are likely to be best resolved by a special audit. However, it should be borne in mind that this would incur considerable costs. In the end, the request for a special audit is tantamount to a vote of no confidence in management. Shareholders should be aware that this request could have far-reaching consequences in which costs and benefits are not proportionate. In addition, the same shareholder already sought to withdraw its confidence in Mr Sewing through supplementary requests in 2022, which reached an approval rate of just 3.66%. Previously, the shareholder had already repeatedly submitted supplementary requests in 2018, 2019 and 2020, all of which did not receive the approval of the general meeting. In addition, the auditor could not find any objections to the recent questions on the formation of provisions. Overall, it is not reasonable and discernible why these requests should be in the best interests of all shareholders. This should therefore be viewed critically. Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria (2025 equity plan). The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, within its authority to derogate its remuneration policy, the board may allow the payment of "una tantum" cash awards, or the attribution of particular indemnities in the event of extraordinary circumstances. The Company failed to sufficiently address outstanding shareholder concerns regarding equity awards to major shareholder and excessive severance payments following the high votes against the remuneration policy last year. The board disclosed that the 2025 Equity plan provides for an acceleration mechanism for the vesting of rights upon the occurrence of specific events, such as i) a change in control, ii) public takeover bid or iii) resolutions of transactions resulting in the delisting of the Company, Further, also under the 2025 Stock Option Plan, beneficiaries are entitled to exercise their rights in advance upon the occurrence of the above mentioned circumstances. Both deviate from best practice. Fixed salary increased by more than 10% within one year without a valid reason. Specifically, the CEO's salary will be increased by 13.2% for the current fiscal year. The Company does not utilise an objective, formula-based approach to setting long-term executive compensation levels under its 2025 Stock Option Plan, which appear determined on a purely discretionary basis. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The remuneration policy foresees the grant of equity awards to the CEO, who is also a major shareholder of the Company. Here, the CEO directly owns 8.4% and 10.5% of the Company's issued share capital and voting rights, respectively. The Company does not utilise an objective, formula-based approach to setting long-term executive compensation levels under its 2023 Stock Option Plan, which appear determined on a purely discretionary basis. A manager with strategic responsibilities terminated their employment with the Company in 2024. The board stated that they received indemnities for €1,866,000. determined by taking into account the cost of the indemnity in lieu of notice under the national bargaining agreements, the redundancy incentive and the novation settlement. Further, they were treated as good leaver for the purpose of outstanding LTIP awards, receiving a pro-rated award of 75,000 stock options exercisable starting from May 10, 2026. Shareholders would benefit from a more specific description of the amounts paid for each of the items listed above. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Board Size	For	There are no indications of any controversy regarding the board size at this company. This proposal does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Board Term Length	For	The proposed board term length is in line with policy and in accordance with law in this market. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
List Presented by IP Investimenti e Partecipazioni S.r.l.	Against	The nominees on the list presented by presented by Rossini S.à.r.l. bring an appropriate level of experience and diversity of expertise to the board. However, the proposed board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members. Moreover, both Michele Denegri and Franco Moschetti have served on the board for over 16 years, which is contrary to policy. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Director's fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Election of Chair of Board of Statutory Auditors	For	This proposal does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Statutory Auditors' Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
2025 Equity Plan	Against	As noted in Proposal 0030, the proposed equity plan has several issues, such as a lack of incentive limits, opaque disclosure regarding beneficiaries (vice chairs not specified), possible equity awards to major shareholders, short performance and vesting periods and change in control provisions. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
2025 Stock Option Plan	Against	There are serious reservations about the terms of the plan as outlined Proposal 0030. Specifically, the proposed plan does not have any performance conditions under the plan, which is out of line with market practice for companies pertaining to the FTSE MIB index. Moreover, there are concerns around the lack of disclosure of individual limits and the presence of a change in control provision. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares to Service Incentive Plans	Against	Considering the issues outlined with the connected plans, we are voting against this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria, which is based solely on Operating margin. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The remuneration structure allows for vesting of awards in under 3 years. Specifically, awards for periods 2021-2022 and 2023-2024 vest over two years, while only 2025-2027 awards vest over a three-year period. There is no disclosed cap on incentive limits under the 2016 - 2026 Stock Option Plan. The Company has granted equity awards to the two co-CEOs, Abramo Galante and Raffaele Galante, who are also major shareholders of the Company (34.6% and 32.8% of share capital, respectively). Where chief executives have a substantial ownership in a company, it is believed minority shareholders should generally be mindful of the dilutive potential of incentive plans. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. Consequently, as these authorizations are within the recommended thresholds, we are voting for this proposal.

Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. Severance agreements are not disclosed. The remuneration structure does not disclose the vesting period for LTI awards. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. Specifically, there is no variable pay for the CEO. The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. However, executives are required to invest in Company's shares as part of the LTI plan. Approval of Nomination Committee Guidelines	Against	The Code recommends that the chair of the board or any other director should not serve as the chair of the nomination committee. However, director Bob Persson, who serves as chair of the board, also serves as chair of the nomination committee. In addition, the composition of the nomination committee prior to this AGM represents only the largest shareholder. In line with the Code the committee should be representative of more than one shareholder in order to ensure the transparency and integrity of the nomination process of directors and auditors. While we would normally support the election of other nominees, it should be noted that the company is bundling all elections under one resolution. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Election of Presiding Chair; Minutes	For	This resolution is a routine formality in this market.
Notice of Meeting; Agenda	For	This resolution is a routine formality in this market.
Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect Bijan Mossavar-Rahmani	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Bijan Mossavar-Rahmani. However, as the remuneration committee and the nominating and corporate governance committee do not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors on these committees. Additionally, in accordance with our oil and gas policy, as a sustainable investor we will no longer directly support companies that expand their oil and gas production. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Gunnar Hirsti	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Gunnar Hirsti. However, as the audit committee and remuneration committee do not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors on these committees. Further, policy requires the audit committee chair to be independent. In addition, the nominee has already been a non-executive member of the board for more than 15 years, which is against policy. Moreover, in accordance with our oil and gas policy, as a sustainable investor we will no longer directly support companies that expand their oil and gas production. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

However, in accordance with our oil and gas policy, as a sustainable investor we will no longer directly support companies that expand their oil and gas production. Additionally, As the audit committee does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors on this committee. Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The Company has failed to implement a performance based long-term incentive plan. The Company's remuneration practices have been the subject of significant shareholder dissent and the Company has failed to disclose any actions taken to identify or address shareholder concerns. The Company has not disclosed the vesting period of awards under the LTI. Therefore, it is unclear whether the remuneration structure is subject to vesting period of at least 3 years. The Company has failed to disclose metrics under the STI. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Directors' Fees	Against	The proposed fixed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. However, while policy does not prohibit variable remuneration to non-executive directors, synthetic share awards will vest subject to continuous service. This could be a strong disincentive to directors expressing dissenting views at the board and, in extreme cases, taking the ultimate sanction of resigning. In addition, at last year's AGM, approximately 47.03% of shareholders voted against the directors' fees proposal and the Company has not disclosed any actions taken to identify or address shareholder concerns. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Nomination Committee Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Set Auditor's Fees	For	The fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Distribute Dividends	For	If approved, the board is given authorization to resolve payment of dividends during the period under review. This proposal does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ or w/o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital with or without preemptive rights. While the proposed dilution is within the limit set by policy, the proposed authorization may serve as an anti takeover device. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. In addition, the proposed authorization may serve as an anti takeover device. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Convertible Debt Instruments	For	The company has sufficient capacity at this time to take on additional debt in order to finance its operations and growth. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Merger with Teck Resources Limited	For	Overall, the terms of the merger appear reasonable for Anglo American shareholders. The transaction offers meaningful long-term strategic benefits through enhanced copper exposure, substantial synergy potential and a stronger, more diversified asset base. While the issuance of new shares results in notable dilution, this is partly offset by the special dividend, and the implied exchange ratio does not appear disadvantageous in light of the relative contributions of the parties to the combined company and the projected value opportunities. The process undertaken by the board appears thorough and well advised, and although the merger entails regulatory and execution risks, the commitments negotiated by the parties provide a degree of mitigation. These risks are customary for a transaction of this scale and for a combination requiring approvals across multiple jurisdictions. In conclusion, this proposed merger does not appear to violate policy and the terms are otherwise in line with shareholder interests. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendment of 2024 and 2025 LTIP In-flight Awards	Against	In this case, the proposed amendment to the terms of the in-flight 2024 and 2025 LTIP awards is intended to ensure alignment with the Company's strategic priorities and for retention and motivation of senior management, given the current circumstances surrounding the Merger. However, there are concerns that the proposal would potentially result in the automatic vesting of 62.5% of the awards, particularly when the formulaic vesting outcomes are below a determined level should the Merger be completed, and there is also concerns with the lack of disclosure regarding the committee's basis for determining the said minimum vesting level. Moreover, it is advised to be sceptical of any type of additional incentives that reward individuals for actions that could be viewed as intrinsic to an executive's duties, such as negotiating sales and acquisitions, and incentive outcomes based on predetermined performance targets serve to better align executive and shareholder interests. As a result of the above, we are voting against this proposal.
Change of Company Name	For	Considering that the proposed change does not violate policy, and following the positive analysis of Proposal 1 upon which this is dependent, we are voting for this proposal.

Elect Robert H. Furthermore, the policy requires the compensation committee chair to be independent. Finally, given the information provided, the candidate holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (Director - Dominion Energy Inc; Chair/CEO - Bassett Furniture Industries, Inc.). Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Susan N. Story	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Susan N. Story. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The presence of tax gross-ups on severance payments is not in line with market best practice. However, it should be noted that the Company does not intend to include such provisions in future agreements. Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Revisiting Pay Incentives for Climate Goals	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Legal and Policy Center ("NLPC"), which has submitted shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear to be consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NLPC describes itself as a 501(c)(3) that "promotes ethics in public life through research, investigation, education, and legal action," and believes "the best way to promote ethics is to reduce the size of government." As part of the corporate integrity project on its website, the NLPC shares its concerns regarding "woke" corporate executives, for instance posting articles about inclusive content "devaluing" the Pixar franchise or about how the NLPC has reported Visa's chair and CEO to the SEC for ongoing "wokeness." The project also examines a supposed pushback against ESG initiatives, featuring pieces such as one describing corporate America's anti-racism programs as racist against white people and another promoting the NLPC's efforts to nominate a fossil-fuel-supporting director candidate to the board of Exxon Mobil Corporation. This proposal has also been labeled as "Anti-ESG" due to the shareholder proponent. These proponents have generally submitted proposals that address environmental and social issues and their aims are fairly clearly articulated in their supporting statements. Support for this resolution could buoy the proponents arguments and would advance a narrative that may contradict that of investors concerned about companies ESG performance. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Financial Statements and Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	Against	The Company states that its financial statements provided in the meeting circular have not been audited and may be adjustable upon the completion of independent auditor's audit. As this is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Reduction of Capital Reserve	For	The management and the board are in the best position to determine what operational decisions and capital structure are best in the context of the business. Reducing the capital reserve will free up restricted capital and provide the Company with greater flexibility to use these funds for other purposes. Furthermore, restructuring the capital composition would strengthen the Company's financial position. Consequently, we are voting in favour of this proposal.
Election of Inside Director: CHOI Jae Young	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee CHOI Jae Young. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. In addition, the Company has failed to disclose the board oversight of ESG, and its Human Rights Policy does not align with UDHR or ILO, which is not in line with policy. As such, we are holding this nominee, as the sole executive up for election, accountable for these issues. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Election of Independent Director: CHOI Seol Ji	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee CHOI Seol Ji. Merger with American Axle & Manufacturing Holdings	For	From the standpoint of Dowlais shareholders, the proposed combination with AAM presents a complex value proposition. On one hand, the transaction is not the result of a broad sale process, the consideration has been affected by external macroeconomic factors, and the structure offers limited downside protection. In addition, shareholders are being asked to cede control to a US-based entity and accept the execution risks inherent in a cross-border industrial integration. Nonetheless, it is recognized that the board engaged in a multi-month negotiation process, rejected early proposals, and ultimately secured modest improvements to the terms, including a revised exchange ratio and governance provisions. It should also be noted that the Company has faced persistent operational and market challenges since its spin-off, and the transaction provides an opportunity to participate in a larger, more diversified and better-capitalized industrial group. While the premium to Dowlais' undisturbed share price has eroded since announcement, the current implied value remains modestly above both the prevailing trading price and the unaffected share price. The inclusion of a mix and match facility, partial cash consideration, and exposure to synergy-driven upside through AAM stock provides some balance to the absence of a floor or collar. Given the lack of superior proposals, the downside risks of continued standalone volatility, and the opportunity to participate in a scaled global competitor with credible synergy potential, it is believed the transaction presents a reasonable outcome. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Scheme of Arrangement	For	This proposal does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Resolution on amending Section 14 of the Articles of Association	Against	In this case, the approval period is limited to two years, which is to be welcomed. However, there is no further, additional explanation regarding under which conditions the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting. Nor is there any written explanation of how the rights in the virtual general meeting are to be structured in the future. In addition, the amendment to the Articles of Association does not imply that the Supervisory Board must approve the holding of a virtual general meeting. This motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the granting of an authorisation to acquire and use treasury shares with the option of excluding subscription rights and any right to tender and the cancellation of the existing authorisation	Against	In this case, the Company proposes a term of five years. This does not comply with the guidelines, which stipulate a maximum term of two years. This motion should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report	For	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2022 and achieved an approval rate of 94.46%. However, there are weaknesses in the system, which is why the report on the system cannot fully comply with the guidelines either, despite being transparent in its structure: There is a partial link to the dividend amount in the long-term variable remuneration. "The holding of phantom shares increases over the term of the LTI due to the dividends actually distributed by Deutsche Telekom during the plan term. Each dividend distribution is converted into phantom shares on the basis of the closing price in XETRA trading on the German Stock Exchange on the day after the General Meeting is held and increases the phantom shares held by the members of the Management Board." (See Management Board remuneration system 2022, p.16) We have discussed the topic in-depth with the company. Nevertheless, we are voting in favour of the remuneration report overall after weighing up the arguments.

Resolution on the approval of the remuneration system for the Management Board members	Against	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2022 and achieved an approval rate of 94.46%. The remuneration system has been partially revised. Unfortunately, this year's reporting and invitation lack a clear comparison of which elements were changed in which detail. One striking change is certainly the separate increase in the maximum total remuneration of current CEO Timotheus Höttges. There is no breach in accordance with the guidelines, but the increase allows a theoretical increase in the maximum total remuneration by a further 50%. The management has issued the following opinion: "In order to remain competitive in the future with regard to national market standards and to be able to attract and retain qualified executives, this remuneration system provides for an increase in the maximum remuneration for the CEO and the regular members of the Management Board. Current CEO Timotheus Höttges also envisages a further temporary increase in the maximum remuneration. The aim of this measure is to take into account the fact that the current CEO was prepared to extend his term of office one more time in advance in order to continue the successful path of Deutsche Telekom. The maximum remuneration of the CEO is only temporarily being increased to the proposed amount for the current CEO. After the end of the Management Board membership of Timotheus Höttges, the maximum remuneration of the CEO again amounts to EUR 11,000,000." (See Management Board remuneration system 2025, p.3) "The maximum remuneration for the current CEO, Timotheus Höttges, is by way of derogation EUR 14,000,000. It will fall back to the aforementioned amount of EUR 11,000,000 at the end of the term of office." (See Management Board remuneration system 2025, p.18) There is also the following weakness in the system: There is a partial link to the amount of dividend for the long-term variable remuneration. "The stock of phantom shares increases over the term of the LTIs due to the dividends actually paid by Deutsche Telekom over the course of the plan. Each dividend distribution will be converted into phantom shares on the day after the general meeting is held and will increase the number of phantom shares." (See Management Board remuneration system 2025, p.15) Overall, the motion should at least be viewed critically. A precautionary recommendation of "AGAINST" is therefore given, with the note "ABSTAIN".

Meeting Precedure	For	This is a routine agenda item. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Directors' Report	For	As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Auditor's Report	For	As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Financial Statements	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Directors' Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Ratification of Board Acts	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to current member of the Board of Directors and the Chief Executive Officer at the company. However, several governance and transparency requirements have not been met: Executive remuneration is not disclosed individually. Remuneration of directors is not published individually. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The Company has failed to disclose any information relating to the board, the directors or the committees. As this is contrary to policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Ratification of Auditor's Acts	For	In accordance with local law, the Company must submit the actions of the auditors during the year for shareholder approval. While discharging the auditors may limit shareholders' rights to take legal action against them, it does not release them from their fiduciary duties owed to the Company and its shareholders. This ratification will not be valid if the financial statements contain any omission or false statement on behalf of management with regards to the Company's financial performance. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Approve Board Remuneration Policy	For	This board remuneration policy is in line with market best practice. The remuneration structure allows for vesting of awards in under 3 years. Specifically, awards vest annually over four years. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Election to the Supervisory Board: Alexandra Dürr	Against	This member of the Supervisory Board has been a member of the Supervisory Board for at least 15 years, which is why re-election does not comply with the guidelines. It is also contrary to the guidelines that no more than half of the Supervisory Board is independent. The election of all dependent members, and therefore of Alexandra Dürr, should thus be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

The remuneration report was last voted on in 2024 and achieved an approval rate of 88.05%. 2024 Annual Accounts Report	For	All of the necessary financial statements and reports are disclosed in the Company's meeting materials. It should be noted that in the opinion of the statutory auditors, the Company's independent auditor, the Company's financial statements and business report have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in Taiwan, 'Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and International Financial Reporting Standards'. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Extraordinary Motions	Against	In Taiwan, many companies place an item for extraordinary motions on their proxy forms. However, shareholders of Taiwanese companies who vote via proxy technically may not exercise their voting rights preemptively for any extraordinary motions raised at the general meeting of shareholders. Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. Under the 2025-2028 long-term incentive plan, performance will be measured and vest over one year. Further, concerns are heightened by the overall lack of disclosure surrounding the plan. The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. Compensation is not clearly linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The Company has failed to disclose targets. The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. Fixed salary increased by more than 10% within one year without a valid reason. Specifically, the Company disclosed its intention to raise general manager's fixed salary in FY2025. The general manager's base salary will increase by 15.47% (from €350,750 to €405,000). At last year's AGM, the Company's Remuneration Report and Policy both received over 30% votes against from free float shareholder. While noting that the Company has implemented certain material changes in order to address concerns (elimination of discretionary bonuses and expansion of recovery provisions), there remains issues with the Company's failure to respond to what is legitimate shareholder dissent. The co-CEO and the executive chair directly own 15% and 10%, respectively, of the Company's issued share capital and voting rights and the remuneration policy foresees the grant of equity awards to the executive directors. Concerns are heightened as the Company is proposing further equity plans for the executives, where beneficiaries and limits have not been disclosed (Proposal 5). Under the proposed 2025-2028 long-term incentive plan (Proposal 5), lack of performance could be dismissed in the following year if the Company reaches the performance target assigned to the beneficiary, plus the value missing from the previous year in order to achieve their performance target. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Approval of the 2025-2028 Employees Long-Term Incentive Plan	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. However, in this case there are questions surrounding the absence of individual incentive limits, the short performance and vesting periods and the overall lack of disclosure surrounding beneficiaries, metrics and hurdles, no clear disclosure of ESG metrics, plus the lack of recovery provisions. Deliberations on Possible Legal Action Against Directors	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. As a result, it is recommended to view this item in a non-critical fashion should it occur. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The Company's annual bonus plan incorporates a health and safety metric, namely the severity incident rate, which weights 12.5% of the total award. Said target is calculated according to the following formula: (total recordable injuries weighted for severity/hours worked) x 1,000,000. In this case, there's a lack of a clearer indication of how fatal accidents affect the determination of final payouts under said target. In FY2024, the Company achieved an actual performance of 70 out of a target of 25. As such, payout for this target was null (maximum set at 150% for said indicator). In this case, the board stated that the result achieved was in part due to the accident at the Calenzano depot in December 2024, where 5 fatalities occurred. It should be noted that The board should take a stricter approach where fatalities occur, since it could be considered a serious breach of moral and ethical code by many investors. However, it should be noted that under the 2025 Policy, the board is proposing to increase the severity incident rate's weight from 12.5% to 15%. While it should be acknowledged that this is an improvement to the current structure, it is believed the Company could provide more transparent disclosure about how performance is calculated under the safety metric and how the occurrence of fatalities may affect the final payouts. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Deliberations on Possible Legal Action Against Directors if Presented by Shareholders	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. As a result, it is recommended to view this item in a non-critical fashion should it occur. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

2024 Business Report and Financial Statements	For	All of the necessary financial statements and reports are disclosed in the Company's meeting materials. It should be noted that in the opinion of the statutory auditors, the Company's independent auditor, the Company's financial statements and business report have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in Taiwan, 'Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and International Financial Reporting Standards'. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
2024 Profit Distribution Plan	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendments to Articles of Incorporation	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Release of Non-Competition Restriction for a Director	For	Releasing the board of directors from these restrictions, which prohibit board members from conducting any activities that can be considered to be competitive with the business affairs of the Company, may lead to potential conflicts of interest for directors. In this case, the Company proposes to release its director from non-compete obligation with respect to their directorships in Companies in an unrelated industry, wholly-owned subsidiaries, controlled subsidiaries, substantial shareholders and their subsidiaries or joint ventures. There is no indication that participation in the operations of such entities will lead to conflicts of interest for directors. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Extraordinary Motions	Against	In Taiwan, many companies place an item for extraordinary motions on their proxy forms. However, shareholders of Taiwanese companies who vote via proxy technically may not exercise their voting rights preemptively for any extraordinary motions raised at the general meeting of shareholders. Instead, proxies have full authority to exercise their discretion in supporting or opposing any such motions. As granting unfettered discretion is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The remuneration structure allows for vesting of awards in under 3 years. RSU awards vest over approximately 35 months. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. Elect Laurent Leksell	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Laurent Leksell. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. In addition, as the remuneration committee does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors on this committee. Further, the policy requires the remuneration committee chair to be independent. Further, the nominee has already been a non-executive member of the board for more than 15 years, which is against policy. Moreover, the Company has not disclosed detailed vote results from its previous annual general meeting. It is believed that access to detailed vote results from general meetings is important for shareholders in conducting their stewardship duties. Specifically, the disclosure of vote results assists shareholders in gaining a better understanding of the outcome of general meetings, establishing engagement priorities, and tracking companies' responses to material (minority) shareholder dissent on any of the agenda items. The non-disclosure of vote results can serve to disenfranchise minority shareholders, in particular at companies with a multi-class share structure or a controlling shareholder. As such, we are holding this nominee, as chair of the board, accountable for this issue. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this related issuance.
Adoption of Share-Based Incentives (PSP 2025)	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. While the proposed dilution is within policy limits, it should be noted that the proposed LTIP does not disclose whether it contains bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. As this is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Transfer Shares (PSP 2025)	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 0.38% of the Company's current issued share capital with or without preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Ratification of Auditor's Acts	For	In accordance with local law, the Company must submit the actions of the auditors during the year for shareholder approval. While discharging the auditors may limit shareholders' rights to take legal action against them, it does not release them from their fiduciary duties owed to the Company and its shareholders. This ratification will not be valid if the financial statements contain any omission or false statement on behalf of management with regards to the Company's financial performance. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Appointment of Auditor and Authority to Set Fees	Against	No information regarding the proposed auditor has been provided. As this is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Board Transactions	For	Under Article 152 (3) of the UAE Federal Law No. 32 of 2021, board members and executives are not permitted to carry out any transactions within the scope of any of the Company's business without prior approval of the shareholders. This proposal is routine in nature. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.

Directors' Fees	Against	In this case, attention should be given to the significant increase in proposed fees. The Company disclosed the following with regard to the additional fees and the overall increase in fees: "Moreover, in line with last year's proposal, given the additional board work required with regards to the intention to transform into three standalone publicly listed entities, that started last fiscal year and will be completed this fiscal year, additional board remuneration is warranted until the listings have been completed (the "Transformation fee"). Thus, the nomination committee proposes that the additional Transformation fee remains at SEK 200,000 to the Chairman and SEK 150,000 to board members. The Nomination Committee encourages Directors of the Board to hold shares in the Company." (Notice of 2025 AGM, p. 4, 5). Furthermore, the nomination committee stated the following: "In the process of setting and proposing the board fees, the Nomination Committee has conducted a thorough benchmark of board remuneration levels based on Swedish and International peers and has also sounded with present board candidates in this effort. With respect to the temporary current and anticipated extra workload of the Board associated with the transformation of the company into standalone publicly listed entities, the Nomination Committee consider it reasonable to propose the Transformation fee on top of the ordinary remuneration up until the completion of the company's transformation." (The Nomination Committee's proposals and reasoned statement in respect of the annual general meeting 2025 of Embracer Group AB, p. 4.) While cognizant of the rationale provided by the Company, it is believed the tasks described as additional should be considered part of the duties of the directors to the Company's shareholders. In addition, the Company has ongoing consulting/business relationships with its directors. While these transactions are problematic from a board independence perspective on their own, it should be noted that they also represent significant overall payments to those directors. Consequently, in light of the concerns noted above, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Set Auditor's Fees	For	The fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Elect Bernt Ingman	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Bernt Ingman. However, given the information provided, the candidate holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (Director - Embracer Group AB; Director - Soltech Energy Sweden AB; Chair - TagMaster AB; Chair - Pricer AB). Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Jacob Jonmyren	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Jacob Jonmyren. However, as the audit committee does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors on this committee. In addition, this director serves as the chair of Lars Wingefors AB, which through its subsidiaries, received SEK 39,000,000 for transportation services during fiscal year 2024/25 (FY2023/24: SEK 44,000,000). The need for the Company to engage in consulting relationships with its directors is questionable. Such relationships are viewed as potentially creating conflicts for directors, as they may be forced to weigh their own interests in relation to shareholder interests when making board decisions. In addition, the Company's decision regarding where to turn for the best professional services may be compromised when doing business with the controlled firms of one of the Company's directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Cecilia Qvist	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Cecilia Qvist. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Kicki Wallje-Lund	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Kicki Wallje-Lund. However, as the audit committee does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors on this committee. In addition, this director is the controlling party of Lovgreten AB that received SEK 1,000,000 from the Company for consulting services during fiscal year 2024/25. The need for the Company to engage in consulting relationships with its directors is questionable. Such relationships are viewed as potentially creating conflicts for directors, as they may be forced to weigh their own interests in relation to shareholder interests when making board decisions. In addition, the Company's decision regarding where to turn for the best professional services may be compromised when doing business with the controlled firms of one of the Company's directors. Elect Lars Wingefors	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Lars Wingefors. However, this director received SEK 39 million from the Company for transportation services during the most recently completed fiscal year. The need for the Company to engage in consulting relationships with its directors is questionable. Such relationships are viewed as potentially creating conflicts for directors, as they may be forced to weigh their own interests in relation to shareholder interests when making board decisions. In addition, the Company's decision regarding where to turn for the best professional services may be compromised when doing business with the controlled firms of one of the Company's directors In addition, the nominee served as the CEO until August 2025 and will be continuing as the executive chair of the board without complying with a cooling off period of 2 years. Further, the Company has not disclosed detailed vote results from its previous annual general meeting. It is believed that access to detailed vote results from general meetings is important for shareholders in conducting their stewardship duties. Specifically, the disclosure of vote results assists shareholders in gaining a better understanding of the outcome of general meetings, establishing engagement priorities, and tracking companies' responses to material (minority) shareholder dissent on any of the agenda items. The non-disclosure of vote results can serve to disenfranchise minority shareholders, in particular at companies with a multi-class share structure or a controlling shareholder. As such, we are holding this nominee, as chair of the board, accountable for this issue. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Brian Ward	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Brian Ward. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The Company has failed to implement a long-term incentive plan. However, it should be noted that the CEO is a major shareholder and also does not receive short-term incentive awards. In line with the aforementioned significant shareholder status of Mr. Wingefors, it is believed this is in the best interests of the Company's minority shareholders. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The Company has failed to disclose targets under the STI. The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue B Shares, Convertibles and/or Warrants w/ or w/o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with the authorization in Proposal 16, exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase Shares	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. Consequently, as these authorizations are within the recommended thresholds, we are voting for this proposal.
Transfer of Treasury Shares	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with the authorization in Proposal 14, exceeds the limit set by policy. Advisory Vote on Energy Transition Plan	Against	In this case, the Company and its peers provide relatively commensurate disclosure with respect to their climate-related risks, goals, and policies. It appears shareholders may have sufficient disclosure to allow them to understand the Company's climate considerations and risk mitigation strategies. It is worth noting that the Company could reasonably improve its disclosure on its shareholder engagement efforts (particularly engagement with minority shareholders). While the Company states that its plan has been informed by engagement with shareholders, it is unclear what feedback the Company has previously received and what actions it has taken in response. Further, the Company does not articulate how it intends to use this vote as part of its future engagement with shareholders. It is important that companies clearly articulate their engagement efforts and how the vote results will be used to inform the Company's strategy going forward. As noted by the Principles for Responsible Investors ("PRI) in an investor briefing, approval for a Say on Climate vote "may ease pressure on the company to take further action." The PRI states that it is possible that a company "may point to the fact that a majority of its shareholders voted in favour of its transition plan to justify not taking additional steps to address its climate risks and opportunities," which can "weaken existing investor engagement efforts, anchoring a company's ambition and undermining future investors' asks to increase ambition." However, the company does not articulate how it intends to use this "Say on Climate" as part of its future engagement with shareholders. This is particularly critical in face of reduced renewable energy commitments and projected future oil and gas production growth of more than 10% by 2027 which is laid out in the energy transition plan 2025. Additionally, we miss a clear strategy on how and when the fossil share will be reduced. The scope 3 intensity target allows for an increase in production without real emission reduction. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Discontinuing of Wind Power Business	Against	In this case, the proponent has not provided any evidence of negligence or malfeasance with respect to the management of operational risks on behalf of management and the board. Although it is worth noting that the Company's offshore wind projects in the U.S. face heightened risk from the Trump administration's recent decision to halt all U.S. offshore wind projects, including those already permitted, this proposal does not appear to have provided adequate justification for the proposed changes. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Withdrawing from Offshore Wind Projects	Against	In this case, the Company provides meaningful disclosure on its exposure to the risks associated with its offshore wind projects. In addition, the Company affirms that it is engaging with relevant authorities and that it is considering legal remedies, including appealing the U.S. order to halt its Empire Wind project. Moreover, in general shareholders should not be involved in the construction and negotiation of director compensation and directors should be compensated with the appropriate mix of cash and equity and that their interests should be aligned with those of shareholders. As noted by the Company, the determination of remuneration to the corporate executive committee for each year is also outside the mandate of the annual general meeting. Ultimately, the proposed changes are not in line with policy not do they appear to be in the best interest of shareholders. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Worker Safety	For	Currently, the Company provides substantial disclosure regarding its working conditions and safety procedures, as well as of its board oversight of safety, security, and social responsibility. Nonetheless, as requests for further disclosure and reporting are in line with policy, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Termination of Overseas Oil and Gas Projects	Against	In this case, it does not appear that the Company has acted in a manner contrary to shareholders' interests with respect to its climate-related considerations, given that the Company affirms it engaged in dialogue with a range of stakeholders and shareholders, including the Norwegian Ministry of Trade, Industry and Fisheries, in developing its latest Energy Transition Plan. Moreover, the Company is presenting its Energy Transition Plan (the subject of Proposal 8) to its shareholders for an advisory vote at the upcoming AGM. Here, the proponent has failed to provide a compelling rationale that adoption of this proposal will clearly lead to an increase in shareholder value. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Separation of Renewable Energy Business and Investing in Ukraine	Against	Generally, shareholders should strongly assert their prerogatives with respect to the division of power between directors and shareholders. However, this proposal does not concern that division of power; rather, it requests that shareholders assert their business judgment in place of that of the directors. Ultimately with such proposals, the burden falls on the shareholder proponents to clearly demonstrate that the directors' judgment is incorrect and that the proposals, despite management opposition, will yield an increase in shareholder value. In this case, the Company provides significant disclosure on its exposure to the risks associated with climate change, as well as its commitments to reducing its exposure to climate change-related risks as described in more detail in Proposals 8 and 18. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Human Rights Due Diligence and Cooperation with Affiliated Companies in Israel	Against	In this proposal, the proponent's concern with regard to the Company's relationship with Delek group, although it is somewhat removed from this company. Specifically, the Company owns 80% of the UK oilfield Rosebank, and Ithaca Energy owns the remaining 20%. The proponent expresses concerns regarding Ithaca's majority owner, Delek Group, a company that the proponent states was identified by UN High Commissioner for Human Rights "as a company engaged in business activities in Israeli occupation in Palestine that raise 'particular human rights concerns.'" It does not appear that the Company's involvement in Rosebank violates any laws or expectations set by the Norwegian government. Currently, the Company maintains a human rights policy as well as significant risk management policies, procedures, and disclosures, demonstrating sufficient attentiveness to this issue. The Company also provides board oversight of human rights and sustainability risks. Although requests for further information are generally in line with policy, this proposal goes a step further in requesting the Company to exit the relevant relationships with relevant parties. As a result, we are voting AGAINST with reference to ABSTAIN.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Climate Risks, Setting GHG Targets, and Reporting Progress	For	In response to this proposal, the Company explains that it considers its strategy and business model to be compatible with the transition to a sustainable economy in line with the goals of the Paris Agreement. Ultimately, the proposed request is pro-sustainability and is generally in line with policy. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Disclosure of Alignment with Majority Shareholder Expectations	For	he Company states that it supports the goals of the Paris Agreement, and in developing its 2025 Energy Transition Plan, it engaged in dialogue with a range of stakeholders and shareholders, including the Norwegian Ministry of Trade, Industry and Fisheries, which manages the Company's largest shareholding. Further, both the board and the administration regularly evaluate the international oil and gas portfolio composition in relation to the Company's overall strategy, the assets' economic development, and other relevant aspects including energy demand, energy security, and climate risk, and this applies to the entire portfolio of the Company. Ultimately, as requests for further disclosure and reporting on sustainability issues are in line with policy. we are voting for this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The Company has failed to implement performance-based long-term incentive plan. The Company states that LTI participation and grant level are reflective of the level and impact of the positive and not directly linked to the incumbent's performance for individual hired by the parent company. Further, awards under the LTIP are not subject to the Company's performance modifier. Fixed salary increased by more than 10% within one year without a valid reason. Specifically, the CEO's base salary increased by 20.1% during the past fiscal year. However, it is worth noting that the increase is intended to compensate the reduction of variable pay levels. In light of the lack of performance metrics under the CEO's LTI plan, and the paymix structure which has a limited focus on the long-term component, there are concerns that the alignment of shareholders' and CEO's interests over the long-term may not be ensured. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Set Auditor's Fees	For	The fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Election of Corporate Assembly	For	This proposal to elect Berit L. Henriksen, as member of the corporate assembly, does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Corporate Assembly Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Election of Nomination Committee Member	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of the nominees. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Nomination Committee Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase Shares (Incentive Plans)	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Cancellation of Shares	For	In this case, the terms under which the Company is considering a cancellation of its repurchased shares do not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Beschlussfassung über die Ermächtigung des Vorstands zum Erwerb eigener Aktien zum Zweck des Wertpapierhandels	For	In diesem Fall hat die Gesellschaft die erforderliche Preisspanne beim Erwerb von Aktien mit 50 Prozent überschritten. Zudem schlägt die Gesellschaft eine Laufzeit von 30 Monaten vor. Dies entspricht nicht den Richtlinien, welche eine maximale Laufzeit von 2 Jahren vorsehen. Allerdings erzielen Banken in der aktuellen Wirtschaftslage hohe Eigenkapitalrenditen. Rund 50 % der daraus resultierenden Cashflows werden in Form von Dividenden an die Aktionäre ausgeschüttet. Da das Kreditgeschäft in Europa derzeit nur ein geringes Wachstum verzeichnet, ist die Kapitalallokation hierfür entsprechend gering. Aus diesem Grund ist es zu befürworten, dass Banken Kapital in Form von Aktienrückkäufen flexibel an die Aktionäre zurückgeben. Wir stimmen daher für diesen Vorschlag.

Presentation of Board Report	Not voted	This resolution is a routine formality in this market.
Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company's remuneration practices have been the subject of significant shareholder dissent and the board has failed to sufficiently respond to this issue. The remuneration policy foresees the grant of equity awards to the CEO, who is also a major shareholder of the Company. It is believed that given the CEO's already substantial ownership, the appropriateness of these equity awards is questionable, particularly in consideration of minority shareholders' interests. Moreover, the significant size of LTIP awards under the current remuneration policy, which allows for a PSU grant amounting to €6 million annually, with a maximum vesting opportunity of 300% of the grant, is concerning. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Dividend Policy	Not voted	This resolution is a routine formality in this market.
Allocation of Dividends	Against	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. We note that the Company has proposed a dividend pay-out below 20 percent for the second year despite the reported net profit. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Appointment of Auditor	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and all necessary information regarding the auditor have been provided in the Company's filings. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Appointment of Auditor for Sustainability Reporting	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and all necessary information regarding the auditor have been provided in the Company's filings. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The board can grant discretionary bonuses. The remuneration policy foresees the grant of equity awards to the CEO, who is also a major shareholder of the Company. It is believed that given the CEO's already substantial ownership, the appropriateness of these equity awards is questionable, particularly in consideration of minority shareholders' interests. The payout limit under the short-term incentive plan for the CEO increased by 300%, to 400% of salary (previously 100% of base salary). In addition, it should be noted that the maximum pay opportunity under the long-term incentive plan was previously expressed as a monetary value (the grant value amounting to a maximum of €6 million, with PSU awards vesting at a maximum of 300% of grant). Under the proposed policy, the pay limits under the LTIP are expressed as percentages of base salary. Grants will amount to a maximum of 1200% of base salary (equal to €6 million under the CEO's current salary level), and PSU awards may vest at 300% of grant. Awards may be granted in the form of PSUs and PSOs under the LTIP, with the maximum opportunity for an LTIP plan applied in a given year depending on the split between the two forms of awards. In principle, if the Company were to grant the award solely in the form of PSUs, the maximum opportunity would amount to 3600% of base salary. The potential compounding effect of future increases to the CEO's base salary on the amount of short- and long-term incentives awards should be noted, which may lead to excessive awards. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Ratification of Executives' Acts	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to current member of the management board. In the absence of any evidence of improper or illegal behaviour on the part of the management board, one should view these items as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Ratification of Non-Executives' Acts	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to current member of the supervisory board. In the absence of any evidence of improper or illegal behaviour on the part of the supervisory board, one should view these items as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

2024 Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, the executives received an exceptional award amounting to €40,000 for the chair and CEO and €30,000 for the deputy CEO in the past fiscal year in recognition of the successful completion of the public takeover bid for Kindred PLC. 2024 Remuneration of Stéphane Pallez, Chair and CEO	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. 2024 Remuneration of Charles Lantieri, Deputy CEO	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, the executives received an exceptional award amounting to €40,000 for the chair and CEO and €30,000 for the deputy CEO in the past fiscal year in recognition of the successful completion of the public takeover bid for Kindred PLC. 2025 Directors' Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
2025 Remuneration Policy (Corporate Officers)	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The proposed remuneration policy lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The board can essentially grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, the Company's policy allows the board to pay an exceptional remuneration in case of exceptional circumstances, up to 100% of base salary. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Consideration for Contributions In Kind	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a limit of 10% of share capital for all share issuances without preemptive rights and a cumulative limit of 20% of share capital for all share issuances, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Cash Distribution from Capital Surplus	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendments to Articles	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Issuance of Employee Restricted Stock Awards for 2025	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Extraordinary Motions	Against	In Taiwan, many companies place an item for extraordinary motions on their proxy forms. However, shareholders of Taiwanese companies who vote via proxy technically may not exercise their voting rights preemptively for any extraordinary motions raised at the general meeting of shareholders. Instead, proxies have full authority to exercise their discretion in supporting or opposing any such motions. As granting unfettered discretion is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Equity Grant (MD/CEO Lewis Gradon - PSRs and Options)	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Vesting of the proposed grant is based on a single metric of relative TSR. Further, the awards are not subject to ESG metric. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

The LTI does not clearly include ESG criteria. Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 49.9% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights. As this exceeds the limit set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Greenshoe	Against	This authority grants the Company the flexibility to increase an over-subscribed issuance by up to 15%, so long as such increase takes place on the same terms and within thirty days of the initial issuance. In this case, the proposed greenshoe is subject to the cumulative limit of 50% of share capital. As the proposed cumulative limit exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Consideration for Contributions In Kind	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 50% for all share issuances. As this exceeds the cumulative limit for all share issuances set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Currently, employees do not hold a significant portion of the Company's share capital. Therefore, if the proposed plan is fully implemented, employee shareholdings would remain reasonable and in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Grant Stock Options	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report for the 2024 financial year	For	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2024 and achieved an approval rate of 87.58%. The remuneration report was last voted on in 2024 and achieved an approval rate of 98.39%. However, there is a weakness in the system, which is why the report on the system cannot comply with the guidelines either: Employee pension commitments are not exclusively defined in contributions and are linked to fixed remuneration. As this is the only criticism listed and the remuneration system has our support overall, we are voting in favour of the remuneration report in this case after weighing up the arguments.
Resolution on the removal of the existing authorised capital, on the creation of new authorised capital with the possibility of excluding subscription rights and on the corresponding amendment to Section 4(3) and (4) of the company's Articles of Association	Against	Increasing the share capital by €60,000,000.00 would lead to a 20.4% capital dilution. Even if the subscription rights exclusions are restricted to 10% overall and a total cap of 20% is adhered to, this is not within the limits of the analysis guidelines (max. 20% on a cumulative basis, max. 10% authorisation to exclude subscription rights). The motion should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on an authorisation to issue warrant bonds and/or convertible bonds with the possibility to exclude the subscription right, on the creation of conditional capital 2025 and on the corresponding amendment to the company's Articles of Association	Against	The increase in share capital by €29,341,344.00 would lead to a capital dilution of 10.0% and exclusions of subscription rights are limited to a cumulative total of 10% of share capital. However, an overall cap of 20% is exceeded. This is not within the scope of the analysis guidelines (max. 20% cumulative, max. 10% exclusion of subscription rights on a cumulative basis). The motion should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on a new authorisation of the Management Board to provide for the holding of a virtual general meeting and the corresponding amendment of Section 15(3) of the company's Articles of Association	Against	In this case, the guidelines are not complied with, since the following criteria are not met and there are therefore deficiencies: No written explanation of the specific configuration of shareholder rights (in particular no GM with mandatory submission of questions in advance) The motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on an amendment to Section 10(6) of the Articles of Association of the company (language version of the transcripts of the Supervisory Board)	For	There are no criteria that would indicate a violation of the guidelines. The motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

Resolution on the adoption of the annual financial statements of Fresenius SE & Co. KGaA for the 2024 financial year	For	The unqualified audit certificate of the auditor is available. There are no indications that oppose this agenda item. This may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the appropriation of net income	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. An acceptable distribution ratio is generally between 20% and 100%. In this case, the distribution ratio as measured by earnings per share is above 100%, but earnings per share are not in negative territory. As the dividend is covered by the cash flow, we are voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of the general partner for the 2024 financial year	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against the general partner. There are also no other indications that would conflict with a discharge. Although there are no rules of procedure, this may seem understandable at the KGaA. The motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of the Supervisory Board for the 2024 financial year	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Supervisory Board. We therefore vote in favour of the discharge of the Supervisory Board.
Election of the auditor of the financial statements and consolidated financial statements for the 2025 financial year, the auditor of the sustainability report for the 2025 financial year as well as of the auditor for any audit review of interim financial information	For	There are no indications that constitute a violation of the guidelines. This motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report for the 2024 financial year	For	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2023 and achieved an approval rate of 89.19%. The remuneration report was last voted on in 2024 and achieved an approval rate of 93.06%. There is a weakness in the system, which is why the report on the system cannot comply with the guidelines either: The scope of the personal investment cannot be achieved in at least four years. As this is the only criticism listed and there is simultaneously a share ownership guideline, we are voting in favour of the remuneration report after weighing up the arguments.

Resolution on the renewal of the authorisation of the personally liable shareholder to provide for the holding of a virtual general meeting and the amendment of Section 14(3) of the Articles of Association	Against	In this case, the guidelines are not complied with, since the following criteria are not met and there are therefore deficiencies: The amendment to the Articles of Association does not explicitly stipulate that the Management Board may not convene a virtual GM without the involvement of the Supervisory Board (not entered into the Articles of Association, specified only with the involvement of the Supervisory Board) No written declaration is made as to whether and under what conditions an authorisation of the Management Board should be used in the future (but in-person GMs last on 2025, 2024) The motion should therefore be viewed critically. The remuneration report was last voted in 2024 and reached a 98.09% approval rate. There are numerous weaknesses in the system, which is why the report on the system cannot comply with the guidelines either: Almost complete deviation from GCGC 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10.1, 10.2, 11&#13;&#10No determination & description of how the target and maximum total remuneration are determined for the individual Management Board members (deviation G.1) No determination & description of the relative share the fixed remuneration on the one hand and short-term variable and long-term variable remuneration components on the other hand have in target total remuneration (deviation G.1) No determination and description of which financial and non-financial performance criteria are essential for the granting of variable remuneration components (deviation G.1) No determination & description of what relationship exists between the achievement of the previously agreed performance criteria and variable remuneration (deviation G.1) No determination and description of how and when the Management Board member can dispose of the granted variable remuneration amounts (deviation G.1) There is no specific target total remuneration/no target remuneration published No peer group comparison takes place (deviation G.3) The ratio of Management Board remuneration to remuneration of the senior management team and employees overall is also not taken into account in terms of development over time (deviation G.4) No LTI, and the STI is only for the CFO Performance parameters not defined for the upcoming financial year (deviation G.7) No alignment with strategic objectives (deviation G.7) Solely linking the variable component to short-term components The remuneration system generally does not comprise any ESG criteria Only one performance criterion in the STI (EBT) A subsequent change to objectives or the comparable parameter is not ruled out (deviation G.8) No bonus-malus system (as a general rule) No clawback Special bonuses possible No share ownership guidelines The objectives for the annual bonus were not disclosed retroactively The motion should be viewed critically overall. Ratification of Auditor	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. The aforementioned notwithstanding, and as stipulated by Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002/Title II, "It shall be unlawful for a registered public accounting firm to provide audit services to an issuer if the lead (or coordinating) audit partner (having primary responsibility for the audit), or the audit partner responsible for reviewing the audit, has performed audit services for that issuer in each of the 5 previous fiscal years of that issuer." In spite of this, we are voting for this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. Clawback policy is restatement dependent only. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Approval of the remuneration report	Against	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2021 and achieved an approval rate of 89.54%. The remuneration report was last voted on in 2024 and achieved an approval rate of 91.6%. However, there are weaknesses in the system, which is why the report on the system cannot comply with the guidelines either: Deviation from GCGC 8: Due to the company-wide bonus granted to all employees, the company has decided to use adjusted EBITDA and ROCE for 2024. Although understandable, this is a retrospective change to the objectives, which is contrary to the guidelines, Fixed remuneration may exceed the variable component (corridor 43-51%), No differentiation according to the responsibility of the Management Board recognisable Establishment of the personal investment can take longer than four years Overall, the motion should therefore be viewed critically. Election of the auditor of the sustainability report for the 2025 financial year	For	There are no indications that constitute a violation of the guidelines. This motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Management Board remuneration system	Against	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2021 and reached an approval rate of 89.54%. The content of the remuneration system submitted to this year's general meeting does not differ from the remuneration system approved by the general meeting on 30 April 2021 with an approval of 89.54% of the votes cast. Election of Supervisory Board members: Jürgen Fleischer	Against	In this case, there are concerns about the number of boards he sits on. Authorisation to acquire and use treasury shares and to exclude tender and subscription rights and cancellation of the previous authorisation	Against	In this case, the company proposes a term of five years. This does not comply with the guidelines, which stipulate a maximum term of two years. This motion should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Amendment to the Articles of Association regarding the authorisation to convene virtual general meetings	Against	In this case, the guidelines will not be complied with, since the following criteria are not met: The amendment to the Articles of Association explicitly stipulates that the Management Board may not convene a virtual general meeting without the approval of the Supervisory Board A written declaration is issued as to whether and under which conditions an authorisation of the Management Board should be used in the future (credible, detailed explanation of the circumstances). Since no general meeting has taken place in person since 2021 and such a general meeting has not been explicitly announced for the following year, it is not clear which specific conditions will lead to a virtual general meeting or an in-person GM. Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, the Company operates an annual bonus plan with payouts at the discretion of the committee based on a review of performance against certain financial/operational metrics. The Company's remuneration practices have been subject to significant shareholder dissent and the Company has failed to sufficiently address shareholder concerns. Specifically, while the positive movement towards best practice through the introduction of share-based long-term incentive plans and of both in-employment and post-employment shareholding guidelines for executive directors should be acknowledged, in addition to the extensive shareholder consultation undertaken by the Company, which was prompted by the voting outcomes at the 2024 AGM, it remains concerning that the Company's remuneration policy received shareholder dissent following this consultation and despite the inclusion of a share-based element of remuneration and enhanced bonus disclosure. The CEO may receive a one-off restricted share award. Specifically, CEO Kevin Rountree received a one-off retention award in the form of restricted shares equivalent to 300% of base salary. The award is not subject to any performance conditions or underpins, and will vest subject to continued employment only. It should be further noted that the award represents a significant one-off increase in executive pay. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Approval of the Sharesave Plan	For	The proposed plan would provide a way for all employees to acquire ordinary shares in the Company at a discount. It is believed that broad-based equity programs which encourage employees to invest in the Company, thereby aligning their interests with those of shareholders. Further, it should be noted that the Company is bound by certain statutory limitations in terms of the amount of shares to be granted pursuant to any Company share incentive plan as well as a monthly contribution limit in order to acquire shares. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 66% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights. As this exceeds the limit set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Authority to Issue Shares w/ o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with the authorization in Proposal 13, exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase Shares	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. Consequently, as these authorizations are within the recommended thresholds, we are voting for this proposal.

Compensation Report	Against	Über den Vergütungsbericht wurde zuletzt im Jahr 2024 abgestimmt und erlangte eine Zustimmungsquote von lediglich 60,67%. Allerdings gibt es im System einige Schwachstellen, weshalb auch der Bericht über das System nicht richtlinienkonform sein kann: Vorstandsvergütung nicht individualisiert ausgewiesen LTI hat nur ein Leistungskriterium (ROIC) Kein ESG im LTI erkennbar Insgesamt sollte der Antrag daher sehr kritisch gesehen werden.
Board compensation	For	Die Vergütung des Verwaltungsrats ist in Einklang mit den Richtlinien. Daher sollte der Antrag unkritisch bewertet werden. Somit stimmen wir für den Antrag.
Executive Compensation (Total)	Against	Die Vergütung der Geschäftsleitung ist nicht individualisiert dargestellt, weshalb die Aufteilung dieser Summe nicht nachvollzogen werden kann. Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. Specifically, adjusted operating profit growth under the STI. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Disclosure of Regenerative Agriculture Practices	For	In this case, the Company's disclosure regarding pesticide use in its supply chain and regenerative agriculture is similar to that of Kellanova and to lead that of J.M. Smucker. However, that both the Company and Kellanova maintain noticeably higher market caps than J.M. Smucker. None of the companies reports specifically on reductions in pesticide use among suppliers implementing regenerative practices. However, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Separation of CEO and Chair Positions	For	In this case, the proposed separation of the Chair and CEO positions is in line with policy. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.

Elect Mary T. Barra	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee Mary T. Barra. However, this director will be serving as the combined Chair/CEO in the upcoming year, which is against policy. Moreover, given the information provided, the candidate holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (CEO/ Chair - General Motors Company; Director - The Walt Disney Company). Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Wesley G. Bush	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Wesley G. Bush. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.

Ratification of Auditor	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. The aforementioned notwithstanding, and as stipulated by Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002/Title II, "It shall be unlawful for a registered public accounting firm to provide audit services to an issuer if the lead (or coordinating) audit partner (having primary responsibility for the audit), or the audit partner responsible for reviewing the audit, has performed audit services for that issuer in each of the 5 previous fiscal years of that issuer." In spite of this, we are voting for this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. Fixed salary increased by more than 10% within one year without a valid reason (Mr. Abbott's base salary increased by more than 20% during the past fiscal year prior to his departure from the Company in April 2024.) The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Amendments Regarding Officer Exculpation, Inapplicable Provisions and Clarifying Language	Against	The board has persuasively demonstrated the need for the proposed exculpation provisions. While not taking issue with the proposed changes to remove inapplicable provisions and add clarifying language, shareholders should be wary about approving any officer exculpation provisions without compelling evidence that it will benefit shareholders. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Supply Chain GHG Targets and Alignment with Net Zero	For	Overall, the Company's climate-related disclosure to be relatively aligned with that of its peers, although Stellantis does not have GHG targets that are SBTi certified. All three companies disclose initiatives for utilizing low-carbon steel. As demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Given this, we are voting for this proposal.

Appointment of Auditor and Authority to Set Fees	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. One should consider this resolution as routine. Further, it is believed that rotating auditors is an important safeguard against the relationship between the auditor and the Company becoming too close, resulting in a lack of oversight due to complacency or conflicts of interest. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum and minimum price has not been disclosed. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 20% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights. As this exceeds the limit set by policy, and the Company has not provided the maximum discount rate in the Company's disclosures, we are voting against this proposal.

Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	For	Although policy does not require that the board chair be an independent director, this proposal is largely focused on the separation of the roles of chair and CEO. The chair/CEO at the Company is currently a combined role, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, the shareholder proponent has put forth adequate justification for their proposal. Although, the policy does not require the chair of the board to be independent, from a corporate governance perspective separated roles of Chair and CEO are desirable. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Human Rights Policy	For	In this case, this proposal requests that the Company adopt a comprehensive Human Rights Policy covering its operations, activities, business relationships, and products, that commits the Company to respecting internationally recognized human rights, including the right to health, and to conducting human rights due diligence to identify, prevent, mitigate, and remedy the most salient adverse human rights impacts caused by the Company or a supplier's activities. It should be recognised that the Company has provided minimal disclosure of human rights considerations in its code of ethics, as well as its supplier code. However, with respect to the former, it largely covers issues related to the Company's suppliers. As such, the Company does not maintain meaningful disclosure concerning the human rights policies that govern its own operations. Given the size and scope of the Company's operations, it is believed that the request of this proposal is reasonable. Moreover, it is believed that this proposal is reasonably crafted and allows the Company considerable latitude in its implementation. Consequently, we are voting in favour of this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on DEI Requirements for Contractors	Against	The proponent has not provided a sufficient rationale to suggest the Company has mismanaged matters related to discrimination against individuals based on their race, color, religion (including religious views), sex, national origin, or political views. Moreover, it should be noted that the proponent in question is an anti-ESG proponent. Bowyer Research is an investment, macroeconomic forecasting, and corporate engagement and proxy consulting firm. The firm was founded by Jerry Bowyer, who is the former editor of the business channel of The Christian Post and the former host of Business in the Kingdom podcast on the Edifi Podcast network. With regard to its principles regarding proxy voting and engagement, Bowyer has developed guidelines that "are designed to appeal to investors who hold to a traditional understanding of the obligations of a company towards its shareholders--that is, a focus on shareholder capitalism as opposed to stakeholder capitalism-- and which are deeply skeptical about an ESG approach to corporate governance." Given the above, we are opposing this proposal.

Acquisition of Bakkavor	For	It appears that the proposed acquisition of Bakkavor represents a strategically sound and financially credible transaction for Greencore shareholders. The deal brings together two complementary UK-based food manufacturers with potential to unlock significant synergies, broaden product offerings, and strengthen relationships with key retail customers. While the transaction entails meaningful dilution and temporarily elevates leverage, Greencore is using equity near a multi-year high and expects to deleverage over time. Importantly, both companies enter the deal from positions of operational strength, and the market response has been constructive. While acknowledging the execution risks which remain around integration and synergy realization, based on the disclosed terms, governance process, and projected financial benefits, the transaction appears to be in the best interests of Greencore shareholders. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.

Individual Accounts and Reports; Allocation of Losses	For	The Company proposes that no dividend will be distributed for the past fiscal year. It is in the best interest of shareholders to approve the Company's strategy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Consolidated Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Report on Non-Financial Information	For	This is a routine presentation of the reports. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Ratification of Board Acts	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to current member of the Board of Directors and the Chief Executive Officer at the company. However, several governance and transparency requirements have not been met: The board of directors is not sufficiently independent. CVs (age) of directors are not published. As this is contrary to policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Appointment of Auditor	For	As per Spanish market practice, the lead auditor's tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. However, Article 40 of the Law 22/2015 (20th July) requires rotation of the lead auditor every five years. There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Resignation of Director	Not voted	There is no indication to question this resignation. This is a non-voting proposal.
Board Size	For	There are no indications of any controversy regarding the board size at this company. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect Victor Grifols Deu	Against	As the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Consequently, we are opposing the election of non-independent nominee Victor Grifols Deu.
Ratify Co-Option and Elect Pascal Ravery	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Pascal Ravery. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Ratify Co-Option and Elect Paul S. Herendeen	Against	As the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Consequently, we are opposing the election of non-independent nominee Paul S. Herendeen.
Amendments to Article 7 of the Shareholders' Meeting Regulations	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The Company has failed to implement a long-term incentive plan. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, the CEO received an exceptional award amounting to $1,500,000 in the past fiscal year. The Company disclosed that the award was justified to secure the acceptance of José Ignacio Abia Buenache for his role as CEO, as he received a series of attractive incentives from his previous company. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics under the STI. The Company's remuneration practices have been the subject of significant shareholder dissent and the Company has failed to address this dissent in a meaningful manner. The CEO receives a significantly higher base salary than their peers. Specifically, while the policy has set the CEO's base salary at €2 million, due to the prorated time served, in FY2024, he received €1,593,574. Further, it should be noted that €1,800,000 in shares will be awarded to the CEO each year of his initial three-year contract when completing his first contract with the Company. In addition, the Company granted the CEO a replacement award of $1.5 million (approx. €1.4 million). Raimon Grifols Roura and Victor Grifols Deu received severance payments amounting to 2x base salary. While this is in line with policy, it should be noted that both executives will continue to maintain positions within the Company, albeit of a non-executive nature. As such, the necessity for such significant termination awards is questionable. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. Specifically, the severance agreement for the CEO entails the executive receiving compensation amounting to the sign-in bonus, annual fixed remuneration, annual bonus and shares not already paid and which the CEO would have received up until the end of the initial 3-year term of the contract. The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The Company has failed to implement a long-term incentive plan. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics under the STI. The Company's remuneration practices have been the subject of significant shareholder dissent and the Company has failed to address this dissent in a meaningful manner. The CEO receives a significantly higher base salary than their peers. Specifically, while the policy has set the CEO's base salary at €2 million, due to the prorated time served, in FY2024, he received €1,593,574. Further, it should be noted that €1,800,000 in shares will be awarded to the CEO each year of his initial three-year contract when completing his first contract with the Company. In addition, the Company granted the CEO a replacement award of $1.5 million (approx. €1.4 million). As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
2025 Equity Incentive Plan (Senior Management Team)	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. While the proposed dilution is in line with policy, the following issues should be noted: Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria, which is based solely on relative TSR. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Amendment to the Share Option Plan (former CEO)	Against	Equity-based incentive programs can provide a vehicle for linking an employee's pay to a company's performance, thereby aligning their interests with those of shareholders. Tying a portion of an employee's compensation to the performance of the Company provides an incentive to maximize share value. In addition, equity-based compensation is an effective way to attract, retain and motivate key employees. In this case, the following issues should be noted: The exercise price is below fair market value. The Company proposes to reduce the exercise price by 32.3% to €8.69 (previously €12.84). If said amendment is passed, the granted options would have been effectively granted at a discounted price of 25.7% to the share price of €11.7 as at the grant date of June 19, 2023. In this case, while it should be recognised that since the time of the equity plan approval the share price of the Company has significantly dropped and as of May 12, 2025, the closing share price was at €8.39, the average share price for FY2024 (€9.51) and FY2025 (until May 12, 2025, €8.91) are both above the proposed exercised price. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Set General Meeting Notice Period at 15 days	Against	In this case, the effect of reducing the notice period for an extraordinary general meeting from 30 to 15 days is concerning. This authority may limit the ability of some shareholders, particularly those who intend to vote by proxy, from participating at a meeting in a fully-informed manner due to the advanced voting deadlines that are common in Spain. While this shortened notice period resulted from implementation of an optional provision contained in the EU Shareholders Rights Directive, most European countries did not implement the provision regarding a shortened notice period in national law. As such, for companies located in continental EU member states, extraordinary general meetings of shareholders must have a minimum notice period of 21 days or more. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the plan has five year duration, which exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authorisation of Legal Formalities	For	This is a routine legal request in Spain. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

2024 Annual Accounts Report	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
2024 Profit Distribution Plan	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
2025 Overall Budget	For	The management and the board should be in the best position to determine what operational decisions are best in the context of the business. This proposal does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Capital Increase in a Company to Invest in a Project	For	The management and the board should be in the best position to determine what operational decisions are best in the context of the business. This proposal does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Issuance of Medium-Term Notes	For	The Company has limited capacity at this time to take on additional debt in order to finance its operations and growth. However, in light of its adequate capital base, the Company's indebtedness should not be considered to be severe enough to warrant overriding management's judgment and responsibility for the Company's capital structure. This proposal does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The relative weights of fixed, short-term and long-term elements within the CEO's targeted pay-mix are not disclosed in a traditional way. However, considering the defined maximum outcome of the 2021 LTI plan and the current salary levels of the CEO, and in light of the 2024 payout for the CEO, the remuneration structure did not provide market-level long-term alignment between the CEO's interests and those of the Company and its shareholders. In our opinion, such limited long-term payouts for a five-year period does not represent a traditional long-term incentive plan. The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The proposed remuneration policy lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The same performance criteria are used for the short-term and the long-term variable remuneration. The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Reduction of Share Capital and Bonus Issue	For	The increase in the share capital by an amount equal to the reduction will allow the Company to implement the proposed redemption plan without obtaining the Swedish Companies Registration Office's or a general court's permission, in accordance with Swedish law. The proposed share redemption plan does not violate policy. Consequently, we are supporting this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase Shares	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. Consequently, as these authorizations are within the recommended thresholds, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement sufficient executive stock ownership guidelines. The proposed remuneration policy lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Adoption of Share-Based Incentives (LTIP 2025)	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Although the company's plan is fully compliant with policy, the LTIP 2025 does not contain any recovery provisions. Consequently we are voting against this proposal.

Amendments to Articles (Agenda)	For	The proposed amendments do not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Circular Business Model	Against	This proposal requests that the Company move to a fully circular business model and stop producing new clothes in 2026. In this case, the Company has established actions towards increasing recycling capacity and standardizing sorting, collecting, and recycling infrastructure across the EU. As such, the proponent has failed to demonstrate that the Company is not taking this issue seriously and has not provided a sufficiently strong rationale for this proposal. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.

Elect Robert A. Gerard	Against	As the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. In addition, the nominee has already been a non-executive member of the board for more than 15 years, which is against policy. Consequently, we are opposing the election of nominee Robert A. Gerard.

Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The clawback policy is restatement-dependent only. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria, which are based solely on Cumulative EBITDA from continuing operations. However, it should be noted that these awards are subject to a relative TSR (+/- 25%) modifier. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. In this case, several executives received retention awards comprised of RSUs and PSUs. It should be noted that while the size of these awards do not appear to be excessive, the RSUs are not subject to any performance criteria. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Elect LEE Ji Soo	Against	As the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Additionally, the nominee serves as a lawyer of Kim & Chang LLC which has provided legal services to the Group. The need for the Company to engage in consulting relationships with its directors should be questioned. Such relationships can potentially create conflicts for directors, as they may be forced to weigh their own interests in relation to shareholder interests when making board decisions. In addition, the Company's decision regarding where to turn for the best professional services may be compromised when doing business with a professional services firm represented by the Company's directors. Consequently, we are opposing the election of this nominee. Consequently, we are opposing the election of non-independent nominee LEE Ji Soo.

Merger with HD HYUNDAI MIPO CO., LTD.	For	The Company provides limited insight into the pre-execution process by which the board determined the proposed transaction reasonably represented the most attractive strategic alternative available to the firm or its unaffiliated investors. As a result, it is not possible to comment at length regarding the depth or thoroughness of the board's strategic review, including the extent to which alternative transactions or deal structures were seriously considered. All other factors held equal, it is believed unaffiliated investors would generally benefit from considerably greater transparency in these regards. Nonetheless, it should be recognized that HHI and HMD are part of the same corporate group and both are engaged in shipbuilding, and the transaction was pursued as part of the group's strategic business restructuring in order to more effectively respond to changes in the shipbuilding industry amid a changing global environment, seize growth opportunities, and strengthen competitiveness. By combining defense technology, track record, and production capabilities of both firms, the parties expect the enlarged company to have enhanced position and competitiveness in the defense market, where they see increasing business opportunities driven by global military and naval expansion and the Korea-US shipbuilding cooperation project (MASGA). Moreover, the merger is expected to result in the expansion of the presence in the special-purpose vessel market, such as icebreakers, where demand is rising due to the Arctic development. In addition, the integration of R&D capabilities is expected to accelerate the development of eco-friendly technologies in response to stricter environmental regulations. Furthermore, the enlarged entity plans to accelerate the development of the overseas yards, which is expected to allow the combined company to reclaim market share in the general commercial vessel market that South Korea's shipbuilders lost to Chinese rivals. On the valuation side, the exchange ratio was calculated based on the value of KRW 470,833 per HHI share and KRW 191,118 per HMD share, derived based on the average of the volume weighted average stock prices for one month and one week, and the closing prices one day prior to the announcement. No significant concern with the contemplated exchange ratio has been identified, which was determined in a manner consistent with applicable regulation. Based on the foregoing factors, and as this proposal does not violate policy, we are voting for this proposal.

There are no indications that oppose this agenda item. This may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the appropriation of net income for the 2024/25 financial year	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. Since the motion complies with the guidelines, this proposal of the administration may be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of the general partner for the 2024/25 financial year	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against the general partner. There are also no other indications that would conflict with a discharge. The motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of the Supervisory Board for the 2024/25 financial year	Against	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Supervisory Board. Contrary to the guidelines, however, no information is provided on the term of office. A critical view should therefore be taken of the motion. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report	Against	The remuneration report was last voted on in 2024 and achieved an approval rate of 98.27%. The remuneration system has never been voted on as the company does not have a management board. The inclusion of the general partner's Management Board remuneration is voluntary and is presented in a comparatively transparent manner, which can be seen as positive. Only the points that relate to the German Corporate Governance Code and are therefore at least partly a component of the guidelines (e.g. G.7, G.8) cannot be clearly identified. While this is understandable, it makes it difficult to verify full compliance with the guidelines. There are also weaknesses in the system, which is why the report on the system cannot comply with the guidelines either: The relative proportions of the respective remuneration components in the target remuneration cannot be clearly determined Long-term remuneration is not predominantly equity-based The performance parameters for determining variable remuneration are not differentiated according to the competence or responsibility of the Management Board The absence of a clearly defined and transparent peer group The scope of the personal investment cannot be achieved in at least four years Overall, the motion should be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the amendment to the Articles of Association - Authorisation to hold a virtual general meeting	Against	In this case, the guidelines are not complied with, since the following criteria are not met and there are therefore deficiencies: The amendment to the Articles of Association does not explicitly stipulate that the Management Board may not convene a virtual GM without the consent of the Supervisory Board (not entered in the Articles of Association, only with consent of the Supervisory Board is specified) No written explanation is given as to whether and under what conditions an authorisation of the Management Board should be used (but most recently 2025, 2024, 2023 in-person GMs) No written explanation of the specific configuration of shareholder rights (especially no GM with a mandatory submission of questions in advance) The motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Resolution on the creation of a new Authorised Capital 2025 with the option to exclude subscription rights and the corresponding new version of the Articles of Association	Against	The increase in share capital by €9,600,000.00 would lead to a capital dilution of 20.0% and exclusions of subscription rights are limited to a cumulative total of 10% of share capital. However, an overall cap of 20% is exceeded. As this does not comply with the guidelines, this item on the agenda should be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Specifically, Tim Brown's base salary increased by more than 20% during the past fiscal year. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. Specifically, Adjusted Non-GAAP Operating Profit under the STI and Adjusted Non-GAAP EPS under the LTI. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Authorise Issue of Equity without Pre-emptive RightsThis resolution has voteable options of For or Withhold	Withhold	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposals 8 and 10, exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authorise Issue of Equity without Pre-emptive Rights in Connection with an Acquisition or Other Capital InvestmentThis resolution has voteable options of For or Withhold	Withhold	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposals 08 and 09, exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Authorise Issue of Equity in Relation to Contingent Convertible SecuritiesThis resolution has voteable options of For or Withhold	Withhold	Under this proposal, the board's authority to issue shares would extend beyond the 66% of ordinary capital routinely sought by UK companies, to include shares issuable on conversion of CCSs. As such, this authority would provide the board with an extremely high level of control over the Company's issued share capital, including issuances on a non-preemptive basis (Proposal 15). However, the issuance of CCSs will not cause dilution to existing ordinary shareholders unless a trigger event causes them to be converted into equity. Further, the Company has planned actions to forestall such an event and, should a trigger event occur, shareholders would be provided the opportunity to participate in the issuance of new shares. Nonetheless, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 20% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposals 8, 9, 10, and 11 exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Authorise Issue of Equity without Pre-emptive Rights in Relation to Contingent Convertible SecuritiesThis resolution has voteable options of For or Withhold	Withhold	If approved, the Company will be authorised to allot equity securities, without first offering the securities to existing shareholders on a pro rata basis, in relation to the issue of Contingent Convertible Securities ("CSSs"). In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 20% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposals 8, 9, 10, and 11 exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Approve Scrip Dividend AlternativeThis resolution has voteable options of For or Withhold	Withhold	The Company proposes to pay scrip dividend. As the terms are not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Approve Amendment to the Rules of HSBC Share Plan 2011This resolution has voteable options of For or Withhold	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Approve Cancellation of Share Premium Account and Capital Redemption ReserveThis resolution has voteable options of For or Withhold	For	Given that the intent of the cancellation of the share premium account and capital redemption reserve is to build a distributable reserve which will facilitate the return of cash to shareholders at a future date if deemed appropriate, this item is deemed non-contentious.
Authorise the Company to Call General Meeting with Two Weeks' NoticeThis resolution has voteable options of For or Withhold	For	A shortened general meeting notice period is permitted by the UK Corporate Governance Code and the EU Shareholders Rights Directive, provided that a company conforms to specific electronic voting and communication requirements, as is the case here. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Final Dividend	Against	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. In this case, the company has issued dividends in spite of a net loss. As these dividends may lower the Company's financial resources, we are voting against this proposal.
Remuneration Report	For	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposal 13, exceeds the limit set by policy. Financial Statements and Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	Against	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. However, the Company states that its financial statements provided in the meeting circular have not been audited and may be adjustable upon the completion of independent auditor's audit. As this is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Amendments to Articles	For	In this case, there's no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect HAN Sang Man	Against	The Company has failed to disclose its biodiversity policy and the Company's Human Rights Policy does not align with UDHR or ILO, which is not in line with policy. As such, we are voting against the re-election of HAN Sang Man as the chair of the ESG committee.

Elect Carlos Dominguez	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Carlos Dominguez. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Trevor Fetter	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Trevor Fetter. However, the nominee has already been a non-executive member of the board for more than 15 years, which is against policy. Additionally, as the compensation committee does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors on this committee. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Donna A. James	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Donna A. James. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Annette P. Rippert	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Annette P. Rippert. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Teresa W. Consequently, we are voting against the election of non-independent nominee Virginia P. Ruesterholz.
Elect Christopher J. Swift	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Christopher J. Swift. However, this director will be serving as the combined Chair/CEO in the upcoming year, which is against policy. Further, given the information provided, the candidate holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (CEO/Chair - The Hartford Financial Services Group, Inc.; Director - Citizens Financial Group, Inc.). Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Matthew E. Winter	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Matthew E. Winter. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.

Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. STI awards are largely discretionary. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Approval of the 2025 Long Term Incentive Stock Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Right to Call Special Meeting	For	A 10% threshold for calling a special meeting is appropriate given the Company's size and shareholder base. Therefore, we are supporting this proposal.

The remuneration report was last voted on in 2024 and achieved an approval rate of 99.42%. Resolution on the discharge of Management Board members for the 2024 financial year	For	There are no known ongoing proceedings against Management Board members. However, the net income has fallen again significantly, which is not a governance violation, but also not the best indicator. The investor Active Ownership Capital joined the company in August 2024, which is not negative in itself, but another indicator of difficulties. Traditionally, activist investors have preferred to find where significant restructuring holds potential. Active Ownership therefore also calls for savings and a significant reduction in staff. Again, this is not an explicit violation of the guidelines, but an indication of difficulties in management. It is also not a sign of best governance that Management Board members seem unwilling to amend their contracts and thus adapt them to the new Management Board remuneration systems. While these will be in compliance with the law until 2026, it is not in line with good governance if Management Board members do not agree to a change or proactively drive these changes, particularly in the light of very poor voting results for the remuneration report. Following the strong rejection of the system in 2021 with only 45.6% approval (system now in place), a new system was introduced in 2022. This system received 94.7% approval, while the 2022 report received just under 42% approval. In 2023, it was only 36.9%, compared to 37.4% in 2022. However, despite the rejection of this scale and the resubmission of an improved system, this new system is not expected to enter into force until 2026. Given the above, it would be expected that the Management Board will already accept or proactively request the change of contracts in order to improve governance, which for many companies is a seamless transition once the system has been switched over. Overall, the motion should therefore at least be subjected to critical scrutiny. However, after consultation with the responsible equity analyst, we agree to the discharge, as the company has taken the right steps as part of the restructuring. The management made savings and corrected the revenue target. We have already addressed the adjustment of Management Board remuneration in direct dialogue, which will take place no later than 2026.

Traditionally, activist investors have preferred to find where significant restructuring holds potential. Active Ownership therefore also calls for savings and a significant reduction in staff. Again, this is not an explicit violation of the guidelines, but a reference to difficulties in management and therefore also on the Supervisory Board in its control function. In addition, the following transparency points and/or governance issues are not satisfied or are missing: No up-to-date CVs for Supervisory Board members, permanently published online and in compliance with the requirements of the guidelines (age and nationality are sometimes missing in the case of elections) The Management Board contracts have not been changed since the presentation of the remuneration system for 2022 and the new system also appears to be changed only in 2026 Failure of the self-imposed diversity targets (defined in 2022: Target 1 Woman on the Management Board - actually zero women. Target 2 Women on the Supervisory Board, in fact after elections and even the expansion of the Supervisory Board only one woman or 17%) Overall, the discharge should therefore be viewed critically. Resolution on the election of the Supervisory Board members: John H. Rittenhouse	Against	According to the guidelines, this Supervisory Board member cannot be considered to be independent. It is not in accordance with the guidelines for a non-independent member to chair the Remuneration Committee. In addition, the Supervisory Board has six members, of which six are elected by the shareholders. However, less than 30 percent of the seats of shareholder representatives on the Supervisory Board are occupied by women. As this is contrary to the guidelines, the election of male candidates should be viewed critically. In this case, there are also concerns about the number of boards he sits on. According to the guidelines, no Supervisory Board member in an executive position should sit on more than three boards in total. Due to his position at Cavallino Capital, LLC, this member of the Supervisory Board should be classified as an executive; he sits on six boards, which is contrary to the guidelines. The election of John H. Rittenhouse should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion. Resolution on the election of the Supervisory Board members: Oliver Tant	Against	The Supervisory Board has six members, six of whom are elected by the shareholders. However, less than 30 percent of the seats of shareholder representatives on the Supervisory Board are occupied by women. As this is contrary to the guidelines, the election of male candidates should be viewed critically. In addition, CVs are not published in accordance with the guidelines and there is no information on age and nationality, for example. This restricts the declaration on the board's diversity. In addition, there are concerns about the number of boards he sits on. According to the guidelines, a Supervisory Board member not in an executive position should not sit on more than five boards in total. This member of the Supervisory Board sits on eight boards, which is contrary to the guidelines. The election of Oliver Tant should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion. Board memberships HelloFresh SE (1) B&M European Value Retail S.A. Resolution on the expansion of the Supervisory Board and a corresponding amendment to Section 8(1) of the Articles of Association	For	The expansion of the Supervisory Board does not violate the guidelines and often makes it easier to improve the independence structure or the mixture of expertise of the Supervisory Board. The motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on a further election to the Supervisory Board with effect from the entry into force of the amendment to the Articles of Association to enlarge the Supervisory Board pursuant to agenda item 7: Melissa Kirmayer Eamer	Against	The CVs are not published in compliance with the guidelines, and there is no information on her age and nationality, for example. This restricts the declaration on the board's diversity, so the election of Melissa Kirmayer Eamer should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report for the 2024 financial year	Against	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2022 and achieved an approval rate of 94.66%. The remuneration report was last voted on in 2024 and achieved an approval rate of just 37.36%. The remuneration granted and owed to the Management Board in the 2024 financial year therefore did not follow the remuneration system for 2022. This also applies to any future remuneration systems until the conclusion of new Management Board contracts. There are numerous weaknesses in the system, which is why the report on the system cannot comply with the guidelines either: There is no specific total target remuneration (deviation G.2) The Supervisory Board currently does not stipulate performance criteria for all variable remuneration components which - in addition to operational objectives - are primarily based on strategic objectives The disbursement amount of all variable remuneration is dependent on the amount of the share price of the HelloFresh SE share at the time shortly before disbursement No performance criteria in the STI A subsequent change in the objectives or the comparison parameters is not excluded (deviation G.8) Special bonuses possible (e.g. if the employment relationship is extended or for outstanding achievements) The scope of the personal investment cannot be achieved in at least four years Change of control clauses The exercise of discretion granted to a committee is not comprehensible to third parties Overall, the motion should be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the approval of the remuneration system for the Management Board members	For	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2022 and achieved an approval rate of 94.66%. The remuneration structure appears to be comprehensible and constitutes an improvement. Management Board members still have a term until 30 April 2026. Consequently, from 1 May 2026 at the latest, all Management Board employment contracts will comply with the 2025 remuneration system. There is a weakness in the system, which is why the system cannot comply with the guidelines: The assessment basis for the LTI is less than four years Change of control clauses However, we can see significant improvements to the remuneration system overall and therefore agree with the motion. The two points mentioned above are primarily formal aspects of the structure that we will address at the next company meeting.

Resolution on the authorisation to acquire and use treasury shares, including the authorisation to cancel acquired treasury shares, reduce capital and cancel the corresponding existing authorisation	Against	In this case, the company proposes a term of three years. This does not comply with the guidelines, which stipulate a maximum term of two years. This motion should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the cancellation of the existing authorisation and the granting of a new authorisation for the Management Board to hold a general meeting in virtual form (Section 14(4) of the Articles of Association)	Against	In this case, the guidelines will not be complied with, since the following criteria are not met and there are therefore deficiencies: The amendment to the Articles of Association does not explicitly stipulate that the Management Board may not convene a virtual general meeting without the approval of the Supervisory Board No written explanation is given as to whether and under which conditions an authorisation of the Management Board should be used in the future (credible, detailed explanation of the circumstances) Since no general meeting has taken place in person since 2021 and such a general meeting has not been explicitly announced for the following year, it is not clear which specific conditions will lead to a virtual general meeting or an in-person GM. No written explanation on the specific configuration of shareholder rights (in particular, no GM with mandatory submission of questions in advance) The motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Reduction of Share Capital through Cancellation of Shares; Bonus Issue	For	The increase in the share capital by an amount equal to the reduction will allow the Company to implement the proposed redemption plan without obtaining the Swedish Companies Registration Office's or a general court's permission, in accordance with Swedish law. The proposed share redemption plan does not violate policy. Consequently, we are supporting this proposal.
Adoption of Share-Based Incentives (Performance Share Program 2025/2028)	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. In this case, no dilutive effect will occur for existing shareholders. Amendments to Article 29	For	The Company proposes that the board of directors may appoint a manager to certify the sustainability reporting, who differs from the manager in charge of preparing the financial statements. Consequently, the corresponding amended article will include the terms and conditions of the appointment, specifying the applicable requirements. The proposed changes align with Legislative Decree n. 125 of September 6, 2024. In particular, article 16 states that sustainability reporting can be provided by a manager different from the one in charge of the Company's corporate accounting documents. As such, we are voting for this proposal.

Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement a remuneration strategy that adequately aligns executive pay with performance, particularly in the longer term. The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. Although the Company operates LTI, it should be noted that all incentives are paid out in cash, with no equity payouts or deferral requirements. The remuneration structure allows for vesting of awards in under 3 years. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. In line with the EU Recommendation on the Remuneration of Directors of Listed Companies issued in April 2009, severance payments should be limited to a certain amount, which, in general should not exceed two years of base salary. In this case, the Company increased the limits under the severance agreements to 24 months of total pay based on the years of tenure (previously 18 months), calculated as the base salary plus the median of the STI awards paid in the three years prior to termination. The payment includes any additional indemnity foreseen under the national collective bargainings, such as but not limited to the indemnity in lieu of notice. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Pay outcomes for the year under review do not appear to sufficiently mirror performance results and shareholders' experience, particularly in the longer term. Although the Company operates LTI, it should be noted that all incentives are paid out in cash, with no equity payouts or deferral requirements. The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. Under the Deferred Incentive Plan, one third of the theoretical total awards vests after two years after the beginning of the three-year performance period, while the remaining portion will vest at the end of the performance period. In this case, the Company states that the proposed vesting schedule aims at limiting the risk of abandonment of the plan by beneficiaries. However, as such awards will vest before end of performance period. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Increase in Auditor's Fees	For	The fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. Consequently, as these authorizations are within the recommended thresholds, we are voting for this proposal.
Directors' liability action	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. As a result, it is recommended to view this item in a non-critical fashion should it occur.
		Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Amendment to the 2021 Stock Incentive Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Amendment to the 2015 Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	For	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The LTI does not include ESG criteria. As this is the only point of criticism we are voting for the proposal after weighing the arguments.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Lobbying Report	For	Currently, the Company discloses a list of trade associations to which it pays annual membership dues of $25,000 or more and provides the aggregate U.S. lobbying expenses allocated to trade association membership dues and outside consultants. However, shareholders could benefit from an itemized listing of all lobbying-related payments (not just the portion of its membership dues that is allocated to lobbying expenses). Such information would better allow shareholders to weigh the risks of the Company's lobbying efforts, particularly those done by its trade associations. Ultimately, requests for increased transparency around a company's lobbying activities are in line with policy. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Elect Ola Rollén	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Ola Rollén. However, the nominee has already been a non-executive member of the board for more than 15 years, which is against policy. Further, as the remuneration committee does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors on this committee. In addition, the policy requires the remuneration committee chair to be independent. Moreover, the Company has not disclosed detailed vote results from its previous annual general meeting and has neither provided a compelling rationale for having been unable to collect vote results nor has it committed to amend its processes going forward. It is believed that the disclosure of vote results assists shareholders in gaining a better understanding of the outcome of general meetings, establishing engagement priorities, and tracking companies' responses to material (minority) shareholder dissent on any of the agenda items. The non-disclosure of vote results can serve to disenfranchise minority shareholders, in particular at companies with a multi-class share structure or a controlling shareholder. In this case, we are holding this nominee, as the board chair, accountable for this issue. Consequently, we are opposing the re-election of Ola Rollén.
Elect Märta Schörling Andreen	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Märta Schörling Andreen. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.

However, as the audit committee does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors on this committee. Elect Erik Huggers	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Erik Huggers. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.

Election of Nomination Committee Members	For	The nomination committee allows shareholder representatives to make recommendations regarding the election and compensation of directors and auditors. In general, it is believed that it is in the best interests of shareholders to secure an avenue for their involvement in such matters. It should be noted that the proposed guidelines are prepared in accordance with the Swedish corporate governance code and represent local best practice. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The Company's short-term remuneration exceeds the long-term remuneration. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria, which is based solely on EPS. The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics under the STI. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Adoption of Share-Based Incentives (Share Programme 2025/2028)	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. While the proposed dilution is in line with policy, the following issues should be noted: The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The Company has not disclosed whether the proposed plan includes any bonus-malus and/or recovery provisions. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria, which is based solely on EPS. As this is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. Consequently, as these authorizations are within the recommended thresholds, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ or w/o Preemptive Rights	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital with or without preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. The long-term performance is measured solely by the TSR. The long-term metric does not include ESG criteria. The remuneration structure allows for adjusted metrics. Specifically, adjusted EPS under the annual metrics. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. Clawback policy is restatement dependent only. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. Long-term remuneration is measured exclusively by TSR and is the sole metric. Elect Ernest E. Ferguson	Against	As the board of directors, audit committee and compensation committee do not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors.

Further, at last year's annual meeting, this nominee received more than 79% withhold votes. Considering that Mr. Ferguson remains on the board, this raises concerns about whether the board of directors is fulfilling its duty to shareholders.

Additionally, this nominee served as a member of the compensation committee during the past three fiscal years. It is worth noting that, at last year's annual meeting, the Company received 94.2% support for the say-on-pay proposal. However, the Company maintains a multi-class share structure wherein each share of Class B stock entitles the holder to 10 votes while each share of Class A stock entitles the holder to one vote. In this case, Mr. Ingle alone beneficially owns 96.1% of Class B stock, resulting in control of approximately 72.5% of the total voting power. After accounting for the voting power of the Company's directors and executives, it is estimated that the support level for last year's say-on-pay proposal was around 73%.

Given the substantial level of opposition to the Company's pay practices, it is believed that members of the compensation committee should have taken more initiative to improve the Company's pay practices and programs. In this case, the committee has failed to do so.

Moreover, at this year's annual meeting, shareholders are being asked to vote on a shareholder proposal. The Company has seemingly failed to disclose the identity of the shareholder proponent in its proxy statement, which goes against market practice. Moreover, the identity of a shareholder proponent is an important consideration for investors weighing the merits of a shareholder proposal. Accordingly, it is believed that companies in this market should provide clear disclosure in their proxy statements concerning the identity of the proponent of any shareholder proposal submitted to a shareholder vote.

Lastly, the Company maintains a multi-class share structure with unequal voting rights and has not provided for a reasonable time-based sunset of the multi-class share structure (generally seven years or less).

		Multi-class voting structures are not in line with policy. It is believed that it is the responsibility of the chair of the nominating and corporate governance committee to ensure that the economic stake of each shareholder matches their voting power and that no small group of shareholders, family or otherwise, has voting rights different from those of other shareholders. Since the board has not established such a committee, is is considered appropriate to hold this nominee, as the longest tenured independent director elected by Class A shareholders, accountable for the aforementioned issues. Consequently, we are voting against this director's appointment.
Elect John R. Lowden	Against	Nominee John R. Lowden attended less than 75% of the meetings held by the board in the past financial year, and the Company has failed to disclose proper justification, which is against policy. Accordingly, we are voting against the re-election of this nominee.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines, although it should be noted that the CEO, Robert P. Ingle, II, is the major shareholder. The Company has failed to implement a long term performance based incentive plan. There appears to be overreliance on STI payouts. Moreover, STI awards are largely discretionary. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. The report does not provide transparency on chosen benchmarks. At the 2023 annual meeting, the Company received 94.2% support for the say-on-pay proposal. However, the Company maintains a multi-class share structure wherein each share of Class B stock entitles the holder to 10 votes while each share of Class A stock entitles the holder to one vote. In this case, Mr. Ingle alone beneficially owns 96.1% of Class B stock, resulting in control of approximately 72.5% of the total voting power. After accounting for the voting power of the Company's directors and executives, it is estimated that the support level for last year's say-on-pay proposal was around 73%. The continued presence of significant opposition from unaffiliated shareholders reasonably warrants a material response from the Company. Moreover, the Company has not provided clear disclosure regarding any engagement efforts to address specific concerns from unaffiliated shareholders. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Board Size	Against	In this particular case, this proposal requests that the board amend its bylaws to maintain 10 directors. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. In addition, as the audit committee does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors on this committee. Furthermore, the policy requires the audit committee chair to be independent. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Frederick H. Waddell	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Frederick H. Waddell. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Alfred W. Zollar	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Alfred W. Zollar. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	For	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. In addition, the remuneration paid to the executive board is not excessive and is comparable with industry peers. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Lobbying Report	For	Although the Company's stringent and robust policies concerning its electioneering expenditures should be recognised, the Company could reasonably enhance its disclosure in line with the request of this proposal. Providing information including specific payments to trade associations or grassroots organizations for the purposes of lobbying is in line with policy and would help provide shareholders a better basis upon which they are able to assess the risks presented by the Company's political activities. Consequently, we are supporting this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on DEI Requirements for Hiring and Recruitment	Against	This proposal requests that the Company conduct an evaluation and publish a report assessing how the Company's diversity, equity, and inclusion ("DEI") requirements for hiring/recruitment impact its risks related to discrimination against individuals based on their race, color, religion (including religious views), sex, national origin, or political views. It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is an anti-ESG proponent. With regard to its principles regarding proxy voting and engagement, Bowyer has developed guidelines that 'are designed to appeal to investors who hold to a traditional understanding of the obligations of a company towards its shareholders--that is, a focus on shareholder capitalism as opposed to stakeholder capitalism-- and which are deeply skeptical about an ESG approach to corporate governance.' Consequently, we are opposing this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Board Size	For	There are no indications of any controversy regarding the board size at this company. This proposal does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
List Presented by Shareholders' Agreement	Not voted	The nominees on the list presented by List presented by group of Institutional Investors representing 1.51% of share capital bring an appropriate level of experience and diversity of expertise to the board. Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. Executive remuneration is not published individually. The Company's short-term remuneration exceeds the long-term remuneration. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. From December 1, 2024, the CEO received a 44% increase in his remuneration for the role as general manager, from €2,000,000 to €2,880,000. Said increase was pro-rated for FY2024, resulting in a salary of €2,135,000 and in an overall fixed remuneration (inclusive of the CEO and executive director salary of €620,000) of €2,755,000. As such, the overall CEO's fixed remuneration for FY2024 increased by 5.15% (FY2023: €2,620,000). For FY2025, the overall CEO remuneration (inclusive of the CEO and executive director salary of €620,000) will remain set at €3,500,000 (+27% vs actual fixed remuneration paid in FY2024). As a consequence of the above changes, the CEO's total remuneration will increase from €7.86 million (inclusive of fixed remuneration, STI maximum opportunity and annualised LTI opportunity) to €10.5 million for FY2025. This is particularly concerning given that the CEO's remuneration prior to the 2024 review already exceeded compensation given to chief executives at the Company's European and market peers (€2.62 million inclusive of amounts due for CEO and general manager roles, vs average base salary approximately equal to €1.8 million and €1.3 million at industry and market peers, respectively). As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Remuneration Policy (Board of Directors)	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Remuneration Policy (Group)	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The Company's short-term remuneration exceeds the long-term remuneration. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. At the end of FY2024, the CEO received a 44% increase in fixed remuneration for the role as general manager, from €2,000,000 to €2,880,000. As such, the overall CEO's fixed remuneration for FY2025 (inclusive of the CEO and executive director salary of €620,000) will increase to €3,500,000 (+27% compared to actual fixed remuneration paid in FY2024, +33.6% vs fixed remuneration under approved remuneration policy for FY2024). As a consequence of the above changes, the CEO's total opportunity will increase from €7.86 million (inclusive of fixed remuneration, STI maximum opportunity and annualised LTI opportunity) to €10.5 million for FY2025. The pay levels for the CEO appear overtly higher than the remuneration levels of chief executives at the Company's European and market peers (FY2024: average base salary approximately equal to €1.8 million and €1.3 million, respectively) and out of line with the market's best practice on pay setting. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
2025 Annual Incentive Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase Shares	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. Consequently, as these authorizations are within the recommended thresholds, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares to Service Incentive Plans	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. Consequently, as these authorizations are within the recommended thresholds, we are voting for this proposal.

Cancellation of Shares	For	In this case, the terms under which the Company is considering a cancellation of its repurchased shares are reasonable and do not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Directors' liability action	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. As a result, it is recommended to view this item in a non-critical fashion should it occur.
		Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Private Placement (Ophelos Ltd.)	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 0.74% of the Company's current issued share capital with or without preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Transfer of Treasury Shares	For	Management and the board are in the best position to make decisions regarding the Company's finances, absent a showing of egregious or unethical conduct that threatens to harm shareholder value. When evaluating an issuance of shares without preemptive rights, it is generally required that the board disclose three key details: (i) the total number of shares to be issued; (ii) the price at which the shares will be issued; and (iii) the intended uses of the proceeds from the issuance. In this case, as this proposal does not violate policy, we are voting for this proposal.

2025 Remuneration Policy (Chair)	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
2025 Remuneration Policy (CEO and Other Executives)	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The proposed remuneration policy lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. While the Company has indicated that it benchmarks the CEO's remuneration against fifteen peer international companies of the same size and revenue operating in the healthcare sector, it has not indicated which companies form part of the peer group used for benchmarking. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, the board may grant discretionary awards in exceptional circumstances capped at 200% of base salary. There are concerns that the Company lags behind market peers on disclosure of key details of its executive remuneration policy, such as the specific performance metrics and their weightings under the LTI plan. The Company also decided to implement a second one-off long-term incentive plan for its CEO in 2025. There are concerns that the performance targets attached to grant to be made under the Company additional long-term incentive are based uniquely on the share price of the Company, which is contrary to policy. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
2024 Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Executive remuneration is not published individually. The Company has failed to clearly disclose the Company's E&S metrics, instead disclosing them as vague categories and/or list of examples. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

2024 Remuneration of David Loew, CEO	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The Company has failed to clearly disclose the Company's E&S metrics, instead disclosing them as vague categories and/or list of examples. Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Relocation of Corporate Headquarters	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Cancel Shares and Reduce Capital	For	This is a routine request in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/ Preemptive Rights	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 20% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/o Preemptive Rights and to Increase Capital In Case of Exchange Offer	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt Through Private Placement	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 20% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Greenshoe	For	This authority grants the Company the flexibility to increase an over-subscribed issuance by up to 15%, so long as such increase takes place on the same terms and within thirty days of the initial issuance. In this case, the proposed greenshoe is subject to a cumulative limit of 20% of share capital for all share issuances, which is in line with policy. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Authority to Grant Stock Options	Against	In this case, the Company's executive compensation practices are not in line with policy. Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Specifically, the Company's policy provides exceptional remuneration as reward for strategic project implementation and/or additional activities carried out with high economic impact. The maximum amount cannot exceed the target level of the variable remuneration. The current structure may raise concerns regarding the overall alignment of executive interests with those of long-term shareholders. All incentives are paid out in cash, with no equity payouts or deferral requirements. The board possesses discretion to adjust awards under both short- and long-term incentive plan, departing from the effective achievement level of performance goals. In this case, the Company disclosed that the circumstances in which the adjustments may occur include but are not limited to (i) a change in the structure of the Group or (ii) major events affecting the markets. The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. The board granted discretionary bonuses. Specifically, the chair and vice-chair received an additional compensation of €107,640 and €17,940 respectively, for the responsibility required during the vacancy period following the resignation of Gianni Vittorio Armani (former CEO). The vacancy period lasted from June 12, 2023, to August 30, 2023, when Paolo Signorini was appointed as the new CEO. Further, the chair and the vice-chair received an additional, exceptional award of €132,227 and €66,113 respectively for the responsibility required during the vacancy period following the dismissal of Paolo Signorini as CEO. The second vacancy lasted from May 7, 2024, to September 10, 2024, when Gianluca Bufo was appointed as the new CEO. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Directors' liability action	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. As a result, it is recommended to view this item in a non-critical fashion should it occur. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Approval of the 2025-2027 Employee Share Ownership Plan	For	According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Approval of Stock Grant Plan	Against	The proposed cash- and equity-based award will have no performance conditions attached, being only conditional upon the closing of the acquisition of 2i Rete Gas S.p.A. In general it is poor practice to implement any type of extra annual bonus that rewards individuals for actions that are intrinsic to an executive's duties, such as negotiating sales and acquisitions. Moreover, the overall size of the proposed bonus (100% of base salary for the CEO) is significant and is effectively tantamount to a discretionary award. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ Preemptive Rights (2i Rete Gas Acquisition)	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 19.73% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares to Service 2025-2027 Employee Share Ownership Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares to Service Stock Grant Plan	Against	Following the analysis of the connected plan in Proposal 0020, we are voting against this proposal.

Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria under the 2024-2025 CO-INVESTMENT PLAN. The 2024-2025 CO-INVESTMENT PLAN does not include ESG criteria. The board possesses discretion to adjust awards under both short- and long-term incentive plan, departing from the effective achievement level of performance goals. Such discretionary bonuses indicate a lack of resolve on the part of the board to put incentive awards truly at risk, especially if a company has in place incentive plans that are formula-based and objective. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
