1 Foreword

The road to climate neutrality

2023 was the year of climate change. After the political dispute over heat pumps intensified in the spring, another hot summer followed. Union Investment, meanwhile, has continued to work on its own climate strategy to pave the way towards climate neutrality.

By 2021, Union Investment had undertaken to become climate-neutral by 2050 – both with regard to its own business activities and its securities portfolio. In the meantime, a group of 50 companies has been identified that represent around 75% of the greenhouse gas emissions in the securities portfolio. The portfolio management will be contacting them to find out how they plan to reduce their CO2 emissions. The aim is to get these companies to commit to binding reduction paths. The emphasis is on achieving focused engagement with intensive corporate dialogue and, where necessary, speeches and voting at the relevant shareholder meetings. The last resort – i.e. excluding companies from the portfolios managed by Union Investment – will only be applied if the appropriate engagement initiatives have been exhausted.

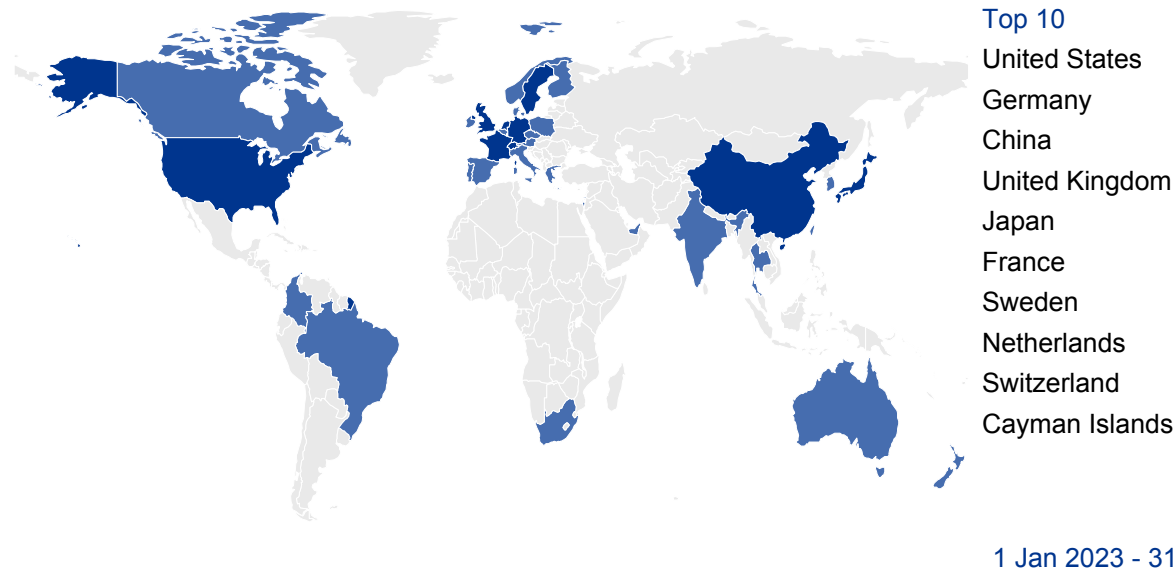

In addition to pressing for compliance with climate targets, Union Investment's engagement included, among other things, the protection of biodiversity – for example in dialogue with major agricultural groups – and the protection of human rights. After numerous company discussions, high-profile appearances and a clear announcement to management by Union Investment's portfolio management, the Volkswagen Group has agreed to have its plant in Xinjiang audited by an independent auditor. The result: No complaints have been identified. This is first of all a relief for Volkswagen as well as for Union Investment as a shareholder of the company. This does not end the case, but only a regular check helps to effectively exclude violations of human rights.

The case highlights how important it is for investors that issuers look closely at their supply chains and look at the conditions under which the precursors are manufactured. In cases such as this, support will also come from regulators in future. The Supply Chain Act entered into force in Germany in January 2024. The aim is to strengthen the protection of human rights and the environment within supply chains.

UnionVote – Exercise of Voting Rights according to Agenda Items

1 Jan 2023 - 31 Dec 2023

For: To approve the motion.

Against: To reject the motion.

Withhold: For technical/formal reasons, some countries, especially the US, only have a choice between 'for' and 'withhold', for example when electing individual candidates to a committee. This makes 'withhold' equivalent to a rejection.

Abstain: In some cases, a deliberate abstention may be considered if the arguments provided do not constitute sufficient support for a decision. An abstention means voting neither in favour of nor against a motion. Instead, it is intended to signal to management that reservations or dissatisfaction exist, but that there are insufficient grounds for voting against the motion.

Not voted: Organisational agenda items or those that only serve to provide information are not voted on. No vote is cast in such cases.

2.3 Highlights General Meetings and Speeches

Exposure to Infineon

The Annual General Meeting of Infineon Technologies AG was held virtually on 16 February 2023. Markus Golinski, Fund Manager at Union Investment, represented the interests of Union Investment. Extracts from his speech:

It was a successful handover of the baton from Reinhard Ploss to Jochen Hanebeck at the top of Infineon's Management Board. The successful strategy has been continued and the new chairman has launched the "Spirit" initiative to promote agility and ambition in the company. Operationally, everything is running smoothly at Infineon, which is also rewarded by the capital market. Since the 2022 general meeting, Infineon shares have provided investors with a total return of twelve percent, based on share price performance and dividend payments. With one percent this is better than the DAX 40 index and with minus four percent better than the Philadelphia Semiconductor Index (SOX). But it is still weaker than many a competitor.

Infineon has so far lagged behind the operating margins of its competitors. The new margin target of 25% – six percent more than before – brings the company closer to its most profitable competitors. But there is still potential upside, because the Group is very well positioned to benefit more than the average from the megatrends of electrification and digitalisation. Infineon can also catch up with the strongest competitors in terms of the future materials silicon carbide and gallium nitride.

Diversity still low

As a sustainable investor, Union Investment attaches great importance to compliance with ESG criteria. Infineon is doing better than average in this sector and has recently improved even further. But how ambitious is the company's climate strategy really? The Group aims to be CO₂-neutral by 2030, but only for Scope 1 and Scope 2 emissions. The big tech companies like Apple want to be CO₂-neutral by 2030 – for the entire supply chain, including Scope 3 emissions. When will Infineon include Scope 3 emissions, the largest part of its carbon footprint, in its climate strategy?

Another point we question is diversity. The proportion of women on the Management Board and at the level below is still low. Is the goal of filling six out of 35 positions below the Management Board with women by 2027 ambitious enough? We also miss women in leading committee functions on the Supervisory Board. The question is whether new appointments are planned here.

Physical presence at general meeting preferred

With regard to the agenda, Union Investment voted against the authorisation to buy back shares, as we envisage a maximum term of two years for this, which will be exceeded. In addition, we opposed the proposed amendments to the Articles of Association on the future form of general meetings. There was no additional detailed explanation of the conditions under which the Management Board intends to make use of the option to hold a virtual general meeting. Nor was there a written explanation of how exactly virtual general meetings are to be structured in the future. We also see the physical presence of Supervisory Board members as essential for dialogue with shareholders on the day of the AGM.

Union Investment clearly prefers the annual general meeting to be held in person. Only at such meetings is a lively general debate possible, only there can shareholders reach the entire Management Board and Supervisory Board with their questions and concerns. Infineon should answer shareholders' questions personally and publicly at least once a year, face direct criticism and feel the mood in the room. We therefore demand that the company again hold general meetings with physical attendance or hybrid shareholder meetings in the future.

Exposure to Siemens

The Annual General Meeting of Siemens AG was held virtually on 9 February 2023. Vera Diehl, Fund Manager at Union Investment, represented the interests of Union Investment. Extracts from her speech:

Roland Busch has made an accident-free start as chairman of the board and must now keep his eye on the ball and continue to deliver. Operationally, everything is running smoothly at Siemens, but that is not enough for the capital market. Since he took over as CEO on 3 February 2021, the Siemens share has provided investors with a total return of 11%, based on share price development and dividend payments. This is gratifying, but when you consider that the MSCI World Industrials Index rose by 22% over the same period, Siemens can only be credited with below-average performance from a capital market perspective. In the Group's remuneration system, the market barometer, which tracks the average of global competitors, is the official benchmark against which the Management Board's performance is measured. We expressly welcome this because it is an ambitious benchmark. The new Siemens AG must manage to beat the MSCI World Industrials Index over longer periods of time.

Emissions hardly reduced

As a sustainable investor, Union Investment pays particular attention to environmental and social criteria as well as good corporate governance. Here, Siemens still has upside potential that needs to be further leveraged because sustainability is the most important driver of the share price alongside digitalisation and automation. We measure all companies against the yardstick of sustainable transformation. In the last financial year, Siemens was barely able to reduce its own Scope 1 and Scope 2 greenhouse gas emissions; upstream Scope 3 emissions even rose steeply.

This does not fit in at all with the ambitious climate strategy. What immediate measures is the Group taking to increase the pace of reduction again? What do these measures cost and when will they have an effect and to what extent? Siemens must not only avoid greenhouse gases, but also conserve natural resources. For this, the company wants and needs to purchase a higher proportion of recycled raw materials. Last year, this did not happen. We therefore demand fixed purchase quotas for the most important secondary raw materials!

Breaking resource-intensive growth patterns

Digitalisation only creates more efficiency if it breaks resource-intensive growth patterns instead of fuelling them. How does the digital Industries business sector manage this?

And a look at governance is also necessary: The remuneration report shows a higher target remuneration for both the Chairman of the Management Board and the Chief Financial Officer Ralf Thomas. How does Siemens justify this?

With regard to the agenda, Union Investment voted against the election of Regina Dugan and Martina Merz and against the re-election of Nathalie von Siemens to the Supervisory Board due to the accumulation of offices. We voted for all the other candidates. Furthermore, we opposed the amendment to the Articles of Association regarding the virtual general meeting, as there was no additional detailed explanation of the conditions under which the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of holding a virtual general meeting. Nor was there a written explanation of how exactly virtual general meetings are to be structured in the future. We also see the physical presence of Supervisory Board members as essential for dialogue with shareholders on the day of the AGM. Accordingly, we also demand from Siemens that in future the company again holds general meetings with physical attendance or hybrid shareholder meetings.

Engagement at Siemens Energy

The Annual General Meeting of Siemens AG was held virtually on 7 February 2023. Vera Diehl, fund manager at Union Investment, represented the interests of Union Investment. Extracts from her speech:

Siemens Energy has been a major construction site since its IPO in September 2020 and cannot get out of the red. The share price development resembles a roller coaster ride; there was no dividend. This is the price shareholders will have to pay to finally get the problems at Siemens Gamesa under control.

The fight against climate change is forcing the energy transition from fossil to renewable energies. Siemens Energy plays a key role in the mammoth project of energy transition. The electricity and energy market is in a state of upheaval, so that substantial investments will have to be made in this sector over the next few decades.

Siemens Energy has a great opportunity to be active as a technology leader with a top market position in structurally growing markets. This is an opportunity to be seized! What is the company doing to achieve and maintain technology leadership in existing business areas? And what plans is it pursuing in the short, medium and long term on the future topic of green hydrogen?

Governance: room for improvement

As a sustainable investor, Union Investment attaches great importance to ecological, social and governance-related criteria. Siemens Energy still has upside potential here. Despite some progress, we still see the greatest need for improvement in climate protection. Siemens Energy bears great responsibility for the emissions of its customers.

How is climate neutrality to be achieved in concrete terms, especially in the oil and gas business? What are the interim targets for Scope 3 after 2030? And when will the group finally disclose all the emissions in the value chain? Siemens Energy must move from being a laggard to a pioneer of sustainable transformation. We also criticise the accumulation of offices on the Supervisory Board, which is the case with Christine Bortenlänger and Laurence Mulliez.

Human rights issue causes concern

We are also concerned about the issue of human rights. In Hungary, Rosatom is building new nuclear reactors with control technology from Siemens Energy. And this despite the fact that Rosatom is facing accusations of participating in crimes against humanity in the Ukraine war. Who at Siemens Energy reviewed and approved this project before or after the war began? Does the company want, and will it deliver, the ordered technology? What would be the financial and legal consequences of cancelling the contract? And are there other contracts in which technology from Siemens Energy is to be used in projects with Rosatom?

Concerning the agenda, Union Investment voted against the amendment to the Articles of Association on the future structure of shareholder meetings, as we consider the physical presence of Supervisory Board members to be essential for dialogue with shareholders on the day of the Annual General Meeting. We did not vote in favour of the amendment to the Articles of Association concerning the virtual AGM.

Union Investment clearly prefers annual general meetings to be held by those physically present. Siemens Energy should also answer shareholders' questions personally and publicly at least once a year and face direct criticism. We therefore demand that the company holds general meetings with physical attendance or hybrid shareholder meetings in the future.

Engagement at Adidas

The general meeting of Adidas AG was held in Fürth on 11 May 2023. Janne Werning, Head of ESG Capital Markets & Stewardship at Union Investment, represented Union Investment's interests. Extracts from his speech:

For the first time since 2019, Adidas shareholders met again for a general meeting in person at the Stadthalle Fürth. Since then, a lot has happened at Adidas: Thomas Rabe has been Chairman of the Supervisory Board of Adidas since August 2020. Shortly before, his predecessor Igor Landau extended the contract of CEO Kasper Rorsted for five years until the summer of 2026. In August 2022, Adidas announced that Kasper Rorsted would step down from office in 2023 and that the search for a successor had begun.

In the late autumn, events started to unfold: First there was the separation from Rapper Kanye West as a designer with immediate effect as a result of the debacle in relation to the joint Yeezy brand. This was followed soon after by the announcement that a new CEO was found in Bjørn Gulden, who will take over in January 2023, Kasper Rorsted will leave in November 2022 and Chief Financial Officer Harm Ohlmeyer will manage the company for a transitional period until the end of the year.

Yeezy debacle

On 22 November 2022, the Rolling Stone reported on the scathing letter "The Truth About Yeezy: A Call to Action for Adidas Leadership". Since then, there has been suspicions that the group has known about Kanye West's internal misconduct towards Adidas employees for years, but has not done anything about it and did not have any consequences. That was related, according to the suspicion, to the Yeezy products that have now become a boomerang for Adidas. They were extremely profitable and contributed nearly eight percent to Group sales, which made the separation so difficult.

As a result, the Financial Times faced Adidas with the demand of Union Investment that the company must disclose when the Management Board and the Supervisory Board were informed of the internal allegations for the first time. The company has laid low so far – just like they did when it came to the results of the independent investigation into the codes of conduct already available to Adidas. The shareholders have a right to know that, after all, they are the owners of the company and thus have the financial damage of the Yeezy debacle.

Open questions on ESG

As a sustainable investor, Union Investment attaches great importance to ecological, social and governance-related criteria, for short: ESG. In the sustainable transformation that we measure all companies against, Adidas has worked its way up systematically in recent years. Nevertheless, there are still questions here too: What exactly does Adidas do to comply with the due diligence obligations within the meaning of the supply chain law? How can purchasing practices and fair dealings with employees be better structured? How can the Supervisory Board be better positioned in terms of sustainability? What knowledge and experience enabled Kathrin Menges, Supervisory Board member responsible for ESG, to develop her sustainability expertise?

Looking at the agenda, Union Investment voted against the discharge of the Management Board and the Supervisory Board. After the Yeezy debacle, the group is a restructuring case. We also voted against the proposed amendments to the Articles of Association regarding the virtual general meeting, as there was no detailed explanation of the conditions under which the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of holding a virtual general meeting. Nor was there a written explanation of how exactly virtual general meetings are to be structured in the future. Added to this, we also see the physical presence of Supervisory Board members as essential for dialogue with shareholders on the day of the general meeting.

Engagement at Covestro

The general meeting of Covestro AG was held virtually on 19 April 2023. Arne Rautenberg, Portfolio Manager at Union Investment, represented the interests of Union Investment. Extracts from his speech:

The stock market does not count on the successes of yesterday, but rather the future prospects. And they are anything but rosy for Covestro. In the last twelve months before the general meeting, Covestro shares have provided investors with a total return of minus ten percent, based on share price performance and dividend payments. This is weaker than the European chemical sector (STOXX Europe 600 Chemicals) at plus two percent and far worse than the DAX, which generated a plus of twelve percent over the same period (period: 13 April 2022 to 13 April 2023).

Painful adjustments are necessary for Covestro to get past its low point. The Group's competitiveness is suffering from high energy costs, which have risen from EUR 600 million to more than EUR 2 billion. In view of the permanently increased energy cost assumptions, how competitive are the production facilities in Germany? In the past, smaller savings programmes have been sufficient to offset cost increases. But this is no longer true, as times have changed considerably in the face of the energy crisis in Europe. In the case of competitors, we are increasingly seeing measures that should lead to permanently cheaper production costs. Does Covestro also plan to do that? Union Investment would very much appreciate this.

The Russian war of aggression shows how quickly geopolitical nightmares can become a reality. What opportunities and risks does the company see in China? How flexible is the strategy with regard to China? How quickly could Covestro reduce its dependence on China as a production site and as a sales market?

Responsibility for emissions along the value chain

As a sustainable investor, Union Investment focus on environmental, social and governance-related criteria. All economic players have an obligation to become carbon neutral by 2050, thus limiting global temperature increases to below two degrees. Each company – including Covestro – is not only responsible for its own emissions, but also for the emissions that occur along the value chain. Without a decisive commitment to the reduction of Scope 1, 2 and 3 emissions, climate change cannot be stopped. As of 2025, we will therefore no longer invest in CO₂-intensive companies that refuse to publish complete long-term climate goals. This includes Scope 3 emissions. Union Investment will therefore step up its efforts towards ambitious and comprehensive climate goals at Covestro.

The chemical industry is one of the most greenhouse gas intensive sectors. Although the Group has already published ambitious greenhouse gas reduction targets for Scope 1 and Scope 2, they have not yet been validated externally. Why has the company not yet joined the Science Based Targets Initiative to further strengthen the credibility of these ambitions? We would very much welcome that. And when will Covestro publish a climate neutrality target in terms of Scope 3 emissions?

Looking at the agenda, Union Investment voted against the proposed amendments to the Articles of Association on virtual general meetings. We prefer the general meeting in person. Only at such meetings is a lively general debate possible, only there can shareholders reach the entire Management Board and Supervisory Board with their questions and concerns. Covestro should answer shareholders' questions personally and publicly at least once a year, face direct criticism and feel the mood in the room. We therefore demand that the Group hold general meetings in person or hybrid general meetings in the future.

Engagement at Deutsche Bank

The general meeting of Deutsche Bank AG was held virtually on 17 May 2023. Union Investment represented the interests of Alexandra Annecke, Senior Portfolio Manager at Union Investment. Extracts from her speech:

After the lost decade of the 2010s, where one capital increase came after another and multi-billion losses piled up, the 2020s got off to a much better start for Deutsche Bank. They are back in profit and even closed 2022 with the best result since 2007. The “compete to win” strategy of CEO Christian Sewing, which was the same as a radical overhaul, heralded the turnaround four years ago.

But Deutsche Bank is still far from its goal. There is still much to be done and Deutsche Bank has no laurels on the capital market. With a total yield of 8.2%, consisting of the share price performance and dividend, Deutsche Bank lagged behind the European banking sector (STOXX Europe 600 banks) in the last twelve months before the shareholder meeting (11.05.2022 to 11.05.2023), which delivered a total yield of 22.5% over the same period.

The combination of digitalisation and social media is changing the deposit business and presents completely new challenges for the banking industry, as shown by the recent banking earthquake in America and Europe. Confidence in an institute and its reputation is more important than ever in these times. It turns out that an institution's past failures linger for a long time. After the collapse of Credit Suisse, the shares and bonds of Deutsche Bank and credit default swaps were shaken to the core due to fears of contagion risks. Although this does not reflect Deutsche Bank's progress, it would be wrong to dismiss this volatility as an irrational market reaction.

Stirring shareholder interest

The most effective tools to attract investor interest and boost share prices are dividend distributions and share buybacks. Following the defaulted dividends for 2019 and 2020, Deutsche Bank's distributions are still very meagre in the sector comparison. It is noted that the institute embarked on its restructuring much later than many other European financial institutions.

This year's general meeting was again held virtually and questions had to be submitted no later than three days in advance. Although this was not a violation of the German Stock Corporation Act, in so doing Deutsche Bank did alienate the shareholders, i.e. the owners of the company. Union Investment would instead have hoped for a genuine willingness to engage in dialogue.

Looking at the agenda, we voted against the election of EY as auditors, as APAS's auditors imposed a penalty against EY for violations of professional duties in connection with Wirecard and thus the presumption of innocence no longer applies. In the elections to the Supervisory Board, we opposed the re-election of Michele Trogni and Norbert Winkeljohann due to the accumulation of offices, while supporting the re-election of Mayree Clark and John Alexander Thain.

We also voted against the proposed amendments to the Articles of Association for the virtual general meeting because there was no explanation of the conditions under which the Management Board wants to make use of the possibility of virtual general meetings and how virtual general meetings should be structured in the future. We also see the physical presence of Supervisory Board members as essential for dialogue with shareholders on the day of the general meeting. Union Investment clearly favours the general meeting in person and is decisively opposed to a prior transfer of the right to ask questions. We do not see a better quality of response to previous general meetings.

Engagement at Deutsche Post

The general meeting of Deutsche Post AG was held on 4 May 2023. Union Investment represented the interests of Dr Vanda Rothacker, Senior ESG analyst at Union Investment. Extracts from her speech:

Operationally, things are going well at Deutsche Post – probably as well as they have for a long time. However, despite the strong start to the year, the share has only delivered a total return of around ten percent since the last shareholder meeting, consisting of price performance and dividend. That's less than the DAX.

After a record result was achieved last year, Deutsche Post now faces some challenges. The company has already prepared shareholders for falling freight prices and cost inflation in 2023. But that raises questions: How flexibly can management respond to a potential recession? And to what extent are recession scenarios part of the plan? Union Investment hopes that cost management will be adjusted accordingly.

Pioneer in transformation

Another issue of great importance is the transformation to CO2 neutrality. We believe that Deutsche Post is at the forefront of the fight against climate change and should maintain this course. This would be a long-term gain not only for shareholders, but also for society. As a sustainable investor, it is very important for Union Investment to respect ESG criteria, i.e. environmental, social and governance-related aspects.

For example, we consider it a good decision that the Group has clearly committed to reducing total greenhouse gas emissions, including direct, indirect and relevant Scope 3 emissions. At this point last year, we asked for Deutsche Post to follow the guidelines of the Science Based Targets Initiative. We are very pleased that the company has done this, as confirmed by the initiative in November 2022.

Criticism of governance

In terms of social factors, Union Investment is largely satisfied. The fact that the Group takes the “S” of “ESG” seriously is also demonstrated by the agreement with Verdi. We also consider the good performance of Deutsche Post in the annual surveys of employees to be a good sign.

However, there was also a need for criticism regarding governance. The long-term Management Board remuneration is only linked to the price performance, but does not include any ESG criteria. So we ask ourselves: When will the company include sustainability targets in the calculation of the long-term variable remuneration component?

With regard to the agenda, it should be noted that Union Investment did not discharge the Supervisory Board this year as the position of Audit Committee chair is not independently filled. Dr Stefan Schulte can no longer be considered independent since 2009 due to his long membership on the committee. We also voted against the authorisation to buy back shares as we believe that this authorisation should not be valid for more than two years and this period has been exceeded here. In addition, we rejected the proposed amendments to the Articles of Association to hold a virtual general meeting. Only face-to-face general meetings allow for an open and active exchange between management and its shareholders, and this should take place at least once a year.

Engagement at E.ON

The general meeting of E.ON SE was held on 17 May 2023. Union Investment represented the interests of Dr Thomas Deser, Senior Portfolio Manager at Union Investment. Extracts from his speech:

The E.ON share made investors happy again and delivered a total return of 22% in the last twelve months before the general meeting, consisting of price performance and dividend. This is better than the DAX and better than the industry index STOXX Utilities. In doing so, E.ON benefits from structural trends such as electrification, connection of decentralised generation of renewable energies and infrastructure for the transport of greener gas. These trends offer good growth opportunities for network companies.

However, E.ON does not run on autopilot. From a shareholder perspective, the following applies: Less is more. The Group is active in so many business segments that the capital market can no longer see and recognise any sort of coherency. Europe is not a homogeneous market. Management should consistently eliminate national markets that do not promise success. We believe that divestment is necessary, especially in regions with low investment security. And: The company should create more transparency for the value of E.ON. In this context, however, there is also a need to discuss the issue of debt. E.ON's current debt is too high for the capital market, especially as a starting point for the planned growth in the network business, hopefully achievable but ultimately requires financing.

Urenco stake remains a dark spot

E.ON continues to hold a stake in uranium enrichment company Urenco. This stake remains a dark spot on E.ON's whitening sustainability vest even after the end of nuclear power production. Union Investment asked how uranium enrichment fits into E.ON's now nuclear-free business model, why E.ON has not yet separated from its stake in Urenco and when E.ON may wish to separate itself from this stake. E.ON's reply does not answer these questions. The Group only refers to the character of an "indirect minority shareholding as a financial shareholding", the sale of which must comply with a complex regulatory framework and requires various approvals. At the time of the general meeting, it remained open whether E.ON was working on the sale of its stake in Urenco.

Management Board and Supervisory Board not discharged

Regarding the agenda, Union Investment noted that the general meeting was again held virtually and questions had to be submitted no later than three days in advance. While E.ON is not violating the Stock Corporation Act, the company is snubbing its shareholders and owners. We would instead have hoped for a genuine willingness to engage in dialogue. As we cannot recognise this, we refused to discharge the Management Board and the Supervisory Board. In the elections to the Supervisory Board, we voted against the re-election of Ulrich Grillo and Andreas Schmitz because of the accumulation of offices, while we supported all the other candidates. In addition, we rejected two proposed amendments to the Articles of Association – on the virtual general meeting because there was no further explanation of the conditions under which the Management Board intends to make use of this option and how it should be structured in the future, and on the presence of the members of the Supervisory Board, since we consider their physical presence essential for the dialogue with the shareholders on the day of the general meeting.

Union Investment clearly favours the general meeting in person and is decisively opposed to a prior transfer of the right to ask questions. Only at a face-to-face meeting is a lively general debate possible, only there can shareholders reach the entire Management Board and Supervisory Board with their questions and concerns.

Engagement at SAP

The general meeting of SAP SE was held on 11 May 2023. Markus Golinski, Fund Manager at Union Investment, represented the interests of Union Investment. Extracts from his speech:

This year's SAP general meeting again took place as a face-to-face meeting. The shareholders were very satisfied with the development in the twelve months leading up to the shareholders' meeting. The SAP share generated a total return of almost 40 percent, consisting of the price development and the dividend. This is better than the DAX and better than the MSCI World Software Index. The capital market had long doubted the success of the initially slow transformation into a cloud company. Now it's really taking off and becoming the engine of growth for SAP. But that is no reason to rest on its laurels, because the next big challenge awaits. Many experts see artificial intelligence as a technological turning point and the next stage in the industrial revolution. In the past, SAP has not had a great track record in adapting new technologies.

Deficiencies in employee and customer satisfaction addressed

Union Investment primarily represents the interests of shareholders, but also wants to involve other stakeholders:

With regard to employees, the most important – if not the only relevant – production factor, the impression emerged that the Management Board lost some confidence due to a lack of continuity in corporate and personnel policy coupled with poor communication. The employee engagement index, which measures employee loyalty and motivation, has also fallen from 86 percent to just under 80 percent in two years.

In concrete terms, what is the reason for this figure falling so sharply? We cannot judge whether the announced departure of Sabine Bendiek as executive for labour relations after just two years in office is a cause, result or symptom of this sentiment. But the hope that the high turnover at the top level of management will finally fall after the numerous changes in recent years has unfortunately not been fulfilled.

Unsettled customers

In terms of customers, too, not everything is going well in terms of customer care: As can be seen in the annual report, the customer net promoter score fell by seven points in 2022 and was only three points away from the target for 2023 of eight to ten points. Customers seem to be unsettled. Instead of placing the new products on the market very forcefully as an alternative, sales will probably have a lot of convincing to do here.

At least one step in the right direction is that employee and customer satisfaction will be taken into account in the long-term variable remuneration of Management Board members. Only a company with satisfied employees and satisfied customers will be successful on the stock exchange in the long term. The crucial question is therefore: What concrete measures does SAP intend to take to improve employee and customer satisfaction?

With regard to the agenda, we voted against the re-election of Jennifer Xin-Zhe Li and Dr Qi Lu to the Supervisory Board because of the accumulation of offices, while we supported the election of Dr. h.c. Punit Renjen. We also opposed the proposed amendments to the Articles of Association to the virtual general meeting.

Engagement at Henkel

The general meeting of Henkel AG was held on 24 April 2023. The interests of Union Investment were represented by Dr Vanda Rothacker, Senior ESG analyst at Union Investment. Extracts from her speech:

Shareholders who bought the Henkel share one year before the general meeting (GM) can be satisfied. The stock delivered investors a total return of 22.5%, made up of price performance and dividend payments. This is pleasing. After all, Henkel's share not only outperformed the DAX 40 Index, but also the peer group in the MSCI World Consumer Staples Index – and by quite a considerable way. The reason for this is probably the positive development of the adhesives division. This was reflected in the dividend. But ultimately, for shareholders like Union Investment, there are more important things than a good dividend. We also hope that the company will perform in the long term in a positive and sustainable manner.

And when it comes to that, the Group still has work ahead. Henkel was once seen as a shining example as far as sustainability is concerned. Unfortunately, times have changed. Because now it seems that other companies are more engaged than Henkel – and this is a development that Union Investment does not like as a sustainable investor. For example, we would like to see a member on the Supervisory Board with proven ESG expertise. And it would be commendable if Henkel, as a billionaire company, also demanded greater commitment from its suppliers in terms of sustainability.

By 2030, the company's targets are to reduce its own "Scope 1 and 2" greenhouse gas emissions to net zero, ten years earlier than previously planned. Of course, we welcome the fact that Henkel sets itself more ambitious targets. But "Scope 3" lacks long-term goals on the way to net zero.

Henkel products are used millions of times a day in households and industrial processes. There is a great potential for saving CO2 emissions. When are long-term targets for Scope 3 emissions to be expected?

In future, ESG only relevant for remuneration

Perhaps more attention would be paid to such issues if they had an impact on remuneration? So far, this has not been the case – this will only change in the future and ESG-relevant key figures will be included in the calculation of long-term remuneration.

With regard to the agenda, Union Investment voted against the discharge of the Supervisory Board, among other things, as more than half of the members cannot be classified as independent. Due to the lack of independence, we also voted against the discharge of the Shareholders' Committee and against the remuneration report for 2022. Union Investment believes Henkel should have implemented the changes planned for 2023 earlier. We therefore welcome the fact that in future more attention will be given to long-term components in terms of remuneration and that ESG criteria will also be incorporated into them.

Finally, in addition to the motions on the topic of virtual general meeting, Union Investment also rejected a possible share buyback because the period until April 2028 seemed too long for us. It is also contrary to the "one share, one vote" principle that the new rules should apply to both ordinary and preference shares.

Engagement at Deutsche Telekom

The general meeting of Deutsche Telekom AG was held on 5 April 2023. Dr Henrik Pontzen, Head of Sustainability at Union Investment, represented the interests of Union Investment. Extracts from his speech:

Since the merger of Sprint and T-Mobile US three years ago, Deutsche Telekom has been at the forefront of the US, the largest and most important mobile market in the world, and the T-share has been catapulted into the Champions League. The total return, which consists of share price performance and dividend, was up 33% in the twelve months leading up to the general meeting (GM), while the DAX 40 Index only generated a total return of plus six percent and the total return of the European telecommunications sector (Dow Jones STOXX Europe 600 Telecommunications Index) was even negative at minus five percent (period: 1 April 2022 to 29 March 2023).

The company consistently puts shareholder interests at the forefront of the GM format, and in 2022 was the only one in the DAX who had the courage to again hold a face-to-face general meeting with real general debate. The fact that a dozen DAX companies already followed this example in 2023 is an impressive demonstration of Deutsche Telekom's pioneering role.

However, looking to the future, there are some questions. The performance of the T-share coincides with the development of the US business, which accounts for 66% of turnover and 64% of EBITDA. The biggest risk for Telekom shareholders lies in a possible increase in competition in the US mobile market.

How does the Management Board view this risk, and what safeguards is it implementing? What risks arise from the use of Huawei technology, which even the federal government brought to the fore?

Telekom needs Chinese technology and American customers – how does this work together in the long term? And: What role does Telekom intend to play in the European consolidation of the industry? Which countries are their primary focus? How important are the business and customers in Germany's home market to the company compared to the US, where the biggest growth comes from?

As a sustainable investor, Union Investment attaches great importance to environmental, social and governance-related criteria, for short: ESG criteria. As for sustainable transformation which we will measure all companies against in future, Telekom has worked its way up systematically in recent years. Unfortunately, however, there are still significant governance deficits.

Union Investment therefore refuses to grant discharge to the Supervisory Board because the Audit Committee is still not independent. Dagmar P. Kollmann can no longer be considered independent due to her long membership on the Supervisory Board (since 24 May 2012). Furthermore, we voted against the amendment to the Articles of Association regarding the virtual general meeting, as there was no additional detailed explanation of the conditions under which the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of holding a virtual general meeting. Nor was there a written explanation of how exactly virtual general meetings are to be structured in the future. Union Investment also sees the physical presence of Supervisory Board members as essential for dialogue with shareholders on the day of the general meeting.

We also rejected the remuneration report. Union Investment's customers are at the heart of the company. Top salaries of more than nine million euros are difficult to communicate to this centre, especially if they have been increased significantly for two years in a row. Is the reference to competitors' salaries sufficient to justify the appropriateness of such payments?

Engagement at Vonovia

The general meeting of Vonovia AG was held on 17 May 2023. Arne Rautenberg, Senior Portfolio Manager at Union Investment, represented the interests of Union Investment. Extracts from his speech:

Since the 2022 general meeting, the price of Vonovia shares has halved. What shareholder would be satisfied with this type of development? The European industry index held up much better, and the DAX 40 Index even rose by around ten percent over the same period. The dividend doesn't help much here either. Some of the reasons for the stock's poor performance, such as the significantly worse real estate finance environment, may not have been down to company-specific factors. But it wasn't just because of this that the capital market penalised securities.

Union Investment is still very important as a sustainable investor. And when it comes to environmental and social factors, Vonovia does a lot right. But, of course, something can still be done better.

Will the group extend its decarbonisation target to include not only fuel and energy-related emissions from the prechain, but all major Scope 3 emissions? Vonovia has committed to being virtually climate-neutral by 2045 and has defined interim targets for each year along the way. We welcome this development. But given the tight liquidity situation, we think it is possible to save on modernisations, which calls into question the path outlined until 2045, as new construction activity has been scaled back. What does all this mean for the annual targets for the CO2 pathway? Will they be achieved?

Some criticism also had to be made on the subject of governance. Union Investment assumed that the new chairman of the Supervisory Board, Clara Streit, would tackle some of the things she might not have liked as chairman of the government commission of the German Corporate Governance Code (DCGK). The concrete question arose: When will there be an explanation of the suggestions of the German Corporate Governance Code?

Looking at the agenda, Union Investment voted against the election of Vitus Eckert to the Supervisory Board. In our view, he is a member of too many boards to sufficiently contribute his expertise to Vonovia. We also voted against the re-election of Christian Ulbrich to the Supervisory Board. Union Investment has no doubt that his expertise in real estate is very valuable to Vonovia. But the fact that he attended less than 75% of meetings, according to the records, does not comply with our guidelines. This leads to another question: How should members' availability be ensured in the future?

We also rejected the agenda items on the possibility of a virtual general meeting. On the one hand, we did not have an explanation of the conditions under which the Management Board intends to continue to make use of this. On the other hand, we also did not have a written explanation as to how virtual general meetings should be structured in future.

Active exchange at a general meeting is, in our opinion, of immense importance to all parties involved. We think that it's essential for Vonovia: The company needs to regain the trust of the capital market, and this can only be done with an open mind, in conversation with the shareholders – at face-to-face general meetings as well as during the rest of the year.

2.5 Engagement in the Spotlight

PFAS: Forever chemicals also widespread in Europe

The issue of PFAS (per- and polyfluorinated alkyl compounds), also known as "forever chemicals", remains present. Almost three years after the critical chemicals caused a stir in the US (see Engagement Report Q3/2020), evidence is also available for Europe showing where and to what extent companies are linked to the production and use of PFAS.

To remind you: PFAS is the generic term for a group of around 4,700 industrially produced chemical substances. PFAS have been produced since the middle of the last century. They are used as input materials in a large number of everyday goods.

In particular, their dirt, grease and water-repellent properties make them interesting for a variety of applications – e.g. in the textile, outdoor and leather industries, in the field of disposable packaging such as coffee mugs, pizza and hamburger packaging, in coated kitchen utensils such as pans and pots or for the basic treatment of surfaces such as in car and ski wax.

In addition to their desired uses, PFAS also have properties and secondary effects that make them dangerous for humans and nature: They are very durable and are not broken down, which earned them the nickname "forever chemicals".

They are very mobile and mainly spread via air and water. When they are taken into the body, they accumulate and are not broken down or excreted.

Pregnancy complications, cancer and impairment of the immune system are just a few of the potential health effects that can be caused by the accumulation of PFAS. In the European chemical regulation REACH, selected PFAS variants are classified as particularly worrying for humans and nature. A REACH regulation can generally lead to stricter regulations governing production and use and even to bans on certain chemicals. For example, the production of PFOA – a particularly harmful subspecies of PFAS – has been banned in the EU since July. In view of the particular harmfulness, however, several states and authorities, including the Federal Environment Agency, are striving to ban all PFAS compounds.

Incidentally, PFAS alternatives already exist – e.g. in the outdoor textile sector and in the coating of pans and pots. And alternatives are also being considered for disposable tableware and coated packaging.

Negative for companies

The ever more extensive restrictions on the production and use of PFAS have negative operational effects on the companies concerned. Companies such as 3M from the USA, which are among the largest PFAS producers in the world, face the risk of losing a business segment if all PFAS variants are fundamentally banned. However, the risks of legal action are far more serious, not only for the producers of PFAS themselves, but also for companies that have processed PFAS as an intermediate product.

In the USA, for example, lawsuits have already been filed about health problems or the assumption of costs for clean-up work such as the removal of contaminated soil or the treatment of contaminated groundwater. The fines could be expensive in the long term.

However, the soil in Germany and Europe is also contaminated by PFAS: The Forever Pollution Project has created a map with thousands of proven contaminated sites, hundreds of processing sites and around 20 producers. So far, PFAS contamination has been detected at around 1,500 sites in Germany alone. In Europe, there are more than 17,000 sites, including 2,000 hotspots with significant human health risks. Among the PFAS-producing factories are manufacturing plants belonging to Lanxess, Daikin, Gore and 3M.

The issue is highly relevant for Union Investment as an investor. In addition to the pure costs that can arise for companies due to environmental damage and fines, there is also a considerable reputational risk.

Consequences demanded

The financial burdens that are threatened through PFAS lawsuits and fines also have important implications for the capital market. This mainly affects companies such as 3M and DuPont due to their long history of the production and use of PFAS, but some European companies such as Solvay, Arkema and BASF are also exposed to potential risks of legal action. Union Investment is in contact with the companies concerned and has actively discussed the risks associated with PFAS.

Consequences followed, particularly in the talks with 3M. The 3M group has already been excluded from sustainable retail investment fund investments since 2020 because the reputational and legal risks appear too high. This was clearly communicated to the company representatives on several occasions. In the meantime, the management has moved: 3M has announced that it will cease global production of PFAS by 2025.

Loss of biodiversity as a risk for investors

Species extinction is not only a problem for environmentalists. Companies and investors are also exposed to significant risks in relation to the decline in biodiversity.

Declining biodiversity is still primarily seen as a problem of environmental protection and less as an increasing economic risk for companies. To avoid a misunderstanding: Loss of wealth that could result from declining biodiversity in the medium term is ultimately a secondary problem if the gloomy future scenarios of scientists are to be believed. "If we do not make a fundamental change to a nature-positive economy now, then the age of man becomes the shortest era in the history of the earth", this was said in the appeal of a broad alliance of renowned German scientists, recently published as a "Frankfurt Declaration".

Biodiversity is not just a question for asset managers in the context of sustainable investing. In principle, it is also a challenge in risk management. Biodiversity, or more simply: Biodiversity refers to all biological forms of life, i.e. plants, animals, fungi and microorganisms. This also involves the ecosystems that form these forms of life and the habitats they share. The biggest beneficiary of functioning ecosystems is human beings. Plants and forests are of great importance in oxygen production and storage of CO₂. It counteracts climate change and the resulting costs. On the other hand, insects pollinate plants and are therefore a decisive factor in the production of agricultural raw materials. As a result, they are indirectly relevant for the production of food.

These services are provided to people around the world virtually for free by nature – but are increasingly at risk. Over a long period of time, the benefits derived from extensive biodiversity and intact ecosystems have been exploited carelessly by society and the economy. Various studies suggest enormous cost burdens for society and companies as a result of the increasing loss of biodiversity. For example, HSBC estimates in a 2020 report that the costs could reach as much as $10 trillion by 2050 in an as-usual scenario, without greater consideration for nature.

Business models at risk

The capital market players will also need to have the topic of biodiversity more on their radar: For example, companies whose production models, revenues and profits are based on natural input factors are at risk in the long term should biodiversity loss persist. This applies, for example, in the agricultural and food sectors as well as for pharmaceutical and cosmetics companies.

Regulatory pressure to comply with binding framework conditions is constantly increasing. In the EU, this is comparatively tangible: Draft regulations are available from the Commission and Parliament to ensure that no products in the EU are placed on the market that are related to deforestation. Groups that respond early and appropriately to emerging legal regulations reduce the risk of potential penalties and at the same time reduce their reputational risk.

Overall, the collection and publication of data on biodiversity issues is unsatisfactory.

In some areas, however, they are gradually improving, providing the first starting points there – for business leaders, but also for investors. Risks can now be modelled and be better taken into account when making investment decisions.

Union Investment uses ENCORE to better assess the investment risks associated with biodiversity in analyses. This software enables sector-level evaluations of how changes in the environment affect the economy. On the one hand, ENCORE shows the extent to which individual sectors – and the associated companies – are dependent on biodiversity with their goods and services. On the other hand, attention is paid to the effects that the sectors have on biodiversity itself. Accordingly, utilities, oil & gas, health, consumption and basic materials have the most problematic risk profiles.

Systematic valuation

This systematic valuation makes it easier for asset managers to take into account long-term risks from biodiversity loss in investment decisions. The analysis shows how great the differences are with which companies have involved biodiversity in their decisions so far. Companies like Iberdrola, Schneider Electric, Kering and Puma are already characterised by relatively good reporting on this topic and provide useful data transparently. In addition to mining companies, Tesla, for example, is the alternative. In the case of selected large-scale investments, these companies have not sufficiently taken into account the impact of their expansion projects on the natural environment in the past.

Union Investment addresses the problems caused by biodiversity loss through its direct engagement with companies. The initial focus of the initiative is on the consumer staples sector. In particular, companies that rely heavily on agricultural raw materials for their production or whose inputs are related to deforestation must face critical questions in engagement talks. 56 companies were contacted here as part of a focus engagement and asked for comments and explanations about what measures they have taken to prevent biodiversity loss. The target groups include Danone and General Mills. The answers were evaluated and, in the case of corporations whose measures appear insufficient, follow-up will be carried out in the coming weeks.

Task also for the financial sector

However, asset managers such as Union Investment take into account not only risk aspects, but also increasingly take advantage of investment opportunities arising from the protection or restoration of biodiversity. Companies from the sectors that have so far severely jeopardised natural biodiversity, such as the consumer sector or industry, also deserve attention. They can contribute to positive change and better protection of the environment through production adjustments and innovations. Promising concepts for companies and investors are, for example, circular economy or precision farming.

There is the opportunity for capital market players to engage in a large number of industries and long-term promising companies. As a result, the financial sector can also play an important role in protecting biodiversity and have a steering impact through its sustainable investment decisions.

Local engagement

For Union Investment, engagement means being in close contact with companies and constantly communicating with the responsible parties. Sometimes it is best to get a picture of the situation on the ground. This is what happened in Scandinavia in September.

ESG analyst Angela Quiroga travelled to Scandinavia to take a closer look at mining companies and steel producers there. Specifically, meetings were scheduled with five groups: SSAB, LKBA, Boliden and H2 Green Steel from Sweden and Outokumpu from Finland. The main reason for the visit was Union Investment's desire to reinforce the call for a credible climate strategy. Because it is crucial for Union Investment as an active and sustainable asset manager for the emissions in our securities portfolio to be on the decline. We are ultimately committed to making the portfolio as a whole climate neutral before 2050. But that can only work if portfolio companies follow the path of decarbonisation. Here, we rely on the principle of credible transformation. We expect all companies to set appropriate climate targets and to implement them consistently. Particular attention is paid to the so-called Scope 3 emissions that occur in the upstream and downstream processes. Depending on the industry, these can account for up to 80 percent of a company's total emissions,

Review progress

This progress is also regularly reviewed by our analysts. However: Depending on the business model, this is easier for some companies than others. Particularly emission-intensive industries, such as steel production, are finding it difficult to use reduction technologies in an economically viable manner.

At the same time, however, it should be noted: By 2030, the European steel industry will have to transform itself if it is not willing to accept significant risks due to rising CO2 prices. In order to keep up-to-date, Angela Quiroga not only spoke to the relevant management teams, but also visited mines and manufacturing sites.

A lot of things seem to be going quicker than originally planned. The mining group LKAB and the steel producer SSAB are working with the energy supplier Vattenfall to produce green steel at high pressure. A market launch is now already expected for 2026, although the companies had originally envisaged 2030 as a target. A joint venture called Hybrid (Hydrogen Breakthrough Ironmaking Technology) uses hydrogen to produce steel that does not require fossil fuels. If the technology is fully implemented, it could bring huge CO2 savings: The Swedish carbon footprint would be reduced by ten percent and the Finnish by seven percent, the company says.

Pioneers from Northern Europe

Given the above, it seems possible that the northern European countries will become pioneers of a green steel industry. In addition to technological experience, countries such as Sweden and Finland have been relying heavily on renewable energy sources for years and are therefore able to produce large quantities of green hydrogen.

For the Finnish mining group Boliden, the focus is currently on Scope 1 and Scope 2 emissions. However, some successes have been achieved here: For example, at its Kevitsa mine, the company plans to switch to electronically powered transport lorries from next year.

After all, this means a nine percent reduction in CO2 emissions from ore transport. In addition, there is a significant improvement in the air quality around the mine. For the industrial metals copper and zinc, Boliden now produces the lowest emission variants on the market.

In addition to efforts to reduce CO2, Boliden is also active in biodiversity. The first plans for the restoration of the mine after its closure in 2033 are already under way.

Conclusion

On balance, the visit strengthened the conviction: Northern European steel and mining is very aware of the efforts that the transformation will involve over the coming years. The groups are taking on the challenges and are already pretty well equipped, especially with regard to the production of green steel, even if much is still in the planning stage. For Union Investment, this means that portfolio management must remain on the ball and seek contact with companies to ensure that the progress made is further developed towards a greener economy and towards achieving climate goals.

When engagement ends in court

In order to comply with the fiduciary duty and to minimise the losses for investors, Union Investment must go to court once in a while. A settlement with the US food group Kraft Heinz was recently concluded in the USA.

For the shareholders and therefore also for the customers, the settlement with Kraft Heinz paid off: The group had to pay USD 450 million because investors suffered losses as a result of false promises. Following the merger of Kraft Foods and HJ Heinz in 2015, investors were promised immense synergies, which could not be subsequently leveraged, on the contrary: This was followed by multibillion-dollar write-downs and losses of more than USD 10 billion in 2018 alone.

However, the USD 450 million in question will not only benefit Union Investment's customers, but will be distributed to all shareholders who have filed their claims under the procedure, depending on the amount of losses. Millions of US dollars are flowing into the UI investment funds – in single-digit amounts. Union Investment acted as a lead plaintiff in order to be able to best represent the interests of its customers.

End of engagement

Such a settlement in a class action usually marks the end of a multi-year engagement. If portfolio management does not progress in discussions with management, votes at the relevant general meeting are declared null and void and public statements from portfolio management representatives do not change the companies, a divestment usually follows. In some cases, however, if Union Investment feels that it has been deliberately misled with false or misleading statements, it is possible to go to court. This seldom happens because targeted engagement is almost always more promising and because careful analysis by our experts is intended to prevent these cases. However, if the analysts have been deliberately misled, the legal action is part of our fiduciary duty to Union Investment investors.

But there is a second reason. Success in court always sends a signal. It is a sign to companies that communication to shareholders and other stakeholders must always be clear, transparent and truthful. If this is not the case, the consequences for corporations are likely to be painful.

Lengthy proceedings

Cases such as Kraft Heinz are usually lengthy and begin by referring a complaint to the Class Action Committee of Union Investment, either from their own premises or from external lawyers. The committee consists of portfolio management representatives and legal experts. More fundamentally, the committee's aim is to investigate cases of companies whose share price has fallen significantly and to determine whether there may be culpable misconduct on the part of management.

The entire process – going to court – is usually very lengthy; in the case of Kraft Heinz, it took about four years from the decision of the Class Action Committee to the final settlement.

The place of jurisdiction is usually the US, because in such cases the litigation is part of market practice there and settlements are easier to reach.

The Class Action Committee will not be running out of work for the time being. This is regrettable because Union Investment goes to court less out of desire than simply out of necessity (as is often the case). The committee is currently working on 13 cases. On average, four cases are examined each year. As a rule, Union Investment then actually appears as lead plaintiff in the USA in two cases.

The settlement with Kraft Heinz is in line with other successes that Union Investment has achieved as lead plaintiff. In the past, there have been disputes in court with the pharmaceutical company Allergan, oil producer Petrobras and US bank Wells Fargo, among others. For the latter, the settlement amount was even higher than for Kraft Heinz: A USD 480 million settlement was reached in May 2018, benefiting all aggrieved investors

Principles for Responsible Investment

The Principles for Responsible Investment are six principles developed by international institutional investors under the auspices of the UNEP Finance Initiative and the UN Global Compact. These six principles serve as a guideline for investors to understand the impact of responsible investment and to take it into account in their decision-making. Supporters of this initiative commit to abide by these six principles. The principles are seen as a corset for implementing the 10 principles of the UN Global Compact in the supporters' individual investment strategies. Union Investment committed to these principles in 2010.

UN Global Compact

The vision of the UN Global Compact is to pave the way for a sustainable and inclusive global economy that brings lasting benefits to people, communities and markets. The UN Global Compact helps companies conduct business responsibly by incorporating the ten principles on human rights, labour standards, environmental protection and anti-corruption into their strategies and activities, and by taking strategic action to achieve broader societal goals such as the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

Forum Nachhaltige Geldanlagen

The Forum Nachhaltige Geldanlagen (FNG) has been the professional association for sustainable investments in Germany, Austria, Liechtenstein and Switzerland since 2001. Its aim is to provide the general public and decision-makers from politics, business and science with up-to-date and comprehensive information and thus to increase awareness of sustainable investments in the financial sector and among the general public. The aim is to strengthen the networking of the relevant actors and to demonstrate the positive steering effect of sustainable investments for society and the environment. At the same time, the aim is to help shape the political, legal and economic framework. Union Investment has been an active member of the Sustainable Investment Forum since 2010..

PRI Montréal Pledge

Carbon Disclosure Project (CDP)

Climate Bonds Initiative (CBI)

Transition Pathway Initiative (TPI)

Details

By signing the Montréal Carbon Pledge, investors commit to measuring and publishing the carbon footprint of their investment portfolio annually. The pledge was adopted in Montréal on 25 September 2014 and is supported by the organisations Principles for Responsible Investment (PRI) and the United Nations Environment Programme Finance Initiative (UNEP FI).

CDP is an independent, non-profit, international organisation founded in London in 2000. In partnership with the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP) and 767 institutional investors, CDP maintains the world's largest database of company-relevant climate information. The results serve capital market participants as information for the evaluation of CO₂ emissions, climate risks and CO₂ reduction targets of companies. In Germany, the World Wide Fund For Nature (WWF) is a long-standing strategic partner of the CDP. The CDP's overarching goal is to make CO₂ emissions transparent and tangible in order to reduce them sustainably in the long term..

The Climate Bonds Initiative (CBI) is the only organisation in the world committed to expanding the sustainable bond market. As a non-profit organisation, its goal is to create the largest possible, liquid and sustainable bond market, thereby reducing the costs of further climate protection projects in developed but also in growing markets. It supports investments in assets that promote the low-emission, resource-efficient and climate-resilient economy.

The Transition Pathway Initiative (TPI) was launched in January 2017 as a joint initiative of the Church of England and the Environment Agency Pension Fund (EAPF). The aim of the TPI is to analyse the transition to a low-carbon economy (as envisaged in the Paris Agreement) and the impact on companies in carbon-intensive sectors. As a supporter of the initiative, Union Investment will address these analyses and findings in engagement dialogues.

PRI Advance

Details

With Advance, the PRI has launched a new stewardship initiative in which institutional investors work together to take action on human rights and social issues. The overarching goal of the initiative is to promote human rights and positive human outcomes through investor stewardship. The initiative primarily aims to achieve change through investor influence on companies.

Cooperation has already begun with 40 companies in the metals and mining and renewable energy sectors.

Access to Medicine Foundation

Founded in 2003, the Access to Medicine Foundation is an independent, non-profit organisation with the goal of transforming the health system by motivating and mobilising companies to improve access to their essential medicines in low- and middle-income countries.

KnowTheChain

By benchmarking current corporate practices and providing data that enables companies to act more transparently and responsibly, KnowTheChain promotes entrepreneurial action while providing information for investment decisions. In this way, KnowTheChain supports companies in the fight against forced labour.

Medicine for billions

The social benefit of medicines is part of the self-image and social sustainability dimension of the pharmaceutical industry. Global access to medicines plays an important role in the credibility of this ambition. The investor initiative "Access to Medicine" aims to improve this access for the inhabitants of the global South.

As early as 1946, the World Health Organisation (WHO) had formulated a global fundamental right to the best possible healthcare for all people in its constitution. Seventy-seven years later, around two billion people still have no access to urgently needed medicines. This is shown by the latest "Access-to-Medicine" index. The index examines the efforts of 20 of the world's leading pharmaceutical companies to improve access to medicines, vaccines and diagnostic tests for people in low- and middle-income countries.

Every year, millions of people die of diseases, especially in developing and emerging countries, because medicines, vaccines and diagnostic tests are not available or affordable. According to a recently published UN report, more than a quarter of a million expectant mothers died worldwide in 2020 alone. According to the report, 70% of the deaths occurred in sub-Saharan Africa. The most common complications included severe bleeding, high blood pressure, consequences of unsafe abortions or diseases such as AIDS and malaria.

When it comes to global access to healthcare, the effectiveness of national health systems plays a role alongside the price of medicines, as does a frequent lack of healthcare infrastructure. This also includes the power supply and, for example, the necessary refrigerators for storing medicines and samples.

In addition to the personal fates behind high levels of illness and a high mortality rate, both also mean high economic damage. New dangers are emerging in this regard: most recently the Covid pandemic showed how quickly an epidemic can turn into a pandemic.

Access to medicine is an ESG issue

These are reasons why sustainably oriented investors are interested in whether and how pharmaceutical companies also provide access to medicine in low- and middle-income countries. The investor initiative "Access to Medicine" pursues a social issue from a sustainability perspective, which is also taken into account in the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Against this background, global access to healthcare also flows into the ESG assessment of pharmaceutical companies. The "Access-to-Medicine" index measures these successes and shows a need to catch up. It has become one of the most important data resources for sustainability research in the pharmaceutical sector. Since the Access-to-Medicine Index was introduced, this topic has gained importance in the perception of investors. But the global community is still far from ensuring the basic right to the best possible healthcare for all people.

As an asset manager, Union Investment accompanies and supports companies in constructive dialogue in the further development of their "access" strategies. This also includes dialogue and cooperation with non-governmental organisations. With this in mind, Union Investment joined the Access to Medicine Foundation as a "Signatory Investor" at the beginning of this year.

Consider nature-related risks

A new investor initiative is intended to help put a stop to the overexploitation of nature by humans and to oblige companies to be more transparent with regard to the environmental impact of their business activities. The network is being supported by an increasing number of governments, companies and investors.

The Task Force on Nature-related Financial Disclosures (TNFD) is the name of the global initiative established in 2021 that aims to give financial institutions and companies a complete picture of their environmental risks and opportunities. TNFD has developed a framework for organisations to report and act accordingly on emerging nature-related risks.

The example of the TNFD is the Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosure (TCFD), which was set up by the Financial Stability Board in 2015 to make specifically climate change risks transparent and manageable for financial markets. The TCFD has created transparency guidelines that were initially not mandatory for companies, but have quickly become market standards. Some countries, such as Switzerland, have now committed companies to follow the requirements of the TCFD, Union Investment itself has incorporated the TCFD requirements into their own proxy voting policy. This means that if companies fail to comply with the relevant standards, this will be taken into account in the discharge and (re-)election of Management Board and Supervisory Board members.

Similarly, in a few years it could be in line with the specifications from the TNFD, as many standards from the TCFD were adopted for the framework and adapted to the specific needs.

The core of the initiative is the 40 task force members, i.e. investors and companies managing approximately $20 trillion in assets under management. TNFD aims to develop a framework for risk management and disclosure. It is intended to assist companies and investors in order to assess possible dependencies on nature or impacts on nature.

Take into account in the investment process

In the next step, the framework of asset managers can be used to take into account the environmental impact of the investment objectives in the investment process. A publication of the final framework is scheduled for September 2023. Union Investment has closely followed developments in recent months and plans to implement the recommendations from the final framework and, similar to TCFD, include them in the proxy voting policy.

TNFD is mainly funded through state support services, including from Australia, France, Germany, the United Kingdom, Norway and Switzerland. Well-known asset managers are also among the supporters.

Protecting natural resources together

Union Investment's engagement also includes the protection of natural resources. Union Investment has joined the Nature Action 100 initiative as one of 190 institutional investors with nearly USD 24 trillion in assets under management.

The Nature Action 100 Engagement Initiative, which was announced at the COP15 World Nature Conference in Montreal in December 2022, is the equivalent of Climate Action 100+, the largest investor initiative on climate protection. Companies should actively address the threat of biodiversity loss associated with their business activities. After all, if nature-related risks are not addressed in a timely and courageous manner, this will have a significant impact on business operations and could also lead to huge macroeconomic financial instability. In addition: The information from the work in the initiative can be incorporated into the ESG investment and engagement process at Union Investment and help to make better investment decisions.

List of companies submitted

In September, the Investor Association, which includes UBS Asset Management, Fidelity Investments and Legal & General, published a list of 100 companies whose business activities have a particularly strong impact on nature and with which there will be increased discussions in future. These include consumer goods and food manufacturers Danone, Unilever and Kraft Heinz, pharmaceutical companies Bayer, AstraZeneca and Pfizer, mining companies Glencore and Freeport-McMoRan, and chemical industry companies BASF and LG Chem.

Companies will be approached with very specific demands. They should make a public commitment to reduce the threat of biodiversity loss from their business activities as much as possible. It also calls for clear objectives and milestones regarding the environmental impact of business activities, anchoring them in corporate governance systems and controlling companies in the value chain.

The goal is clear: Biodiversity must be preserved in the best possible way, for example, to ensure global food security and drinking water supply in a sustainable way. If there is a risk of imbalance, this also affects the economy as a whole and thousands of business models worldwide.

Engagement for human rights

The UN Forum on Business and Human Rights is the world's largest annual meeting on business and human rights with over 4,000 participants from well-known companies and investors, governments, NGOs as well as stakeholders from people whose rights are violated. ESG analyst Anne-Katrin Leonard was at the event for Union Investment to get a picture of the current state of discussion.

A central focus of the conference was on the multiple contexts of climate change and human rights. Because the impact of global warming on human rights is dramatic, explains Anne-Katrin Leonard. The right to food and the right to housing, for example, would be severely affected by global warming and the associated weather extremes. "This exacerbates inequalities because it affects, for example, the Global South much more than the developed economies." So climate change exacerbates an already tenuous human rights situation in many countries. For this reason, the active involvement of those affected, such as indigenous peoples, as well as human rights and environmentalists, in the development of solutions and countermeasures is crucial.

Numerous discussions have also made it clear that companies need to look not only at their supply chain, but also at actual and potential negative impacts along their entire value chain, Leonard explains. "The responsibility of a company does not end with the sale of the product or the provision of services."

A company should keep the value chain in mind until the end; otherwise, human rights can be violated. "This may involve issues of pollution, but also product safety." And it is not enough for global corporations to delegate their responsibility for respecting human rights to their suppliers: "They must deal with the issue themselves." Companies with large value chains should prioritise human rights risks according to their severity and start working on the most serious risks, says Anne-Katrin Leonard.

What has been an ethical and moral challenge is also becoming more and more a regulatory obligation, explains Leonard. Keyword Supply Chain Act: "Companies that neglect mandatory due diligence regulations no longer only have a reputational risk, but also a legal risk – and legal risks can become material for us investors very quickly."

Cooperation with other investors

Since December 2022, Union Investment has been actively participating in the Advance investor initiative, set up by the UN organisation Principles for Responsible Investors (PRI), in order to pursue human rights as a goal in cooperation with other investors. The objective of Advance is to approach companies and achieve improvements in social standards through engagement. In this role, Union Investment sees it as its task to draw the company's attention to inadequate control mechanisms and any violations, and to point out solutions for ensuring compliance with minimum social standards and respect for human rights among all the company's stakeholders.

1 Jan 2023 - 31 Dec 2023

² Characteristics of voting behaviour:

For: To approve the motion.

Against: To reject the motion.

Withhold: For technical/formal reasons, some countries, especially the US, only have a choice between 'for' and 'withhold', for example when electing individual candidates to a committee. This makes 'withhold' equivalent to a rejection.

Abstain: In some cases, a deliberate abstention may be considered if the arguments provided do not constitute sufficient support for a decision. An abstention means voting neither in favour of nor against a motion. Instead, it is intended to signal to management that reservations or dissatisfaction exist, but that there are insufficient grounds for voting against the motion.

Not voted: Organisational agenda items or those that only serve to provide information are not voted on. No vote is cast in such cases.

Business Combination with ASR Nederland	For	The Aegon board believes the combination offers a unique opportunity to accelerate both the return of capital to shareholders and its strategy of investing in markets where it is well positioned for growth. Aegon believes the combination will result in a strong and well-diversified Dutch insurance company that will be able to deliver a broad range of attractive products and services, and generate attractive shareholder returns. Furthermore, Aegon believes that the transaction provides a compelling opportunity to create a combined group which is expected to: (i) have a leading position in the Dutch pension market, leading to more attractive value propositions and opportunities; (ii) become a market leader in disability insurance and the #3 player in property and casualty insurance; (iii) achieve enhanced scale in the origination and servicing of Dutch mortgages; (iv) create stronger distribution activities; and (v) deliver run-rate cost synergies of approximately €185 million per year, to be realized three years after closing. Aegon will benefit from these synergies through its 29.99% shareholding in ASR. In this case, based on the available disclosure, it appears that the proposed transaction was driven by Aegon's strategic objective to narrow its focus on select core and growth markets. Aegon has taken certain steps, including the proposed transaction, to transform Aegon's business focus and organization, change its performance trajectory, and increase value for its stakeholders. Aegon states that the proposed transaction follows a thorough process during which it conducted a diligent review of the various strategic options for the Aegon NL business. However, the Company does not provide particularly substantive disclosure of the pre-execution process by which the board determined that the contemplated arrangement reasonably represents the most attractive strategic alternative available to the Company and its shareholders. It should also be noted that Aegon retained J.P. Morgan and Goldman Sachs as its financial advisers, each of which provided a fairness opinion to the Aegon board with respect to the proposed transaction. Both separately determined that the total consideration to be paid for the Aegon NL business is fair, from a financial point of view. It appears the financial advisers are well credentialed and performed various standardized valuation analyses in connection with the rendering of their fairness opinions. However, neither the Company nor its advisers disclosed any substantive detail of the advisory services provided, which would have been very helpful disclosure for investors to evaluate the adequacy of the economic terms of the proposed transaction. Nevertheless, on the whole, the Company has presented a sufficiently compelling strategic and financial rationale for the combination. The transaction will strengthen Aegon's balance sheet and strategy and support growing capital

		distributions to shareholders. The transaction has the effect of replacing Aegon's full ownership of the cash flow and profits of the Aegon NL business with a 29.99% shareholding in the enlarged ASR. In the near term, the Company notes that this is expected to result in lower free cash flow for Aegon, but the Company expects this to improve over time as synergies emerge from the combination. Upon completion of the capital return to shareholders and realization of the expected synergies, Aegon anticipates that its free cash flow on a per share basis will be higher than before the transaction. Although the implied multiples of the proposed transaction appear to be on the lower side, the combination appears to be structured prudently in terms of the consideration mix, resulting in significant cash proceeds that will facilitate a meaningful return of capital to Aegon shareholders and a reduction in the Company's leverage, as well as considerable retained ownership and influence in the enlarged ASR business post-transaction.

Amendment to the Share Option Scheme	Against	While the proposed dilution is in line with policy, the following issues should be noted: Performance Targets: The awards granted under the Scheme are not linked to any performance targets. Further, a lack of performance targets for stock option plans is common in Hong Kong. Range of Participants: The scheme allows the grant of share options to a broad range of participants, such as any customer, supplier, consultant or advisor of the Group. Options should be granted as a form of compensation to people who directly contribute to the company's operations and/or performance and should serve to encourage the grantees to protect and improve shareholder value. As such, it is appropriate for executive directors and employees to be the sole recipients of these awards. Given the current broad range of participants allowed under the proposed scheme, the board may abuse its authority and serve its own interests by granting options to a party of the Company who has an affiliation with the board or the Company. Change of Control Provision: The rules of the Scheme includes a provision that provides for accelerated vesting of options, to the extent vested and not already exercised, if the Company changes control. This provision may discourage potential buyers from making an offer for the Company both because the purchase price will be higher and because substantial numbers of employees may earn significant amounts of money and decide to leave their positions with the Company. In short, this sort of provision may not only lower the chances of a deal, but will possibly also lower the premium paid to shareholders in a takeover transaction. Short Vesting Period: The minimum vesting period for awards granted under the Share Award Scheme and the Share Option Scheme is only one year, which may be shortened at the boards discretion. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Adoption of Amended Restricted Share Unit Scheme	Against	While the proposed dilution is in line with policy, the following issues should be noted: Performance Targets: The awards granted under the Scheme are not linked to any performance targets. Further, a lack of performance targets for stock option plans is common in Hong Kong. Range of Participants: The scheme allows the grant of share options to a broad range of participants, such as any customer, supplier, consultant or advisor of the Group. Options should be granted as a form of compensation to people who directly contribute to the company's operations and/or performance and should serve to encourage the grantees to protect and improve shareholder value. As such, it is appropriate for executive directors and employees to be the sole recipients of these awards. Given the current broad range of participants allowed under the proposed scheme, the board may abuse its authority and serve its own interests by granting options to a party of the Company who has an affiliation with the board or the Company. Change of Control Provision: The rules of the Scheme includes a provision that provides for accelerated vesting of options, to the extent vested and not already exercised, if the Company changes control. Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect LI Zhijiang	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee LI Zhijiang. However, this director will be serving as the combined Chair/CEO in the upcoming year, which is against policy. Additionally, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Further, as the Company's board has no independent leadership role, the chair of the nominating/corporate governance committee should be held accountable. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Elect ZHAO Xiaohong	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee ZHAO Xiaohong. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Right to Call Special Meetings	Against	In this case, the Company already maintains a provision allowing shareholders owning 15% of the Company's shares to call a special meeting. However, these shareholders must have owned these shares for one year in order to qualify to call a special meeting. This proposal would eliminate this requirement. Given the already low threshold for calling a special meeting, the Proponent has failed to provide convincing rationale that removing this requirement is necessary at this time. While this does place some restrictions on shareholders' ability to call a special meeting, it should not be viewed as an entirely negative feature as the Company should install protections that ensure that meetings are not called in a manner that could harm long-term shareholder interests. Accordingly, the Company has shown responsiveness to shareholders through the adoption of a low special meeting threshold. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Business Combination with Aegon Nederland	For	In this case, based on the available disclosure, it appears that the proposed transaction was driven by Aegon's strategic objectives, rather than a concerted effort on ASR's part to expand its Dutch presence or operations. The Company states that the proposed transaction follows a thorough process during which it conducted a diligent review of the various strategic options for the business. However, the Company does not provide particularly substantive disclosure of the pre-execution process by which the board determined that the contemplated arrangement reasonably represents the most attractive strategic alternative available to the Company and its shareholders.
---	-----	--

From a valuation perspective, ASR states that the aggregate consideration of €4.9 billion implies a price-to-unrestricted Tier 1 capital ("P/UT1") ratio of 0.7x for Aegon NL. UT1 is a defined measure under the Solvency II regulations that approximates total ordinary share capital (i.e., total common equity). Based on an analysis, relying upon Aegon's financial disclosures for its Netherlands segment, the proposed transaction implies valuation multiples for Aegon NL of 7.9x net profit for the last 12 months and 0.7x common equity, in each case as of September 30, 2022. In order to assess the reasonableness of these implied multiples, an analysis was conducted of broadly comparable precedent transactions involving European insurers since the beginning of 2015, with deal values of at least €500 million. Across this dataset, consisting of 21 completed transactions, median transaction multiples of 15.4x net profit and 1.5x common equity, and 25th percentile multiples of 9.0x net profit and 1.3x common equity was observed. Thus, the implied multiples to be paid for Aegon NL would appear to fall at the lower end of the range observed among precedent transactions, in this case to the benefit of ASR and its existing shareholders.

It should also be noted that the Company retained UBS as its financial adviser, which provided a fairness opinion to the executive board and the supervisory board with respect to the proposed transaction. UBS determined that the total consideration to be paid for the Aegon NL business is fair, from a financial point of view, to ASR. It appears the financial adviser is well credentialed and performed various standardized valuation analyses in connection with the rendering of their fairness opinions. However, neither the Company nor its adviser disclosed any substantive detail of the advisory services provided, such as the valuation multiples observed among comparable companies and precedent transactions or the valuation ranges derived for the target company and the acquirer, which would have been very helpful disclosure for investors to evaluate the adequacy of the economic terms of the proposed transaction.

		Nevertheless, on the whole, the Company has presented a sufficiently compelling strategic and financial rationale for the combination. Further, given the complementary nature of the combination, the expected strategic and financial benefits associated with the merger, and the potential to create incremental shareholder value over time, the proposed transaction represents a unique and compelling opportunity for ASR and its shareholders. The transaction appears to be structured prudently in terms of both the price being paid by ASR and the resulting pro forma equity ownership of the combined company, based on our analysis. In light of these factors, the support of the board, and apparent investor support for the deal (as evidenced by the positive post-announcement ASR share price reaction and the successful post-announcement ASR share placement), we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ Preemptive Rights	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 29.99% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights, which exceeds the general limit set by policy. However, in this case, the Company has provided a reasonably detailed explanation of the Company's intended uses of the proceeds and the proposed issuance reflects the proposed combination discussed under Proposal 2.a. Given that the Company has presented a sufficiently compelling strategic and financial rationale for the combination, we are voting for this proposal.

Frequency of Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation - 2 years	Against	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal as it is contrary to both good corporate governance and the best interests of shareholders.
Frequency of Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation - 3 years	Against	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal as it is contrary to both good corporate governance and the best interests of shareholders.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	For	Although policy does not require that the board chair be an independent director, this proposal is largely focused on the separation of the roles of chair and CEO. Moreover, the shareholder proponent has put forth adequate justification for their proposal. Such a proposal enhances shareholders rights and is not considered detrimental financially or structurally. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Racial Equity Audit	For	It appears that the Company has taken reasonable steps to address issues of discrimination both within and outside of its workplace. However, that support for this resolution still may be warranted in light of the events of recent years. Given broad societal changes, it is particularly important for companies, such as the Company, whose operations heavily rely on their employees' and customers' trust and loyalty, to address issues of racial equity, including those raised by this proposal. A concerted effort to ensure it has thoroughly assessed its potential adverse impacts on various stakeholder groups would ultimately benefit shareholders. While recognizing the Company's existing efforts and commitments, undertaking the requested audit would help to identify and mitigate potentially significant risks. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Consolidated Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
2022 Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Executive remuneration is not published individually. 39% of minority shareholders voted against the CEO's remuneration policy at last year's general meeting. The Company has not disclosed any actions taken to identify or address shareholder concerns and dissent. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
2022 Remuneration of Denis Duverne, Chair (Until April 28, 2022)	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

2022 Remuneration of Thomas Buberl, CEO	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: 39% of minority shareholders voted against the CEO's remuneration policy at last year's general meeting. The Company has not disclosed any actions taken to identify or address shareholder concerns and dissent. The CEO's remuneration policy voted at last year's general meeting, which received this significant dissent, is the implementation of the 2022 remuneration for the CEO voted at this general meeting. As this is not in line with best practice or policy, we are voting against this proposal.

2023 Remuneration Policy (CEO)	For	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. In addition, the remuneration paid to the executive board is not excessive and is comparable with industry peers. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
2023 Remuneration Policy (Chair)	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
2023 Remuneration Policy (Board of Directors)	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Special Auditors Report on Regulated Agreements	For	The audit report states that there are no new agreements of this type to be submitted for shareholder approval. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 38.1% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights. As this exceeds the limit set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 9.5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 38.1% for all share issuances. As the global ceiling exceeds the cumulative limit for all share issuances set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt Through Private Placement	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 9.5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 38.1% for all share issuances. As the global ceiling exceeds the cumulative limit for all share issuances set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Authority to Set Offering Price of Shares	Against	This proposal seeks shareholder authority French companies to issue securities without preemptive rights at a 10% discount, so long as the increases do not exceed 10% of their share capital in any 24-month period. In this case, the proposed discount specifically applies to proposals 15 and 16, which seek authority to potentially issue up to 9.5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which is line with the limit for share issuances without preemptive rights set by policy. However, in total, the Company's proposed capital increases are subject to a cumulative limit of 38.1% of share capital, which exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Case of Exchange Offers	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 9.5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 38.1% for all share issuances. As the global ceiling exceeds the cumulative limit for all share issuances set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Consideration for Contributions In Kind	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 9.5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 38.1% for all share issuances. As the global ceiling exceeds the cumulative limit for all share issuances set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ o Preemptive Rights in Consideration for Securities Issued by Subsidiaries	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 9.5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 38.1% for all share issuances. As the global ceiling exceeds the cumulative limit for all share issuances set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ Preemptive Rights in Consideration for Securities Issued by Subsidiaries	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 38.1% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights. As this exceeds the limit set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Currently, employees do not hold a significant portion of the Company's share capital. Therefore, if the proposed plan is fully implemented, employee shareholdings would remain reasonable and in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Stock Purchase Plan for Overseas Employees	For	Currently, employees do not hold a significant portion of the Company's share capital. Therefore, if the proposed plan is fully implemented, employee shareholdings would remain reasonable and in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Cancel Shares and Reduce Capital	For	The terms under which the Company intends to reduce its share capital are reasonable and do not violate policy. Further, this is a routine request in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Elimination of Supermajority Requirement	For	It should be noted that similar proposals to eliminate the Company's supermajority vote requirements were put forth at the 2021 and 2022 annual meetings. Despite receiving support from approximately 98.7% and 98.9% of votes cast at both the 2021 and 2022 annual meetings, respectively, the proposals did not receive the required approval of 80% of the Company's outstanding common stock. Given that the current supermajority requirements are very restrictive and not in line with best practice and the clear support from management and the vast majority of shareholders of the proposed amendment, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Simple Majority Vote	Against	This shareholder proposal seek shareholder approval to eliminate the Company's supermajority vote provisions. However, in this case, the Company is currently proposing to eliminate its supermajority voting provisions. Should this proposal be adopted, the Company will replace its existing supermajority vote standards with a requirement that certain issues are approved by a majority of shares outstanding (as opposed to votes cast, as requested by this proposal). Given that the proposed changes by management are more in line with best practice and policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Political Expenditures and Values Congruency	For	Requests for increased disclosure to more fully assess risks presented by the Company's political spending are in line with policy. Therefore, we are voting for this policy.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Lobbying Report	For	Requests for increased disclosure to more fully assess risks presented by the Company's lobbying expenditures and activities are in line with policy. Therefore, we are voting for this policy.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Extended Patent Exclusivities and Application for Secondary and Tertiary Patents	For	This proposal requests that the board establish and report on a process by which the impact of extended patent exclusivities on product access would be considered in deciding whether to apply for secondary and tertiary patents for the company's products. This request is largely grounded in concerns regarding the impact on secondary and tertiary patents on the price of drugs. While there is scope for additional regulation concerning these matters, it is not clear that such regulation is imminent or that it represents a threat to the company's business at this time. However, proposals seeking further reporting and increased disclosure regarding public health and safety issues, including those related to product responsibility, are in line with policy. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Ratification of Auditor	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, as per US market practice, the lead auditor`s name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. The aforementioned notwithstanding, and as stipulated by Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002/Title II, "It shall be unlawful for a registered public accounting firm to provide audit services to an issuer if the lead (or coordinating) audit partner (having primary responsibility for the audit), or the audit partner responsible for reviewing the audit, has performed audit services for that issuer in each of the 5 previous fiscal years of that issuer."
		In spite of this, we are voting for this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years` salary. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal as it is contrary to both good corporate governance and the best interests of shareholders.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Right to Call Special Meetings	Against	In this case, the Company currently maintains a provision that would allow shareholders with 20% of outstanding shares the ability to call a special meeting. Given that it is not clear that the Company is legally able to adhere to the request of this proposal, and that it has the lowest-possible special meeting threshold based on existing laws, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	For	This Shareholder Proponent proposes that two separate people hold the office of the Chairman and the office of the CEO, which does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Lobbying Report	For	Adoption of the requested reporting would benefit shareholders by allowing them to weigh the risks of the Company's political involvement and indirect lobbying activities. As demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Prohibiting Adjustments for Legal and Compliance Costs	For	The use of shareholder funds to insulate executives from legal expenses for which the Company bears culpability is not a prudent use of shareholder resources. Further, excluding these costs may not sufficiently encourage executives to ensure that proper oversight is maintained over product safety and the Company's associated liability exposure if executives are protected from the negative consequences of this improper oversight on shareholder value. This practice may serve to insulate executives to the detriment of shareholders, consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Ratification of Auditor's Acts	For	In accordance with local law, the Company must submit the actions of the auditors during the year for shareholder approval. While discharging the auditors may limit shareholders' rights to take legal action against them, it does not release them from their fiduciary duties owed to the Company and its shareholders.

Approval of the Update Report of Climate Action Plan	Against	Proposals seeking approval of a company's climate strategy challenge a basic premise of corporate governance, which dictates that shareholders should elect the board and that the board should oversee management and the execution of the strategy of a company. Allowing shareholders to vote on this strategy, however, would essentially allow the board to seek shareholder approval on an important aspect of its corporate strategy through an up/down vote, thus removing some level of accountability from directors. Upon close review, there are no significant concerns with respect to the content of the Company's climate policy or its existing climate strategies and disclosures. The Company has adopted a net zero ambition and has set reduction targets for its Scope 1 and 2 emissions. The Company also provides reporting aligned with the TCFD and information concerning its scenario analysis. Overall, its disclosure is sufficient to allow shareholders to understand and evaluate how the Company intends, at this time, to meet its climate objectives. There could be significant improvements with regard to the Company's disclosure of the governance of its Say on Climate vote. The Company's failure to provide any kind of meaningful information concerning the governance of this vote warrants additional concern. One of the main purported benefits of adopting a Say on Climate is enhanced shareholder engagement on climate issues. However, without disclosure of these engagement efforts, it is difficult to ascertain if or to what level this matter has been discussed with shareholders. Disclosure concerning this engagement and on how the Company intends to interpret the vote result is critical. Given the overall concerns regarding the lack of disclosure concerning the board's role in overseeing climate, the potential implications of this vote, as well as a lack of disclosure concerning how the board intends to use and interpret this vote in its strategy-setting process, we are voting against this proposal.

Elect Heidi Kunz	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Heidi Kunz. However, the nominee has already been a non-executive member of the board for more than 15 years, which is against policy. Additionally, during the past year, the board failed to sufficiently implement a shareholder proposal that was approved at the Company's most recent annual meeting. Specifically, at last year's annual meeting, a shareholder proposal requesting that the board amend the Company's bylaws to adopt a 10% threshold for shareholders' right to call a special meeting received the support of approximately 81% of votes cast (excluding abstentions and broker non-votes). In response, the Company has proposed an amendment to its certificate of incorporation this year to permit shareholders holding not less than 20% of the Company's common stock to call a special meeting of shareholders. It is questionable why the board has chosen to propose a threshold as high as 20%. As such, it is believed that nominee Heidi Kunz, as the longest serving member of the governance and nominating committee can reasonably be held accountable for the board's response to this issue. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Susan H. Rataj	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Susan H. Rataj. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect George A. Scangos	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee George A. Scangos. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Additionally, policy requires the compensation committee chair to be independent. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Ratification of Auditor	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. The aforementioned notwithstanding, and as stipulated by Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002/Title II, "It shall be unlawful for a registered public accounting firm to provide audit services to an issuer if the lead (or coordinating) audit partner (having primary responsibility for the audit), or the audit partner responsible for reviewing the audit, has performed audit services for that issuer in each of the 5 previous fiscal years of that issuer." In spite of this, we are voting for this proposal.
Permit Shareholders to Call Special Meetings	For	The proposed amendment is an improvement over the company's current provisions which do not allow shareholders to call a special meeting at any ownership threshold. The board's proposal to allow shareholders representing 20% of the voting power to call special meetings is beneficial as it will afford significant shareholders the opportunity to effect change without having to wait for what could be an extended period of time for the company's next annual meeting. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Meeting Procedures	For	This is a routine agenda item. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Directors' Report	For	As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Auditor's Report	For	As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Financial Statements	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Directors' Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Ratification of Board Acts	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to current member of the Board of Directors and the Chief Executive Officer at the company. However, several governance and transparency requirements have not been met: Remuneration of directors is not published individually, only in the aggregate. CVs (age) of directors are not published. The Company has not disclosed whether executive compensation is linked to materially significant ESG indicator. As this is contrary to policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Ratification of Auditor's Acts	For	In accordance with local law, the Company must submit the actions of the auditors during the year for shareholder approval. While discharging the auditors may limit shareholders' rights to take legal action against them, it does not release them from their fiduciary duties owed to the Company and its shareholders. This ratification will not be valid if the financial statements contain any omission or false statement on behalf of management with regards to the Company's financial performance. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. There are concerns regarding the Company's front-loaded awards. Specifically, Mr. Pichai receives triennial equity grants. The Company discloses the total value of his front-loaded award to be approximately $218 million (PSU value determined using Monte-Carlo simulation model), which when annualized over three years is approximately $72.7 million. When valuing the awards using closing stock price at grant (target PSUs), the total award is approximately $197.3 million and $65.8 million annualized. Assuming maximum performance for PSUs, this value is approximately $315.8 million total and $105.3 million annualized. Adding the annualized amount of $65.8 million to Mr. Pichai's cash compensation for 2022, his total compensation equals $75.7 million, which is excessive and significantly higher than any peers. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator for the CEO and only linked to the STIP for non-CEO executives. The Company's short-term awards are largely discretionary. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria, which is solely based on relative TSR. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Lobbying Report	For	Requests for increased disclosure of lobbying payments are in line with policy. Moreover, the Company could reasonably improve its disclosure to provide shareholders with an itemized list of recipients of its indirect lobbying payments, including those made to trade associations. Given the increased scrutiny placed on corporate political spending, particularly those donations made to trade associations and independent organizations for lobbying purposes, increased disclosure of trade association memberships and lobbying-related payments thereto would benefit shareholders. As there can be potential negative repercussions from even small grants, such as those made by an association to which the Company has paid membership dues, improved disclosure would benefit shareholders by allowing them to weigh the risks of such donations. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Congruency Report of Partnerships with Certain Organizations	Against	The Company's current disclosure regarding the congruency between the interests of its shareholders and the social and political policy positions developed by various trade associations, industry groups and business organizations is reasonable. Further, it should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPR"). The NCPPR describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPR, the Free Enterprise Project ("FEP") describes itself as "the conservative movement's only full-service shareholder activism and education program: It files shareholder resolutions, engages corporate CEOs and board members at shareholder meetings, petitions the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) for interpretative guidance, and sponsors effective media campaigns to create the incentives for corporations to stay focused on their missions." This proponent has generally submitted proposals that appear to be focused on E&S issues on their face but are designed to frustrate the company's actions around ESG performance. Further, Company's disclosure regarding its oversight of issues related to diversity, inclusion, and belonging efforts and practices as well as its anti-discrimination efforts are sufficient. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Lobbying Activity Alignment with Climate Commitments and the Paris Agreement	For	The Company does not have particularly robust disclosure with regard to the alignment between its lobbying and the goals the Paris, and slightly lags at least one of its peers, Amazon, in this regard. Moreover, requests for increased transparency on how a Company is working to align with its climate commitments and the Paris Agreement are in line with policy. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Risks from Abortion-Related Information Requests	For	This proposal is requesting that the Company issue a public report assessing the feasibility of reducing the risks of abortion-related law enforcement requests by expanding consumer privacy protections and controls over sensitive personal data. Given the Company relies on its users' trust to maintain its operations and given the extraordinary amount of data the Company collects on its users, further evaluation of how the Company can protect sensitive user data is warranted. Further, requests for increased transparency of how a Company is managing E&S risks are in line with policy. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Siting in Countries of Significant Human Rights Concern	For	It should be noted that the Company already publishes extensive human rights-related disclosure and policies, including those concerning the regions in which it operates. However, the proponent notes concerns about the Company's announced plans to expand data center operations in such locations as Jakarta, Indonesia, Doha, Qatar, and Delhi, India, which are reported by the U.S. State Department's Country Reports on Human Rights Practices to present significant human rights violations. In particular, the proponent notes concerns about the plan to locate a Google Cloud Data Center in Saudi Arabia, as the U.S. State Department details the highly restrictive Saudi control of all internet activities and notes pervasive government surveillance, arrest, and prosecution of online activity. Given that requests for increased disclosure of how a Company is managing such risks are in line with policy, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Human Rights Impact Assessment	For	Given the Company's preeminent role on the internet, the Company has an especially important role in ensuring the integrity of the information on its platform and this is a material risk to the Company. Although the Company has provided some disclosure and has taken some action with respect to the issues raised by the proponent, an independent review of how the Company was managing human rights considerations in its targeted advertising would benefit shareholders and is in line with policy. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Algorithm Disclosures	For	Many tech companies have come under scrutiny on account of a lack of transparency into the algorithms that drive their platforms. As a result, a best effort should be made by companies to manage this issue in a way that considers all stakeholders. Although the Company has provided some level of disclosure on this matter, additional reporting would provide shareholders with more understandable information on which they are able to base assessments of the risks the Company faces on account of its algorithm. Moreover, the Company will already be required to provide additional transparency into its algorithm on account of the EU's Digital Services Act. Further, this proposal is very non-prescriptive in which disclosures it is requesting that the Company provide, giving it wide latitude in how it carries out this request. Accordingly, the production of the requested disclosure would not be a significant burden to the Company. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Alignment of YouTube Policies With Legislation	For	This proposal requests that the Company issue a report disclosing whether and how the Company intends to minimize legislative risk by aligning YouTube policies and procedures worldwide with the most comprehensive and rigorous online safety regulations, such as the European Union's Digital Service Act and the UK Online Safety Bill. In recent years, regulators and governmental bodies have begun to address how to minimize the misuse of social media, and much of the focus of these efforts has been targeted at the Company and others in its industry. Given the international attention to the issues of content management, including false news dissemination, election interference, hate speech, and sexual harassment, this is a material risk for the Company. Support for this resolution would provide disclosure of an important area that is not being satisfactorily addressed by the Company. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Content Governance Report	Against	Although content management is undoubtedly a financially material risk for the Company, it has provided significant disclosure concerning its content governance and the policies it has in place concerning this matter. Further, it should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Legal and Policy Center ("NLPC"), which has submitted shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear to be consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NLPC describes itself as a 501(c)(3) that "promotes ethics in public life through research, investigation, education, and legal action," and believes "the best way to promote ethics is to reduce the size of government." As part of the corporate integrity project on its website, the NLPC shares its concerns regarding "woke" corporate executives, for instance posting articles about inclusive content "devaluing" the Pixar franchise or about how the NLPC has reported Visa's chair and CEO to the SEC for ongoing "wokeness." The project also examines a supposed pushback against ESG initiatives, featuring pieces such as one describing corporate America's anti-racism programs as racist against white people and another promoting the NLPC's efforts to nominate a fossil-fuel-supporting director candidate to the board of Exxon Mobil Corporation. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Assessment of Audit and Compliance Committee	For	There are significant concerns regarding how the Company is managing and overseeing certain risks and the Company has been the target of legal and regulatory action that could present material risks to shareholders. The audit committee is specifically tasked with reviewing and discussing with management the Company's major risk exposures, including financial, operational, data privacy and security, competition, legal, regulatory, compliance, civil and human rights, sustainability, and reputational risks, as well as the steps the Company takes to prevent, detect, monitor, and actively manage such exposures. Given the size and scope of the Company and its operations, there could be concerns that this committee is overtasked with responsibilities, and this concern is only exacerbated by the myriad controversies, fines, and lawsuits faced by the Company on account of the areas that are under the remit of the audit committee. As a result, an independent evaluation of the function and responsibilities of this committee could ensure that the purview of the committee is appropriate and manageable and that it is functioning in a manner that best serves the interests of shareholders. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Shareholder Approval of Advance Notice Provisions	For	Advance notice provisions and related disclosure requirements for shareholder nominations of directors are commonplace at public companies. However, in November 2021, the SEC adopted rules to require the use of universal proxy cards by management and shareholders soliciting proxy votes for their own candidates in contested director elections. In response, numerous companies amended their bylaws to ensure compliance with the new rules as well as to adjust the requirements of their advance notice provisions for director elections. Among them, a small number of companies adopted advance notice requirements imposing excessively burdensome conditions on nominating shareholders. This proposal is aimed at ensuring the Company does not adopt such onerous provisions without first obtaining shareholder approval. Requiring shareholder approval for provisions that could potentially limit their rights is in shareholders' best interests. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Retention of Shares Until Normal Retirement Age	Against	While policy strongly supports the linking of executive pay to the creation of long-term sustainable shareholder value, proposals such as this one are not the most effective or desirable way to induce change at target companies. Severely restricting executives' ability to exercise such a significant portion of equity awards until normal retirement age may hinder the ability of the compensation committee to attract and retain executive talent. Otherwise qualified and willing candidates may be dissuaded from employment at the Company if they believe that their compensation could be dramatically affected by financial results completely unrelated to their own personal performance or tenure at the Company. Moreover, as contemplated under the terms of this proposal, executives could be forced to wait for decades to realize the gains from their equity grants depending on the age of the executive and the determination of what constitutes normal retirement age and may particularly act as a barrier to entry to younger executives. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Recapitalization	For	Allowing one vote per share generally operates as a safeguard for common shareholders by ensuring that those who hold a significant minority of shares are able to weigh in on issues set forth by the board, especially in regard to the director election process, and is in line with policy. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. Elect Victoria A. Calvert	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Victoria A. Calvert. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect David W. Cornhill	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee David W. Cornhill. Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The Company's STIP awards are largely based on the discretion of the compensation committee, which may create opportunities for payouts that are not aligned with performance. While a performance-based bonus pool may help mitigate these potential risks, significant flexibility may still create opportunities for payouts that are not aligned with performance. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Report on Non-Financial Information	For	This is a routine presentation of the reports. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Report	For	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The LTI does not include ESG criteria. As this is the only point of criticism, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Ratification of Board Acts	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to current member of the Board of Directors and Chief Executive Officer at the company. In the absence of any evidence of improper or illegal behaviour on the part of the Board of Directors and Chief Executive Officer, one should view these items as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Elect Jeffrey P. Bezos	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Jeffrey P. Bezos. However, the Company discloses that "Mr. Bezos has been Chair of the Board since founding the Company in 1994. Prior to becoming Executive Chair in July 2021, he served as Chief Executive Officer from May 1996 to July 2021 and as President from founding until June 1999 and again from October 2000 to July 2021". (Source: 2023 DEF14A p.3)As such, he will be continuing as the chair of the board without complying with a cooling off period of 2 years. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Andrew R. Jassy	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Andrew R. Jassy. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Keith B. Alexander	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Keith B. Alexander. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Edith W. Cooper	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Edith W. Cooper. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Jamie S. Consequently, we are voting against the election of non-independent nominee Jamie S. Gorelick.
Elect Daniel P. Huttenlocher	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Daniel P. Huttenlocher. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Judith A. McGrath	Against	Nominee Judith A. McGrath serves as the chair of the compensation committee. The members of this committee have the responsibility of reviewing all aspects of the compensation program for the Company's executive officers. It appears that the members of this committee have not been effectively serving shareholders in this regard. Specifically, at last year's annual meeting, the Company's non-binding advisory resolution on executive compensation received support from approximately 55.8% of the votes cast. Given the substantial level of opposition to the Company's pay practices, the members of the compensation committee should have taken more initiative to improve the Company's pay practices and programs. In this case, the committee has failed to do so. Additionally, the Company has failed to adequately align pay with performance. The concerns regarding the Company's pay practices and programs are severe enough to warrant opposing the election of this director.
Elect Indra K. Nooyi	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Indra K. Nooyi. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The Company has failed to implement performance-based long-term incentive plan, instead relying on equity awards with longer vesting horizons. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Fixed salary increased by more than 10% within one year without a valid reason. The Company received approximately 56% support for its advisory vote on executive compensation at last year's annual general meeting. Following the 2022 meeting, the Company contacted shareholders owning approximately 34% of the Company's common stock (not counting the approximately 12% that was voted by Mr. Bezos), engaging with those owning over 33% of the Company's stock. In light of the significant level of dissent to the Company's 2022 say-on-pay proposal, shareholders may reasonably have expected some level of material action when it comes to the Company's compensation program. The Company even received feedback from shareholders on elements that could be improved, actions that could help to allay shareholder concerns moving forward. While the level of disclosure provided by the Company should not be discounted, the lack of material changes in light of such significant dissent is significantly concerning. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Advisory Vote on the Frequency of Future Advisory Votes on Executive Compensation: Please Vote For On This Resolution To Approve 1 Year	For	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Advisory Vote on the Frequency of Future Advisory Votes on Executive Compensation: Please Vote For On This Resolution To Approve 2 Years	Against	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Advisory Vote on the Frequency of Future Advisory Votes on Executive Compensation: Please Vote For On This Resolution To Approve For Abstain	Against	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal as it is contrary to both good corporate governance and the best interests of shareholders.
Amendment to the 1997 Stock Incentive Plan	For	According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Climate Risk In Employee Retirement Default Options	Against	This proposal requests that the Company report on how it is protecting plan beneficiaries with a longer investment time horizon from climate risk in the Company's default retirement options. The proponent states that failing to minimize material climate risk in its default 401(k) plan option may make it more difficult for the Company to attract and retain talent. However, employees have significant discretion as to where their investments are directed and should retain such discretion. This proposal appears to be implicitly asking the Company to influence the manner in which these employees invest their retirement savings, which arguably could cause greater risk to the Company should it be seen as pushing an agenda that is not necessarily shared by all employees or one that could potentially result in lower returns than a more traditional retirement account. In this particular case, the shareholder proponent was not able to put forth adequate justification for their proposal. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Customer Due Diligence	For	Although the Company does provide some information concerning the guidelines for the use of its products, a full accounting of the risks to shareholders as a result of their use has not been sufficiently provided. Accordingly, a third-party review may be warranted to help ensure that the Company is mitigating, to the best extent possible, the risks of violations of human rights Lastly, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Government Requests for Content and Product Removal	Against	The Company provides reasonable disclosure regarding its policies related to content removal for general usage. It also acknowledges the risks to its international operations in China and India. However, it does not appear to provide substantial disclosure specifically related to government requests for content and product removal, although it states that regardless of whether a product or content is flagged through the Company's own proactive compliance efforts or by a government or law enforcement official, the Company follows the same process of reviewing the product or content against its policies and the law where applicable.

The proponent cites the Company as not having the same level of transparency on this issue as others in the tech industry. However, it does not appear that these proponent acknowledges, that the Company's main line of business is different than those of many of its peers in the industry. Although there is some crossover, the risks to a company that largely operates using user-generated content, such as Meta or on search engines, such as Alphabet, have different considerations and types of risk exposure to this matter.

More importantly, however, the proponent has not made any arguments with regard to why a lack of transparency on this matter presents risks to the Company or its shareholders or how its actions in this regard have harmed the Company financially.

Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Government Takedown Requests	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Legal and Policy Center ("NLPC"), which has submitted shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear to be consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NLPC describes itself as a 501(c)(3) that "promotes ethics in public life through research, investigation, education, and legal action," and believes "the best way to promote ethics is to reduce the size of government." As part of the corporate integrity project on its website, the NLPC shares its concerns regarding "woke" corporate executives, for instance posting articles about inclusive content "devaluing" the Pixar franchise or about how the NLPC has reported Visa's chair and CEO to the SEC for ongoing "wokeness." The project also examines a supposed pushback against ESG initiatives, featuring pieces such as one describing corporate America's anti-racism programs as racist against white people and another promoting the NLPC's efforts to nominate a fossil-fuel-supporting director candidate to the board of Exxon Mobil Corporation. In this particular case, the shareholder proponent was not able to put forth adequate justification for their proposal. Specifically, how they would go about implementing their changes, the potential reward for doing this and the obvious cost implications of such changes. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Just Transition Reporting	For	This proposal is requesting that the Company prepare a report disclosing how it is addressing the impact of its climate change strategy on relevant stakeholders, including but not limited to its employees, workers in its supply chain, and communities in which it operates, consistent with the Just Transition guidelines of the International Labor Organization and indicators of the World Benchmarking Association. As demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Tax Transparency	For	Issues of tax avoidance can be extremely controversial and have received increasing attention from governments and regulators. In this case, the scrutiny paid to the Company's taxes on a global basis could lead to regulatory and reputational risk. Although the Company has provided some level of disclosure on this matter, additional reporting in line with the GRI Tax Standard would provide shareholders with understandable information on which they are able to base assessments of the Company's tax-related risks. Moreover, given the Company will be required to disclose much, but not all, of this information according to recent EU regulations, the production of the requested disclosure should not be viewed as a significant burden to the Company. Moreover, because this proposal is precatory in nature, providing the requested disclosure risks the Company's disclosure of competitively sensitive information. Lastly, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Lobbying Alignment with Climate Commitments	For	The Company provides a report on alignment with the Paris Agreement, which its peers do not, though the report does not provide an analysis of the specific organizations' alignment with the Company's position on the Paris Agreement. The Company has been responsive to this proponent by producing disclosure concerning its lobbying alignment with the goals of the Paris Agreement. The policy response to climate change has been starkly inadequate. This inaction is due to unprecedented lobbying by industry with ties to the fossil fuel economy. Therefore, we ask companies to assess the 1.5°C alignment of the industry associations they support. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Cost Benefit Analysis of DEI Programs	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPr"). NCPPr has a history of submitting shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NCPPr describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPr, the Free Enterprise Project, routinely engages companies on issues such as healthcare, immigration, gun rights, energy, taxes, religious freedom, media bias, corporate free speech, and ideological diversity, among other issues, often by questioning executives at annual meetings or through the submission of shareholder proposals. In this particular case, the shareholder proponent was not able to put forth adequate justification for their proposal. Specifically, how they would go about implementing their changes, the potential reward for doing this and the obvious cost implications of such changes. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Third-Party Assessment of Freedom of Association	For	The Company provides broad and somewhat generic information concerning its human rights commitments and employees' freedom of association. However, the Company has faced high-profile controversies regarding its labor practices, and thus, could reasonably increase its disclosure to include additional transparency into how it is ensuring that its existing human rights policies are being protected. As such undertaking the requested assessment would better allow shareholders to understand the management of this issue and what steps the Company is taking to ensure workers' rights are protected. It could also provide the Company with useful information that assists it in better mitigating human capital management-related risks. Lastly, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Employee Salary Considerations When Setting Executive Compensation	For	Taking into consideration the pay grades and/or salary ranges of all classifications of Company employees when setting target amounts for senior executive officer compensation does not violate policy. Further, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report Evaluating Animal Welfare Standards	For	As demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Formation of Public Policy Committee	Against	The proponent is requesting that the Company establish a public policy committee that would assist the board in overseeing "public policy issues including human rights, corporate social responsibility, diversity, equity, inclusion, climate pledge, renewable energy, net-zero carbon shipment, vendor chain management, charitable giving, political activities and expenditures, governmental regulations, international relations, unionization and other public issues that affect Amazon's operations, performance, public reputation, and shareholders' value." However, it appears that these matters are either implicitly or explicitly already under the remit of the board's standing committees. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Hourly Associate Representation on the Board	Against	This proposal requests that the Company adopt a policy requiring the initial list of candidates from which new director nominees are chosen to include hourly employees. Requiring that the Company consider nominees from a relatively narrow group negates the principle of selecting the most qualified directors to serve on the board at any given time, and, in this case, would further erode the board's independence. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Working Conditions	For	There are significant concerns with regard to the Company's record of worker health and safety. An inattention to these issues can result in adverse, bottom-line impacts on companies and their shareholders. Companies that do not provide appropriate working conditions can face regulatory action, legal fines, reputational harm, high turnover, and problems attracting workers. All of these have the very real potential of significantly harming the Company and its shareholders. In this case, the Company has faced a number of fines, inquiries and adverse media attention on account of the working conditions of its employees, particularly those in the Company's warehouses. These concerns were only exacerbated by the COVID-19 pandemic, which not only increased demand for the Company's products but also presented more significant risks for its employees, which were not mitigated to the extent necessary. Reports indicated that, although it hired up to 350,000 new workers from July to October 2020, its turnover rates rose significantly. This requested audit could provide some assurance to shareholders that the working conditions are being evaluated by an independent third-party, which is especially critical at this time given the allegations of anti-union behavior, as detailed in Proposal 16. Accordingly, this proposal is appropriately crafted and as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Plastic Packaging	For	Although it is unclear how adoption of this proposal would add meaningfully to shareholders' understanding of how the Company is addressing the issue of plastic waste, demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding the Human Rights Impacts of Facial Recognition Technology	For	Additional disclosure is warranted concerning how the Company is mitigating the risks of violations of human and civil rights, as well as the financial and operational risks associated with Rekognition's impact on these rights. In addition, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

The members of the compensation committee generally have the responsibility of reviewing all aspects of the compensation program for the Company's executive officers. It appears that this committee may not be effectively serving shareholders in this regard. Specifically, the board approved an RSU grant with an approximate grant value of $50 million, vesting over a five-year period, to Mr. Zaffino upon the signing of his five-year employment agreement with the Company. Although the Company's rationale provides a degree of context for this decision, the value and structure of the award remains unjustified and rationale insufficient. The award cliff vests after five years, but is not subject to performance-based vesting conditions. Shareholders should seek clarification as to why the board chose to grant one large one-time award as opposed to building in retention-focused annual awards to his direct compensation given such items were being deliberated when constructing his employment agreement. In light of Linda A. Mills chair position on the compensation committee, we are voting against this election.

Elect Peter S. Zaffino	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Peter S. Zaffino. However, this director will be serving as the combined Chair/CEO in the upcoming year, which is against policy. Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. The Company has granted excessive promotion awards and retention award, among others, Specifically, the board approved an RSU grant with an approximate grant value of $50 million, vesting over a five-year period, mirroring the length of his employment agreement. The Company also has a history of granting substantial one-off awards to Mr. Zaffino. In 2020, he was granted $10 million in RSUs that vest over five years in connection with his promotion to the president role in 2020 and transition to CEO in 2021. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	Against	Although policy does not require that the board chair be an independent director, this proposal is largely focused on the separation of the roles of chair and CEO. Moreover, the shareholder proponent has put forth adequate justification for their proposal. Such a proposal enhances shareholders rights and is not considered detrimental financially or structurally. After carefully weighing the arguments, we are voting for this proposal as the current chair and CEO role are not split.

Resolution on the remuneration report	Against	The remuneration report was last voted on in 2022 and achieved an approval rate of only 86.48%. Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared.
---------------------	---------	---

However, the Company's remuneration policy and remuneration report consistently received shareholder dissent in the past fiscal years, which in addition increased significantly at the 2022 AGM. This demonstrates a fair level of shareholder protest at the Company's remuneration policy as currently structured.

Some of the concerns are caused by the significant increase in payout limit for Alessandro Merzi D'Eril under the Long-Term Incentive Plan 2021-2023. It should be noted that the maximum opportunity under the first cycle (2021-2023) and the second cycle (2022-2024) of said plan for the CEO is equal to 595,347 shares, corresponding to 4.3x his annualised base salary, based on the Company's share price of €3.98 recorded on February 26, 2021 (as the trading day prior to the board meeting which approved the new plan). This amount represents an increase of 126.3% in maximum opportunity in comparison to the former CEO's under the 2018-2020 cycle of the LTI 2018-2020, equivalent to 434,627 shares (1.9x Marco Carreri's annualised base salary).

As such, while the board has explicitly addressed the level of opposition received at the 2022 AGM, proposing some positive steps towards a better alignment with best practice for the 2023 remuneration policy (see Proposal 0030), shareholders may have reasonably expected a more thorough discussion on the maximum opportunity under the 2021-2023 LTIP and a review of variable pay levels going forward, especially under the long-term portion of awards. As such, it is believed that the Company failed to meaningfully respond to what is considered to be legitimate shareholder dissent. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Board Size	For	There are no indications of any controversy regarding the board size at this company. This proposal does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Board Term Length	For	The proposed board term length is in line with policy and in accordance with law in this market. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Elect Ronald D. Sugar	Against	As the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. The policy also requires the audit committee chair to be independent. As nominee Ronald D. Sugar is not considered independent, we are opposing this director's election.

Ratification of Auditor	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. The aforementioned notwithstanding, and as stipulated by Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002/Title II, "It shall be unlawful for a registered public accounting firm to provide audit services to an issuer if the lead (or coordinating) audit partner (having primary responsibility for the audit), or the audit partner responsible for reviewing the audit, has performed audit services for that issuer in each of the 5 previous fiscal years of that issuer." In spite of this, we are voting for this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Civil Rights Audit	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPr"). NCPPr has a history of submitting shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NCPPr describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPr, the Free Enterprise Project, routinely engages companies on issues such as healthcare, immigration, gun rights, energy, taxes, religious freedom, media bias, corporate free speech, and ideological diversity, among other issues, often by questioning executives at annual meetings or through the submission of shareholder proposals. It is also worth noting that a shareholder proposal requesting that the Company conduct a civil rights audit received majority support at the Company's 2022 annual meeting. In its response to this proposal, the Company states that it has engaged a team from Covington & Burling LLP, led by former U.S. Attorney General Eric Holder, to conduct a civil rights audit. The Company states that the audit will examine civil rights impacts related to its business in the areas of its people, its products and services, customer connections, and communities, and that the Covington team is also assessing the Company's policies, controls, and initiatives in these areas. It adds that it expects to publish a report regarding the Covington team's assessment in 2023 and that, therefore, undertaking a second civil rights audit would be redundant and unnecessary. The proponent does not appear to acknowledge this current undertaking nor does it identify areas of discrepancy between the audit proposed in this resolution and the audit the Company is currently undergoing. Considering the historical anti-social nature of the NCPPr, and the currently ongoing civil rights audit by Covington & Burling LLP, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Corporate Operations with China	Against	This proposal should be carefully reviewed by socially responsible investors. The proponent of this proposal is the National Legal and Policy Center ("NLPC"), which has submitted shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear to be consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NLPC describes itself as a 501(c)(3) that "promotes ethics in public life through research, investigation, education, and legal action," and believes "the best way to promote ethics is to reduce the size of government." The NLPC has historically targeted both corporations and members of government. Moreover, as part of the corporate integrity project on its website, the NLPC shares its concerns regarding "woke" corporate executives, for instance posting articles about inclusive content "devaluing" the Pixar franchise or about how the NLPC has reported Visa's chair and CEO to the SEC for ongoing "wokeness." The project also examines a supposed pushback against ESG initiatives, featuring pieces such as one describing corporate America's anti-racism programs as racist against white people and another promoting the NLPC's efforts to nominate a fossil-fuel-supporting director candidate to the board of Exxon Mobil Corporation. In its latest 10-K, the Company states that it has a large, global business with sales outside the U.S. representing a majority of the Company's total net sales, and that substantially all of the Company's manufacturing is performed in whole or in part by outsourcing partners located primarily in Asia, including China mainland, Taiwan, and other countries. The Company states that tensions between the U.S. and China have led to a series of tariffs being imposed by the U.S. on imports from China mainland, as well as other business restrictions, all of which could materially adversely affect the Company's business. It also adds that political uncertainty surrounding trade and other international disputes could also have a negative effect on consumer confidence and spending, which could adversely affect the Company's business (p.6). The Company's supplier code of conduct, it's overall ESG reporting and privacy transparency reporting, appear to be reasonable and well prepared. Given the wide scope of the Company's operations, we believe that a concerted effort to ensure it has thoroughly assessed its potential adverse human rights impacts ultimately benefits shareholders. However, upon review, we believe that the Company's disclosure regarding the human rights risks of its operations is sufficient. Additionally, given the proponent's stated aims, we do not believe that shareholders should support this proposal at this time. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Shareholder Engagement with the Board	For	Generally, shareholder engagement on a majority-supported shareholder proposal ought to take place with a wide variety of shareholders and that many of these conversations should include members of the board. Although a requirement for companies to adopt policies that place emphasis on a company's engagement with a single proponent rather than the shareholder base as a whole, such a requirement would ultimately be a positive for shareholder rights. The Company states that it contacted 70% of institutional shares held, engaged with 60% of institutional shares held, and that half of those meetings included director participation. Although this level of engagement with the shareholder base is positive, the proponent's request is a ultimately a positive step for shareholder rights, and could retroactively address engagement failures which may arise in the future. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Median Gender and Racial Pay Equity Report	For	We support that the company should disclose its median gender pay gap across gender, race and ethnicity, including base, bonus, and equity compensation. As demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Proxy Access Bylaw Amendment	For	In 2015, the Company amended its bylaws to include a proxy access provision and has since revised these provisions to reflect best practices and the preferences of its shareholders. This bylaw amendment permits a shareholder, or a group of up to 20 shareholders, owning at least 3% of the Company's outstanding shares of common stock continuously for at least three years, to nominate and include in the Company's annual proxy materials director nominees constituting up to 20% of the board, subject to the requirements specified in the Company's bylaws. Although these provisions are in line with market practice, the proponent notes that the current proxy access bylaws restrict shareholder nominees to 20% of directors rounded down to the nearest whole number. So while the Company has only nine directors, rounding down to the nearest whole number allows shareholders to nominate only one director. Moreover, the Council of Institutional Investors notes that allowing at least two nominees helps ensure they can serve on multiple committees and have greater opportunities to bring an independent perspective into board decisions. Ultimately, this change is a positive step for shareholder rights and therefore we are voting for this proposal.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. Shareholders may reasonably question the structure of the sign-on payments to Mr. Lyon and Ms. Velastegui, given the sole use of RSUs with short-vesting periods and cash payments. While the absence of performance-based awards is in itself an issue of note, given the Company's ongoing disconnect between pay and performance, this concern is exacerbated. In connection with Mr. Lyon's hiring, his compensation package included the following one-time awards: (i) $4 million cash award paid in December 2022; (ii) an RSU award valued at $8 million granted in February 2023 that vests ratably over two years; and (iii) a guaranteed bonus under the STIP of $800,000 in each of 2022 and 2023, payable in following year. In the aggregate, Mr. Lyon will receive approximately $13.6 million in one-time awards associated with his hiring. The company discloses that the cash payment made in December 2022 and the RSU granted in February 2023, approximately $12 million of the sign-on payments, were granted as make-whole awards to compensate him for awards forfeited upon leaving his prior employer. However, given the significant quantum tied to these awards, further exacerbated by the performance-insensitive nature of the awards and the short vesting period tied to RSUs, shareholders would have greatly benefited from a discussion more clearly laying out the steps taken by the company to arrive at the final quantum granted to Mr. Lyon. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Final Dividend	Against	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However.. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. While the aggregate maximum variable remuneration for executive directors is capped at £20 million, there is no cap on individual payouts, which runs contrary to best practices and heightens the risk that management receive payouts perceived as excessive. The Company states that it will limit equity-based awards to 15% of the Company's issued share capital over a 10-year rolling period, which runs contrary to best practice in the UK and policy. Fixed salary increased by more than 10% within one year. The executives' base salary cap will be increased from £120,000 to £150,000. The executive directors' base salary cap has not been reviewed since 2015 and remains consistent with the cap for other UK employees. Further, the CEO's base salary for FY2024 will remain unchanged and the GFD's base salary remains reasonable relative to peers. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The LTI does not include ESG criteria. While aggregate awards under the EOIP (EXECUTIVE OMNIBUS INCENTIVE PLAN - LONG-TERM ELEMENT) are normally limited to 25% of earnings before variable remuneration, interest and tax ("EBVCIT"), there is no cap on individual payouts, and the aggregate limit can be exceeded at the committee's discretion. The Company operates an omnibus plan. As such, certain features are out of line with both traditional STI and LTI structures. While the Executive Omnibus Incentive Plan ("EOIP") incorporates mandatory deferral and extended holding periods, one may question whether these provisions adequately make up for the resulting emphasis on short-term performance. Further, the remuneration structure provides executives with a larger maximum payout under the short-term element of the omnibus plan than the long-term element. The existing remuneration structure provides executives with a larger maximum payout under the annual bonus scheme than the long-term incentive arrangements. All variable elements of pay are based on the committee's discretionary assessment of performance. The portion of bonuses voluntarily deferred by executives (up to half of the cash bonus) is currently matched on a 1:1, but permits the matching levels to be changed for future awards on up to a 3:1 basis, and half of that matching opportunity will not be subject to any performance conditions. As such, the executives may receive a matching award equivalent to half of the portion voluntarily deferred, regardless of performance at the Company during the deferral period. Fixed salary increased by more than 10% within one year without a valid reason. The Company states that it will limit equity-based awards to 15% of the Company's issued share capital over a 10-year rolling period, which runs contrary to best practice in the UK and policy. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Authorisation of Political Donations	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. This is primarily technical item. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 66% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposals 16 and 17, exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposals 15 and 17, exceeds the limit set by policy. Authority to Issue Shares w/ o Preemptive Rights (Specified Capital Investment)	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposals 15 and 16, exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase Shares	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. Consequently, as these authorizations are within the recommended thresholds, we are voting for this proposal.
Waiver of Mandatory Takeover Requirement	For	The Takeover Code was instituted as a shareholder safeguard in the event that a major shareholder sought a larger stake in the Company, possibly to the detriment of other shareholders. In this case, following a repurchase of shares or exercising of options, the concert party may increase their ownership stake in the Company but may not gain control of it without triggering a full takeover bid. Further, the waiver will not apply to an acquisition of ordinary shares. There is no indication that this proposal is connected with any sort of takeover attempt by this party, and thus, should warrant shareholder concern at this time. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Set General Meeting Notice Period at 14 Days	For	A shortened general meeting notice period is permitted by the UK Corporate Governance Code and the EU Shareholders Rights Directive, provided that a company conforms to specific electronic voting and communication requirements, as is the case here. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Resolution on the appropriation of net income	For	"Aurubis intends to accelerate its growth with three further investment projects totalling 530 million euro and is adjusting its dividend policy in order to be able to continue financing the growth development from its own resources. The multi-metal supplier intends to be "more flexible" in future in deciding on distributions from year to year and is moving away from its target of a dividend ratio of 25% of IFRS consolidated operating profit, as CFO Rainer Verhoeven announced at the presentation of the balance sheet for the 2021/22 financial year that ended at the end of September. Aurubis is in a very robust position. The equity ratio, for example, was 54% at the end of the financial year (previous year: 48.9%) and was significantly above the target level of more than 40%. However, Verhoeven said it is necessary to ensure that investment projects that have been decided on and are being implemented can be financed even if current medium-term plans are not fulfilled. The "rigid" dividend ratio is therefore suspended until further notice. Aurubis intends to finance the new investment projects primarily from current cash flow. There will be no capital increase with a dilution of the shareholder base. For the past financial year, which Aurubis closed with the best result in the company's history, shareholders - including Salzgitter AG, the steelmaker with a stake of just under 30% - are to receive 1.80 (previous year: 1.60) euro per share, the highest dividend since Aurubis went public in 1998. At the same time, however, the management's proposal corresponds to a declining distribution ratio of 18%, compared to 26% in the previous year. The proposal falls short of market expectations: Analysts had on average expected a dividend of 2 euro per share." (Cf. Aurubis to pay out dividends more flexibly in future // Börsenzeitung 21.12.2022) The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. An acceptable distribution ratio is generally between 20% and 100%. Although the distribution ratio does not reach 20% despite the highest dividend proposal in the company's history, this seems understandable in the context of the planned investment projects. As the motion appears to correspond to the situation of the company, which is still in the process of growth, this management proposal can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

Resolution on the discharge of Management Board members for the 2021/22 financial year	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Management Board. Resolution on the discharge of Supervisory Board members for the 2021/22 financial year	Against	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Supervisory Board. However, some key transparency points and/or governance issues are not satisfied, and the following points are missing: Standard length of service for Supervisory Board members Audit Committee does not have a majority of independent members Due to some shortcomings with regard to transparency or non-compliance with certain governance requirements, the discharge should be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Approval of the remuneration report	Against	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2021 and achieved an approval rate of 96.04%. However, there are some weaknesses in the system, which is why the report on the system cannot comply with the guidelines either: No application of ESG performance criteria (according to agenda item 7 this should be implemented in future) No ESG in LTI LTI has only one performance criterion (according to agenda item 7, another performance criterion is to be implemented in the LTI) Deviation G.10 GCGC (according to agenda item 7, this requirement will be met in the future with the performance cash plan) No share ownership guidelines It should be noted that significant improvements to the remuneration system are proposed under agenda item 7. The remuneration report is presented transparently and there is the intention to make several deficiencies of the remuneration system compliant with the guidelines in the future, the motion could therefore also be approved. Overall, the motion should at least be viewed critically. A precautionary recommendation of "AGAINST" is therefore given, with the note "ABSTAIN".
Approval of the remuneration system for members of the Management Board of Aurubis AG	Against	The remuneration system for Management Board members will be changed in several key points. The following changes can be considered positive: ESG objectives are implemented in the performance criteria in the STI A further performance criterion is implemented in the LTI (Relative total shareholder return (TSR) vs. MDAX) Performance share plan replaces performance cash plan to establish a stronger share price reference and to comply with recommendation G.10 of the GCGC 2022 These changes are to be welcomed and represent an improvement of the remuneration system. However, the proposed system still does not include share ownership guidelines and ESG in the LTI, which is not consistent with the guidelines. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Changes to the Articles of Association during the term of office of the members of the Supervisory Board	For	There are no criteria that would indicate a violation of the guidelines. Compared to international best practice, with annual re-elections considered ideal and "staggered boards" usually critical, the specific market conditions here should be taken into account. In contrast to most other markets, Germany is not based on a monistic system; there is also annual relief in Germany. A staggered board and shorter maturities than the usual 5 years are an improvement in this market. The motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Amendment of the Articles of Association regarding the due date of Supervisory Board remuneration	For	There are no indications that would conflict with this agenda item. The motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Amendment of the Articles of Association for the virtual general meeting	Against	A period of more than 2 years is to be approved here. There is also no further, additional explanation of under which conditions the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting. Nor is there a written explanation of how exactly virtual general meetings are to be structured in the future. This motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Further amendments to the Articles of Association	Against	These bundled amendments to the Articles of Association contain amendments on different matters, which is why a subdivision into different voting items would be appropriate. No violation of the guidelines is apparent in the amendments to the Articles of Association 8.4.1 - 8.4.6. In the event of an amendment to the Articles of Association with regard to the participation of Supervisory Board members in the General Meeting also by way of audio and video transmission, the following evaluation shall be made: In this case, shareholders should make a case-by-case decision as to whether they consider "Travel involving considerable time or expense, professional or personal (especially health) reasons" to be an appropriate reason for members of the Supervisory Board to be able to participate in the General Meeting by means of video and audio transmission. Union Investment advocates the physical presence of Supervisory Board members at the General Meeting. We are therefore voting against the motion.

New elections to the Supervisory Board: Gunnar Groebler	Against	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence of Gunnar Groebler. Authority to Grant Super-Subordinated Convertible Bonds (Contingent Capital) Through Private Placement	Against	The Company proposes to transform the write-down clause in its AT1 issuances into a conversion clause to allow the Company to issue AT1s in US currency. Under the proposed authority, super-subordinated convertible bonds would convert automatically into equity capital only in case the Company's capital ratio falls below a specific regulatory threshold. However, the issuance of AT1s will not cause dilution to existing ordinary shareholders unless a trigger event causes them to be converted into equity. Nonetheless, the proposed authorization is subject to the cumulative limit of 39.9% of share capital for all share issuances, as proposed at the 2022 AGM, which is not in line with policy. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.
Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Currently, employees do not hold a significant portion of the Company's share capital. Therefore, if the proposed plan is fully implemented, employee shareholdings would remain reasonable and in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

2023 Change of Audit Firm	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the new auditor. Moreover, rotating auditors is an important safeguard that helps to ascertain the independence of the auditor and may also protect against lack of oversight due to complacency or conflicts of interest between the auditor and the Company. Further, fees paid to the previous auditor are appropriate. While the lead auditor's name is not disclosed, this is acceptable in the context of the auditor rotation. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Presentation of the adopted annual financial statements and the approved consolidated financial statements, the combined management report of Bayer Aktiengesellschaft and the Group, the Supervisory Board report and the Management Board's proposal on the appropriation of the net income, in each case for the 2022 financial year, as well as a resolution on the appropriation of the net income	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. An acceptable distribution ratio is generally between 20% and 100%. Since the motion complies with the guidelines, this proposal may be viewed uncritically by the management. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of members of the Management Board	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Management Board. There are also no other specific governance issues or guidelines violations relating to the past financial year that could oppose discharge of the members of the Management Board. However, the company is still heavily burdened by the acquisition of Monsanto and, as a result, by a lawsuit regarding the herbicide glyphosate. However, some lawsuits have been won and/or settlement agreements reached here in the meantime. Furthermore, the company has no influence on the outcome of any appeal proceedings or the procedures of the judicial authorities. There is no evidence that management did not push for a settlement of the glyphosate issue. It is to be expected that the Monsanto deal and the associated legal disputes will remain a burden for a while yet. Since the root of the problems now lies several years back and no violations of the guidelines are discernible for the past business year, the motion can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of members of the Supervisory Board	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Supervisory Board. However, some key transparency points and/or governance issues are not satisfied, and the following points are missing: Standard length of service for all members of the Supervisory Board: "The Supervisory Board shall strive for a balanced distribution with regard to the length of service on the Supervisory Board, whereby no more than 20% of the shareholder representatives shall have a term of office longer than twelve years". This is not very specific and, in theory, also allows for very long terms of office for individual Supervisory Board members. Overall, we do not consider these criticisms sufficient for non-discharge. That's why we are voting in favour of the discharge after weighing up the arguments.

Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report	Against	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2020 and achieved an approval rate of 94.02%, however the last remuneration report only achieved 24.11%. This criticism is very clear, but no changes are proposed. In contrast to the previous year, there is a very detailed explanation and handling of last year's result. Nevertheless, the following continues unchanged: "Special circumstances for the calculation of EBITDA before special items and core EPS are described in the management report, Section 2.3. In addition, there may be significant, unplanned and aperiodic effects that cannot be planned with sufficient reliability in terms of their occurrence, timing and magnitude and which may have a significant impact on the operating performance of the performance period. Consistent with the planning assumptions, certain effects can be excluded from the measurement of target achievement on the basis of a defined catalogue of criteria if they exceed certain threshold values. The decision on this is incumbent on the Supervisory Board." Since the decision to exclude payments in connection with the settlement agreements concluded in the glyphosate, dicamba, PCB and Essure, legal complexes as significant aperiodic extraordinary effects was consequently also incumbent on the Supervisory Board and it was also decided this year not to include payments in connection with PCB litigation in the free cash flow indicator, it is also questionable how a right of intervention of the Supervisory Board integrated in the system will represent an adequate improvement in future. Since the cause of last year's criticism has not been remedied, the motion should be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the authorisation of the Management Board to provide for the holding of virtual general meetings (amendment of Section 13 of the Articles of Association)	Against	In this case, the approval period is limited to two years, which is to be welcomed. It is also noted that the protection of shareholders' rights will play a central role in the structure and implementation of the GM. Furthermore, it is clearly stated that the company does not plan to limit the rights, e.g. through a restrictive preliminary stage. However, it is only stated that there may be reasons for an in-person general meeting, no further explanation is given. Overall, the motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Resolution on the possibility for the members of the Supervisory Board to participate in virtual general meetings by means of video and audio transmission (amendment of Section 15 of the Articles of Association)	Against	In this case, shareholders should make a case-by-case decision as to whether they consider "virtual general meetings" to be an appropriate reason for members of the Supervisory Board to be able to participate in the general meeting by means of video and audio transmission. As we consider the physical presence of the Supervisory Board members to be essential for dialogue on the day of the general meeting, we are voting against the motion.
Election of the auditor and the auditor for any audit review of the half-year report and interim financial reports	For	The responsible auditor is explicitly referred to by name, as stipulated in the guidelines. Information will also be published on the duration of his mandate. However, this does not clarify whether Mr Mehren has also been the partner in charge since 2019. However, as the essential information is in place and the lead audit partner has to be rotated every 5 years, the motion can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Ad hoc (shareholders)	Against	Since no information in this respect can be provided in the run-up to the general meeting, only a general power of attorney could be issued in this instance. Since it is not possible to evaluate any proposals, critical scrutiny must be recommended at this juncture. However, it should be noted that abstaining is not useful since chance majorities cannot be avoided in this way. To avoid chance majorities, a critical evaluation must be performed here. We therefore vote against this form of motion.

2022 Remuneration of Gianguido Girotti, Deputy CEO	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The remuneration structure lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The Company's decision not to grant LTIP awards in FY2022, as well as concerns regarding ongoing LTI plans, including the lack of incentive limits and that the performance and vesting period are less than three years, was the source of significant shareholder dissent at last year's AGM and the Company has not disclosed any actions taken to remedy this. The remuneration structure allows for vesting of awards in under 3 years The Company also did not grant performance shares to the deputy CEO in the past fiscal year, the last grant being made in March 2021. This is contrary to both French and international best practices, where yearly grants subject to three year performance conditions are the norm. The Company lags behind market peers on disclosure of key details of its executive remuneration policy, such as incentive limits and the composition of the peer group under the 2021 long-term incentive plan and the specific qualitative metrics that will be assessed under the short-term incentive plan. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

2022 Remuneration of Jean-Paul Chapeleau, Former Deputy CEO (Until June 17, 2022)	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The remuneration structure lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The Company's decision not to grant LTIP awards in FY2022, as well as concerns regarding ongoing LTI plans, including the lack of incentive limits and that the performance and vesting period are less than three years, was the source of significant shareholder dissent at last year's AGM and the Company has not disclosed any actions taken to remedy this. The remuneration structure allows for vesting of awards in under 3 years The Company lags behind market peers on disclosure of key details of its executive remuneration policy, such as incentive limits and the composition of the peer group under the 2021 long-term incentive plan and the specific qualitative metrics that will be assessed under the short-term incentive plan. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Elect Anne Leitzgen	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Anne Leitzgen. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Louis-Claude Roux	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee Louis-Claude Roux. However, the AFEP-MEDEF Corporate Governance Code recommends that the board determines gender diversity objectives for the company's governing bodies. Specifically, the executive management shall present measures for implementing the objectives to the board and it shall inform the board each year of the results achieved in the company's corporate governance report. While the Company has not disclosed that it has deviated from the recommendation from the Code, it has not provided sufficient disclosure on gender diversity objectives for its governance bodies. Given that this failure to sufficiently establish and report on forward-looking gender diversity targets for its governing bodies is not in line with market best practice or the Code that the Company refers to, it is reasonable to hold the governance committee chair (or equivalent) accountable. In this case, nominee Louis-Claude Roux is the only member of of the governance committee to have an equivalent role. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. Additionally, the authority can serve as an anti-takeover device. As these issues are against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Performance Shares	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. While the level of dilution for the proposed plan is acceptable, the following issues regarding the issuance of performance shares to corporate officers should be noted: None of the Company's variable incentive plans are subject to bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The remuneration structure allows for vesting of awards in under 3 years. The Company has failed to explicitly tie grants for executives to stringent performance conditions. The Company lags behind market peers on disclosure of key details of its executive remuneration policy, such as whether executives will be granted awards under the long-term incentive plan in the upcoming fiscal year and the specific qualitative metrics that will be assessed under the short-term incentive plan. Further, the Company has not disclosed the performance metrics for the LTIP, simply stating that the final allocation of shares to executives will be subject to the fulfillment of performance conditions determined by the board of directors relating to share price performance and the achievement of operating targets. As such, it is also not clear if the LTIP includes any ESG criteria. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Currently, employees do not hold a significant portion of the Company's share capital. Therefore, if the proposed plan is fully implemented, employee shareholdings would remain reasonable and in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Cancel Shares and Reduce Capital	For	This is a routine request in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authorisation of Legal Formalities	For	This is a routine legal formality in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	For	Although policy does not require that the board chair be an independent director, this proposal is largely focused on the separation of the roles of chair and CEO. Moreover, the shareholder proponent has put forth adequate justification for their proposal. Such a proposal enhances shareholders rights and is not considered detrimental financially or structurally. Therefore, we are supporting this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Non-Discrimination Audit	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPR"). NCPPR has a history of submitting shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NCPPR describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPR, the Free Enterprise Project, routinely engages companies on issues such as healthcare, immigration, gun rights, energy, taxes, religious freedom, media bias, corporate free speech, and ideological diversity, among other issues, often by questioning executives at annual meetings or through the submission of shareholder proposals. In this case, the proponent has provided a sufficient rationale as to why the Company should expend the potentially significant resources to undertake the requested audit. Further, there is no reason to suspect nor has the proponent provided any evidence to suggest that the Company's current DEI policies have impacted "civil rights, non-discrimination and returns to merit" or impacted those issues with respect to the Company's business as suggested by the proponent. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Allowing Beneficial Owners to Call Special Meetings	Against	This proposal is requesting that the Company allow street name shareholders the same rights as non-street name shareholders the ability to call a special meeting. Requiring that a shareholder be or become a shareholder of record prior to calling a special meeting is not an unduly burdensome undertaking. It is not evident that the Company's current requirements deviate from the common practice of most companies or that they present a significant restriction on shareholders wishing to call a special meeting. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. Amendments to Article 6	Against	The Company's articles of association provide the possibility for shareholders who hold their shares for at least two years to be entitled to double voting rights (so-called loyalty shares). In this case, the proposed amendment would further entrench the rights of current holders of loyalty shares, expanding on the cases when shares can be transferred without losing the right to increased voting rights, which is not in line with policy. As such, we are voting against this proposal.

Directors' liability action	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. As a result, it is recommended to view this item in a non-critical fashion should it occur. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Amendments to the Articles of Association: Virtual general meeting	Against	The amendment to the Articles of Association provides for the possibility of a virtual general meeting. Advisory vote on the remuneration report for the 2022 financial year	Against	The current remuneration system does not include any ESG criteria, share ownership guidelines or clawback. In addition, "share ownership guidelines" will be introduced from 2023 onwards. However, the company still does not disclose the management remuneration broken down by member, except for the highest individual remuneration. 2022 Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. The Company's CEO receives remuneration that out-paces the compensation given to CEOs at similar firms, both in terms of market and industry peers. This discrepancy is largely attributable to the size of his long-term incentive grants and payouts. This is particularly concerning in light of the Company's modest performance in fiscal year 2022. Executive remuneration is not published individually. The remuneration structure lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The payout limit under the long-term incentive plan for the CEO increased by 33.3%, to 180%-200% of base salary (previously 140%-150% of salary), which may further misalign pay and performance. The CEO's STI plan presents a sustainability metric including the Company's internal CSR plan as well as a digitalisation, IT and Group safety metric, each weighing 6.65% of the overall annual bonus. In the past fiscal year, the aforementioned metrics each vested at 90% of maximum opportunity. The Company recorded two fatalities in 2022 (none in 2021). 2023 Remuneration Policy (Outgoing CEO Until June 22, 2023)	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The proposed remuneration policy lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. Under the terms of the short term incentive plan, 100% of the awards vest based on a single trigger, which requires only the appointment of a new CEO. Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Global Ceiling on Capital Increases and Debt Issuances	Against	In general, the setting of global limits for issuances should be viewed in a positive fashion, as it serves as an additional level of protection for shareholders' interests, by minimizing the potentially significant dilution of a series of issuance requests to a fixed level. However, if approved this authority would represent a potential cumulative capital increase of 39.8% of share capital for all share issuances, which exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 29.8% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights. As this exceeds the limit set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Consideration for Contributions In Kind	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 9.9% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 39.8% for all share issuances. As the global ceiling exceeds the cumulative limit for all share issuances set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Case of Exchange Offers	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 9.9% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 39.8% for all share issuances. Authority to Set Offering Price of Shares	Against	This proposal seeks shareholder authority to issue securities without preemptive rights at a 10% discount, so long as the increases do not exceed 10% of their share capital in any 24-month period. In this case, the proposed discount specifically applies to proposals 21 and 22, which seek authority to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which is line with the limit for share issuances without preemptive rights set by policy. However, in total, the Company's proposed capital increases are subject to a cumulative limit of 39.8% of share capital, which exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Greenshoe	Against	This authority grants the Company the flexibility to increase an over-subscribed issuance by up to 15%, so long as such increase takes place on the same terms and within thirty days of the initial issuance. In this case, the proposed greenshoe is subject to a cumulative limit of 39.8% of share capital for all share issuances, which exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Grant Stock Options	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. While the level of dilution for the proposed plan is acceptable, the following issues regarding the issuance of options to corporate officers under the LTIP should be noted: None of the Company's variable incentive plans are subject to bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The Company has failed to disclose the minimum vesting period for these awards. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Performance Shares	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. While the level of dilution for the proposed plan is acceptable, the following issues regarding the issuance of performance shares to corporate officers under the LTIP should be noted: None of the Company's variable incentive plans are subject to bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The Company has failed to provide sufficient information regarding the equity award determination process for these awards. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Currently, employees do not hold a significant portion of the Company's share capital. Therefore, if the proposed plan is fully implemented, employee shareholdings would remain reasonable and in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Cancel Shares and Reduce Capital	For	This is a routine request in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authorisation of Legal Formalities	For	This is a routine legal formality in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Elect Javed Ahmed	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Javed Ahmed. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. The Company has failed to disclose the report, we are voting against the re-election of this director.

Amendment to Articles to Limit the Liability of Certain Officers	Against	Directors should be held to the highest standard when carrying out their duties to shareholders. The proposed amendment essentially removes liability for an officer's breach of his or her duty of care. Such protections are not in line with policy. Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	For	Although policy does not require that the board chair be an independent director, this proposal is largely focused on the separation of the roles of chair and CEO. Dividend Policy	Not voted	This resolution is a routine formality in this market.
Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Ratification of Board Acts	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to current member of the Board of Directors and Chief Executive Officer at the company. In the absence of any evidence of improper or illegal behaviour on the part of the Board of Directors and Chief Executive Officer, one should view these items as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. Specifically, the Company's chief executive receives remuneration that out-paces the compensation given to chief executives at similar firms. This discrepancy is largely attributable to the value of vested long-term incentive awards. With an annual grant value of US$12 million, and a maximum opportunity of 200% of the target remuneration, the aforementioned criteria could result in a maximum opportunity of approximately US$ 24 million for the CEO, which could potentially outpace the grants allocated by companies of a similar size and scope in the Dutch market. The LTI does not include ESG criteria There is a potential mismatch between the Company and its peer group. As of March 24, 2023, a number of companies selected have market capitalisations more than three times that of the Company's. Indeed, the average market capitalisation of the 2022 peer group at the aforementioned date was approximately €39.12 billion (based on conversion rate on March 22, 2023), while the Company's was around €17.14 billion. The choice of a peer group whose average capitalisation is more than twice the size of the Company's is not an appropriate yardstick to measure the competitiveness of the CEO's remuneration. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Equity Compensation Plan	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. In principle, an acceptable dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of the share capital. However, as noted in Proposal 3a, the Company's chief executive receives remuneration that out-paces the compensation given to chief executives at similar firms. This discrepancy is largely attributable to the value of vested long-term incentive awards. With an annual grant value of US$12 million, and a maximum opportunity of 200% of the target remuneration, the aforementioned criteria could result in a maximum opportunity of approximately US$ 24 million for the CEO, which could potentially outpace the grants allocated by companies of a similar size and scope in the Dutch market. Given this problematic issue with the proposed equity plan, we are voting against this proposal.

Approve Scheme of Arrangement	For	The Company has provided a strong rationale for the potential benefits of the Transaction, particularly the significant exposure of the Company to North America, with 75% of its EBITDA being generated there, and that a US listing will facilitate further growth and funding in the region. Further, the proposal will result in access to a larger pool of US-based investor capital and the potential for inclusion in US equity indices. In addition, the Company will continue to be subject to reasonably robust governance restrictions and the Company's articles of association remain largely unchanged beyond a number of amendments intended to facilitate the Transaction. Given these considerations, the Transaction appears to be in the long-term interests of the Company and shareholders. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Amendments to Articles (Share Redemption)	Against	The board states that market repurchases of shares by way of redemption is the usual means by which shares are repurchased by Irish companies listed on the NYSE pursuant to share repurchase programmes, as it allows these repurchases to be effected without the requirement for separate shareholder authority at the AGM that would otherwise be needed for acquisitions on overseas markets. However, the Company will continue to be traded on the London Stock Exchange post-Transaction. The proposed amendment will reduce shareholder rights and a cogent rationale for such a reduction has not been provided. As such, and recognising the Transaction is not conditional upon approval of this proposal, we are voting against this proposal.
Scheme of Arrangement (Settlement System Migration)	For	The Company has provided a strong rationale for the potential benefits of the Transaction, particularly the significant exposure of the Company to North America, with 75% of its EBITDA being generated there, and that a US listing will facilitate further growth and funding in the region. Further, the proposal will result in access to a larger pool of US-based investor capital and the potential for inclusion in US equity indices. In addition, the Company will continue to be subject to reasonably robust governance restrictions and the Company's articles of association remain largely unchanged beyond a number of amendments intended to facilitate the Transaction. Given these considerations, the Transaction appears to be in the long-term interests of the Company and shareholders. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Grant of 18,000,000 Options to CAI Dongchen under the Share Option Scheme	Against	While the proposed dilution is in line with policy, the following issues should be noted: Performance Targets: The awards granted under the Scheme are not linked to any performance targets. Further, a lack of performance targets for stock option plans is common in Hong Kong. Range of Participants: The scheme allows the grant of share options to a broad range of participants, such as such as consultant, professionals, advisers. Options should be granted as a form of compensation to people who directly contribute to the company's operations and/or performance and should serve to encourage the grantees to protect and improve shareholder value. As such, it is appropriate for executive directors and employees to be the sole recipients of these awards. Given the current broad range of participants allowed under the proposed scheme, the board may abuse its authority and serve its own interests by granting options to a party of the Company who has an affiliation with the board or the Company. Change of Control Provision: The rules of the Scheme includes a provision that provides for accelerated vesting of options, to the extent vested and not already exercised, if the Company changes control. This provision may discourage potential buyers from making an offer for the Company both because the purchase price will be higher and because substantial numbers of employees may earn significant amounts of money and decide to leave their positions with the Company. In short, this sort of provision may not only lower the chances of a deal, but will possibly also lower the premium paid to shareholders in a takeover transaction. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposed issuance.

Grant of 50,000,000 Options to the Management Grantees under the Share Option Scheme	Against	While the proposed dilution outlined as a result of these grants is in line with policy, the following issues with the related plan should be noted: Performance Targets: The awards granted under the Scheme are not linked to any performance targets. Whitewash Waiver	Against	Whitewash waivers are instituted as a shareholder safeguard in the event that a major shareholder sought a larger stake in the Company, possibly to the detriment of other shareholders. In this instance, the passage of the whitewash waiver is a condition to the successful completion of the proposed grants. Considering that the proposed issuances and grants outlined in Proposals 1 and 2 are contrary to policy, we are voting against this connected proposal.

However, shareholders of Taiwanese companies who vote via proxy technically may not exercise their voting rights preemptively for any extraordinary motions raised at the general meeting of shareholders. Instead, proxies have full authority to exercise their discretion in supporting or opposing any such motions. As granting unfettered discretion is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The proposed LTI plan lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The Company has failed to implement a performance based long-term incentive plan. There are some critical issues such as: The proposed plan lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The proposed plan is not performance based, with awards vested linked to a share price hurdle. The plan is not linked to any ESG indicators. Consequently we are voting against this proposal.

Approval of the 2023 Long-Term Incentive Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Lobbying Activity Alignment with the Paris Agreement	For	In this case, the proposal is requesting that the Company provide information concerning how its lobbying activities, both directly and through trade associations, align with the Paris Agreement's goal of limiting average global warming to well below 2°C. Upon review, the Company has provided reasonable disclosure regarding its lobbying and electioneering spending process, policies, and expenditures and regarding the alignment of those activities with its climate objectives. The Company's recent lobbying report provides information concerning how its direct lobbying is aligned with its climate goals and information concerning trade association positions on the Paris Agreement, among other disclosures. Nonetheless, requests for further disclosure are in line with policy. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Civil Rights Audit	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPr"). NCPPr has a history of submitting shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NCPPr describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPr, the Free Enterprise Project, routinely engages companies on issues such as healthcare, immigration, gun rights, energy, taxes, religious freedom, media bias, corporate free speech, and ideological diversity, among other issues, often by questioning executives at annual meetings or through the submission of shareholder proposals. The additional disclosure requested by the proponent does not appear to be a prudent use of corporate resources or that it would provide any added benefit to shareholders. Moreover, while requests for a civil rights audit are generally in line with policy, this proposal has been labeled as "Anti-ESG" due to the shareholder proponent. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Approve CEO Compensation	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. While the proposed dilution is within policy limits, the following issues should be noted: Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance criteria. Furthermore, only 40% of the grant is performance-based. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The Company does not appear to utilize an objective, formula-based approach to setting compensation levels. The Company has an ongoing share repurchase program. In 2022, 2021, 2020, 2019 and 2018, the Company repurchased ordinary shares in the amount of $1,300 million, $1,300 million, $1,298 million, $1,278 million and $1,104 million, respectively and stated that it re-issued the repurchased shares to settle exercises of options and awards of restricted share units to employees and directors. At $20.5 million, the CEO's equity-based grant would rise in 2023, which is concerning given the comparative data and the general lack of description around grant-setting. The CEO, Gil Shwed, currently holds 24% of the Company's shares, and thus he already has a vested interest in seeking long-term growth in share value. As such, the need to add to his share of the Company by way an equity grant should be questioned here. Also, the continued share buybacks may raise the ownership percentage of the shares tied to the CEO's stock options proposed here. As mentioned above, the Company automatically adds each year to its equity plans a certain amount of shares to be available for future grant. This provision appears to absolve the Company of the SEC requirement to obtain shareholder approval when seeking to increase shares available under an option plan. This provision allows management to continually grant equity and dilute share value. However, the Company does reiterate its commitment that the number of company equity awards outstanding shall continue in the future not to exceed 10% of outstanding ordinary shares. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Amend NED Compensation Arrangements	Against	If approved, the equity grant to non-executive directors will substantially exceed the fixed fees. As this is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	For	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The LTI does not include ESG criteria. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Rescission of Majority-Supported Shareholder Proposal	Against	In this case, such concern was expressed via majority support for a 2021 shareholder proposal requesting the Company to substantially reduce the GHG emissions of its energy products (Scope 3) in the medium- and long-term future. The Company acted responsibly in response by developing its portfolio carbon intensity metric, which effectively acts as a Scope 3 GHG target. Given it has already taken action with regard to implementing this proposal, support for this proposal could significantly confuse Company efforts with regard to this matter. Moreover, voting in opposition to a given shareholder proposal, which all shareholders have the ability to do, is a far more prudent and effective way to demonstrate opposition as opposed to asking the Company, two years later, to halt or take back efforts already made in response to shareholders. Finally, as the original proposal that this request seeks to rescind is in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Medium-Term Scope 3 Target	For	This proposal requests that the Company set a medium-term reduction target covering the GHG emissions of the use of its energy products (Scope 3) consistent with the goal of the Paris Climate Agreement: to limit global warming to well below 2°C above pre-industrial levels and to pursue efforts to limit the temperature increase to 1.5°C. It should be noted that limiting Scope 3 targets to 1.5°C is stricter than required by policy. Scope 3 emissions are defined as GHG emissions, other than Scope 2 GHG emissions, that are consequences of the Company's activities but arise from GHG sources that are owned or controlled by other organizations. Setting Scope 3 targets, therefore, can be extremely challenging for companies that operate in the energy sector, as these companies are essentially selling carbon emissions. As a result, if not carefully considered, the adoption of such a target could significantly affect the way in which the Company operates, as, by necessity, it would mean that the Company would likely need to scale back its operations, which in no way would benefit its shareholders. The Company is a Climate Action 100+ Company and currently discloses its Scope 1, 2, and 3 emissions, maintains a net zero goal, and maintains a 2028 target to reduce its portfolio carbon intensity (Scope 1, 2, and 3). However, we decided to vote in favor of this proposal since we see mid-term targets crucial for a credible climate strategy. We are in constant dialogue with the company and monitor the transformation process very closely.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Recalculated Emissions Baseline	For	At present, a number of industry bodies have suggested recalculations of baselines in the event of a divestiture or acquisition, thus, providing this disclosure would be aligned with industry best practices and expectations. Additional information could benefit shareholders by allowing them greater insight into how the Company is meeting its climate targets. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Formation of Decarbonization Risk Committee	Against	The Company has four board committees: (i) audit; (ii) nominating and governance; (iii) management compensation; and (iv) public policy and sustainability. The public policy and sustainability committee provides oversight and guidance on, and receives reports regarding, environmental matters, including those related to sustainability and climate change, in connection with the Company's projects and operations. The committee also develops recommendations to the board in order to assist in formulating and adopting basic policies, programs, and practices concerning a range of public policy issues which include but are not limited to sustainability, climate change, and environmental protection. Moreover, both the audit committee and the management compensation committee oversee sustainability and climate change risks, as they relate to financial risk exposures and the Company's compensation policies and practices with respect to sustainability and climate change risks and opportunities, respectively. The proponent has not sufficiently demonstrated that adoption of this proposal is necessary to ensure that the Company properly mitigates the risks associated with decarbonization issues, particularly given the oversight already afforded to these issues. The proponent has also not clearly demonstrated that additional oversight is necessary at the Company or that its current level of oversight has been ineffective with respect to this issue. Finally, this proposal has been labelled as anti-ESG. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Just Transition Reporting	For	This proposal is requesting that the Company prepare a report regarding the social impact on workers and communities from the closure or energy transition of the Company's facilities, and alternatives that can be developed to help mitigate the social impact of such closures or energy transitions. Ultimately, further reporting on the matters raised by this proposal would be beneficial to the Company's shareholders, and stakeholders by allowing them to more fully understand the Company's considerations with respect to the future of its workforce and, in general, it is important that companies ensure the best possible outcomes for their workforces and surrounding communities. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Racial Equity Audit	Against	The Company recently completed an independent racial equity audit of selected initiatives and published the results on its website in March 2023. The proponent does not appear to acknowledge or address this independent audit or provide an argument as to why an additional independent audit needs to be undertaken at this time. Given this audit, as well as the totality of its other disclosures, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Tax Transparency	For	Tax avoidance can be extremely controversial and have received increasing attention from governments and regulators. As a result, a best effort should be made by companies to manage this issue in a way that considers all stakeholders. Although the Company has provided some level of disclosure on this matter and appears to be fully compliant with all current disclosure requirements, additional reporting in line with the GRI Tax Standard would provide shareholders with understandable information on which they are able to base assessments of the Company's tax-related risks. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	For	Although policy does not require that the board chair be an independent director, this proposal is largely focused on the separation of the roles of chair and CEO. Moreover, the shareholder proponent has put forth adequate justification for their proposal. Such a proposal enhances shareholders rights and is not considered detrimental financially or structurally. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. The Company has granted excessive one-time grants. The Company provided each executive with one-off special grants of over $33 million. The purpose of the grant was to reward the achievement of Product ARR which relates to its business transformation. The rationale raises the question about the utility of the regular long-term incentive program and its ability to properly reflect the goals of the changing company. Rather than providing additional, one-off compensation, the regular incentives should be revised to maintain their relevance to the strategy. The Company also stated that the one-off grants were designed to retain executives, but failed to disclose the retention risks. There is concerns over the impact of the one-time awards on the total award quantum. It is worht noting The Company's supplemental proxy materials include a commitment to not make any additional one-time grants during the three-year period covered by these transformational PSU.awards The LTI does not include ESG criteria. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Severance Approval Policy	For	According to policy, severance package payments should be limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Fossil Fuel Lending and Underwriting Policy	Against	This proposal requests that the Company adopt a policy for a time-bound phase-out of its lending and underwriting to projects and companies engaging in new fossil fuel exploration and development. This is the second iteration of this proposal from this proponent. At last years' AGM, the proposal, also submitted by the same proponent, requested that the Company adopt a policy by the end of 2022 in which it takes "committing to proactive measures to ensure that the company's lending and underwriting do not contribute to new fossil fuel supplies inconsistent with fulfilling the IEA's Net Zero Emissions by 2050 Roadmap and the United Nations Environmental Program Finance Initiative recommendations to the G20 Sustainable Finance Working Group for credible net zero commitments." At last years' AGM, this proposal received only 13% support. The alterations to the proposal were likely made in order to make the proposal less prescriptive and, as a result, gain more support from shareholders. Nonetheless, this request of the resolution is not significantly materially different nor has the proponent demonstrated that adoption of the resolution is necessarily in shareholders' best interests at this time. Requiring the Company to adopt policies that would restrict the companies that the Company can engage in lending and financing activities with could infringe on the Company's ability to develop plans and policies that it views as being in the best interests of its shareholders and stakeholders. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. There is potential overemphasis on short-term performance under the Company's remuneration arrangements and the uncapped bonus scheme which continues to apply to the existing executives, which allowed for an excessive awards during the year under review The LTI does not include ESG criteria. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Final Dividend	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect Laurence Hollingworth	Against	Nominee Laurence Hollingworth served as chair of the board and as a member of the compensation committee during the most recently completed fiscal year. The members of the compensation committee have the responsibility of reviewing all aspects of the remuneration program for the Company's executive officers. Authority to Set Auditor's Fees	For	The fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 66% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposal 19 exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authorisation of Political Donations	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. This is primarily technical item. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Share Option Plan	For	The SOP includes reasonable individual limits, set at 150% of base salary in any given fiscal year (200% in exceptional circumstances). In this case, the committee states that it has no intention to grant options to executive directors under the SOP and it will be primarily reserved for below-board employees; however, if that changes, performance conditions will be applied. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.

In the opinion of the Company's independent auditor, the financial statements and the directors' reports have been properly prepared in accordance with relevant accounting and reporting standards. Remuneration Report	For	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. Renew Proportional Takeover Provisions	For	This proposal requires the Company to consult with shareholders on partial tender offers. Such offers expose shareholders to the risk of being left with a minority interest in the Company and the risk of the bidder being able to acquire control of the Company without payment of an adequate control premium. Requiring the approval of a partial/proportional takeover bid by a majority of shareholders (excluding the bidder) protects the interests and rights of shareholders. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

In this case, the Company has not provided a compelling case for why shareholders should accept any limitations on their legal remedy, including choice of venue. Given that this restriction on shareholder rights was adopted without shareholder approval, we are voting against this director's appointment.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	For	Although policy does not require that the board chair be an independent director, this proposal is largely focused on the separation of the roles of chair and CEO. Moreover, the shareholder proponent has put forth adequate justification for their proposal. Such a proposal enhances shareholders rights and is not considered detrimental financially or structurally. However, the policy does not require the chair of the board to be independent. We are voting for the proposal after carefully weighing the arguments.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Retention of Shares Until Normal Retirement Age	Against	While policy strongly supports the linking of executive pay to the creation of long-term sustainable shareholder value, proposals such as this one are not the most effective or desirable way to induce change at target companies. Severely restricting executives' ability to exercise such a significant portion of equity awards until normal retirement age may hinder the ability of the compensation committee to attract and retain executive talent. Otherwise qualified and willing candidates may be dissuaded from employment at the Company if they believe that their compensation could be dramatically affected by financial results completely unrelated to their own personal performance or tenure at the Company. Moreover, as contemplated under the terms of this proposal, executives could be forced to wait for decades to realize the gains from their equity grants depending on the age of the executive and the determination of what constitutes normal retirement age and may also act as a barrier of entry to younger executives who may not be in a position to acquire these shares. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.

2022 Remuneration of Benoit Bazin, CEO	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to disclosed the benchmarking used for fixed pay setting. The remuneration structure lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. Under the terms of the short-term incentive plan, in 2022 the Company introduced compensatory over-performance for quantitative metrics. The over-performance of one quantitative metric can be used to compensate for under-performance in another quantitative metric. The board disclosed that it decided to introduce a compensatory option for the quantitative metrics in light of volatility of the environment in which the Group operates, which makes it difficult to forecast each metric. While the full payout for the quantitative metrics cannot be achieved if one metric lapses in full (in that case, the vesting would be limited at 60% of STI limit), shareholders may question the appropriateness of the Company's rationale when the STI plan vested at 98% of maximum opportunity in 2021 and at 75% of maximum opportunity in 2020. The CEO's STI plan presents an E&S metric related to the implementation of the CSR policy, which vested at 100% of maximum opportunity in 2022. This metric takes into account, among other CSR features, the Company's workforce safety, and in particular, the frequency rate of accidents with and without stoppage. The Company disclosed that the frequency rate of accidents with and without stoppage fell by 19% between 2021 and 2022. While this is an improvement, the Company recorded two fatalities in 2022. Further, the Company recorded four fatalities in 2021 and the CSR metric vested at 91% of maximum opportunity in the same year. It is reasonable to question the Company's decision to award such a high level of payout for the CSR metric in the CEOs' annual bonus when the Company has recorded multiple fatalities in one single year. As this is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

2023 Remuneration Policy (Chair)	Against	Pierre-André de Chalendar, the current chair and former CEO of the Company, retired from his executive position on June 30, 2021, but kept his role as non-executive chair of the board. The Company's decision not to grant any LTI awards to the former CEO in 2021 is understandable. However, the former CEO was granted 90,000 performance shares both in 2019 and in 2020 and 58,000 stock options and 67,000 performance shares in 2018. Shareholders may question the Company's decision not to prorate the 2019 and the 2020 LTI grants awarded to Pierre-André de Chalendar. The former CEO was awarded performance shares for a four-year period, while he had an executive role within the Company only for two years and half out of the four years for the 2019 LTI plan and for one year and half years of the four-year period under the 2020 LTI plan. Further, the Company has not disclosed any compelling rationale for its decision not to pro-rate Pierre-André de Chalendar's LTI awards granted in 2019 and 2020. In this case, the Company's performance assessed for the 2019 and 2020 LTI plan will only be partially related to Pierre-André de Chalendar's work, and will be affected by the Company's performance under the new CEO's management. While 94.3% of the performance shares granted to Mr. de Chalendar in 2018 vested in November 2022, the 2019 and 2020 LTI plans are still ongoing for the chair and will vest in November 2023 and November 2024, respectively. Given that the remuneration policy for the non-executive chair is not in line with best practice, we are voting against this proposal.

2023 Remuneration Policy (CEO)	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: While the Company has disclosed that it benchmarks the executives' remuneration against a peer group of CAC 40 companies comparable in terms of sales, workforce and market capitalisation, it has not indicated which companies form part of the peer group used for benchmarking. While in 2022 the Company set the CEO's LTI maximum opportunity at 270% of base salary, the Company has not established a limit in percentage of base salary under the LTI plan for its CEO for FY2023. The board only set up a limit in terms of number of shares for 2023; as such, the CEO may not be granted more than 75,000 shares under his 2023 LTI plan. The Company did not provide a compelling rationale for removing the LTI maximum opportunity as percentage of base salary. The CEO was granted 75,000 shares in 2022; as such, that number of shares granted to the CEO would remain unchanged in 2023; however, the face value of his LTI grant could increase if the Company's share price increases; thus resulting in an LTI grant that could have a face value significantly higher than 270% of base salary, which could result in a misalignment between executive pay and shareholder experience. Under the terms of the short-term incentive plan, in 2022 the Company introduced compensatory over-performance for quantitative metrics. The over-performance of one quantitative metric can be used to compensate for under-performance in another quantitative metric. The board disclosed that it decided to introduce a compensatory option for the quantitative metrics in light of volatility of the environment in which the Group operates, which makes it difficult to forecast each metric. While from 2023 the payout of the financial metrics in case of overperformance will be reduced from 60% to 54% of the STI maximum opportunity if one financial metric lapses in full, shareholders may question the appropriateness of the Company's rationale to introduce a mechanism that is not in line with market best practice when the STI plan vested at 98% of maximum opportunity in 2021 and at 75% of maximum opportunity in 2020. The board possesses discretion to adjust awards under both short- and long-term incentive plan, departing from the effective achievement level of performance goals. The proposed remuneration policy lacks bonus-malus and/

Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/ Preemptive Rights	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 20% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/o Preemptive Rights	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 20% of share capital for all issuances, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt Through Private Placement	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 20% of share capital for all issuances, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Greenshoe	For	This authority grants the Company the flexibility to increase an over-subscribed issuance by up to 15%, so long as such increase takes place on the same terms and within thirty days of the initial issuance. In this case, the proposed greenshoe is subject to a cumulative limit of 20% of share capital for all share issuances, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Consideration for Contributions In Kind	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 20% of share capital for all issuances, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Authority to Set Offering Price of Shares	For	This proposal seeks shareholder authority French companies to issue securities without preemptive rights at a 10% discount, so long as the increases do not exceed 10% of their share capital in any 24-month period. In this case, the proposed discount specifically applies to proposals 15 and 16, which seek authority to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights. Further, in total, the Company's proposed capital increases are subject to a cumulative limit of 20% of share capital, which is in line with the cumulative limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Currently, employees hold 8.8% of the Company's share capital. Therefore, if the proposed plan is fully implemented, employee shareholdings would total 11% of the Company's share capital, which may be excessive. However, in this case, it should be noted that employee shareholding have never been above 10% of share capital since the Employee Stock Purchase Plan was introduced, and that they have remained at approximately their current level for over a decade, i.e. 8.4% of share capital in 2012 vs 8.75% of share capital in 2022. Given the Company's history of a stable and acceptable level of employee share ownership, and the benefits of wide employee participation in a company's share capital, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Cancel Shares and Reduce Capital	For	This is a routine request in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendments to Articles Regarding Directors' Share Ownership	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authorisation of Legal Formalities	For	This is a routine legal formality in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

As such, it was possible to determine the routine nature of the business transactions discussed therein. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect Antoine Saintoyant	Against	As the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Additionally, the nominee attended less than 75% of the meetings held by the board in the past financial year, and the Company has failed to disclose proper justification, which is against policy. Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 47.6% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights, which if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposals 23-26 and 29, subject to a cumulative limit of 47.6% for all share issuances, exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 23.8% with Priority Subscription rights OR 9.9% without Priority subscription rights, which, if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposals 22, 24-26 and 29, exceeds the limit set by policy. Global Ceiling on Capital Increases and Debt Issuances	Against	In general, the setting of global limits for issuances should be viewed in a positive fashion, as it serves as an additional level of protection for shareholders' interests, by minimizing the potentially significant dilution of a series of issuance requests to a fixed level. Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The Company has not clearly disclosed the threshold and maximum goals under the STI. Awards under the long-term incentive plan appear to be eligible for vesting upon the achievement of one of two listed criteria. This either/or mechanism does not reflect a sufficiently robust approach to setting long-term executive compensation levels. Performance is best measured against a mixture of metrics based on blended overall performance without retesting. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.

Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Opinion on Climate Strategy	For	In this case, the Company has asked shareholders to vote on its climate strategy and the objectives it has set for 2030. Regarding this proposal in the context of the board's oversight responsibilities, the Company states that it is only seeking an advisory opinion as the subject of this resolution falls under the board's purview, and the resolution will not be binding either on the shareholders, who are not asked to take responsibility for approving or disapproving the Company's climate strategy as it is the responsibility of the board and general management. Further, the Company provides information concerning its response if the vote receives significant opposition. Namely, the Company states that if this resolution is not approved, it will solicit feedback from shareholders to examine the reasons, if any, that led them not to support this resolution, and will inform them of the outcome of this process and the measures being considered to take them into account. This view to engagement with shareholders on climate-related matters demonstrates responsiveness to this issue. The Company provides relatively robust disclosure concerning its climate considerations and risk mitigation initiatives. It also has committed to reducing absolute GHG emissions by 40% by 2030 for Scopes 1, 2, and 3 and it maintains a target to achieve net-zero CO2 emissions for Scopes 1 and 2 by 2030. Further, its near-term target, which is certified by the SBTi, is aligned with a 1.5°C scenario. Overall, the Company has provided thorough information concerning its climate-related considerations and provided shareholders with a basis to understand how it is managing its climate-related risks and opportunities. Accordingly, we are voting for this proposal.

Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Cancel Shares and Reduce Capital	For	The terms under which the Company intends to reduce its share capital are reasonable and do not violate policy. Further, this is a routine request in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 25% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights. As this exceeds the limit set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/o Preemptive Rights and w/ Priority Subscription	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. However, if considered cumulatively with the authorization to issue up to 25% of share capital with preemptive rights in proposal 25, the proposed issuances exceed the cumulative limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Case of Exchange Offers	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. However, if considered cumulatively with the authorization to issue up to 25% of share capital with preemptive rights in proposal 25, the proposed issuances exceed the cumulative limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Consideration for Contributions In Kind	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Amendment to the Employee Stock Purchase Plan	Against	This proposal is requesting that the maximum potential discount under the plan be increased from 15% to 20% and that the annual limit on the Company's matching contributions be increased from $7.5 million to $30 million. For context, the plan provides that employees may authorize the withholding of a percentage of their base pay (1-15% currently) to an account that may be used to purchase shares through a third-party administrator in the open market. The Company provides a matching contribution to this account in an amount sufficient to result in the employee receiving a discount (up to 15% currently, but if the amendment is approved it would be up to 20%) on the shares purchased. Once the Company contributes the maximum matching amount allowed under the plan, no further matching contributions may be made by the Company for the remainder of the year. While the plan does not have a dilutive effect on shareholders, the absence of per participant caps on share purchases and the fact that the plan is not intended to qualify as "employee stock purchase plan" under Section 423 of the Code is not in line with best practice. The absence of per participant caps has the potential of allowing a small group of individuals reap the majority of the benefit from such a plan. Further, given the intent for it not to count as a qualified plan under Section 423, certain legal requirements (such as individual caps for participants and limits for large shareholders) are not included in the plan terms. Given these concerns, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	Against	In this case, N. Thomas Linebarger as the CEO of the Company until August 2022 and will be continuing as the chair of the board without complying with a cooling off period of 2 years, which is not in line with policy. However, the policy does not require the chair of the board to be independent. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.

Discharge of the general partner for the 2022 financial year	For	There are no concretely identifiable breaches of guidelines that could prevent the discharge of the members of the general partner for the 2022 financial year or, in particular, of all members. The "greenwashing scandal" already came in for criticism last year. Investigations are still ongoing on this, but no final information has been available so far. No other serious issues have been added over the past year and Mr Asoka Wöhrmann has now left the company. However, this year's general meeting will be held virtually with the simultaneous use of questioning in advance. As far as can be seen, all rights are fundamentally preserved. However, questions must be submitted by duly registered shareholders or their authorised representatives by electronic communication no later than three days before the meeting, i.e. 12:00 a.m. by 11 June 2023. If the answers are permanently accessible one day before the beginning and at the meeting, the general partner may refuse to provide information on these questions at the meeting in accordance with Section 131(1c), sentence 4 in conjunction with Section 278(3) of the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG). Shareholders or their authorised representatives who are sent to the general meeting electronically have a right to speak at the meeting by means of video communication. Motions and election proposals pursuant to Section 118a(1) (2), number 3 of the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG) as well as all relevant types of information requests pursuant to Section 131 of the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG) may form part of the statements. On the other hand, the aim here is to improve the quality of the company's responses and the transparency to shareholders and to make it possible to be better prepared for the general meeting. Overall, however, this is not fully consistent with the guidelines, because the questions must be posed three days before the general meeting and therefore the right to ask questions and information in the general meeting is de facto limited to requests and questions on new issues. On the other hand, the Management Board cannot refuse to provide information on questions that have already been answered. Overall, the discharge should therefore at least be viewed critically. After considering the arguments, we are voting in favour of the motion.

Discharge of the members of the Supervisory Board for the 2022 financial year	For	There are no specific identifiable breaches of guidelines that could oppose a discharge of the members of the Supervisory Board in its function as a control body for the 2022 financial year or, in particular, of all members. The "greenwashing scandal" already came in for criticism last year. Investigations are still ongoing on this, but no final information has been available so far. No other serious issues have been added over the past year and Mr Asoka Wöhrmann has now left the company. However, this year's general meeting will be held virtually with the simultaneous use of questioning in advance. As far as can be seen, all rights are fundamentally preserved. However, questions must be submitted by duly registered shareholders or their authorised representatives by electronic communication no later than three days before the meeting, i.e. 12:00 a.m. by 11 June 2023. If the answers are permanently accessible one day before the beginning and at the meeting, the general partner may refuse to provide information on these questions at the meeting in accordance with Section 131(1c), sentence 4 in conjunction with Section 278(3) of the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG). Shareholders or their authorised representatives who are sent to the general meeting electronically have a right to speak at the meeting by means of video communication. Motions and election proposals pursuant to Section 118a(1) (2), number 3 of the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG) as well as all relevant types of information requests pursuant to Section 131 of the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG) may form part of the statements. On the other hand, the aim here is to improve the quality of the company's responses and the transparency to shareholders and to make it possible to be better prepared for the general meeting. Overall, however, this is not fully consistent with the guidelines, because the questions must be posed three days before the general meeting and therefore the right to ask questions and information in the general meeting is de facto limited to requests and questions on new issues. Election of the auditor of the annual financial statements and the auditor of the consolidated financial statements, interim financial statements	For	There are no indications that constitute a violation of the guidelines. Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report	For	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2021 and achieved an approval rate of 99.21%, while the 2022 remuneration report achieved 97.61%. The system as such complies with the guidelines and had been viewed uncritically in 2021. Transparency has also been significantly improved. However, it should be mentioned that the severance payment to Asoka Wöhrmann was over 8 million euros, which some market participants might find very high, especially since there are no final results on the allegations on greenwashing. However, the payouts are split over several years and are also subject to clawback and holding rules. Overall, the motion should therefore at least be viewed critically. Based on the overall picture, we approve the remuneration report, since the severance payment is high, but the structure of the remuneration system and this year's remuneration report as well as the formal structure of the severance payment meet our requirements.

Resolution on the amendment of Section 21 of the Articles of Association to include an authorisation of the general partner to hold virtual general meetings	Against	In this case, the approval period is limited to two years, which is to be welcomed. There is a brief explanation regarding under which conditions the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting. However, there is no written explanation of how the rights in the virtual general meeting are to be structured in the future. This motion should therefore be viewed critically. Remuneration Report	Against	The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However, the following issues should be noted: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The current remuneration policy of the Company outlines that the maximum opportunity under the STI plan should be 30% of base salary, and any exception should be approved by the board. In this case, the Company has failed to provide sufficient information to justify the size of the award. These concerns are compounded by the lack of disclosure around the performance metrics utilised to determine STI awards. The report does not provide transparency on chosen benchmarks. Camilla Benedetti's (Co-executive vice chair), and Rolando Paolone's (Co-CEO) base salaries increased by 21%, and 14% since the past fiscal year, respectively. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Currently, employees do not hold a significant portion of the Company's share capital. Therefore, if the proposed plan is fully implemented, employee shareholdings would remain reasonable and in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Therefore, if the proposed plan is fully implemented, employee shareholdings would remain reasonable and in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

To recommend, on an advisory (non-binding) basis, the frequency of future advisory votes on dollar general corporation s named executive officer compensation: please vote on this resolution to approve for abstain	Against	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal as it is contrary to both good corporate governance and the best interests of shareholders.
Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Cage-Free Eggs	For	Generally speaking, it is prudent for management to assess its potential exposure to risks relating to the Company's animal welfare policies. More specifically, the Company should consider its exposure to regulatory, legal, and reputational risk due to its animal welfare policies and practices. As has been seen relating to other environmental, social, and governance issues, including the treatment of animals, failure to take action on certain issues may carry the risk of damaging negative publicity. Moreover, as demands for increased disclosure of the management of ESG risks are in line with policy, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Length of Share Ownership Required to Call Special Meetings	For	In this case, the Company currently allows shareholders owning at least 25% of its shares for one year to call a special meeting. This proposal would eliminate the Company's holding requirement, thus allowing shareholders who collectively own 25% of the Company's shares, regardless of how long they have held these shares, to call a special meeting. Requiring a one-year holding period for those shares on top of its already onerous ownership threshold renders the Company's special meeting provision practically unusable. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Third-Party Audit of Worker Safety and Well-Being	For	There are significant concerns with regard to the Company's record of worker health and safety. The Company has faced a number of fines, inquiries and significant media attention on account of the working conditions of its employees, including several high profile violations of federal safety standards identified by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration ("OSHA"). In light of these very serious issues, additional scrutiny on the working conditions and treatment that the Company's workers face is warranted. This requested audit could provide some assurance to shareholders that the working conditions are being evaluated by an independent third party, which is especially critical at this time given the significant scrutiny on the Company's working conditions and its workers' safety. Moreover, requests for such disclosure are in line with policy. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Presentation of the adopted annual financial statements, the approved consolidated financial statements, the combined management report for the company and the group and the Supervisory Board report and the Management Board's explanatory report on the information pursuant to Sections 289a and 315a of the German Commercial Code (HGB), in each case for the 2022 financial year	Not voted	There was no vote on this agenda item.
Discharge of the members of the Management Board for the 2022 financial year	Against	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Management Board. This is not consistent with the guidelines and best market practice, which is why the discharge should be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Approval of the amended remuneration system for Management Board members	Against	Overall, the remuneration structure appears to be comprehensible. The adjustments are predominantly positive and more focused on ESG issues. However, the maximum possible remuneration for the Chairman of the Management Board should be 15.8% and 30% for other highly qualified Management Board members. The Supervisory Board determines the maximum remuneration in the context of setting the remuneration for the individual members of the Management Board. The maximum remuneration determined individually by the Supervisory Board is reported in detail in the remuneration report. As this is not further justified than being able to remunerate according to performance in the case of exceptional performance and is only comprehensible ex post, the motion should be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the remuneration of Supervisory Board members and amendment to the Articles of Association regarding the amount of remuneration	For	There are no indications that would conflict with this agenda item. The motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Approval of the remuneration report	For	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2020 and achieved an approval rate of 88.22%. As the system is consistent with the guidelines and furthermore is presented transparently, the motion can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Election of Supervisory Board members: Karl-Ludwig Kley	Against	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence of Karl-Ludwig Kley. However, this Supervisory Board member cannot be considered to be independent. As it is not in line with the guidelines for a non-independent member to chair the Remuneration Committee, this motion should be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Election of Supervisory Board members: Carsten Knobel	Against	Mr Knobel is to join the Board of Directors of Kühne Holding this year. As he is executive Chairman of the Management Board of Henkel, he may sit on a maximum of three boards according to the guideline. He will exceed this limit with the additional board membership, which is why we are voting against his election. Board memberships: Henkel (1+1), exec., Deutsche Lufthansa (1), Kühne Holding (1)

Election of Supervisory Board members: Karl Gernandt	Against	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence of Karl Gernandt. However, there are concerns regarding the number of boards he currently sits on. According to the analysis guidelines, no member in an executive position should sit on more than three boards in total. Due to his position at Kühne Holding AG, this member of the Supervisory Board should be considered as an "executive" (Executive Chairman); he sits on five boards, which is contrary to the guidelines. His election should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion. Board memberships Deutsche Lufthansa AG (1) Hapag-Lloyd AG (1) Kühne Holding AG (1+1) exec. Signa Prime Selection AG (1)
Rescinding of the previous authorised capital B for the issue of employee shares, creation of a new authorised capital B for the issue of employee shares under exclusion of shareholders' subscription rights and a corresponding amendment of the Articles of Association	For	As the potential dilution is low at 3.3% and employee shares do not constitute a breach of the guidelines, this motion can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Rescinding of the previous authorisation and creation of a new authorisation to acquire and use treasury shares pursuant to Section 71(1)(8) AktG with the option to exclude shareholders' subscription rights	Against	In this case, the company proposes a term of five years. This does not comply with the guidelines, which stipulate a maximum term of two years. This motion should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Rescinding of the previous authorisation and creation of a new authorisation to acquire treasury shares using derivatives, with the option to exclude shareholders' tendering and subscription rights	Against	In this case, the company proposes a term of five years. This does not comply with the guidelines, which stipulate a maximum term of two years. This motion should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the amendment of the Articles of Association to include an authorisation of the Management Board to schedule the holding of a virtual general meeting	Against	In this case, the approval period is limited to two years, which is to be welcomed. There is a brief explanation regarding under which conditions the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting. However, there is no written explanation of how the rights in the virtual general meeting are to be structured in the future. This is particularly critical as this year the run-up to the meeting is used for questions and at the GM itself only follow-up questions to answers already given and questions on new issues are possible. This is contrary to the guidelines. A critical view should therefore be taken of the motion. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Resolution on the amendment of the Articles of Association to enable the participation of Supervisory Board members in the general meeting by way of video and audio transmission	Against	In this case, the shareholders should also make a decision on a case-by-case basis as to whether they consider "legal restrictions, residence abroad, necessary residence at another domestic location, having to travel for an unreasonably long period of time or a virtual general meeting" to be good reason for members of the Supervisory Board to also participate in the general meeting by way of video and audio transmission. The virtual participation of Supervisory Board members in general meetings should be viewed very critically overall. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the amendment of the provision of the Articles of Association on entries in the share register	For	There are no criteria that would indicate a violation of the guidelines. The motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Election of the auditor and the group auditor for the 2023 financial year and of the auditor for any audit review of the half-year report for the first half of the 2023 financial year and other financial information during the year	Against	In this case, EY is proposed as the audit firm. According to the guidelines, it is a critical factor if there are pending proceedings against the accounting firm or the responsible auditor. In the recent past, E&Y had not automatically been viewed critically, as results from the auditor regulator APAS were not yet available. The latter had filed a lawsuit as a result of the Wirecard scandal and sought to have investigations conducted. Meanwhile, at the beginning of April 2023, it became known that penalties had been imposed by APAS. For example, EY must pay a fine and may not accept any new board memberships from companies that are of public interest for two years. This is based on the finding "that breaches of professional duty were proven during the audit of the financial statements of Wirecard AG and Wirecard Bank AG in the years 2016 to 2018". Existing board memberships, on the other hand, may be continued. Due to these circumstances, the motion should at least be viewed critically, even though the tender and appointment of a new auditor is a lengthy process that can hardly be changed in the short term. (cf. e.g. Börsenzeitung, 3.4.2023, "Prüferaufsicht straft EY für Wirecard") In addition, it is not possible to determine who the responsible auditor is on the basis of the report. On the one hand, the annual report states: "The auditor responsible for the Lufthansa Group at Ernst & Young GmbH Wirtschaftsprüfungsgesellschaft is Siegfried Keller. He held this position for the third time in the 2022 financial year." On the other hand, the audit opinion is provided with this information: "The auditor responsible for the audit is Jörg Bösner." Overall, the motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Approval of the consolidated financial statements and the annual financial statements for 2022	For	The annual report and annual financial statements are in compliance with the Group audit report. There are no reservations regarding correctness. There are also no indications that would conflict with an approval of this agenda item. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Advisory vote on the 2022 remuneration report	Against	The company has not broken down the management remuneration by member. In addition, the remuneration system does not include a "clawback" or "share ownership guidelines". This is not consistent with the guidelines. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Appropriation of financial result	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. In general, an acceptable distribution ratio is at least 20%. As the motion is in line with the financial situation of the company, this proposal of the management should be viewed as uncritical. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Discharge of the Board of Directors and the persons entrusted with management	Against	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against incumbent members of the Board of Directors or the management. However, some key transparency requirements have not been satisfied, and the following points are missing: Remuneration of the individual management members No participation in the CDP No age limit for members of the Board of Directors Insufficient independence structure (<50%) Due to some shortcomings with regard to transparency or non-compliance with certain governance requirements, the discharge should be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Amendments to the Articles of Association: Purpose	For	There are no indications that would conflict with this agenda item. We are therefore voting in favour of this motion.
Amendments to the Articles of Association: Replacement of the authorised share capital by a capital range	Against	According to the motion, the share capital may be increased by 37.4% in the form of the capital band. The subscription rights exclusions are also not cumulatively restricted to 10% of the share capital across all capital measures, which is also contrary to the guidelines. A very critical view should therefore be taken of this agenda item. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Amendments to the Articles of Association: Creation of additional conditional capital	Against	According to the motion, the share capital may be increased by 37.4%. The subscription rights exclusions are also not cumulatively restricted to 10% of the share capital across all capital measures, which is also contrary to the guidelines. Amendments to the Articles of Association: Shareholder rights, meeting of shareholders, communications	For	There are no indications that would conflict with this agenda item. We are therefore voting in favour of this motion.
Amendments to the Articles of Association: Venue of the meeting of shareholders and virtual meeting	Against	The amendment to the Articles of Association provides, among other things, for the possibility of a virtual general meeting. A period of more than two years (or no time restriction) is to be approved here. There is also no further, additional explanation of under which conditions the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting. Nor is there a written explanation of how exactly virtual general meetings are to be structured in the future. This motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Amendments to the Articles of Association: Board of Directors, remuneration of the Board of Directors and of the executive management, board memberships outside the company	For	There are no indications that would conflict with this agenda item. We are therefore voting in favour of this motion.
Amendments to the Articles of Association: Maximum size of the Board of Directors	For	There are no indications that would conflict with this agenda item. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Re-election of the Chairman of the Board of Directors: Juan Carlos Torres Carretero	Against	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence of Juan Carlos Torres Carretero. However, only five of the twelve members of the Board of Directors can now still be regarded as independent. According to the guidelines and best market practice, the Board of Directors should be made up of no less than 50 percent independent members. The structural independence of the Board of Directors and the election of any dependent members should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against this election.
Re-election of members of the Board of Directors: Xavier Bouton	Against	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence of Xavier Bouton. However, only five of the twelve members of the Board of Directors can now still be regarded as independent. Approval of the maximum aggregate amount of remuneration of the Board of Directors	Against	The total amount requested is 29% higher than in the previous year. In general, the structure of remuneration for all non-executive members appears appropriate. However, the remuneration of the executive chairman significantly exceeds the total remuneration of the remaining members. In addition, the variable remuneration of the executive chairman exceeds the fixed remuneration. In principle, according to market practice, only a fixed remuneration should be paid to the members of the Board of Directors in order to strengthen independence and the control function. Overall, a subdivision of the vote on the remuneration of non-executive members of the Board of Directors and executive chairman would be appropriate. The motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Approval of the increased maximum aggregate amount of remuneration of the Global Executive Committee for the 2023 financial year	Against	The management remuneration is not broken down by member, so the apportionment of it cannot be determined. This is contrary to the guidelines, and we are therefore voting against the motion.

It should be noted that in the opinion of the statutory auditors, the Company's independent auditor, the Company's financial statements and business report have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in Taiwan, 'Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and International Financial Reporting Standards'. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	Against	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. As the proposed dividend pay-out ratio exceeds 100 percent, we are voting against this proposal.
Amendments to Articles	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendment. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendments to Procedural Rules for Shareholder Meetings	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect CHUNG Tsung-Ming	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee CHUNG Tsung-Ming. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Additionally, given the information provided, the candidate holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (Chair - Dynapack International Technology Corp; Director - Vactronics Technologies Inc; Executive Director - Far Eastern International Bank Co., Ltd). Elect LEE Hsiang-Yun	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee LEE Hsiang-Yun. However, the Company has failed to disclose the gender of this director and the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity. As the lack of disclosure is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Elect LIN Cheng-Hsien	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee LIN Cheng-Hsien. However, the Company has failed to disclose the gender of this director and the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity. As the lack of disclosure is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Release of Non Competition Restrictions for Directors of the Company	For	Releasing the board of directors from these restrictions, which prohibit board members from conducting any activities that can be considered to be competitive with the business affairs of the Company, may lead to potential conflicts of interest for directors. In this case, the Company proposes to release its director from non-compete obligation with respect to their directorships in Companies in an unrelated industry, wholly-owned subsidiaries, controlled subsidiaries, substantial shareholders and their subsidiaries or joint ventures. There is no indication that participation in the operations of such entities will lead to conflicts of interest for directors. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Extraordinary Motions	Against	In Taiwan, many companies place an item for extraordinary motions on their proxy forms. However, shareholders of Taiwanese companies who vote via proxy technically may not exercise their voting rights preemptively for any extraordinary motions raised at the general meeting of shareholders. Instead, proxies have full authority to exercise their discretion in supporting or opposing any such motions. As granting unfettered discretion is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Elect Paolo Scaroni as Chair of Board	Not voted	Two nominees for the board chair position have been presented. It is fairly uncommon in Italy to have multiple nominees presented for the same board position.
---------------------------------------	-----------	--

Covalis has presented a slate including six nominees, the same number presented by the MEF. While Covalis declared that its intention was not disrupting the Company, it did express some grievance with the "opaque process" for identifying nominees. In Covalis' view, a "diverse, independent board" would reflect the Company's international nature and shareholder base.

If one of the nominees was not elected to the board, shareholders would only be able to cast a vote on the other proposed nominee. In any case, if no chair was elected by the AGM, the incoming board would appoint one among elected directors, according to statutory provisions.

Having reviewed the profiles of nominees Scaroni and Mazzucchelli (Proposals 007A and 007B), nominee Scaroni presents senior executive and industry experience, while nominee Mazzucchelli presents senior executive and capital markets experience.

However, while nominee Mazzucchelli is considered independent under applicable legal and regulatory requirements, nominee Scaroni is not.

While we supported the slate presented by Assogestioni, from a governance perspective, should nominee Mazzucchelli be elected to the board, he would be better placed to safeguard board-level independent oversight and serve as a better counterbalance to the presence of the CEO on the board. In the absence of compelling skills-based, strategic, or other arguments regarding the profiles of either candidates presented, the election of an independent chair may serve to ensure better oversight of executives and the setting of a pro-shareholder agenda at board level.

DO NOT VOTE: Proposal 007A - Paolo Scaroni

In Covalis' view, a "diverse, independent board" would reflect the Company's international nature and shareholder base. If one of the nominees was not elected to the board, shareholders would only be able to cast a vote on the other proposed nominee. In any case, if no chair was elected by the AGM, the incoming board would appoint one among elected directors, according to statutory provisions. Having reviewed the profiles of nominees Scaroni and Mazzucchelli (Proposals 007A and 007B), nominee Scaroni presents senior executive and industry experience, while nominee Mazzucchelli presents senior executive and capital markets experience. However, while nominee Mazzucchelli is considered independent under applicable legal and regulatory requirements, nominee Scaroni is not. While we supported the slate presented by Assogestioni, from a governance perspective, should nominee Mazzucchelli be elected to the board, he would be better placed to safeguard board-level independent oversight and serve as a better counterbalance to the presence of the CEO on the board. In the absence of compelling skills-based, strategic, or other arguments regarding the profiles of either candidates presented, the election of an independent chair may serve to ensure better oversight of executives and the setting of a pro-shareholder agenda at board level. In light of the above we are voting for the nominee Mazzucchelli presented by Covalis. Consequently, we are voting: FOR: Proposal 007B - Marco Mazzucchelli
Directors' Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

List Presented by Ministry of Economy and Finance	For	Given the Company's ownership structure - with approximately 47.23% of share capital held by institutional investors - together with the presentation of two slates, there is the potential for the list of nominees presented by the group of Institutional Investors to receive the most votes at the upcoming meeting. Amendment to Allow Exculpation of Officers	Against	Directors should be held to the highest standard when carrying out their duties to shareholders. The proposed amendment essentially removes liability for an officer's breach of his or her duty of care. In this case, the board has not persuasively demonstrated the need for the proposed provisions, which are not in line with best practice or policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	Against	The Company has stated that, effective at its upcoming AGM, the Company's current president will succeed Mr. Mussallem as CEO. Although the roles of chair and CEO will be separated in practice, this proposal is largely focused on the separation of the roles of chair and CEO in the future, which is in line with policy. Moreover, the shareholder proponent has put forth adequate justification for their proposal. Such a proposal enhances shareholders rights and is not considered detrimental financially or structurally. However, the policy does not require the chair of the board to be independent. As the company has changed their corporate governance with regard to the separation of CEO and chair role, we are voting against this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria. The Company's short-term remuneration exceeds the long-term remuneration. The report does not provide transparency on chosen benchmarks. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
2023 Performance Share Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.

While the level of dilution for the proposed plan is acceptable, the following issues regarding the Performance Share Plan 2021 and 2022 plan should be noted: Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria, which is solely based on relative TSR. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Amendments to Articles	For	The proposed changes are unlikely to have a significant effect on shareholders' interests and do not otherwise violate policy, As a result, we are voting for this proposal.
Charitable Donations	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. This is primarily technical item. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Voting Rights	For	Overall, the proponent has generally failed to provide a sufficient rationale or a clear description of how the shareholders would benefit from these implementations. However, allowing one vote per share is in line with policy and generally operates as a safeguard for common shareholders by ensuring that those who hold a significant minority of shares are able to weigh in on issues set forth by the board, especially in regard to the director election process. As such, public shareholders are better represented if the outcome of matters up for a vote was not largely determined by the controlling shareholder.
		Consequently, we are supporting this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Removal of Multiple-Voting Rights	Against	Overall, the proponent has generally failed to provide a sufficient rationale or a clear description of how the shareholders would benefit from these implementations. Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. Fixed salary increased by more than 10% within one year without a valid reason. Specifically, Mr. Skovronsky's (Executive Vice President, Chief Scientific and Medical Officer and President) base salary increased by more than 20% during the past fiscal year. Advisory vote on the frequency of future advisory votes on executive compensation: please vote on this resolution to approve 1 year	For	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Advisory vote on the frequency of future advisory votes on executive compensation: please vote on this resolution to approve 2 years	Against	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Repeal of Classified Board	For	The proposed changes would have a positive impact on shareholder rights as annual elections are in line with good corporate governance practices and would allow for greater accountability of directors by shareholders. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal
Elimination of Supermajority Requirements	Against	Generally, supermajority vote requirements can act as an impediment to takeover proposals and impede shareholders' ability to approve ballot items that are in their interests. It is worth noting that in 2010 through 2012 and in 2018 through 2022, the board submitted proposals seeking shareholder approval to eliminate the supermajority provisions in response to several shareholder proposals submitted in 2007 through 2009. The board's proposal received the votes of a majority of outstanding shares but fell short of the required 80 percent each year. Ultimately, removal of supermajority voting requirements is not entirely in line with policy. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Lobbying Report	For	Adoption of the requested reporting would benefit shareholders by allowing them to weigh the risks of the Company's political involvement and indirect lobbying activities. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Simple Majority Vote	Against	This shareholder proposal seek shareholder approval to eliminate the Company's supermajority vote provisions, which is not in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Extended Patent Exclusivities and Application for Secondary and Tertiary Patents	For	This proposal requests that the board establish and report on a process by which the impact of extended patent exclusivities on product access would be considered in deciding whether to apply for secondary and tertiary patents for the company's products. This request is largely grounded in concerns regarding the impact on secondary and tertiary patents on the price of drugs. While there is scope for additional regulation concerning these matters, it is not clear that such regulation is imminent or that it represents a threat to the company's business at this time. However, proposals seeking further reporting and increased disclosure regarding public health would be a positive step for the Company and its stakeholders. As demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Company Response to State Policies Regulating Abortion	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPr"). NCPPr has a history of submitting shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NCPPr describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPr, the Free Enterprise Project, routinely engages companies on issues such as healthcare, immigration, gun rights, energy, taxes, religious freedom, media bias, corporate free speech, and ideological diversity, among other issues, often by questioning executives at annual meetings or through the submission of shareholder proposals. In this case, this proposal is requesting that the Company produce a report detailing the known and reasonably foreseeable risks and costs to the Company caused by opposing or otherwise altering Company policy in response to enacted or proposed state policies regulating abortion and detailing any strategies beyond litigation and legal compliance that the Company may deploy to minimize or mitigate these risks. Ultimately, adoption of this proposal would not necessarily benefit shareholders and could work against the proponent's stated aims, as additional disclosure on this matter could further exacerbate the issues raised by the proponent. Ultimately, the proponent has not provided sufficient evidence that the broad reporting requested by the resolution would serve to mitigate material risks or benefit the Company or its shareholders. Although requests for more information are generally in line with policy, this appears to be an anti-social proposal which is not in line with policy. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Lobbying Activities and Values Congruency	For	It is prudent to consider the potential reputational risks involved when political contributions are made to trade associations, candidates, or committees whose political actions appear to run contrary to a company's business interests or corporate values. This is especially true when political entities adopt social positions that do not appear to resonate with a company's stated values. A full disclosure of political expenditures would provide shareholders with an improved basis to evaluate potential risks that the Company may be exposed to as a result of its political activities. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Diversity and Inclusion Report	For	This proposal requests that the Company provide an assessment of the effectiveness of its diversity, equity, and inclusion efforts, specifically concerning outcomes using quantitative metrics for hiring, retention, and promotion of employees, including data by gender, race, and ethnicity. Although the Company's existing disclosures are relatively aligned with its peers, further disclosure would allow shareholders to better gauge the Company's human capital management related risks. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Third-Party Political Expenditures Reporting	For	Generally speaking, it is prudent to consider the potential reputational risks involved when political contributions are made to trade associations, candidates, or committees whose political actions appear to run contrary to a company's business interests or corporate values. This is especially true when political entities adopt social positions that do not appear to resonate with a company's stated values. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Resolution on the appropriation of net income	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. An acceptable distribution ratio is generally between 20% and 100%. Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report for the 2022 financial year	Against	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2022 and achieved an approval rate of 85.14%. Considering the shareholder structure, this is a relatively low approval rate. Overall, the report continues to contain vague formulations that do not allow any precise conclusions to be drawn. With regard to the system, there are the following points that are not, or not fully, consistent with the guidelines or may represent a weakness, which is why the report may also not be consistent with the guidelines: For 2022, the 2020 financial year, which was impacted by the coronavirus, is again not taken into account Performance-related bonus based only on one performance criterion (EBIT / operating EBIT) Performance-related bonus backward-looking Share price-related remuneration not described in great detail Special payments possible (e.g. also retention or profit bonuses or further share awards, special payments for exceptional reasons) Deviation G.1 & G.2, the remuneration of the Management Board member concerned is determined based on the current legal requirements. Further requirements and specifications are not considered appropriate at this point in time (GCGC No. G.1 and G.2) Deviation G.3 & G. 4, the Supervisory Board determines the remuneration of Management Board members at its discretion. No benchmarking studies are commissioned specifically for Elmos Semiconductor SE (GCGC No. G.3). There is no special analysis of employee remuneration solely for the purpose of Management Board remuneration (GCGC No. G.4). Instead, the Supervisory Board uses remuneration studies and comparative values of other companies and incorporates the known level of employee remuneration and the typical change over time into its considerations. With regard to analyses going beyond this, the Supervisory Board does not see the corresponding benefit for the increased expense. Deviation G.13, the Management Board contracts do not stipulate severance pay limits in the event of the early termination of Management Board activities. The motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Resolution on the approval of the Management Board's remuneration system	Against	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2022 and achieved an approval rate of 85.14%. Considering the shareholder structure, this is a relatively low approval rate. The system has not been improved in the points that have already been criticised several times and essentially the system changes involved the increase of the fixed salary, the adjustment of the total maximum volume of remuneration to a possible adjustment of the size of the Management Board as well as the multipliers for the performance-related bonus. The following points in relation to the system do not or do not fully comply with the guidelines: Performance-related bonus based only on one performance criterion (EBIT / operating EBIT) Performance-related bonus backward-looking share price-related remuneration not described in detail Special payments possible (e.g. also retention or profit bonuses or further share awards, special payments for extraordinary reasons) ESG not guaranteed as a criterion (possible) Deviation G.1 & G.2, the remuneration of the Management Board member concerned is determined based on the current legal requirements. Instead, the Supervisory Board uses remuneration studies and comparative values of other companies and incorporates the known level of employee remuneration and the typical change over time into its considerations. With regard to analyses going beyond this, the Supervisory Board does not see the corresponding benefit for the increased expense. Deviation G.13, the Management Board contracts do not stipulate severance pay limits in the event of the early termination of Management Board activities. The motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Resolution on amendments to the Articles of Association (inclusion of regulations on virtual general meetings and on the participation of Supervisory Board members without physical presence at the location of the general meeting by means of video and audio transmission): Addition of a paragraph 5 to Section 12 of the Articles of Association	Against	A period of more than two years is to be approved here. There is also no further, additional explanation of under which conditions the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting. Nor is there any written explanation of how the rights in the virtual general meeting are to be structured in the future. This motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on amendments to the Articles of Association (inclusion of regulations on virtual general meetings and on the participation of Supervisory Board members without physical presence at the location of the general meeting by means of video and audio transmission): Amendment to Section 13.1 of the Articles of Association	Against	In this case, the shareholders should also make a decision on a case-by-case basis as to whether they consider "virtual general meeting" to be an appropriate reason for Supervisory Board members to attend the general meeting by means of video and audio transmission. As we consider the physical presence of the Supervisory Board members to be essential for dialogue on the day of the general meeting, we are voting against the motion.
Resolution on amendments to the Articles of Association (inclusion of regulations on virtual general meetings and on the participation of Supervisory Board members without physical presence at the location of the general meeting by means of video and audio transmission): New version of Section 13.4 of the Articles of Association	Against	As a rule, the chairman of the meeting is authorised under the Articles of Association to impose reasonable time limits on the shareholders' right to ask questions and speak. As a consequence, in the case of a virtual general meeting, it should be explicitly included in the Articles of Association that, in the case of a virtual general meeting, the right to inquire and ask questions on new matters can also be appropriately limited in time. Even if this logical consequence seems understandable, this motion should be viewed critically due to the context of the virtual general meeting. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Ratification of Board Acts	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to current member of the Board of Directors and the Chief Executive Officer at the company. Elect Ignacio de Colmenares Brunet	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Ignacio de Colmenares Brunet. However, the Company has not published this director's CV (age) as is required by policy. In addition, given the information provided, the candidate holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (CEO/Chair - Ence Energia Y Celulosa SA; Director - Corporacion Financiera Alba SA). Lastly, as the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Use of Fiberglass in Wind Farms, Commitment to Hydropower Projects, and Energy Research	Against	This proposal requires the use of specific technologies or excludes some technologies at wind farms. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Climate Risk Assessment and Strategy	For	The Company faces significant risks as a result of increased regulation and investor scrutiny on account of climate change. The Company has taken steps to manage those risks. The Company provides meaningful disclosure concerning the initiatives it has undertaken in order to mitigate climate change-related risks, as well as its emissions. Further, the Company has set a net zero ambition, covering Scopes 1, 2, and 3 emissions. The Company's climate-related disclosure is also relatively expansive and in line with that provided by its peers. The Company has already set and published short-, medium-, and long-term reduction targets for Scopes 1, 2, and 3 emissions and has established a net zero ambition. Particularly in light of the Company's existing policies and targets (including its net zero ambition), the proponent has failed to sufficiently demonstrate why support for this proposal is warranted at this time. Intensity targets should be accompanied by absolute target. While intensity targets allow business to account for economic growth, absolute targets provide a more transparent metric of the total emissions to be reduced given the company's commitment. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Stopping Fossil Energy Resource Exploration and Providing Financial Assistance to Ukraine	Against	In this case, the Company provides significant disclosure on its exposure to the risks associated with climate change and its commitments to reducing its exposure to climate change-related risks and has short- and medium-term plans in support of its net-zero ambition, as described in more detail in Proposal 9. Further, the proponent has not provided any evidence of negligence or malfeasance with respect to the management of climate risks on behalf of management and the board. It would be a political decision to support Ukraine's infrastructure and the proposal is not immediately linked to ESG. It does not seem reasonable to support such a restrictive proposal, which moreover is not substantiated. Therefore, the proposal should be viewed critically. Thus, we vote against the proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Developing an Improved Process to Respond to Shareholder Proposals	Against	This proposal is requesting that the Company "develop a procedure for a greatly improved process to responding to shareholder proposals submitted at the Annual General Meeting." However, the proponent hasn't specified how the Company's processes could be improved or what change it is seeking. Further, the proponent has not articulated areas of concern with the Company's current process for managing shareholder proposals, and instead appears to take issue with the State's voting record and shareholders' inability to elect the composition of the board. Given the highly unspecific nature of this proposal and a lack of evidence to suggest that the Company has mishandled issues related to shareholder proposals, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Barents Sea Exploration	Against	In this case, the Company provides significant disclosure on its exposure to the risks associated with climate change, as well as its commitments to reducing its exposure to climate change-related risks as described in more detail in Proposal 9. Further, the proponent has not provided any evidence of negligence or malfeasance with respect to the management of climate risks on behalf of management and the board. It would be a political decision to invest to rebuild Ukraine and the proposal is not immediately linked to ESG. It does not seem reasonable to support such a restrictive proposal, which moreover is not substantiated. Therefore, the proposal should be viewed critically. Thus, we vote against the proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Move From Fossil Fuels to Renewable Energy	Against	In this case, the Company has provided shareholders with sufficient information regarding its renewable energy initiatives and the manner in which it is developing its business strategy in light of the evolving renewable energy industry. The Company has made plans to further implement renewables in its energy portfolio, which it discusses in its Energy Transition Plan). Moreover, the proponent has not provided any evidence of negligence or malfeasance with respect to the management of climate risks on behalf of management and the board, particularly given its recent reporting commitments and responsiveness to shareholder concerns on issues related to climate change. It does not seem reasonable to support such a restrictive proposal, which moreover is not substantiated. Therefore, the proposal should be viewed critically. Thus, we vote against the proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Formation of Decarbonization Risk Committee	Against	In response to this proposal, the Company states that the board and several of its committees actively oversee the development of the Company's strategy, including all matters related to decarbonization efforts. Further, the Company states that the "decarbonization risk" outlined by the proponent is one of many risks already incorporated into the rigorous risk oversight framework and processes overseen by the board and the relevant committees, and also well disclosed in Company materials The proponent has not sufficiently demonstrated that adoption of this proposal is necessary to ensure that the Company properly mitigates the risks associated with decarbonization issues, particularly given the oversight already afforded to these issues. The proponent has also not clearly demonstrated that additional oversight is necessary at the Company or that its current level of oversight has been ineffective with respect to this issue. Finally, this proposal has been labelled as anti-ESG. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Retention of Shares Until Normal Retirement Age	Against	While policy strongly supports the linking of executive pay to the creation of long-term sustainable shareholder value, proposals such as this one are not the most effective or desirable way to induce change at target companies. Severely restricting executives' ability to exercise such a significant portion of equity awards until normal retirement age may hinder the ability of the compensation committee to attract and retain executive talent. Otherwise qualified and willing candidates may be dissuaded from employment at the Company if they believe that their compensation could be dramatically affected by financial results completely unrelated to their own personal performance or tenure at the Company. Moreover, as contemplated under the terms of this proposal, executives could be forced to wait for decades to realize the gains from their equity grants depending on the age of the executive and the determination of what constitutes normal retirement age and may also may also act as a barrier of entry to younger executives who may not be in a position to acquire these shares. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Carbon Capture and Storage	Against	This proposal requests that the Company report annually to shareholders the net amount of carbon dioxide (CO₂) stored underground as a result of the Company's enhanced oil recovery ("EOR") activities. In its response to this proposal, the Company states that it has more than 30 years of experience capturing and storing CO₂ and has cumulatively captured more anthropogenic CO₂ than any other company. It also states that it plans to invest approximately $17 billion on lower-emission initiatives from 2022 through 2027, which is an increase of nearly 15% as compared to the amount it previously announced. Of its total investment, approximately 60% is focused on reducing the Company's own emissions and approximately 40% is directed toward building the Company's lower-emissions business with third-party customers, through commercializing and scaling carbon capture and storage, hydrogen, and biofuels. The Company further states that it has consistently advocated for sound government policies like enhanced incentives for carbon capture and storage and hydrogen. Ultimately, the proponent has provided sufficient evidence to demonstrate that the Company is not working in good faith toward its stated climate commitments or that the Company's existing disclosures do not allow shareholders to understand its goals and actions with regard to its carbon capture and storage. Moreover, this proposal has been labeled as "Anti-ESG" due to the shareholder proponent. These proponents have generally submitted proposals that address environmental and social issues and their aims are fairly clearly articulated in their supporting statements. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Methane Emission Disclosures	For	Although the Company has taken a number of steps to mitigate its methane emissions, these emissions represent a material financial, reputational, regulatory, and legal risk, and that shareholders would benefit from enhanced disclosure concerning the reliability of the Company's methane emissions disclosures. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Medium-Term Scope 3 Target	For	Managing and mitigating carbon emissions are important to ensuring long-term financial sustainability. In this case, the proposal is requesting that the Company set a medium-term reduction target covering the GHG emissions of the use of its energy products (Scope 3) consistent with the goal of the Paris Climate Agreement: to limit global warming to well below 2°C above pre-industrial levels and to pursue efforts to limit the temperature increase to 1.5°C. Currently, the Company has provided disclosure of its Scope 3 emissions but has not set a target for these emissions. Scope 3 emissions are defined as GHG emissions, other than Scope 2 GHG emissions, that are consequences of the Company's activities but arise from GHG sources that are owned or controlled by other organizations. Setting Scope 3 targets, therefore, can be extremely challenging for companies that operate in the energy sector, as these companies are essentially selling carbon emissions. As a result, if not carefully considered, the adoption of such a target could significantly affect the way in which the Company operates, as, by necessity, it would mean that the Company would likely need to scale back its operations, which in no way would benefit its shareholders. The Company is a Climate Action 100+ Company and currently discloses its Scope 1, 2, and 3 emissions and maintains a net zero goal. In order to reach Net Zero companies must decrease their carbon emissions in all scopes. Companies are responsible for the products they offer and they should not wait to start the transformation until demand for fossil fuels decrease. This will require a significant transformation of the businesses which companies should have started already. Therefore, we are voting in favor of the proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Guyanese Operations	For	The production of the requested report would help provide shareholders with reassurance that the issues raised by this proposal were being handled in a manner that served their best interests and would allow them more insight, without having to navigate a variety of websites and reports, a more thorough understanding of how the Company intends to mitigate safety-related risks with regard to its Guyanese operations. Given the Company states it already provides much of the disclosure requested by this proposal, the production of this report should not be overly burdensome. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Recalculated Emissions Baseline	For	A number of industry bodies have suggested recalculations of baselines in the event of a divestiture or acquisition, thus, providing this disclosure would be aligned with industry best practices and expectations. Additional information could benefit shareholders by allowing them greater insight into how the Company is meeting its climate targets. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Audited Report on Asset Retirement Obligations	For	This proposal requests that the Company issue an audited report that estimates the quantitative impacts of the IEA NZE scenario on all asset retirement obligations ("AROs"). The report should disclose, as the board deems appropriate, the estimated undiscounted costs to settle, in aggregate, related upstream and downstream AROs, and separately, identify both recognized and unrecognized amounts, as applicable. Generally, issues related to AROs could represent a financially material risk for the Company and its shareholders and that adoption of this non-binding proposal could provide decision-useful information for investors. Ultimately, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Addressing Virgin Plastic Demand	For	This proposal requests that the Company issue an audited report describing whether and how a significant reduction in virgin plastic demand would affect the Company's financial position and assumptions underlying its financial statements. There are risks to companies involved in manufacturing plastics and believe that it is important that companies make an effort to ensure that they are mitigating their contribution to this issue to the best extent possible. risks to companies involved in manufacturing plastics and believe that it is important that companies make an effort to ensure that they are mitigating their contribution to this issue to the best extent possible. Although the Company currently provides significant disclosures concerning this matter as well as information concerning the state of its operations under various energy transition scenarios, demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Environmental Litigation	For	This proposal asks for an actuarial assessment, omitting confidential information and prepared at a reasonable cost, of the potential cumulative risk to the Company from current environment-related litigation against the Company and its affiliates. Clearly, issues related to the Company's legal risks are material to both the Company and its investors and can play a significant role in shareholders' investment decisions. Although the Company is already mandated to provide significant information concerning real and potential litigation, whether it be environmentally related or otherwise. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Tax Transparency	For	Although the Company has provided some level of disclosure on this matter and appears to be fully compliant with all current disclosure requirements, additional reporting in line with the GRI Tax Standard would provide shareholders with understandable information on which they are able to base assessments of the Company's tax-related risks. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Just Transition Reporting	For	Ultimately, further reporting on the matters raised by this proposal would be beneficial to the Company's shareholders, and stakeholders by allowing them to more fully understand the Company's considerations with respect to the future of its workforce. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Special Dividend By Way of Distribution in Specie	For	Generally, distributing stock through a bonus issuance is beneficial to both a company and its shareholders: it allows the Company to retain cash while offering shareholders an opportunity to acquire additional shares without paying brokers' commissions or taxes applicable to normal stock transactions. Moreover, since the new shares will be allocated proportionally, the distribution will increase the share capital base and improve the liquidity of the Company's stock without causing dilution to existing shareholders. As this does not violate policy, we are voting for this proposal.

2022 Distribution of Remunerations	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Proposal of Amending the Company S Articles of Incorporation	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Proposal for the 2023 Issuance of Restricted Stock Awards	For	According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Proposal to Conduct Public Offerings of Ordinary Shares, Or Issue New Shares to Participate in Gdrs, Or Private Placements of Ordinary Shares, Or Overseas or Domestic Convertible Bonds	Against	This proposal would allow the board to increase the Company's share capital by 9.9% through the issuance of shares without preemptive rights. Here, the Company proposes to issue new shares through private placement at a discount of 20%, which is excessive may harm shareholder value. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Extraordinary Motions	Against	In Taiwan, many companies place an item for extraordinary motions on their proxy forms. However, shareholders of Taiwanese companies who vote via proxy technically may not exercise their voting rights preemptively for any extraordinary motions raised at the general meeting of shareholders. Instead, proxies have full authority to exercise their discretion in supporting or opposing any such motions. As granting unfettered discretion is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Elect George E. Deese	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee George E. Deese. However, according to policy, non-executive board members must be no older than 75 at the end of their terms. Additionally, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance STI criteria which is based solely on Adjusted EBITDA. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Frequency of Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation - 3 years	Against	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal as it is contrary to both good corporate governance and the best interests of shareholders.
Amendment to the 2014 Omnibus Equity Incentive Plan	Against	The proposed plan allows for the grant of both options and full-value awards. In delivering an equity compensation package, the Company would most likely use a lesser number of restricted shares than options to achieve the same monetary value. However, instead of providing a conventional full-value award multiplier only (also known as a fungible share reserve) where shares of restricted stock or performance awards count as a greater number of shares against the available pool (a positive feature), this plan reduces the pool available by 0.4 shares for all awards that are not full value awards. Such a provision may mask the true dilution and cost of the plan, as the share request does not account for multiple options to be granted before one share is counted under the plan for stock option awards. It is not acknowledges, however, that the Company has provided an estimate for the overhang if the Company granted solely options or SARs under the plan, which the Company does not currently do. When added to the 4,001,968 awards outstanding as of December 31, 2022, the approximate total overhang would be approximately 14.02% of the Company's outstanding shares as of December 31, 2022. This type of feature is extremely rare and widely considered to not be market best practice. It is questioned why, if the Company does not grant option awards, such a feature persists in the plan's terms. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Moreover, the nominee serves chair of the nominating and corporate governance committee. Shareholders voted on a shareholder proposal (Proposal 5 on last year's ballot) requesting the Company take steps to ensure that all of the Company's outstanding stock has an equal one vote per share in each voting situation. The shareholder proposal failed to garner the support of a majority of votes cast, but a substantial number of common shareholders supported this proposal, a fact that is obscured by the Company's multi-class share structure. The board failed to take action on this issue which impacts shareholders and the chair of this committee should be held accountable for this issue. Furthermore, the Company maintains a multi-class share structure with unequal voting rights and has not provided for a reasonable time-based sunset of the multi-class share structure (generally seven years or less). Multi-class voting structures are not in line with policy. It is believed that it is the responsibility of the chair of the nominating and corporate governance committee to ensure that the economic stake of each shareholder matches their voting power and that no small group of shareholders, family or otherwise, has voting rights different from those of other shareholders. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Consequently, we are voting against this proposal as it is contrary to both good corporate governance and the best interests of shareholders.
Approval of the 2023 Long-Term Incentive Plan	Against	This plan contains a so-called "evergreen" provision that has the effect of reducing or eliminating the need for management to come back to shareholders to authorize additional stock for the equity-based compensation program. The structure of this equity plan effectively wrestles away the only binding vote shareholders have regarding compensation granting practices, while giving the Company a more than abundant share reserve to draw from for the next five years. Moreover, the proposed plan permits the administrator to grant restricted stocks or other full-value awards in place of options. However, the plan does not have a multiplier in place to increase the reduction of shares with each restricted share granted under the plan, which is not in line with best practice. Further, the potential dilution to current shareholders exceeds the limits outlined in policy. Therefore, we are opposing this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Recapitalization	For	Allowing one vote per share is in line with policy and generally operates as a safeguard for common shareholders by ensuring that those who hold a significant minority of shares are able to weigh in on issues set forth by the board, especially in regard to the director election process. As such, public shareholders are better represented if the outcome of matters up for a vote was not largely determined by the controlling shareholder. Consequently, we are supporting this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Child Labor Linked To Electric Vehicles	Against	While increased disclosure around any child labour concerns are in line with policy, in this case, the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPR"). The NCPPR describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPR, the Free Enterprise Project ("FEP") describes itself as "the conservative movement's only full-service shareholder activism and education program: It files shareholder resolutions, engages corporate CEOs and board members at shareholder meetings, petitions the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) for interpretative guidance, and sponsors effective media campaigns to create the incentives for corporations to stay focused on their missions." This proponent has generally submitted proposals that appear to be focused on E&S issues on their face but are designed to frustrate the company's actions around ESG performance. Further, the Company maintains policies that prohibit its suppliers from using forced or involuntary labor or child labor, and has disclosed its grievance submission expectations, providing significant assurance in this regard. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Transparency and Minimization of Animal Testing	For	Requests for increased transparency around animal testing and animal welfare policies are in line with policy. Therefore, we are supporting this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	All of the necessary financial statements and reports are disclosed in the Company's meeting materials. It should be noted that in the opinion of the statutory auditors, the Company's independent auditor, the Company's financial statements and business report have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in Taiwan, 'Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and International Financial Reporting Standards'. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendments to Articles	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Non-compete Restrictions for Directors	For	Releasing the board of directors from these restrictions, which prohibit board members from conducting any activities that can be considered to be competitive with the business affairs of the Company, may lead to potential conflicts of interest for directors. In this case, the Company proposes to release its director from non-compete obligation with respect to their directorships in Companies in an unrelated industry, wholly-owned subsidiaries, controlled subsidiaries, substantial shareholders and their subsidiaries or joint ventures. KGaA for the 2022 financial year	For	The unqualified audit certificate of the auditor is available. There are no indications that oppose this agenda item. This may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the appropriation of net income	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. An acceptable distribution ratio is generally between 20% and 100%. Since the motion complies with the guidelines, this proposal of the administration may be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of the general partner for the 2022 financial year	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against the general partner. However, the company's development and forecasting reliability had left much to be desired in recent years, which was also reflected in a significant drop in the share price and relegation to the MDAX. Furthermore, after the departure of CEO Rice Powell, his successor Carla Kriwet was in office for only two months due to strategic differences, which does not seem like good succession planning. Nevertheless, with the departure of Stefan Sturm and the arrival of Michael Sen, there was also a change at the top of Fresenius SE, strategy changes and plans to return the partnership limited by shares at FCM to a public limited company after almost two decades. To what extent the overall circumstances of the last financial year can actually be attributed to management failures and in particular governance problems, or whether external circumstances such as COVID-19 were decisive, as well as the question of whether this should be reflected in the discharge, should at least be viewed critically by shareholders. After consulting with the equity analyst and taking into account the market environment, we are voting in favour of the discharge overall.

Resolution on the discharge of the Supervisory Board for the 2022 financial year	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Supervisory Board. However, some key transparency points and/or governance issues are not satisfied, and the following points are missing: Standard length of service for Supervisory Board members: "Furthermore, as a rule, the Supervisory Board shall not include more than two people who have already been members of the Supervisory Board for more than twelve years at the time of their election or appointment". This is not very specific and, in theory, also allows for very long terms of office for individual Supervisory Board members. Since we only reject Supervisory Board members after a term of office of 15 years or more, this item is not included in the discharge decision and we are voting in favour of the discharge of the Supervisory Board overall.
Election of the auditor and the group auditor for the 2023 financial year and of the auditor for any audit review of the half-year report for the 2023 financial year and other interim financial information	For	There are no indications that constitute a violation of the guidelines. This motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report for the 2022 financial year	Against	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2020 and achieved an approval rate of 95.05%. As the system is mostly in line with the guidelines and furthermore is presented transparently, the motion could be seen uncritically. However, the remuneration system lacks an ESG component as the performance criteria for the LTI are only oriented towards financial targets. For this reason, the system is not in line with the guidelines and thus the report on it cannot be fully in line with the guidelines either. A critical view should therefore be taken of the motion. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the amendment of Section 14 of the Articles of Association to include an authorisation of the general partner to hold virtual general meetings	Against	In this case, the approval period is limited to two years, which is to be welcomed. There is a brief explanation regarding under which conditions the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting. However, there is no written explanation of how the rights in the virtual general meeting are to be structured in the future. The motion should be viewed critically overall due to the scope of the decision. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Resolution on the change of the legal form of the company to a public limited company	For	After reviewing the conversion plan and the Articles of Association, there is an indication that the motion is being critically questioned, as a right of posting is included. Fresenius SE & Co. KGaA is entitled to send exactly one shareholder representative as long as it holds a stake of less than 30% but at least 15% of the share capital of the Company. In the case of a stake of less than 15% in the company's share capital, Fresenius SE & Co. KGaA has no right of posting. The rules for sending a representative are not consistent with the Company's guidelines. On the other hand, the dissolution of the legal form of KGaA and the triggering of Fresenius Medical Care from Fresenius seem useful and represents a significant simplification of and an improvement to the governance structure. In future, the Supervisory Board will have more rights and obligations, and this will ultimately give the participants at the Annual General Meeting more rights. Since the advantages of this change of form prevail significantly, the motion can be viewed uncritically, even if the right of posting should also be dissolved in the course of best governance. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the election of the members of the Supervisory Board of Fresenius Medical Care AG: Shervin J. Korangy	Against	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence of Shervin J. Korangy. However, there are concerns about the number of boards he currently sits on. According to the analysis guidelines, no member in an executive position should sit on more than three boards in total. Due to his position at BVI Medical, this member of the Supervisory Board should be considered as an executive; he sits on 5 boards, which is contrary to the guidelines. His election should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion. Mandates Fresenius Medical Care AG (1) The Hain Celestial Group, Inc. (1) Motus GI Holdings, Inc. (1) BVI Medical, Inc. (1+1) exec.
Resolution on the election of the members of the Supervisory Board of Fresenius Medical Care AG: Marcus Kuhnert	For	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence and suitability of Marcus Kuhnert. Resolution on the election of the members of the Supervisory Board of Fresenius Medical Care AG: Gregory Sorensen	Against	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence of Gregory Sorensen. However, there are concerns about the number of boards he currently sits on. According to the analysis guidelines, no member in an executive position should sit on more than three boards in total. Due to his position at DeepHealth, this member of the Supervisory Board should be considered as an executive; he sits on 4 executive boards, which is contrary to the guidelines. Presentation of the annual financial statements and consolidated financial statements approved by the Supervisory Board, the management reports for Fresenius SE & Co. KGaA and the group and the report of the Supervisory Board of Fresenius SE & Co. KGaA for the 2022 financial year; resolution on the approval of the annual financial statements of Fresenius SE & Co. KGaA for the 2022 financial year	For	The unqualified audit certificate of the auditor is available. There are no indications that oppose this agenda item. This may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the appropriation of net income	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. An acceptable distribution ratio is generally between 20% and 100%. Since the motion complies with the guidelines, this proposal of the administration may be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of the general partner for the 2022 financial year	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against the general partner. However, the company's development and forecasting reliability had left much to be desired in recent years, which was also reflected in a significant drop in the share price. The development of Fresenius Medical Care (FMC) obviously played a major role in this, whereby it in turn suffered from severe staff shortages in the USA, impaired supply chains and the consequences of COVID-19. On the other hand, the downward trend began earlier and the change at the top of Fresenius SE with the departure of Stefan Sturm and the arrival of Michael Sen as CEO did not come as a complete surprise. Shareholders should at least critically question whether the overall circumstances should be reflected in the discharge, especially since the block discharge would also affect Michael Sen (from 1.10.22) and Helen Ginza (since 6.12.22) as well as Sara Hennicken (since 1.9.22). After consultation with the equity analyst and consideration of the market environment, we are voting in favour of the discharge.
Resolution on the discharge of the Supervisory Board for the 2022 financial year	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Supervisory Board. However, some key transparency points and/or governance issues are not satisfied, and the following points are missing: Standard length of service for Supervisory Board members We are in close contact with the company and have raised this criticism in direct dialogue. Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report for the 2022 financial year	For	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2021 and achieved an approval rate of 92.23%. The commitments for the Management Board members leaving in the 2022 financial year are also presented transparently and it is explicitly mentioned for the severance payment to Mr Sturm that the severance payment cap according to G.13 GCGC was not exceeded. As the system is consistent with the guidelines and furthermore is presented transparently, the motion can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on approving the remuneration system for the members of the Management Board of the general partner	For	Overall, the remuneration structure appears to be understandable and does not violate the guidelines. This motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the amendment to Section 14 of the Articles of Association to include an authorisation of the general partner to schedule the holding of a virtual general meeting	Against	In this case, the approval period is limited to two years, which is to be welcomed. There is a brief explanation regarding under which conditions the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting. Resolution on an amendment to Section 15(3) of the Articles of Association to enable the participation of Supervisory Board members in the general meeting by way of video and audio transmission in the case of a virtual general meeting	Against	In this case, shareholders should make a case-by-case decision as to whether they consider "virtual general meeting" to be an appropriate reason for members of the Supervisory Board to be able to participate in the general meeting by means of video and audio transmission. Elect William C. Cobb	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee William C. Cobb. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Moreover, according to policy, executive board members must be no older than 65 at the end of their terms. Furthermore, this director will be serving as the combined Chair/CEO in the upcoming year, which is against policy. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election. Additionally, given the information provided, the candidate holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (CEO/ Chair - Frontdoor, Inc; Director- Deluxe Corporation). Ratification of Auditor	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. The aforementioned notwithstanding, and as stipulated by Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002/Title II, "It shall be unlawful for a registered public accounting firm to provide audit services to an issuer if the lead (or coordinating) audit partner (having primary responsibility for the audit), or the audit partner responsible for reviewing the audit, has performed audit services for that issuer in each of the 5 previous fiscal years of that issuer." In spite of this, we are voting for this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria. As part of its incentive arrangements, the Company provides for retesting opportunities. The Company has paid retention and sign-on grants. While the various grants are not clearly excessive, the Company has provided little in the way of specific explanations for the grants or their necessity. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect WANG Jisheng	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee WANG Jisheng. However, according to policy, executive board members must be no older than 65 at the end of their terms. Further, as the board of directors and the nominating committee do not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. In addition, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect LU Hesheng	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee LU Hesheng. However, according to policy, non-executive board members must be no older than 75 at the end of their terms. Further, as the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. In addition, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect HO Man	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee HO Man. However, as the board of directors, the audit committee and the nominating committee do not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. In addition, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. The policy also requires the audit committee chair to be independent. Moreover, this director serves as audit committee chair and the audit committee met an insufficient number of times compared to market best practice. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect CHEN Xin	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee CHEN Xin. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Directors' Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Appointment of Auditor and Authority to Set Fees	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor have been disclosed. Moreover, fees paid to the auditor are appropriate. However, as per market practice: The company does not publish how long the auditing company has already been in office. The company does not publish how long the lead auditor has already been in office. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 20% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights. As this exceeds the limit set by policy and the Company has not provided the maximum discount rate in the Company's disclosures, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum and minimum price has not been disclosed. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Repurchased Shares	Against	This proposal is conditional upon the passing of Proposals 6 and 7, which we opposed, and the Company has not provided the maximum discount rate in its disclosures, which is against policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Adoption of Amended Memorandum and Articles of Association	Against	The Company has elected to bundle these article amendments into a single proposal, which prevents shareholders from making an independent determination of each article amendment on its own merits. Many of the proposed amendments are primarily technical in nature and are intended to update the articles to reflect current regulatory requirements. However, this proposal also seeks to reduce the notice period for a special resolution from 21 to 14 days, as this authority, which may limit the ability of some shareholders, particularly those located overseas, from participating at a meeting in a fully-informed manner, due to their generally advanced voting deadlines. While this shortened notice period is permitted by the new Companies Ordinance, 14 days is insufficient time for shareholders to receive a ballot, weigh the issues and vote. Further, issues raised by special resolutions at extraordinary general meetings are by nature often more complex than routine annual general meeting proposals or ordinary resolutions of extraordinary general meetings, thereby requiring a deeper and more time-consuming level of review. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.

Amendment to the Articles of Association regarding the authorisation to convene virtual general meetings	Against	In this case, the approval period is limited to two years, which is to be welcomed. It is also noted that the protection of shareholders' rights will play a central role in the structure and implementation of the GM. There is also a detailed explanation regarding the conditions under which the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting, especially compared to many other companies. It is also explicitly clarified that shareholder rights shall not be limited in comparison to presence. However, since, among other things, the forwarding of questions and answers is not ruled out, we view the motion very critically. We are therefore voting against the amendment to the Articles of Association.
Amendment to the Articles of Association relating to the participation of Supervisory Board members in the general meeting by means of video and audio transmission	Against	In this case, shareholders should make a case-by-case decision as to whether they consider "obligations that cannot be postponed, reasons beyond control, service or residence abroad or virtual general meeting" to be an appropriate reason for members of the Supervisory Board to be able to participate in the general meeting by means of video and audio transmission. As we consider the physical presence of the Supervisory Board members to be essential for dialogue between shareholders and the Supervisory Board, we are voting against the motion.
Amendment to the Articles of Association regarding a clarification on the appropriate time limit of the right to speak and ask questions	Against	As a rule, the chairman of the meeting is authorised under the Articles of Association to impose reasonable time limits on the shareholders' right to ask questions and speak. As a consequence, in the case of a virtual general meeting, it should be explicitly included in the Articles of Association that, in the case of a virtual general meeting, the right to inquire and ask questions on new matters can also be appropriately limited in time. Even if this logical consequence seems understandable, this motion should at least be critically questioned due to the context of the virtual general meeting. Due to the rejection of agenda items 10.1 and 10.2, we are also voting against this amendment to the Articles of Association as a logical consequence.
Authorisation to acquire and use treasury shares and to exclude tender and subscription rights	Against	In this case, the company proposes a term of five years. This does not comply with the guidelines, which stipulate a maximum term of two years. This motion should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Ratification of Auditor	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. The aforementioned notwithstanding, and as stipulated by Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002/Title II, "It shall be unlawful for a registered public accounting firm to provide audit services to an issuer if the lead (or coordinating) audit partner (having primary responsibility for the audit), or the audit partner responsible for reviewing the audit, has performed audit services for that issuer in each of the 5 previous fiscal years of that issuer." In spite of this, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	For	Although policy does not require that the board chair be an independent director, this proposal is largely focused on the separation of the roles of chair and CEO. Moreover, the shareholder proponent has put forth adequate justification for their proposal. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Sale of Company	Against	While shareholders should have the right to vote on any merger, acquisition of or substantial disposition by the Company, they should generally not be involved in determining if or when to engage in such a transaction absent clear evidence of management and board intransigence leading to loss of shareholder value by not pursuing or preventing a takeover. Moreover, a board and management team that has been mandated to undertake a merger or the sale of a company will not be in a good negotiating position. As this is contrary to shareholders best interests, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Audited Report of Net Zero 2050 Goal	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPR"). NCPPR has a history of submitting shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NCPPR describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPR, the Free Enterprise Project, routinely engages companies on issues such as healthcare, immigration, gun rights, energy, taxes, religious freedom, media bias, corporate free speech, and ideological diversity, among other issues, often by questioning executives at annual meetings or through the submission of shareholder proposals. The additional disclosure requested by the proponent does not appear to be a prudent use of corporate resources or that it would provide any added benefit to shareholders. Moreover, while requests for a civil rights audit are generally in line with policy, this proposal has been labeled as "Anti-ESG" due to the shareholder proponent. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Audited Report on Net Zero Emissions by 2050 Scenario Analysis	For	This proposal requests an audited report addressing how the application of the IEA's Net Zero Emissions by 2050 pathway would affect the assumptions and estimates that underlie the Company's valuation and expected cash flow assessments. The proposal specifies that the report should address the Company's existing assets as well as planned investments in renewable energy, nuclear, and thermal power; and include asset lives, asset retirement obligations, and capital expenditures (including new material capital expenditures), as well as potential impairments. On its face, the proposal requests information for all of the Company's operations. The proponent's concerns with regard to the Company and its anticipated spin-offs' climate-related risks are understandable. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Corporate Operations with China	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Legal and Policy Center ("NLPC"), which has submitted shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear to be consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NLPC describes itself as a 501(c)(3) that "promotes ethics in public life through research, investigation, education, and legal action," and believes "the best way to promote ethics is to reduce the size of government." As part of the corporate integrity project on its website, the NLPC shares its concerns regarding "woke" corporate executives, for instance posting articles about inclusive content "devaluing" the Pixar franchise or about how the NLPC has reported Visa's chair and CEO to the SEC for ongoing "wokeness." The project also examines a supposed pushback against ESG initiatives, featuring pieces such as one describing corporate America's anti-racism programs as racist against white people and another promoting the NLPC's efforts to nominate a fossil-fuel-supporting director candidate to the board of Exxon Mobil Corporation. Further, the company currently has quite robust levels of disclosure regarding activities in China. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Right to Act by Written Consent	Against	Shareholders already have a number of mechanisms by which they may promote change, outside of a consent solicitation. Specifically: The Company allows 15% of shareholders the ability to call a special meeting; The Company has established proxy access rules whereby 3% of shareholders for 3 years are able to nominate director candidates to management's proxy; There is no poison pill in place; and The board is declassified and directors are elected by a majority vote standard. As a result, adoption of this proposal does not appear necessary at this time, as its existing rights sufficiently allow shareholders access to the board and the ability to take action in between annual meetings, should such actions be warranted. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Procurement Targets for Sustainable Materials in Supply Chain	For	The Company provides extensive disclosure of its sustainable sourcing policies, partnerships, and targets, and maintains board-level oversight of its responsible sourcing practices in its supply chain. However, as noted by the proponent, the Company is a member of the Global Platform for Sustainable Natural Rubber ("GPSNR"), with reporting requirements on deforestation and sustainability concerns regarding natural rubber, yet the Company has not publicly disclosed applicable information about its tire or leather deforestation risks or approaches to mitigate those risks, nor has it set related procurement targets. Moreover, although the Company recently joined the First Movers Coalition, an organization that urges companies to use their purchasing power to stimulate demand for low-carbon materials, it has yet to set purchasing targets for aluminum and steel aligned with the coalition's recommended targets. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.

Appointment of Auditor and Authority to Set Fees	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor have been disclosed. However, the fees paid for non-audit-related services exceed those paid for audit-related services. This raises concerns about the objectivity of the accountants in conducting the audit. Moreover, as per market practice: The company does not publish for how long the auditing company has already been in office. The company does not publish for how long lead auditor has already been in office. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

2024 Deposit Service Framework Agreement	Against	In this case, although it is a common practice in China for companies listed in Hong Kong to make deposit transactions through a financial arm of their parent company or within their groups, such pooling of the group's cash through an unlisted financial vehicle may give the parent company control over the listed company's finances. In addition, such practices may lead to lax lending practices within the parent group, potentially exposing the shareholders of a listed company to undisclosed risks. In this case, the explanation provided by the Company fails to justify the transactions or a compelling economic rationale. Elect Gordon M. Nixon	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Gordon M. Nixon. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Barbara G. Stymiest	Against	As the board of directors and audit committee do not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Additionally, policy requires the audit committee chair to be independent. Consequently, we are opposing the election of non-independent nominee Barbara G. Stymiest.
Elect Galen G. Weston	Against	As the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Additionally, this director will be serving as the combined Chair/CEO in the upcoming year, which is against policy. Consequently, we are opposing the election of non-independent nominee Galen G. Weston.

2022 Business Report and Financial Report	For	All of the necessary financial statements and reports are disclosed in the Company's meeting materials. It should be noted that in the opinion of the statutory auditors, the Company's independent auditor, the Company's financial statements and business report have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in Taiwan, 'Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and International Financial Reporting Standards'. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendments to Procedural Rules: Shareholder Meetings	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Non-compete Restrictions for Directors	For	Releasing the board of directors from these restrictions, which prohibit board members from conducting any activities that can be considered to be competitive with the business affairs of the Company, may lead to potential conflicts of interest for directors. In this case, the Company proposes to release its director from non-compete obligation with respect to their directorships in Companies in an unrelated industry, wholly-owned subsidiaries, controlled subsidiaries, substantial shareholders and their subsidiaries or joint ventures. There is no indication that participation in the operations of such entities will lead to conflicts of interest for directors. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Extraordinary Motions	Against	In Taiwan, many companies place an item for extraordinary motions on their proxy forms. However, shareholders of Taiwanese companies who vote via proxy technically may not exercise their voting rights preemptively for any extraordinary motions raised at the general meeting of shareholders. Instead, proxies have full authority to exercise their discretion in supporting or opposing any such motions. As granting unfettered discretion is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. To conduct an advisory vote on the frequency of future advisory votes on executive compensation - 1 year - one can only vote for one item 4a., 4b. or 4c. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
To conduct an advisory vote on the frequency of future advisory votes on executive compensation - 2 years - one can only vote for one item 4a., 4b. or 4c.	Against	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal as it is contrary to both good corporate governance and the best interests of shareholders.
To conduct an advisory vote on the frequency of future advisory votes on executive compensation - 3 years - one can only vote for one item 4a., 4b. or 4c.	Against	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal as it is contrary to both good corporate governance and the best interests of shareholders.
Amendment to the Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Multiple Board Nominees	Against	Nominating multiple candidates to a single board seat may discourage directors from serving on the board. Moreover, a prospective director could not be confident that he or she is the board's clear choice or that he or she would be elected. The proponent has not otherwise outlined how this would benefit shareholders. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Allowing Beneficial Owners to Call Special Meetings	Against	This proposal is requesting that the Company allow street name shareholders the same rights as non-street name shareholders the ability to call a special meeting. According to FINRA, when an investor opens an investment account, the stocks that are bought are registered in the issuers' books as belonging to the brokerage firm, and the broker retains an electronic record of the ownership as belonging to the actual owner of the shares. The owner, also called a "beneficial owner," also retains all the rights and benefits of being a shareholder, without the burden of keeping a physical stock certificate. Alternatively, investors may directly register shares with a company. In these cases, shares are registered in an investor's name, and it is the company that issued the stock that is the one that hold the security in book-entry form. When the shares are held in the owner's name, they are deemed a shareholder of record. Beneficial owners are able to register as a shareholder of record via their broker (though it may result in a fee to do this transfer). Ultimately, requiring that a shareholder be or become a shareholder of record prior to calling a special meeting is not an unduly burdensome undertaking. It is not evident that the Company's current requirements deviate from the common practice of most companies or that they present a significant restriction on shareholders wishing to call a special meeting. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Extended Patent Exclusivities and Application for Secondary and Tertiary Patents	For	This proposal requests that the board establish and report on a process by which the impact of extended patent exclusivities on product access would be considered in deciding whether to apply for secondary and tertiary patents for the company's products. This request is largely grounded in concerns regarding the impact on secondary and tertiary patents on the price of drugs. While there is scope for additional regulation concerning these matters, it is not clear that such regulation is imminent or that it represents a threat to the company's business at this time. However, proposals seeking further reporting and increased disclosure regarding public health would be a positive step for the Company and its stakeholders. As demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Related Party Transaction Regarding a Financial Service Agreement with Guangdong Provincial Communication Group Finance Co., Ltd.	Against	It is a common practice for Chinese companies to make deposit transactions through a financial arm of their parent company or within their groups. However, such pooling of the group's cash through an unlisted financial vehicle may give the parent company control over the listed company's finances. In addition, such practices may lead to lax lending practices within the parent group, potentially exposing the shareholders of a listed company to undisclosed risks. In this case, the explanation provided by the Company does not justify these transactions. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.

Ratification of Auditor	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Right to Act by Written Consent	Against	Shareholders already have a number of mechanisms by which they may promote change, outside of a consent solicitation. Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	Under this proposal, the board's authority to issue shares would extend beyond the 66% of ordinary capital routinely sought by UK companies, to include shares issuable on conversion of CCSs. As such, this authority would provide the board with an extremely high level of control over the Company's issued share capital, including issuances on a non-preemptive basis (Proposal 14). However, the issuance of CCSs will not cause dilution to existing ordinary shareholders unless a trigger event causes them to be converted into equity. Further, the Company has planned actions to forestall such an event and, should a trigger event occur, shareholders would be provided the opportunity to participate in the issuance of new shares. In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 20% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposals 7, 8, 9, and 10 exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/o Preemptive Rights	Against	If approved, the Company will be authorised to allot equity securities, without first offering the securities to existing shareholders on a pro rata basis, in relation to the issue of Contingent Convertible Securities ("CSSs"). In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 20% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposals 7, 8, 9, and 10 exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Set General Meeting Notice Period at 14 Days	For	A shortened general meeting notice period is permitted by the UK Corporate Governance Code and the EU Shareholders Rights Directive, provided that a company conforms to specific electronic voting and communication requirements, as is the case here. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Pension Scheme	For	This shareholder resolution was requisitioned by a campaign group, the Midland Clawback Campaign Shareholder group. The scheme under discussion is the post 1974 Midland Section defined benefit pension plan. It has approximately 52,000 members: all UK employees who joined the Bank between December 31, 1974 and before July 1, 1996 were eligible to join. It is a final salary plan, designed to pay two-thirds of salary on retirement. The state deduction is the feature used to apply a downward adjustment to the pension, when a member reaches pension age, to reflect that employees would usually receive state pension. In this way, the target level of income is broadly maintained. This feature is also known as pension integration and was introduced in 1975. Shareholders, in general, could benefit from increased transparency on the Company's ongoing engagement with its stakeholders, and the degree to which the Company demonstrates a proactive understanding of broader societal expectations, beyond a strict interpretation of the letter of the law. As demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Potential Spin-Off or Business Restructuring	Against	In support of its spin-off proposal, the Proponent argues that, given HSBC is one of the largest banking and financial services organizations in the world and one of the three primary banks in Hong Kong, it should be of the utmost importance for HSBC to ensure stable and sustainable growth in the Hong Kong market. The Proponent notes that in recent years, HSBC has been performing much better in Asia as compared to its Western operations. The Proponent also takes note of the strategic shift to the Asian market that HSBC announced in February 2021, together with a partial retreat from the Western market. Notwithstanding this, the Proponent contends that HSBC's Asian business continues to effectively subsidize the Western business to the detriment of HSBC's global shareholders and contrary to HSBC's stated goals of increasing value and ensuring stable and sustainable growth. By spinning off its Asian operations, the Proponent believes HSBC can unlock up to US$26.5 billion in market value for all of HSBC's shareholders, citing a 2022 research report prepared by In Toto Consulting Ltd. The Proponent argues further that having a more local focus in Asia will benefit HSBC's businesses as a whole, while banks with an international focus, such as HSBC in its present form, are likely to experience slower growth in their net interest income going forward. As discussed in the Company's 2022 interim results, when considering structural reforms or alternatives, the board evaluated a range of factors that it believes would materially impact valuation outcomes, including disruption to interconnectivity, dilution of economics, and material international dis-synergies. The board also highlights the significant one-off costs associated with any alternative structural option, as well as expected higher ongoing costs stemming from cost duplication, lower credit ratings, higher funding costs, higher tax charges and lower dividends and capital returns. Ultimately, a significant restructuring of the HSBC Group or a spin-off of the Asian business would present material complexity, have high execution risks, take many years, and be very costly. Although further reporting on the issue would be in line with policy, the proposed implementation would not be. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Dividend Policy	Against	This proposal goes against sound capital management practices and could have unintended and adverse consequences for the Company by requiring it to pay at least a certain amount of dividends per share irrespective of profit generation, thereby restricting the ability of the Company to pursue growth alongside returns. Moreover, as the mandated dividend is set at a monetary value, it would not be possible to guarantee such dividend payments would be within the limits outlined by policy. Presentation of the adopted annual financial statements of HUGO BOSS AG and the approved consolidated financial statements as at 31 December 2022, the combined management report of HUGO BOSS AG and the group for the 2022 financial year, the Supervisory Board report and the explanatory report on the information pursuant to Sections 289a and 315a of the German Commercial Code (HGB) for the 2022 financial year	Not voted	There was no vote on this agenda item.
Resolution on the appropriation of net income for the 2022 financial year	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. An acceptable distribution ratio is generally between 20% and 100%. Since the motion complies with the guidelines, this proposal may be viewed uncritically by the management. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of the Management Board members for the 2022 financial year	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Management Board. There are also no other specific governance issues or guidelines violations that could oppose discharge of the members of the Management Board. The discharge can therefore be considered uncritical. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of the Supervisory Board members for the 2022 financial year	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Supervisory Board. However, some key transparency points and/or governance issues are not satisfied, and the following points are missing: Regular length of service for Supervisory Board members. Since this is the only point listed, we are still voting in favour of the discharge overall after weighing up the arguments.
Election of the auditor of the financial statements and the consolidated financial statements for the 2023 financial year and the auditor for the audit review of the condensed financial statements and the interim management report for the first half of the 2023 financial year	For	There are no indications that constitute a violation of the guidelines. Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report	For	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2021 and achieved an approval rate of 93.83%. The remuneration report, on the other hand, recently achieved only 74.74%. Further improvements were made, such as in the disclosure on the so-called CEO Investment Opportunity. The latter continues to be considered as remuneration by a third party and is therefore explicitly not part of the remuneration system pursuant to Section 87a of the Stock Corporation Act (AktG). Transparency issues on this may have contributed to the relatively poor result for the report in the previous year. Furthermore, a deviation from G.11 may be explained further. However, due to the changes in the Management Board, it can be assumed that this will change in the foreseeable future. The new system adopted in 2021 includes a clause on clawback opportunities. As the system is consistent with the guidelines and furthermore is presented transparently, the motion can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Amendment to Section 13 of the Articles of Association	Against	In this case, the approval period is limited to two years, which is to be welcomed. There is a brief explanation regarding under which conditions the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting. However, there is no written explanation of how the rights in the virtual general meeting are to be structured in the future. The motion should be viewed critically overall due to the scope of the decision. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Amendment to Section 15 of the Articles of Association	Against	In this case, the shareholders should also make the decision as to whether they consider "legal restrictions, residence abroad, necessary residence at another domestic location, having to travel for an unreasonably long period of time or a virtual general meeting" to be good reason for members of the Supervisory Board to also participate in the general meeting by way of video and audio transmission. The virtual participation of Supervisory Board members in general meetings should be viewed very critically overall. We are therefore voting against the motion.

2022 Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. Accounts and Reports; Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Audit Committee Report	For	All of the necessary reports are present in the Company's annual report. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Ratification of Board and Auditor's Acts	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to current member of the Board of Directors and the Chief Executive Officer at the company. However, several governance and transparency requirements have not been met: The positions of Chair and CEO are combined. The board of directors is not sufficiently independent. CVs (age) of directors are not published. As this is contrary to policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Appointment of Auditor	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and all necessary information regarding the auditor have been provided in the Company's filings. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Directors' Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
2022 Bonus Plan	Against	Please refer to Proposal 7 for further details. It should be noted that 26.5% of shareholders voted against the approval of the payment of the annual bonus for FY2021 and the variable monetary reward for the four-year assessment period 2018-2021 proposed at last year's AGM, which demonstrates a fair level of protest towards the Company's remuneration strategy as currently constituted. The discretionary bonus which was approved at last AGM was granted in FY2021 and paid in FY2022 to the CFO for the successful completion of the sale of the OTE Group company Telekom Romania. While the board disclosed the exact amount received by the CFO in FY2022, the Company has not disclosed any actions taken to identify or address shareholder concerns. Lastly, the proposed remuneration policy lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. As such, we are voting against this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The proposed remuneration policy lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance criteria for the Repeated Performance Incentive. Only one of the LTI plans includes ESG criteria. A discretionary bonus was awarded to the CFO in FY2021 for the successful completion of the sale of the OTE Group company Telekom Romania, in accordance to the level of achievement of 92.58% of specific success parameters. As such, an award equal to €266,630.40 was paid to the CFO during the year under review. Assuming that all shares held by Deutsche Telekom (49.2% of the Company's share capital) were voted in favour of the proposal, one can deduce that approximately 37% of minority shareholders voted against the remuneration report at last year's general meeting. The size and the lack of disclosure of the discretionary bonus approved at last year's AGM, which was granted in FY2021 to the CFO for the successful completion of the sale of the OTE Group company Telekom Romania are concerning. Said bonus was paid in FY2022 and amounted to €266,630.40, which corresponds to 79% of the CFO's base salary (€337,500 in FY2022). While the board disclosed the exact amount received by the CFO in FY2022, the Company has not disclosed any actions taken to identify or address shareholder concerns. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

The Company has failed to provide sufficient disclosure of the performance metrics under the Annual Bonus Plan. Only one of the LTI plans includes ESG criteria. Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	Against	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Compensation Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to establish a verifiable link between executive pay and Company performance, particularly in the case of the CEO, given that the latter's pay mix is likely to continue to be 100% fixed. However, it should be recognized that the Company's compensation policy has been formulated in order to comply with market legislation, which limits the maximum annual compensation to NIS 2.5 million (approximately $700,000). Total Compensation May Exceed Salary Cap - specifically, the Company will need to cover the cost of the tax on the "excess expenditure" caused by total compensation of executives exceeding NIS 2.5 million. Given that the Company has set its maximum compensation ceilings under the policy at over NIS 2.5 million, actual cost to the Company of any compensation exceeding the NIS 2.5 million is effectively almost double (e.g. should an officer receive NIS 3.5 million in a given year, actual cost to the Company would be closer to NIS 4.5 million). While the total cost of employment is not overly high by standards in the industry or the market in general, and the root legislative could cause to the Company's predicament, any agreements which impose additional or unnecessary costs on the Company should be scrutinized. The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The Company has failed to implement performance based long-term incentive plan. Under the outgoing policy, vesting equity awards are subject to the same predetermined performance thresholds that must be achieved under the STIP. However, under the proposed compensation policy the Company removed any such prerequisite performance thresholds. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. The Company discloses that the CEO and the board possess the discretion to grant bonuses of up to 25% of the annual base salary to other officers, outside of the annual bonus plan. The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. The proposed compensation policy relating to the executive base salary includes provision which would track inflation according to the Israeli CPI. While such inflation-tracking mechanisms are common in Israel, such provisions at a time of high global inflation, from which Israel is not insulated (recently reporting annual CPI growth above 5%) should be scrutinized. This is particularly so in the absence

Base Salary Increase of CEO	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Yaakov Haber would receive a base salary increase of 19.3%. A large increase in base salary has a compounding effect on the amount of short- and long-term incentives granted to an executive, since such awards are often granted as a fixed percentage of base salary. However, if viewed historically, the Company's payouts have been reasonable. Moreover, the CEO is not eligible for cash bonuses. As such these concerns are mitigated to a degree. The proposed compensation policy relating to the executive base salary includes provision which would track inflation according to the Israeli CPI. While such inflation-tracking mechanisms are common in Israel, such provisions at a time of high global inflation, from which Israel is not insulated (recently reporting annual CPI growth above 5%) should be scrutinized. Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Report	For	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. In addition, the remuneration paid to the executive board is not excessive and is comparable with industry peers. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company operates a combined incentive plan, the Sustained Performance Plan ("SPP"). The structure of the SPP, with payouts based mainly on annual performance measures, may lead to an excessive emphasis on short-term goals, potentially at the expense of long-term performance. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria, with long term awards only subject to relative TSR. Long-term remuneration is not subject to ESG criteria. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Final Dividend	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect Mike McTighe	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Mike McTighe. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.

Elect Malcolm Le May	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee Malcolm Le May. However, this director attended less than 75% of the meetings held by the board in the past financial year and the Company has failed to disclose proper justification, which is against policy. Accordingly, we are voting against the re-election of this nominee.
Elect Susan Skerrett	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Susan Skerrett. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Helen Stevenson	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Helen Stevenson. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Appointment of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Set Auditor's Fees	For	The fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Long-Term Incentive Plan	For	The plan is currently intended to operate for below-board participants. However, if an award is granted to an executive director it may not exceed the applicable limit set out in the remuneration policy. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that this plan is compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.

Sustained Performance Plan	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. While the level of dilution is acceptable, there are the following concerns with the SPP: The structure of the SPP, with payouts based mainly on annual performance measures, may lead to an excessive emphasis on short-term goals, potentially at the expense of long-term performance. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance LTI criteria, with long term awards only subject to relative TSR. Long-term remuneration is not subject to ESG criteria. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Global Share Purchase Plan	For	The proposed plan would provide a way for all employees to acquire ordinary shares, thereby aligning their interests with those of shareholders. The Company is bound by certain statutory limitations in terms of the amount of shares to be granted pursuant to any Company share incentive plan, as well as a monthly contribution limit in order to acquire shares. The terms of this proposed plan are reasonable and do not violate policy. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 66% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights, which exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with the authorizations in Proposals 22 and 24, exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Authority to Repurchase Shares	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. Consequently, as these authorizations are within the recommended thresholds, we are voting for this proposal.

Approval of the annual report, annual financial statements and consolidated accounts 2022; acknowledging the auditor's reports	For	The annual report and annual financial statements are compliant with the group audit report. Advisory vote on the 2022 remuneration report	Against	The remuneration report was last voted on in 2022 and achieved an approval rate of 84.57%. Appropriation of balance sheet profit, distribution of a dividend	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. In general, an acceptable payout ratio is at least 20%. Although the payout ratio does not reach 20%, the proposal should be welcomed after 2 years without a dividend payment. The following statement is published in the 2022 AR: "Implenia wants shareholders to participate in the company's success following the successful completion of its transformation, which is why dividend payments are being resumed cautiously. For this reason, the Board of Directors will propose to the general meeting on 28 March 2023 that a dividend of CHF 0.40 per share be distributed. The Board of Directors assumes that Implenia will be able to continue paying dividends in the future." Re-election of the independent voting proxy	For	There are no indications that oppose this motion. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Re-election of the auditors	Against	The company does not disclose how long the lead auditor has already been in office. This is contrary to market practice, so this agenda item should be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Partial amendment of the Articles of Association to introduce the possibility of holding a virtual general meeting	Against	The amendment to the Articles of Association provides for the possibility of a virtual general meeting. A period of more than 2 years (or no time restriction) is to be approved here. There is also no further, additional explanation of under which conditions the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting. Nor is there a written explanation of how exactly virtual general meetings are to be structured in the future. This motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Partial amendment of the Articles of Association regarding mandatory adjustments to the Articles of Association to the revision of company law	Against	According to the motion, the following limitation of external board memberships would apply to the members of the Board of Directors and management members: "No member of the Board of Directors may sit on more than 14 additional boards in other companies, of which no more than 4 additional board memberships may be in other listed companies. ... No management member may sit on more than 9 additional boards in other companies, of which no more than 1 additional board membership may be in another listed company." (Cf. AGM invitation agenda item 6.2) However, the guidelines stipulate a limit of 5 board memberships in total for members of the Board of Directors (or 3 board memberships for the Management Board). As in the case of the bundled amendment of the Articles of Association, an amendment does not comply with the guidelines, the motion should be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Partial amendment of the Articles of Association regarding other amendments to the Articles of Association	For	There are no indications that would conflict with this agenda item. We are therefore voting in favour of this motion.
Ad hoc	Against	Since no information in this regard can be provided in advance of the general meeting, only a general power of attorney can be issued in this instance. "FOR" is for management purposes, "ABSTAIN" is for abstention and "AGAINST" is for motions submitted without prior announcement and/or new agenda items. Since there is no possibility of evaluating any proposals, we are voting against the motion.

Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. As part of its incentive arrangements, the Company provides for retesting opportunities. This includes situations where performance must be achieved for a certain length of time at any moment within a broader vesting window. Such a mechanism gives executives multiple opportunities to earn the same awards, generally without any consideration for previous misses. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Advisory vote on the frequency of future advisory votes on executive compensation: please vote on this resolution to approve 1 year	For	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Amendment to the 2010 Stock Incentive Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. Amendments to the Articles of Association: Authorisation to hold a virtual general meeting - insertion of a new Section 13a	Against	According to the motion, a period of 5 years is to be approved. Remuneration system for Management Board members	For	The remuneration system for Management Board members will be changed in only a few key points. The following change can be considered positive: The weighting of ESG targets in the LTI can be increased from the current 20% to 30%. According to the guidelines, discretionary margins should be limited to a maximum of 20%. The modifier in the STI provides for a variable of +/- 30%. However, the proposed change in the new remuneration system includes a limitation of the modifier in its application in the future, which can be considered an improvement. Accordingly, this modifier can only be used in exceptional cases and for extraordinary developments. An annual adjustment by the Supervisory Board based on defined modifier criteria therefore no longer takes place. Overall, the remuneration structure appears balanced and does not violate the guidelines. This motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Approval of the remuneration report	For	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2021 and achieved an approval rate of 93.54%. Under 11, the remuneration system is put to a vote again. Overall, the remuneration structure appears balanced and since the remuneration report is also presented in a transparent manner, the motion can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

Elect Ernest E. Ferguson	Withhold	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee Ernest E. Ferguson. However, according to policy, non-executive board members must be no older than 75 at the end of their terms. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect John R. Lowden	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee John R. Lowden. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: There appears to be overreliance on STI payouts. Moreover, STI awards are largely discretionary. Mr. Ingle's base salary increased from $853,333 in FY2021 to $1,053,333 in FY2022, and his FY2022 discretionary bonus increased approximately 185% year-over-year. However, the Company has failed to provide compelling rationale for such a significant salary increase. The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Recapitalization	For	Allowing one vote per share is in line with policy and generally operates as a safeguard for common shareholders by ensuring that those who hold a significant minority of shares are able to weigh in on issues set forth by the board, especially in regard to the director election process. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Retention of Shares Until Normal Retirement Age	Against	While policy strongly supports the linking of executive pay to the creation of long-term sustainable shareholder value, proposals such as this one are not the most effective or desirable way to induce change at target companies. Severely restricting executives' ability to exercise such a significant portion of equity awards until normal retirement age may hinder the ability of the compensation committee to attract and retain executive talent. Otherwise qualified and willing candidates may be dissuaded from employment at the Company if they believe that their compensation could be dramatically affected by financial results completely unrelated to their own personal performance or tenure at the Company. Moreover, as contemplated under the terms of this proposal, executives could be forced to wait for decades to realize the gains from their equity grants depending on the age of the executive and the determination of what constitutes normal retirement age and may also may also act as a barrier of entry to younger executives who may not be in a position to acquire these shares. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Third-Party Review for ESG Congruency with Business in China	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPr"). NCPPr has a history of submitting shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NCPPr describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPr, the Free Enterprise Project, routinely engages companies on issues such as healthcare, immigration, gun rights, energy, taxes, religious freedom, media bias, corporate free speech, and ideological diversity, among other issues, often by questioning executives at annual meetings or through the submission of shareholder proposals. This proposal requests that the Company commission and publish a third-party review of whether the Company's business in China is aligned with its ESG commitments. The proponent has not made a convincing argument that support for this proposal is necessary, as it is not evident that there is a reason to believe its activities are incongruent with its ESG initiatives and the proponent has not demonstrated that production of this report would either safeguard or protect shareholder value. Moreover, while requests for further disclosure audit are generally in line with policy, this proposal has been labeled as "Anti-ESG" due to the shareholder proponent. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	For	Although policy does not require that the board chair be an independent director, this proposal is largely focused on the separation of the roles of chair and CEO. Moreover, the shareholder proponent has put forth adequate justification for their proposal. Such a proposal enhances shareholders rights and is not considered detrimental financially or structurally. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Lobbying Report	For	The Company currently fully prohibits the use of corporate assets to influence elections and that it is one of only 39 companies that prohibit both trade associations and non-profits from using Company contributions for election-related purposes. However, this proposal does not address electioneering expenditures. Rather, it is focused on the Company's lobbying activities, which totaled over $5.5 million in the U.S. in 2022 and between €1.75 and €2 million in Europe). It is unclear if these figures include any payments (outside of the portion of dues used for lobbying purposes) to trade associations or non-profit groups for the purposes of lobbying or influencing public policy. Further, it does not include state-level lobbying expenditures. Although the Company's has stringent and robust policies concerning its electioneering expenditures, the Company could reasonably enhance its disclosure in line with the request of this proposal. We believe that providing information including payments to trade associations or grassroots organizations for the purposes of lobbying would help provide shareholders a better basis upon which they are able to assess and risks presented by the Company's political activities. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Corporate Operations with China	Against	In this specific instance, the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPr"). NCPPr has a history of submitting shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NCPPr describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPr, the Free Enterprise Project, routinely engages companies on issues such as healthcare, immigration, gun rights, energy, taxes, religious freedom, media bias, corporate free speech, and ideological diversity, among other issues, often by questioning executives at annual meetings or through the submission of shareholder proposals. The Company's supplier code of conduct, it's overall ESG reporting and privacy transparency reporting, appear to be reasonable and well prepared. Given the wide scope of the Company's operations, we believe that a concerted effort to ensure it has thoroughly assessed its potential adverse human rights impacts ultimately benefits shareholders. However, upon review, we believe that the Company's disclosure regarding the human rights risks of its operations is sufficient. Additionally, given the proponent's stated aims, we do not believe that shareholders should support this proposal at this time. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Effectiveness of Workplace Sexual Harassment and Discrimination Policies	For	The Company recently released a detailed report concerning its use of concealment clauses in response to a majority-supported shareholder proposal at its last AGM. Much of this report provides explicit disclosure concerning the "clear policies, procedures, and practices in place that protect employees from harassment, discrimination, and other unlawful acts." In addition, the Company details the board oversight of risks related to harassment, discrimination, and unlawful acts. Nonetheless, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Report	For	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However:. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. As this is the only point of criticism, we are voting for this proposal.
Final Dividend	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect Colm Deasy	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Colm Deasy. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Jeremy K. Maiden	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Jeremy K. Maiden. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Kawal Preet	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Kawal Preet. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Andrew Martin	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee Andrew Martin. However, the Company operates petroleum and chemical laboratory and inspection facilities in Russia. Based on the Company's reporting, it appears they have three subsidiaries based in Russia, one of which is operated as a joint venture. In this case, the Company has not publicly outlined its assessment of the risk associated with maintaining its Russian operations. Further, the Company has not provided an update to shareholders on its approach since the Russo-Ukraine conflict began. While it should be noted that the Yale CELI List of Companies has identified the Company as having suspended operations, there has been no clear disclosure from the Company on this matter. The absence of disclosure provided by the Company in relation to its operations in Russia constitutes a substantial failure to properly inform shareholders on material risks. As chair of the board, it is reasonable to hold this director accountable for this issue. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Moreover, fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and all necessary information regarding the auditor have been provided in the Company's filings. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Set Auditor's Fees	For	The fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Authorisation of Political Donations	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. This is primarily technical item. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with the authorizations in Proposals 17 and 20, exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	Against	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The Company has proposed a dividend pay-out below 20 percent for the second year despite the reported net profit. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Special Auditors Report on Regulated Agreements	For	The audit report states that there are no new agreements of this type to be submitted for shareholder approval. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Appointment of Auditor (KPMG)	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Elect Marc de Garidel	Against	As the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Moreover, given the information provided, the candidate holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (Chair - Ipsen ; CEO - CinCor Pharma Inc). In addition, it should be noted that this nominee concurrently serves as the Chair at Ipsen and CEO at CinCor Pharma Inc, which is against policy. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

2023 Remuneration Policy (Chair)	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
2023 Remuneration Policy (CEO and Other Executives)	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The proposed remuneration policy lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The board possesses discretion to adjust awards under both short- and long-term incentive plan, departing from the effective achievement level of performance goals. Moreover, the Company lags behind market peers on disclosure of key details of its executive remuneration policy, such as the specific performance metrics and their weightings under the LTI plan. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. The Company failed to explicitly address the dissent expressed by shareholders on this proposal at last year's general meeting. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
2022 Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Executive remuneration is not published individually. The remuneration structure lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The report does not provide transparency on chosen indices, benchmarks or peer-groups. The Company failed to explicitly address the dissent expressed by shareholders on this proposal at last year's general meeting. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Cancel Shares and Reduce Capital	For	This is a routine request in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/ Preemptive Rights	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 20% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Case of Exchange Offers	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt Through Private Placement	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 20% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Greenshoe	For	This authority grants the Company the flexibility to increase an over-subscribed issuance by up to 15%, so long as such increase takes place on the same terms and within thirty days of the initial issuance. In this case, the proposed greenshoe is subject to a cumulative limit of 20% of share capital for all share issuances, which is in line with policy. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Consideration for Contributions In Kind	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a limit of 10% of share capital for all share issuances without preemptive rights and a cumulative limit of 20% of share capital for all share issuances, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Currently, employees do not hold a significant portion of the Company's share capital. Therefore, if the proposed plan is fully implemented, employee shareholdings would remain reasonable and in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Authority to Grant Stock Options	Against	In this case, the Company's executive compensation practices are not in line with policy. Specifically, the Company has failed to disclose a minimum vesting period for these awards and does not operate any recovery provisions as required by policy. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Amendments to Articles Regarding Chair Age Limits	For	Generally speaking policy supports the age limits. In this case, the current provisions require the board chair to retire at age 65, which is lower than required by policy. The proposed change would increase the age limit to the 75 year age limit specified in policy. In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendment. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendments to Articles Regarding Board Meetings' Minutes	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authorisation of Legal Formalities	For	This is a routine legal formality in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Directors' liability action	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. Allocation of Profits/ Dividends (Shareholder Proposal)	Against	In this case, it appears the Dissident's efforts are not just specific to the Company, but rather, seemingly aimed at the broader Korean banking industry. The Dissident states it recently sent an open letter to seven other Korean banks requesting the implementation of certain capital allocation and shareholder return policies, but the Company was the only bank that, in the Dissident's view, took no meaningful action in response to the letter. As a result, the Dissident is seeking both a higher dividend and minority board representation (one board seat) at the Company, all with the stated aim of improving the Company's capital allocation policies. In discussing the Company's relative financial performance, the Dissident argues that the price-to-book value multiple of the Company is low relative to industry peers, including after taking into account the return on equity (ROE) of the Company. However, the peer set utilized by the Dissident primarily comprises global banking firms, including several of the largest banks in the United States. A comparable company analysis that focuses on a region-specific peer set, specifically, one comprising South Korean banks, would be more appropriate in this context. The Dissident's critique that the trading multiples of the Company significantly lag those of banks in other developed countries should be acknowledged. However, the depressed valuation of the Company, relative to global industry peers, is more reflective of region-specific factors, with other South Korean banks trading at similarly-depressed valuations as the Company. As such, there may simply be relatively weak investor sentiment among the broader investor base for South Korean bank stocks. Given that the dissident has failed to provide sufficient evidence to warrant the shareholder intervention requested here, we are voting against this proposal.

Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. Elect Masahiro Fujita	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Masahiro Fujita. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. However, according to policy, executive board members must be no older than 65 at the end of their terms. In addition, this director will be serving as the combined Chair/CEO in the upcoming year, which is against policy. Furthermore, according to the Company's annual securities report for the year ended March 31, 2022, the Company held approximately ¥ 81,148.00 million in shares of other public companies as investment securities, representing approximately 17.19% and 20.14% of the Company's gross assets and net assets as of March 31, 2022, respectively. Some of the companies in which the Company holds stake in turn own shares of the Company. The practice of investing in the securities of banks, insurers and other public companies not only exposes shareholders to undisclosed risks, but also enables management to utilize shareholders' capital for its own self-preservation. Also, under Japanese regulations, cross-shareholding relationships can be established at the sole discretion of the board without shareholder approval and with little or no reporting requirement depending on the size of the equity stake. The size and extent of the Company's investments in other public companies and the presence of an established cross-shareholding relationship can be seen as problematic. The board should reconsider its investment strategy so as to minimize the risk and maximize shareholder return. Additionally, the Company has a takeover defense plan in place currently. The extensive cross-shareholdings and adoption of takeover defense plan indicate the management entrenchment at the Company, the board's disregard for the shareholder value and its willingness to protect itself at shareholders' cost. As representative director, president of the company and the chair of the board, the nominee should be held accountable. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Amendments to Articles	Against	It should be noted that the board is seeking to remove the articles where holders of domestic shares and overseas listed foreign-invested shares are deemed to be shareholders of different classes of shares. Under the current provisions, shareholders holding different classes of shares shall be classified as class shareholders and special procedures for voting by class shareholders apply. They require that if the Company proposes to vary or revoke the rights of the class shareholders, the same can only be implemented after it has been passed by a special resolution at a shareholders' general meeting and also by the class shareholders so affected at the shareholders' meetings respectively. If these provisions are removed, shareholders of domestic shares and overseas listed foreign-invested shares would no longer be entitled to vote as a separate class on matters such as share issuances and share repurchases. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Extended Patent Exclusivities and Application for Secondary and Tertiary Patents	For	This proposal requests that the board establish and report on a process by which the impact of extended patent exclusivities on product access would be considered in deciding whether to apply for secondary and tertiary patents for the company's products. Capital reduction (through the cancellation of shares)	For	In the context of the motion to reduce the capital to increase the intrinsic value of the share, this motion is understandable. There are no special benefits for individual shareholders. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Amendments to the Articles of Association: Shares and capital structure	For	There are no indications that would conflict with this agenda item. We are therefore voting in favour of this motion.
Amendments to the Articles of Association: Transfer restriction	For	There are no indications that would conflict with this agenda item. We are therefore voting in favour of this motion.
Amendments to the Articles of Association: General Meeting, Auditors and Form of Announcements	For	There are no indications that would conflict with this agenda item. We are therefore voting in favour of this motion.
Amendments to the Articles of Association: Virtual General Meeting	Against	The amendment to the Articles of Association provides for the possibility of a virtual general meeting. A period of more than 2 years (or no time restriction) is to be approved here. There is also no further, additional explanation of under which conditions the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting. Nor is there a written explanation of how exactly virtual general meetings are to be structured in the future. This motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Presentation of the adopted annual financial statements of K+S Aktiengesellschaft, the approved consolidated financial statements, the combined management report and group management report and the Supervisory Board report, in each case for the 2022 financial year, and the Management Board's explanatory report on the information pursuant to Sections 289a(1) and 315a(1) of the German Commercial Code	Not voted	There was no vote on this agenda item.
Resolution on the appropriation of income	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. An acceptable distribution ratio is generally between 20% and 100%. Although the distribution ratio in terms of EPS is below 20%, the motion appears well thought out and balanced, especially since no dividend was possible in the year before last. This proposal of the administration can therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of members of the Management Board	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Management Board. There are also no other specific governance issues or guidelines violations that could oppose discharge of the members of the Management Board. The discharge can therefore be considered uncritical. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of members of the Supervisory Board	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Supervisory Board. There are also no other specific governance issues or breaches of guidelines which could oppose a discharge of the members of the Supervisory Board. This motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Election of the auditor for the 2023 financial year	Against	The responsible auditor is explicitly referred to by name, as stipulated in the guidelines. Contrary to the guidelines, however, no information is provided on the term of office. A critical view should therefore be taken of the motion. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Election to the Supervisory Board: Elke Eller	For	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence and suitability of Elke Eller. Her election to the Supervisory Board can therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Election to the Supervisory Board: Christiane Hölz	For	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence and suitability of Christiane Hölz. Her election to the Supervisory Board can therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

Election to the Supervisory Board: Christine Wolff	For	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence and suitability of Christine Wolff. Her election to the Supervisory Board can therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report	Against	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2021 and achieved an approval rate of 78.85%. The last remuneration report only achieved 61.20%. There are still some weaknesses in the system, which is why the report on the system cannot fully comply with the guidelines either: No share ownership guidelines Deviation G.10 sentences 1 and 2 - Granting of long-term variable remuneration components mainly in shares and access to the amounts granted Deviation G.12 - Payment of open variable remuneration components Deviation G.13 sentence 2 - Crediting of a severance payment against the remuneration for the period of non-competition Deviation G.13 sentence 1: The company and the former Chief Financial Officer, Mr Boeckers, entered into a termination agreement on 22 February 2022, which provides for the payment of the outstanding remuneration claims under the previously existing employment contract. The sum of the remuneration payments granted to Mr Boeckers hereunder exceeds the remuneration cap of two years' remuneration specified in recommendation G.13 sentence 1 of the Code 2022 (= G.13 sentence 1 of the Code 2020). Overall, the motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the approval of the remuneration system for the members of the Management Board	Against	The remuneration system has been revised and the following positive elements can be highlighted: Introduction of a share ownership guideline New sustainability goals However, the basic structures remain unchanged and there are still the following points that are not or are not fully in line with the guidelines: In some parts not yet described in detail (e.g. How/on what basis the performance factor is precisely measured) Deviation G.10 Granting of long-term variable remuneration components mainly in shares and access to the amounts granted Deviation G.12 Payment of open variable remuneration components The motion should therefore at least be viewed critically. Resolution on the amendment to Section 12 of the Articles of Association and the remuneration paid to Supervisory Board members	For	There are no indications that would conflict with this agenda item. The motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on amending Section 10(1) of the Articles of Association	For	There are no criteria that would indicate a violation of the guidelines. The motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the amendment to Section 14 of the Articles of Association to include an authorisation of the Management Board to hold a virtual general meeting	Against	In this case, the approval period is limited to two years, which is to be welcomed. It is also noted that the protection of shareholders' rights will play a central role in the structure and implementation of the GM. There is also a detailed explanation regarding the conditions under which the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting, especially compared to many other companies. It is also explicitly clarified that shareholder rights shall not be limited in comparison to presence. (Bgl. Letter from the Chairman of the Supervisory Board to the shareholders) However, the motion should be viewed critically due to the scope of the decision. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the amendment to Section 15 of the Articles of Association to enable the participation of Supervisory Board members in the general meeting by way of video and audio transmission	Against	In this case, shareholders should make a case-by-case decision as to whether they consider "necessary stay in another place" to be an appropriate reason for members of the Supervisory Board to be able to participate in the general meeting by means of video and audio transmission. As we consider the physical presence of the Supervisory Board members to be essential for dialogue on the day of the general meeting, we are voting against the motion.
Supplementary request: Resolution on reducing the share capital by withdrawing shares after they have been acquired by the company (Section 237(3)(4) AktG); authorisation of the Management Board to acquire own shares (Section 71(1)(6) AktG); authorisation of the Supervisory Board to adapt the wording of Section 4(1)(2) of the company's Articles of Association in accordance with the implementation of the capital reduction	Against	It is not evident why the proposed strategy should be in the best interest of all shareholders, especially international shareholders. The guidelines on share buybacks are strictly worded and traditionally rather critical in this respect. The company is already proposing a mix of dividends and share buybacks and also justifies its strategy in detail. Overall, a very critical view should therefore be taken of the motion. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Elect Brian R. Niccol	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee Brian R. Niccol. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Moreover, given the information provided, the candidate holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (Director - KB Home; CEO/Chair - Chipotle Mexican Grill, Inc.). Elect James C. Weaver	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee James C. Weaver. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Further, the nominee serves as chair of the governance committee. During the year in review, the board adopted a forum selection clause designating courts in the state of Delaware as the sole and exclusive forum for certain legal actions against the Company, including: (i) derivative actions brought on behalf of the Company; (ii) claims of breach of fiduciary duty by directors, officers or employees of the Company; (iii) claims arising pursuant to any provision of state law; or (iv) claims arising under the internal affairs doctrine. In this case, the Company has not provided a compelling case for why shareholders should accept any limitations on their legal remedy, including choice of venue. This restriction on shareholder rights was adopted without shareholder approval. Therefore, we are voting against this director's appointment.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. Ratification of Auditor	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. The aforementioned notwithstanding, and as stipulated by Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002/Title II, "It shall be unlawful for a registered public accounting firm to provide audit services to an issuer if the lead (or coordinating) audit partner (having primary responsibility for the audit), or the audit partner responsible for reviewing the audit, has performed audit services for that issuer in each of the 5 previous fiscal years of that issuer." In this case, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendment to the 2014 Equity Incentive Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.

Presentation of the adopted annual financial statements as at 31 December 2022 and the approved consolidated financial statements as at 31 December 2022 with the management reports of KRONES Aktiengesellschaft and the group for the 2022 financial year, the Management Board's proposal on the appropriation of net income, the Supervisory Board report for the 2022 financial year and the Management Board's explanatory report on the information pursuant to sections 289a, 315a of the German Commercial Code (HGB)	Not voted	There was no vote on this agenda item.
Resolution on the appropriation of net income for the 2022 financial year	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. An acceptable distribution ratio is generally between 20% and 100%. Since the motion complies with the guidelines, this proposal of the administration may be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of the Management Board members for the 2022 financial year	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Management Board. There are also no other specific governance issues or guidelines violations that could oppose discharge of the members of the Management Board. The discharge can therefore be considered uncritical. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of the Supervisory Board members for the 2022 financial year	Against	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Supervisory Board. However, some key transparency points and/or governance issues are not satisfied, and the following points are missing: Committees do not have a majority of independent members (to date) Chairman of the Audit Committee is not independent (to date) Standard length of service for Supervisory Board members Rules of procedure of the Supervisory Board (undetectable, but no deviation from the GCGC declared) No Nomination Committee Due to some shortcomings with regard to transparency or non-compliance with certain governance requirements, the discharge should be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Resolution on the appointment of the auditor and group auditor for the 2023 financial year	Against	In this case, EY is proposed as the audit firm. According to the guidelines, it is a critical factor if there are pending proceedings against the accounting firm or the responsible auditor. In the recent past, E&Y had not automatically been viewed critically, as results from the auditor regulator APAS were not yet available. The latter had filed a lawsuit as a result of the Wirecard scandal and sought to have investigations conducted. Meanwhile, at the beginning of April 2023, it became known that penalties had been imposed by APAS. For example, EY must pay a fine and may not accept any new board memberships from companies that are of public interest for two years. This is based on the finding "that breaches of professional duty were proven during the audit of the financial statements of Wirecard AG and Wirecard Bank AG in the years 2016 to 2018". Existing board memberships, on the other hand, may be continued. Due to these circumstances, the motion should at least be viewed critically, even though the tender and appointment of a new auditor is a lengthy process that can hardly be changed in the short term. (cf. e.g. Börsenzeitung, 3.4.2023, "Prüferaufsicht strafft EY für Wirecard") The responsible auditor may also be explicitly referred to by name, as stipulated in the guidelines. Contrary to the guidelines, however, no information is provided on the term of office. A critical view should therefore be taken of the motion. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report for the 2022 financial year	Against	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2021 and achieved an approval rate of 96.84%. Fixed remuneration was increased in 2022, but mostly just below 10%. Mr Tischer's increase was more than 10%, but a new department was added to the job description. However, there are still the following points that do not or do not fully comply with the guidelines: Deviation G.10: not share-based; 3 instead of 4 years Basic remuneration greater than variable remuneration (59%) No share ownership guidelines A critical view should therefore be taken of the motion. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Resolution on amendments to the Articles of Association of the company to enable virtual and hybrid general meetings	Against	Neither the voting card nor the information pursuant to the Implementing Regulation has a division into separate sub-items. On the one hand, the approval period is limited to two years in this case, which is to be welcomed. However, there is no further, additional explanation regarding under which conditions the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting. Nor is there any written explanation of how the rights in the virtual general meeting are to be structured in the future. Furthermore, the authorisation of the chairman of the meeting, the participation of Supervisory Board members in virtual form and the right to participate shall be decided at the same time. This motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on new elections to the Supervisory Board: Norbert Broger	Against	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence of Norbert Broger. A transfer of a Management Board member to the Supervisory Board without a cooling-off period of 2 years is not consistent with the guidelines, even if this candidate is not to take over the chair of the Supervisory Board. In addition, it should be noted that the independence structure of the Supervisory Board is just about acceptable, the committees, especially the Audit Committee, must not be predominantly staffed with dependent members, especially the chair. This remains to be seen. Overall, this election should be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on new elections to the Supervisory Board: Nora Diepold	For	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence and suitability of Nora Diepold. Her election to the Supervisory Board can therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on new elections to the Supervisory Board: Robert Friedmann	Against	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence and suitability of Robert Friedmann. However, this Supervisory Board member attended less than 75% of the meetings, which is contrary to the guidelines. A critical view may therefore be taken of the motion. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Resolution on the authorisation to acquire and use treasury shares, including the authorisation to redeem acquired treasury shares and to reduce the share capital and to exclude subscription rights	Against	In this case, the company proposes a term of five years. Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. EXTENSIVE STRATEGIC SHAREHOLDINGS

Strategic shareholding - when companies hold shares of business partners, creditors and listed companies for the purpose of maintaining business relationships - separates economic interest from voting rights and shields management from the corrective pressure of the capital market. In most cases, companies in which the company holds strategic shares also in turn hold shares of the company, a phenomenon commonly labeled as 'cross-shareholding.'

Under Japanese disclosure requirements, this information is generally disclosed only after the annual general meeting of shareholders; therefore, the current value of the investments in securities and other related details were not disclosed as of the writing of this report.

Mutual equity ownership among business partners, creditors and listed companies separates economic interest from voting rights and shields management from the disciplining pressure of the capital market. Such practices have been attributed to decreased management accountability, lax risk management and inefficient capital management policy, and have been shown to limit potential hostile approach. Though companies often attempt to justify these cross-shareholding relationships as strategically important, the benefits of such relationships, if any, are generally both unquantifiable and unclear.

The practice of investing in the securities of banks, insurers and other public companies not only exposes shareholders to undisclosed risks, but also enables management to utilize shareholders' capital for its own self-preservation. Additionally, under Japanese regulations, cross-shareholding relationships can be established at the sole discretion of the board without shareholder approval and with little or no reporting requirement depending on the size of the equity stake. Thus, using shareholder capital, the management effectively creates unsanctioned friendly partnerships from which the board benefits while shareholders may not.

In this case, it should be noted that according to the Company's annual securities report for the last fiscal year, the Company held shares of other public companies as investment securities, representing approximately 26.8% of the Company's net assets. Some of the companies in which the Company holds stake in turn own shares of the Company.

Given the aforementioned concerns regarding both general security investment practices and cross-shareholding relationships in Japan, the size and extent of the Company's investments in other public companies and the presence of an established cross-shareholding relationship should be scrutinized.

The Company's level of exposure of shareholder equity to other companies' risk is exceptionally high and the level of cross-shareholding concerning. The board should reconsider its investment strategy so as to minimize the risk and maximize shareholder return. Consequently, nominee Kazuya Kato should be held accountable for this issue. As such, we are opposing this director's election.

Retirement and Special Allowances for Directors	Against	Retirement bonuses, the amount of which is generally based on the recipient's length of service rather than the individual's contributions or the performance of the company, has been commonly accepted practice in Japan. However, there is scepticism regarding these retirements allowances to executive inside directors on account that this type of compensation is often not based on the recipient's contributions to, as well as the performance of, the company in question. In this case, the Company has failed to link the proposed allowances to performance and has not disclosed the aggregate allowances to be paid for both the special and retirement allowances. As this is contrary to policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Approval of the Restricted Stock Plan	Against	Given the lack of disclosures, the options to be granted under the proposed plan may not be linked to any performance targets. Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Civil Rights Audit	Against	While requests for a civil rights audit are generally in line with policy, this proposal has been labeled as "Anti-ESG" due to the shareholder proponent. The proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPR"), which has generally submitted proposals that address environmental and social issues and their aims are fairly clearly articulated in their supporting statements. In this case, the proponent specifically states that they have submitted this proposal to address their concern "about equity, diversity, and inclusion programs, trainings, and officers that seek to establish racial/social equity but create reputational, legal, and financial risk". As such, support for this resolution is not in line with policy, as it may serve to advance a narrative that may contradict that of investors concerned about companies' ESG performance. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.

The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The remuneration structure lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The report does not provide transparency on the benchmark used for pay-setting. 62.33% of minority shareholders opposed the Company's remuneration policy at the 2022 AGM and the Company has not sufficiently responded to this significant dissent. The CEO saw his maximum payout potential increase by 41% of base salary for the annual bonus. Similarly, the deputy CEO saw his maximum payout potential increase 68% of base salary. The Company also increased the maximum long-term incentive grants as a percentage of total yearly remuneration (fixed and variable) by 50% and 20% of base salary for the CEO and deputy CEO, respectively. However, as a result of the increases in annual bonus potentials described above, long-term incentive grants could increase by 192% of base salary for the CEO and by 115% of base salary for the deputy CEO. While these are significant increases in their own right, they may be amplified further by the fact that long-term incentives could vest a number of shares equivalent to 150% of the number originally granted. Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 40.3% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights, which exceeds the limit set by policy. Further, the Company has not provided any information regarding the maximum value of convertible debt instruments that may be issued pursuant to these authorities, in contrast to market practice in France. As a result, shareholders do not have sufficient information to make an informed decision regarding the authorities that would allow the Company to issue convertible securities at this time. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10.1% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 40.3% of share capital for all share issuances, which exceeds the limits set by policy. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. The aforementioned notwithstanding, and as stipulated by Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002/Title II, "It shall be unlawful for a registered public accounting firm to provide audit services to an issuer if the lead (or coordinating) audit partner (having primary responsibility for the audit), or the audit partner responsible for reviewing the audit, has performed audit services for that issuer in each of the 5 previous fiscal years of that issuer." In this case, we are voting for this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect GAO Xiangzhong	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee GAO Xiangzhong. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Moreover, as the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Jasper TSANG Yok Sing	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee Jasper TSANG Yok Sing. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Appointment of Auditor and Authority to Set Fees	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor have been disclosed. Moreover, fees paid to the auditor are appropriate. However, as per market practice: The company does not publish how long the auditing company has already been in office. As this exceeds the limit set by policy and the Company has not provided the maximum discount rate in the Company's disclosures, we are voting against this proposal.

Authority to Issue Repurchased Shares	Against	This proposal is conditional upon the passing of Proposals 6 and 7, which we opposed, and the Company has not provided the maximum discount rate in its disclosures, which is against policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Amendments to Articles	Against	Most of the amendments are primarily technical in nature and are intended to update the articles to reflect current regulatory requirements. However, the Company has elected to bundle these article amendments into a single proposal, which prevents shareholders from making an independent determination of each article amendment on its own merits. In this case, one of the amendments seeks to set the notice period for an EGM that contains a special resolution at 14 days. Before the implementation of the new Companies Ordinance, the general meeting notice period for special resolutions in Hong Kong was at 21 days. While this shortened notice period is permitted by the new Companies Ordinance, 14 days is insufficient time for shareholders to receive a ballot, weigh the issues, and vote, and will particularly impact overseas investors due to their generally advanced voting deadlines. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.

Elect Yutaka Ogiwara	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Yutaka Ogiwara. However:

EXTENSIVE STRATEGIC SHAREHOLDINGS

Strategic shareholding - when companies hold shares of business partners, creditors and listed companies for the purpose of maintaining business relationships - separates economic interest from voting rights and shields management from the corrective pressure of the capital market. In most cases, companies in which the company holds strategic shares also in turn hold shares of the company, a phenomenon commonly labeled as "cross-shareholding."

Under Japanese disclosure requirements, this information is generally disclosed only after the annual general meeting of shareholders; therefore, the current value of the investments in securities and other related details were not disclosed as of the writing of this report.

Mutual equity ownership among business partners, creditors and listed companies separates economic interest from voting rights and shields management from the disciplining pressure of the capital market. Such practices have been attributed to decreased management accountability, lax risk management and inefficient capital management policy, and have been shown to limit potential hostile approach. Though companies often attempt to justify these cross-shareholding relationships as strategically important, the benefits of such relationships, if any, are generally both unquantifiable and unclear.

The practice of investing in the securities of banks, insurers and other public companies not only exposes shareholders to undisclosed risks, but also enables management to utilize shareholders' capital for its own self-preservation. Additionally, under Japanese regulations, cross-shareholding relationships can be established at the sole discretion of the board without shareholder approval and with little or no reporting requirement depending on the size of the equity stake. Thus, using shareholder capital, the management effectively creates unsanctioned friendly partnerships from which the board benefits while shareholders may not.

		In this case, it should be noted that according to the Company's annual securities report for the last fiscal year, the Company held approximately¥ 19,998.00 million in shares of other public companies as investment securities, representing approximately 16.06% of the Company's net assets. Some of the companies in which the Company holds stake in turn own shares of the Company. Given the aforementioned concerns regarding both general security investment practices and cross-shareholding relationships in Japan, the size and extent of the Company's investments in other public companies and the presence of an established cross-shareholding relationship should be scrutinized. The Company's level of exposure of shareholder equity to other companies' risk is exceptionally high and the level of cross-shareholding concerning. The board should reconsider its investment strategy so as to minimize the risk and maximize shareholder return. Consequently, nominee Yutaka Ogihara should be held accountable for this issue. As such, we are opposing this director's election. Moreover, this director will be serving as the combined Chair/CEO in the upcoming year, which is against policy. 2023 Remuneration Policy (Chair)	For	It should be noted that the non-executive chair's base salary is significantly higher than most of the CAC 40 companies' non-executive chairs. However, as disclosed by the company, Jean-Paul Agon has extensive duties as chair of the board. Further, he has been within the Company since 1978 and has been its CEO from 2011 to 2021. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 40% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights. As this exceeds the limit set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.

Elect Laurent Mignon	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications and suitability of nominee Laurent Mignon. It should be noted that, given the information provided, the candidate currently holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (Director - LVMH Moët Hennessy Louis Vuitton SE; Executive - Wendel; Director - Bureau Veritas; Director - Arkema). However, in this case, the Company has confirmed that his term as non-executive director at Arkéma will expire at the 2023 shareholder general meeting on May 11, 2023 and his number of mandates will then be in line with policy. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.

Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Cancel Shares and Reduce Capital	For	The terms under which the Company intends to reduce its share capital are reasonable and do not violate policy. Further, this is a routine request in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/ Preemptive Rights	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 13.3% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 13.3% of share capital for all share issuances, which is in line with policy. Global Ceiling on Capital Increases and Debt Issuances	For	In general, the setting of global limits for issuances should be viewed in a positive fashion, as it serves as an additional level of protection for shareholders' interests, by minimizing the potentially significant dilution of a series of issuance requests to a fixed level. If approved this authority would represent a potential cumulative capital increase of 13.3% of share capital, which is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Change in Order of Nominees for Election of Directors	For	As illustrated in Proposal 004A, three slates were presented for the renewal of the board of directors. While it is likely that all presented slates will receive representation on the board, the outcome of the election is difficult to predict in light of the share ownership composition of the Company and the number of nominees presented. The Proponent is reshuffling the order of presentation of nominees on its presented slate; no rationale was provided for the proposed change. As a result, all male nominees are now listed first. Further, nominee Sala, who is not considered independent, moved from the eight to the fifth position. In this case, the Company's election procedure further includes replacement mechanisms to ensure that independence and gender diversity levels are compliant with applicable legal provisions. Specifically, the number of votes received by each slate from where a nominee is drawn will be divided by the final position of the nominee on the elected board. For independence, the nominees with the lowest quotients that do not have independence requirements, will be replaced by the following independence nominee on the same slate until applicable independence levels are reached. For gender diversity, the nominees of the highest represented gender with the lowest quotients will be replaced by the nominee of a different gender with the highest quotient listed on the same slate until gender diversity thresholds are met. The Proponent could have reasonably provided some rationale for the proposed change. However, the procedures for the election of directors are clearly dictated by the Company's bylaws in compliance with applicable legal provisions on independence and gender diversity, and possible replacements will not reduce seats dedicated to minorities or affect the number of directors being appointed from each slate. As such, there is no indication that the proposed change will have a significant impact on the final composition of the board. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	All of the necessary financial statements and reports are disclosed in the Company's meeting materials. It should be noted that in the opinion of the statutory auditors, the Company's independent auditor, the Company's financial statements and business report have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in Taiwan, 'Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and International Financial Reporting Standards'. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. In addition, the proposed fees to be reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendments to Articles [Bundled]	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Extraordinary Motions	Against	In Taiwan, many companies place an item for extraordinary motions on their proxy forms. However, shareholders of Taiwanese companies who vote via proxy technically may not exercise their voting rights preemptively for any extraordinary motions raised at the general meeting of shareholders. Instead, proxies have full authority to exercise their discretion in supporting or opposing any such motions. As granting unfettered discretion is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

To conduct an advisory vote on the frequency of future advisory votes on executive compensation - 1 year - one can only vote for one item 3.1, 3.2 or 3.3	For	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
To conduct an advisory vote on the frequency of future advisory votes on executive compensation - 2 years - one can only vote for one item 3.1, 3.2 or 3.3	Against	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal as it is contrary to both good corporate governance and the best interests of shareholders.
To conduct an advisory vote on the frequency of future advisory votes on executive compensation - 3 years - one can only vote for one item 3.1, 3.2 or 3.3	Against	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal as it is contrary to both good corporate governance and the best interests of shareholders.
Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Elect Ulf Holländer	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Ulf Holländer. However, policy requires that the chair of the board does not serve as the audit committee chair. Additionally, policy requires the audit and the remuneration committee chair to be independent. Further, according to policy, executive board members must be no older than 65 at the end of their terms. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Axel Schroeder	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Axel Schroeder. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Ellen M. Hanetho	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Ellen M. Hanetho. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Peter Frederiksen	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Peter Frederiksen. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Pia Meling	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Pia Meling. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Directors' Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendments to Articles	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ or w/o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 25% of the Company's current issued share capital with or without preemptive rights. This exceeds the limit set by policy. Additionally, it is noted that the authorisation may serve as an anti takeover device, in accordance with 6-17(2) of the Norwegian Securities Trading Act, which is also against policy. Consequently we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Convertible Debt Instruments	For	The Company's debt levels exceed those of its peers. Overall the Company has limited capacity at this time to take on additional debt in order to finance its operations and growth. Nevertheless, the Company's indebtedness is not considered to be severe enough to warrant overriding management's judgment and responsibility for the company's capital structure. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Resolution on the appropriation of net income	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. An acceptable distribution ratio is generally between 20% and 100%. Since the motion complies with the guidelines, this proposal of the administration may be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of the Management Board members for the 2022 financial year	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Management Board. There are also no other specific governance issues or guidelines violations that could oppose discharge of the members of the Management Board. The discharge can therefore be considered uncritical. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

Resolution on the amendment of Section 14 of the Articles of Association (holding of a virtual general meeting)	Against	In this case, the approval period is limited to two years, which is to be welcomed. It is also noted that the protection of shareholders' rights will play a central role in the structure and implementation of the GM. There is also an explanation regarding the conditions under which the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting. It is also explicitly clarified that shareholder rights shall not be limited in comparison to presence. However, as the bringing forward of questions and their answers is not ruled out, the motion should be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the further amendment to Section 14 of the Articles of Association (participation of Supervisory Board members in the general meeting by way of video and audio transmission)	Against	In this case, shareholders should make a case-by-case decision as to whether they consider "legal or health restrictions, residence or place of work abroad or virtual general meeting" to be an appropriate reason for members of the Supervisory Board to be able to participate in the general meeting by means of video and audio transmission. Election of Supervisory Board members: Christine Bortenlänger	Against	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence of Christine Bortenlänger. However, there are concerns regarding the number of boards she currently sits on. According to the analysis guidelines, no member in an executive position should sit on more than three boards in total. Due to her position at Deutsches Aktieninstitut, this member of the Supervisory Board should be considered as an "executive"; she sits on six boards, which is contrary to the guidelines. Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Ratification of Co-Option of Alessandro Bernini	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Alessandro Bernini. However, the Company has not published this director's CV (age) as is required by policy. In addition, as the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
2023-2025 Long-Term Incentive Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.

Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. Consequently, as these authorizations are within the recommended thresholds, we are voting for this proposal.
Increase in Auditor's Fees	For	The fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendments to Articles	Against	The following issues should be noted: Appointment of Common Representative of Shareholders Article 135-undecies of the Consolidated Law on Finance ("TUF") rules that listed companies, if so stated in their articles of association, can appoint a designated shareholders' common representative, which may be granted a proxy with voting instructions on items presented at shareholders' meetings. In this case, however, the Company is removing this possibility. The proposed amendment is detrimental for the rights of shareholders. Unfortunately, in this case, the Company has bundled several amendments, some of which we support and one of which we decidedly do not. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Deliberations on Possible Legal Action Against Directors if Presented by Shareholders	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. As a result, it is recommended to view this item in a non-critical fashion should it occur. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. The aforementioned notwithstanding, and as stipulated by Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002/Title II, "It shall be unlawful for a registered public accounting firm to provide audit services to an issuer if the lead (or coordinating) audit partner (having primary responsibility for the audit), or the audit partner responsible for reviewing the audit, has performed audit services for that issuer in each of the 5 previous fiscal years of that issuer."
		In spite of this, we are voting for this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. Elimination of Supermajority Requirement	For	Supermajority vote requirements act as impediments to takeover proposals and impede shareholders' ability to approve ballot items that are in their interests. This in turn degrades share value and can limit the possibility of buy-out premiums to shareholders. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.
Change in Maximum Board Size	For	There are no indications of any controversy regarding the board size at this company. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Simple Majority Vote	Against	This shareholder proposal seek shareholder approval to eliminate the Company's supermajority vote provisions, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, given the Company's proposal to remove its supermajority voting requirements, as described in Proposal 5, adoption of this proposal is unnecessary. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Amendment to Clawback Policy	For	Generally speaking, all companies should adopt robust clawback policies to ensure that incentive payments to senior executives are truly earned. Currently, the Company has adopted only a minimally effective clawback policy, omitting features widely-adopted by many companies. Ultimately as shareholders would benefit from adoption of the requested policy, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Just Transition Reporting	For	Adapting to climate change can have very important social and workforce implications. In order to avoid reputational, regulatory and legal risks, it is important that companies ensure the best possible outcomes for their workforces and surrounding communities. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Audited Report on Asset Retirement Obligations	For	Although providing disclosure of this kind is not required by U.S. GAAP and do not contend that the Company's current accounting is incorrect, the applicable accounting principles may not provide adequate insight into a matter that could have material relevance to shareholders. Under the relevant standard, companies are not required to report potential decommissioning costs until there is some level of certainty around the matter. However, there are a number of factors that could result in a more immediate need to decommission certain assets, as was demonstrated by the wave of decommissioning that occurred as a result of low oil prices stemming from decreased demand on account of the COVID-19 pandemic. As noted above, it was estimated that decommissioning could cost the industry tens of billions of dollars if market conditions had not changed. Issues related to AROs could represent a financially material risk for the Company and its shareholders. Although we the Company's current accounting treatment of AROs is in line and compliant with U.S. GAAP standards, this reporting does not provide shareholders any insight into potential costs that could be incurred should the Company be required to decommission its assets as a result of unforeseen events, such as changes in regulations or market conditions. The additional transparency would provide shareholders with decision-useful information concerning the Company's potential liabilities. Finally, the terms of this proposal to be reasonable, as it is both nonbinding and specifically states that "nothing in this resolution shall serve to micromanage the company by seeking to impose methods for implementing complex policies in place of the ongoing judgment of management as overseen by its Board of Directors." As a result, we are voting for this proposal.

Elect Evelyn V. Follit	Against	Nominee Evelyn V. Follit serves as a member of the nominating/corporate governance committee. There is currently an insufficient number of women serving on the Company's board. The chair of the nominating/corporate governance committee should bear responsibility for not sufficiently addressing this issue, however as the chair of the nominating and governance committee is not up for re-election this year, the responsibility lies with the longest serving director of the nominating and governance committee that is up for election. Ratification of Auditor	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. The aforementioned notwithstanding, and as stipulated by Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002/Title II, "It shall be unlawful for a registered public accounting firm to provide audit services to an issuer if the lead (or coordinating) audit partner (having primary responsibility for the audit), or the audit partner responsible for reviewing the audit, has performed audit services for that issuer in each of the 5 previous fiscal years of that issuer." In spite of this, we are voting for this proposal.

Derivative action against Directors	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. As a result, it is recommended to view this item in a non-critical fashion should it occur.

Amendment to the Post-IPO Share Award Scheme Against

While the proposed dilution is in line with policy, the following issues should be noted:

Performance Targets: The awards granted under the Scheme are not linked to any performance targets. Further, a lack of performance targets for stock option plans is common in this market.

Range of Participants: The scheme allows the grant of share options to a broad range of participants, such as director(s) and employee(s) of the Group, including holding companies, fellow subsidiaries or associated companies of the Company, and service provider participants who provide services to any member of the Group on a continuing and recurring basis in its ordinary and usual course of business which are in the interests of the long-term growth of the Group, such as (i) supplier or business partner (including joint venture partners or other contractual parties) who, or are anticipated to be going forward, significant to the Group's business or otherwise will contribute significantly to the growth of the Group's financial or business performance; or (ii) any independent contractor, consultant, agent and/or advisors who (a) provides advisory services, consultancy services, sales and marketing services, technology services, administrative services to the Company, where the continuity and frequency of their services are akin to those of employees, or (b) provides advisory services and consultancy services after stepping down from an employment or director position with the Group. Options should be granted as a form of compensation to people who directly contribute to the company's operations and/or performance and should serve to encourage the grantees to protect and improve shareholder value. Short Vesting Period: There is one year minimum vesting period for awards granted under the scheme. A minimum vesting period of at least two years, if not longer, better align shareholders' interests with those of the management when determining equity-based awards. This is as long-term vesting periods serve to incentivize participants to manage long-term performance, noting that risk-taking in one year may have consequences to shareholder value which do not emerge until years later. Where a company chooses to have a short vesting period - or no vesting period - for awards, the awards may vest prior to the consequences of risk-taking bears out, essentially becoming short-term "guaranteed payments" rather than acting as long-term incentivizing tools.

Service Provider Sublimit	Against	While the proposed dilution is in line with policy, the following issues should be noted: Performance Targets: The awards granted under the Scheme are not linked to any performance targets. Further, a lack of performance targets for stock option plans is common in this market. Range of Participants: The scheme allows the grant of share options to a broad range of participants, such as director(s) and employee(s) of the Group, including holding companies, fellow subsidiaries or associated companies of the Company, and service provider participants who provide services to any member of the Group on a continuing and recurring basis in its ordinary and usual course of business which are in the interests of the long-term growth of the Group, such as (i) supplier or business partner (including joint venture partners or other contractual parties) who, or are anticipated to be going forward, significant to the Group's business or otherwise will contribute significantly to the growth of the Group's financial or business performance; or (ii) any independent contractor, consultant, agent and/or advisors who (a) provides advisory services, consultancy services, sales and marketing services, technology services, administrative services to the Company, where the continuity and frequency of their services are akin to those of employees, or (b) provides advisory services and consultancy services after stepping down from an employment or director position with the Group. Options should be granted as a form of compensation to people who directly contribute to the company's operations and/or performance and should serve to encourage the grantees to protect and improve shareholder value. As such, it is appropriate for executive directors and employees to be the sole recipients of these awards. Given the current broad range of participants allowed under the proposed scheme, the board may abuse its authority and serve its own interests by granting options to a party of the Company who has an affiliation with the board or the Company. Short Vesting Period: There is one year minimum vesting period for awards granted under the scheme. A minimum vesting period of at least two years, if not longer, better align shareholders' interests with those of the management when determining equity-based awards. This is as long-term vesting periods serve to incentivize participants to manage long-term performance, noting that risk-taking in one year may have consequences to shareholder value which do not emerge until years later. Where a company chooses to have a short vesting period - or no vesting period - for awards, the awards may vest prior to the consequences of risk-taking bears out, essentially becoming short-term "guaranteed payments" rather than acting as long-term incentivizing tools.

As noted in Proposal 11, the range of participants is not entirely in line with policy. Presentation of the adopted annual financial statements, the approved consolidated financial statements, the combined management report for Mercedes-Benz Group AG and the group and the Supervisory Board report for the 2022 financial year	Not voted	There was no vote on this agenda item.
Resolution on the appropriation of net income	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. An acceptable distribution ratio is generally between 20% and 100%. Since the motion complies with the guidelines, this proposal may be viewed uncritically by the management. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of the Management Board members for the 2022 financial year	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Management Board. There are also no other specific governance issues or guidelines violations that could oppose discharge of the members of the Management Board. As in the previous year, some issues in the areas of lawsuits, antitrust law and diesel emissions remain open and should continue to be monitored. However, none of this relates directly to the past financial year. The discharge can therefore be considered uncritical. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of the Supervisory Board members for the 2022 financial year	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Supervisory Board. There are also no other specific governance issues or breaches of guidelines which could oppose a discharge of the members of the Supervisory Board. This motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the appointment of the auditor and group auditor: 2023 financial year including interim financial reports	For	There are no indications that constitute a specific violation of the guidelines. However, the audit firm has been appointed for more than 10 years. However, the company is only appointed for one more year and in the following item the change should already have been made. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the appointment of the auditor and group auditor: Interim financial reports for the 2024 financial year until the 2024 annual general meeting	For	There are no indications that constitute a violation of the guidelines. This motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the appointment of the auditor and group auditor: 2024 financial year including interim financial reports after the 2024 annual general meeting	For	There are no indications that constitute a violation of the guidelines. Resolution on the election of a Supervisory Board member: Stefan Pierer	Against	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence of Stefan Pierer. However, there are concerns regarding the number of boards he currently sits on. According to the analysis guidelines, no member in an executive position should sit on more than three boards in total. Due to his position at Pierer Industrie AG, this member of the Supervisory Board should be considered as an "executive"; he sits on four boards, which is contrary to the guidelines. His election should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion. Board memberships Mercedes-Benz Group AG (1) Oberbank AG (1) Pierer Industrie AG (1+1) exec.
Resolution on the remuneration of Supervisory Board members and a corresponding amendment to Section 10 of the Articles of Association	For	There are no indications that would conflict with this agenda item. The motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the approval of the remuneration system for the members of the Management Board	For	Overall, the remuneration structure appears balanced and does not violate the guidelines. This motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report for the 2022 financial year	For	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2020 and achieved an approval rate of 95.33%. As the system is mostly in line with the guidelines and furthermore is presented transparently, the motion could be seen uncritically. However, the remuneration system so far lacks an ESG component in the LTI, which is why the system is not fully compliant with the guidelines and the report on it cannot be fully compliant with the guidelines either. However, this year the remuneration system will be changed accordingly to integrate ESG goals in the long term. The remuneration report could therefore also be approved this year. As we have been in dialogue with the company on this issue and corresponding changes in the remuneration system will be implemented, we are voting in favour of the approval of the remuneration report.
Resolution on the creation of a new authorised capital 2023 and a corresponding amendment to Section 3(2) of the Articles of Association	Against	Increasing the share capital by €1,000,000,000.00 would lead to a 32.6% capital dilution. In addition, 40% can be exceeded on a cumulative basis. Even if the subscription rights exclusions are restricted to 10% overall, this is not within the limits of the analysis guidelines (max. 20% for each anticipatory resolution, 20% on a cumulative basis, max. 10% authorisation to exclude subscription rights) The motion should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Resolution on the amendment to Section 11 of the Articles of Association to include an authorisation of the Management Board to schedule the holding of a virtual general meeting	Against	In this case, the approval period is limited to two years, which is to be welcomed. It is also noted that the protection of shareholders' rights will play a central role in the structure and implementation of the GM. There is also an explanation regarding the conditions under which the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting. Above all, it is explicitly clarified that shareholder rights shall not be limited in comparison to presence. However, since there is no description of how the full protection of shareholders' rights is guaranteed, as required by the guidelines, we take a critical view of the motion and vote against the amendment to the Articles of Association.
Resolution on an amendment to Section 11a of the Articles of Association to include a new paragraph 3 on enabling the participation of Supervisory Board members in a virtual general meeting by way of video and audio transmission	Against	In this case, the shareholders should also make a decision on a case-by-case basis as to whether they consider "virtual general meeting" to be an appropriate reason for Supervisory Board members to attend the general meeting by means of video and audio transmission. As we consider the physical presence of the Supervisory Board members to be essential for dialogue between shareholders and the Supervisory Board, we are voting against the motion.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Corporate Operations with China	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Legal and Policy Center ("NLPC"), which has submitted shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear to be consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NLPC describes itself as a 501(c)(3) that "promotes ethics in public life through research, investigation, education, and legal action," and believes "the best way to promote ethics is to reduce the size of government." As part of the corporate integrity project on its website, the NLPC shares its concerns regarding "woke" corporate executives, for instance posting articles about inclusive content "devaluing" the Pixar franchise or about how the NLPC has reported Visa's chair and CEO to the SEC for ongoing "wokeness." The project also examines a supposed pushback against ESG initiatives, featuring pieces such as one describing corporate America's anti-racism programs as racist against white people and another promoting the NLPC's efforts to nominate a fossil-fuel-supporting director candidate to the board of Exxon Mobil Corporation. Further, the company currently has quite robust levels of disclosure regarding activities in China. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Access to COVID-19 Products	For	This proposal requests that the Company report on whether and how receipt of public financial support for the development and manufacture of its COVID-19 therapeutics will be taken into account in regard to access to and pricing of such products. The proponent's concerns are understandable regarding access to and the pricing of the Company's therapeutics, particularly in light of the severity of the COVID-19 pandemic and the proponent was able to put forth adequate justification for their proposal. In addition, this proposal does not violate policy and demands for increased transparency are generally in line with policy. As adoption of this proposal could help mitigate risks associated with drug pricing, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Third-Party Political Expenditures Reporting	Against	Generally, requests for increased transparency around political expenditures are in line with policy. However, in this case, the proponent is not seeking the disclosure about the Company. Instead, the proponent is requiring that any third party seeking financial support from the Company provide this disclosure to the Company and agree to have it posted on the Company website. Forcing the Company to serve as a means to receive this third-party information is not appropriate or in line with best practice. Moreover, under this contemplated policy, a third party's unwillingness to provide the requested disclosure could preclude the Company from engaging with this third party in activities that could benefit shareholders. As such, adoption of this proposal could effectively limit the Company's ability to participate in organizations such as trade associations, social welfare organizations, or political organizations. Therefore, the recommendation is 'AGAINST' with reference to 'ABSTAIN'.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Extended Patent Exclusivities and Application for Secondary and Tertiary Patents	For	This proposal requests that the board establish and report on a process by which the impact of extended patent exclusivities on product access would be considered in deciding whether to apply for secondary and tertiary patents for the company's products. This request is largely grounded in concerns regarding the impact on secondary and tertiary patents on the price of drugs. While there is scope for additional regulation concerning these matters, it is not clear that such regulation is imminent or that it represents a threat to the company's business at this time. However, proposals seeking further reporting and increased disclosure regarding public health would be a positive step for the Company and its stakeholders and requests for increased transparency are in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Congruency Report of Partnerships with Certain Organizations	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPr"). NCPPr has a history of submitting shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NCPPr describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPr, the Free Enterprise Project, routinely engages companies on issues such as healthcare, immigration, gun rights, energy, taxes, religious freedom, media bias, corporate free speech, and ideological diversity, among other issues, often by questioning executives at annual meetings or through the submission of shareholder proposals. Moreover, the Company's current disclosure regarding the congruency between the interests of its shareholders and the social and political policy positions developed by various trade associations, industry groups and business organizations are reasonable. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	Against	In this case, the Company has a combined chair/CEO, which is not in line with policy. The policy does not require that the board chair be an independent director but this proposal is largely focused on the separation of the roles of chair and CEO. Moreover, the shareholder proponent has put forth adequate justification for their proposal. Therefore, the recommendation is "AGAINST" with reference to "ABSTAIN".

Resolution on the cancellation of an existing authorisation and the creation of a new authorisation to issue bonds with warrants and/or convertible bonds, profit participation rights or participating bonds or a combination of these instruments and to exclude the subscription right together with the simultaneous cancellation of the existing and creation of a new contingent capital II as well as a corresponding amendment to the Articles of Association	Against	Increasing the share capital by €16,801,491.20 would lead to a 10% capital dilution. However, 20% can be exceeded on a cumulative basis. Even if the exclusions of subscription rights are cumulatively limited to 10%, this is not within the scope of the analysis guidelines (max. 20% per stock resolution, max. 20% cumulative, 10% exclusion of subscription rights cumulative). Furthermore, it should be possible to issue profit participation rights, which does not comply with the guidelines. A very critical view should therefore be taken of the motion. Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The LTI does not include ESG criteria. Under the regular LTIP despite a payout modifier based on three-year performance (Relative TSR), primary metrics are measured only in one-year performance periods. In this case, the CEO's target opportunity is three times base salary while his maximum payout amount under the STIP is six times base salary, which is considered excessive. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Median Compensation and Benefits Related to Reproductive and Gender Dysphoria Care	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Legal and Policy Center ("NLPC"), which has submitted shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear to be consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NLPC describes itself as a 501(c)(3) that "promotes ethics in public life through research, investigation, education, and legal action," and believes "the best way to promote ethics is to reduce the size of government." As part of the corporate integrity project on its website, the NLPC shares its concerns regarding "woke" corporate executives, for instance posting articles about inclusive content "devaluing" the Pixar franchise or about how the NLPC has reported Visa's chair and CEO to the SEC for ongoing "wokeness." The project also examines a supposed pushback against ESG initiatives, featuring pieces such as one describing corporate America's anti-racism programs as racist against white people and another promoting the NLPC's efforts to nominate a fossil-fuel-supporting director candidate to the board of Exxon Mobil Corporation.
---	---------	--

Given the Company's existing disclosures, the proponent has failed to provide convincing rationale that adoption of this proposal would meaningfully add to shareholders' understanding of how the Company is ensuring equitable compensation or that the proposed disclosure would help to mitigate potential risks associated with this matter.

Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding EEO Policy Risk Report	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPr"). NCPPr has a history of submitting shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NCPPr describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPr, the Free Enterprise Project, routinely engages companies on issues such as healthcare, immigration, gun rights, energy, taxes, religious freedom, media bias, corporate free speech, and ideological diversity, among other issues, often by questioning executives at annual meetings or through the submission of shareholder proposals. In this case, the proponent has failed to clearly articulate why the Company's approach to or policies regarding nondiscrimination threaten shareholder value. Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The chief corporate & supply officer's base salary increased by 15.5% during the past fiscal year. without a valid reason. It should be noted that approximately 34% of shareholders voted against the remuneration report at last year's general meeting. The Company indicates that it engaged with shareholders on the results of last year's AGM on p.12 of the 2023 Remuneration Report. The Company has addressed some of the issues by improving disclosure of ESG metrics and targets under the 2022 Performance Share Plan and by giving retrospective disclosure of the targets under the STI and 2020 Performance Share Plan. Further, the Company disclosed that it improved explanations around severance agreements with executive directors and the instances where a derogation from the approved policy can be determined. While the disclosure have improved, the Company failed to implement meaningful changes to its remuneration structure. Remo Ruffini beneficially owns 23.8% of the Company's share capital and voting rights; given the CEO's already substantial ownership, it is inappropriate and against minority shareholder's interests for him to receive remuneration in the form of equity. During the year under review, the CEO and executive chair was granted 126,355 shares under the first cycle of the 2022 Performance Share Plan. In this case, these concerns are magnified by the excessive size of the grant, whose fair value at grant is equal to approximately €5,971,537, or 3.9x his base salary. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the proposed minimum price is not in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Right to Call Special Meeting	For	In this case, the Company currently maintains a provision that would allow shareholders with 25% of outstanding shares the ability to call a special meeting. However, a 10% threshold for calling a special meeting is appropriate and in line with best practice, given the Company's size and shareholder base. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Fossil Fuel Lending and Underwriting Policy	Against	This proposal requests that the Company adopt a policy for a time-bound phase-out of its lending and underwriting to projects and companies engaging in new fossil fuel exploration and development. This is the second iteration of this proposal from this proponent. At last year's AGM, a similar proposal received only 8.5% support. Requiring the Company to adopt policies that would restrict the companies that the Company can engage in lending and financing activities with could infringe on the Company's ability to develop plans and policies that it views as being in the best interests of its shareholders and stakeholders. Further, the Company has developed robust environmental goals and disclosed its progress on them. The Company has also established policies that provide for climate-related considerations and restrictions in its lending and financing activities and has established a net-zero goal for these activities. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Aligning GHG Reductions with Paris Agreement	For	This proposal requests the company to issue a report regarding alignment with GHG emission targets including a timeline for setting 1.5 degree-aligned Scope 3 reduction goals. While the disclosure of GHG reduction targets is in line with policy, there is allowance for scope 3 targets to be above the 1.5 degree alignment. It should also be noted that there could be significant challenges in implementing this proposal. As noted by the Company, the Sectoral Decarbonization Approach ("SDA") for the chemicals company has not yet been integrated into the SBTi target validation protocol nor have the resources for this sector been published and socialized. Accordingly, setting a credible science-based target at this time could prove exceptionally challenging. This fact goes unacknowledged by the proponent, despite the fact that it is requesting science-based goals. Moreover, the Company has engaged with shareholders on this matter, it has set Scope 1 and 2 targets, discloses and has its Scope 3 emissions annually assured by a third party, and maintains a net zero target for its global operations by 2040. It has also provided sufficient reporting to allow shareholders to understand how the Company is managing and mitigating climate-related risks. Reporting must be aligned with 1.5°C in order to allow investors to assess the transformation paths and the company's progress. The company does not have a scope 3 net zero target. Therefore, we vote in favor of this shareholder proposal.

Election of the independent proxy	For	There are no indications that oppose this motion. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Approval of the compensation of the Board of Directors	For	Although compensation is relatively high in relation to German companies, it is still consistent with the Stoxx50 standard and Swiss market practice. Approval of the compensation paid to group management	Against	The amount of the compensation is consistent with the guidelines. However, the management compensation is not broken down by member, so the apportionment of it cannot be determined. This is contrary to the guidelines, and we are therefore voting against the motion.
Capital reduction	For	In the context of the motion to reduce the capital to increase the intrinsic value of the share, this motion is understandable. There are no special benefits for individual shareholders. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Revision of the Articles of Association: Amendment of the provisions on the general meeting	Against	The bundled amendment to the Articles of Association also provides, among other things, for the possibility of a virtual general meeting. A period of more than 2 years (or no time restriction) is to be approved here. There is also no further, additional explanation of under which conditions the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting. Nor is there a written explanation of how exactly virtual general meetings are to be structured in the future. This motion should therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company only has stock ownership guidelines for certain executives, not for all executives. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The board can grant discretionary one-off awards. On July 13, 2023, the Talent and Compensation Committee agreed to provide 3,734,215 in RSUs and PSUs to 5,023 non-NEO employees that it calls "Contingent Awards". The current disclosure does not provide adequate details of these awards, which were granted after fiscal year-end. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
To conduct an advisory vote on the frequency of future advisory votes on executive compensation - 1 year - one can only vote for one item 3.1, 3.2 or 3.3	For	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Right to Call Special Meeting	For	In this case, the Company currently maintains a provision that would allow shareholders with 25% of outstanding shares the ability to call a special meeting. A 10-15% special meeting threshold, particularly for large and widely held companies like the Company, is generally market best practice. However, a 20% threshold for calling a special meeting is an improvement on the current provision. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Amendment to the Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Employee stock purchase programs help align the interests of employees and shareholders and encourage a sense of ownership at companies. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Amendment to the 2021 Equity Incentive Plan	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. In this case, the share request would include the number of shares needed to settle "contingent awards" that were granted, but the Company did not have enough shares to cover prior to the proposed amended plan. The Company states that there are only 1.2 million shares remaining in the current plan as of July 17, 2023. On July 13, 2023, the Talent and Compensation Committee agreed to provide 3,734,215 in RSUs and PSUs to 5,023 non-NEO employees that it calls "Contingent Awards". For reference, there are approximately 12,000 employees in the Company's workforce. Named executive officers received a total of 458,986 PSUs and RSUs as Contingent Awards. Therefore, one-third of the share request is already earmarked for these specific awards. If the proposed plan does not receive shareholder approval, the Company will settle the Contingent Awards in cash. Given the size of the July 13th grants, it is concerning that the Contingent Awards were approved by the committee before receiving approval for additional shares from shareholders. The scepter of cash settlement seems to be prompting shareholders towards supporting the proposed amended plan. However, this plan is an excessive outlier in projected costs. Due to concerns surrounding the excessive cost of the plan, it is important to send a strong signal to management that this Company's equity-based compensation needs to be more carefully controlled. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Appointment of Auditor and Authority to Set Fees	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor have been disclosed. Directors' Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 20% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights. As this exceeds the limit set by policy, and the Company has not provided the maximum discount rate in the Company's disclosures, we are voting against this proposal.

Elect Joseph Tong	Against	As the board of directors, the audit committee, the remuneration committee and the nominating committee do not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Additionally, the nominee has already been a non-executive member of the board for more than 15 years, which is against policy. Further, the Company failed to disclose a detailed record of the proxy voting results from the last annual meeting, thereby prohibiting shareholders from assessing significant opposition to specific resolutions, it is the responsibility of the nominating committee to provide clear disclosure for shareholders regarding the results of shareholder meetings. Since the board has not appointed a director to serve as the chair of this committee, it is appropriate for shareholders to hold Mr. Tong accountable for the board's failure to address this issue. Lastly, In order to encourage independent board oversight, designating a member as an independent chair or an independent lead or presiding director has become best practice in the US market. As the Company's board has no independent leadership role, the chair of the nominating committee should be held accountable, however as noted the Company does not appear to disclose this information, in this case it is suitable to vote against the member of the nominating committee with the longest tenure..Consequently, we are opposing the election of non-independent nominee Joseph Tong.
Elect Michael Man Kit Leung	Against	As the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Additionally, the nominee has already been a non-executive member of the board for more than 15 years, which is against policy. Consequently, we are opposing the election of non-independent nominee Michael Man Kit Leung.

Appointment of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Additionally, the company does not publish for how long lead auditor has already been in office. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Amended and Restated Articles of Association	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendment to the 2019 Share Incentive Plan	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Although the company's plan is fully compliant with dilution limits for policy, there are some issues: The proposed program gives the administrators the express right to reprice options that become significantly underwater. As such employees would have no downside risk in the event that the stock falls dramatically. As the proposed plan is against policy we are voting against this proposal.

Newcrest Transaction	For	As to strategic merits, the combination of Newmont and Newcrest would be expected to reinforce the combined enterprise's position as a dominant, Tier 1 gold miner primarily exposed to favorable mining jurisdictions, with additional growth expected in copper reserves and resources. The firms further anticipate the merged firm will maintain an investment grade balance sheet and a strong non-binding dividend framework, supported, in each case, by cash flow optimization and approximately $500 million in annual pre-tax synergies expected to be achieved within the two-year period following completion. This core case appears reasonable and persuasive. Moreover, the contemplated tie-up appears to have skirted any material regulatory headwinds, with the firms recently having secured approvals from Australia's Foreign Investment Review Board and Japan's Fair Trade Commission. Coupled with prior approvals from Korea's Fair Trade Commission, Canada's Competition Bureau and Papua New Guinea's Independent Consumer & Competition Commission, there is adequate cause to suggest the firms have, to date, been relatively successful in navigating key regulatory hurdles to completion. Although the firms have expressly called out the need to secure further approvals, including from the Philippine Competition Commission, which could reflect some reflect transactional risk, this issue does not appear severe enough to warrants shareholder concern. Quantitatively speaking, the deal terms were ultimately reviewed by a considerable raft of established advisors. In particular, Newmont retained BofA Securities, Inc. ("BofA"), Centerview Partners LLC ("Centerview") and Lazard Freres & Co. LLC ("Lazard") to render opinions as to the fairness of the proposed consideration to Newmont and its unaffiliated investor base. Newcrest, in turn, retained Grant Samuel & Associates Pty Limited ("Grant Samuel") to serve as an independent expert and render an opinion as to the fairness and reasonableness of the proposed consideration from the perspective of Newcrest and its unaffiliated investors. The foregoing commentary, including the disclosed opinions of BofA, Centerview and Lazard, ultimately suggests the proposed terms represent an equitable balance in a volatile market, with Newcrest investors receiving a reasonable premium to historical trends in exchange for participation in a larger and more diverse mineral resource enterprise with potentially material upside. Newmont investors will, in turn, hold the dominant stake in that enterprise. Finally, as the proposed transaction does not otherwise violate policy, we are voting for this proposal.

Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 32% for all share issuances. As the global ceiling exceeds the cumulative limit for all share issuances set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	Against	Although policy does not require that the board chair be an independent director, this proposal is largely focused on the separation of the roles of chair and CEO. Moreover, the shareholder proponent has put forth adequate justification for their proposal. Such a proposal enhances shareholders rights and is not considered detrimental financially or structurally. However, the policy does not require the chair of the board to be independent. Therefore, the recommendation is "AGAINST with reference to "ABSTAIN".

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.

Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. Although executive directors must hold 30% of the shares subject to holding period under the PSP 2022-2026 and the SOP 2019-2022, and 20% of the shares subject to holding period under SOP 2017-2022 until the end of their office, the Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines as is required by policy. 2023 Extraordinary Cash Bonus lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. The report does not provide transparency on benchmarks. The board possesses discretion to adjust awards under its short-term incentive plan, departing from the effective achievement level of performance goals. From May 31, 2022, Stefano Beraldo will hold the sole position of CEO (previously CEO and general manager), for which he is entitled to receive €1,350,000 gross (previously €450,000 as CEO and €500,000 as general manager). Fixed remuneration for Stefano Beraldo is approximately 19% higher than the average fixed remuneration at companies listed on the FTSE-MIB index in FY2022 (€1,234,091). However, the Company's market cap of approximately €750 million is significantly lower than the average market cap of companies listed in the FTSE-MIB index (approximately €15.7 billion). Generally, the Company has failed to provide a thorough and convincing explanation for setting fixed remuneration at significantly higher level than market and industry peers. The Company provided executives accelerated equity vesting due to the change in control of the Company. The Company's CEO receives yearly cash payments for a non-competition agreement equal to €500,000 gross per year. In this case, the Company has done a disservice to shareholders by agreeing to pay executives what appears to be akin to a guaranteed bonus. Further, such indemnity was not paid as yearly installment until FY2022, when the CEO received €333,333 as a non-compete indemnity, which compounded our concerns. Moreover, the total amount under the non-competition clause was increased by 42.8% (previously €350,000 gross) under the 2022 remuneration policy approved at last year's AGM, but the Company failed to provide a cogent disclosure on such significant increase. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the minimum and maximum repurchase price exceeds policy limits. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Amendments to Articles	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal regarding Amendments to Articles (Virtual Board Meetings)	Against	The additional verifications proposed by the Proponent for the chair of the board meeting and the chair of the board of statutory auditors would require specific IT expertise to verify the security of the connection and the inviolability of communications, which go beyond the skills usually held by the chairs of corporate bodies. Further, some aspects mentioned by the Proponent, such as verifying that the will of the participants cannot be manipulated or assuring the confidentiality of the information, cannot be concretely verified by the chairs. Therefore, as the Proponent has failed to offer a sufficient rationale for these amendments, we are voting against this proposal.
Directors' liability action	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. As a result, it is recommended to view this item in a non-critical fashion should it occur. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Elect Charles W. Moorman	Withhold	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee Charles W. Moorman. However, at last year's annual meeting, the Company's advisory resolution on executive compensation received support from only approximately 66.85% of the votes cast, which is particularly striking given Company founder, chair and chief technology officer Larry Ellison's control over approximately 42.9% of the Company's outstanding voting power, as of the record date of last year's annual meeting. Given the substantial level of opposition to the Company's pay practices, the members of the compensation committee should have taken more initiative to improve the Company's pay practices and programs. In this case, the committee has failed to do so. Additionally, the Company has failed to adequately align pay with performance for the year under review. Overall, the concerns regarding the Company's pay practices and programs are severe enough to warrant opposing the election of all members of the compensation committee. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. When reviewing pay-for-performance, the continued impact of the modified fair values reported by the Company for Mr. Ellison and Ms. Catz in FY2022 connected to the extension of the performance period of their outstanding performance stock options should be noted. Viewing each executive's awards on an annualized basis of $16.4 million, STI payouts of around $4.2 million and Mr. Ellison's excessive perquisites of $3.1 million total, total executive pay remains a key concern. The Company received only approximately 67% support for its advisory vote on executive compensation at last year's annual meeting, which is particularly concerning in the context of significant levels of insider ownership, with Mr. Ellison being the Company's largest shareholder, (holding around 42% of outstanding shares). The Company made no substantive changes to its pay program, opting instead for much of the same rationalizing of its pay program that has been provided in prior years and reiterating prior commitments. The Company has failed to implement a performance based LTI plan for certain executives. Compensation is not linked to a materially significant ESG indicator. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance STI criteria, which is solely based on non-GAAP operating income growth. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Advisory vote on the frequency of future advisory votes on the compensation of our named executive officers: please vote on this resolution to approve 1 year	For	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Advisory vote on the frequency of future advisory votes on the compensation of our named executive officers: please vote on this resolution to approve 2 years	Against	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Advisory vote on the frequency of future advisory votes on the compensation of our named executive officers: please vote on this resolution to approve abstain	Against	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal as it is contrary to both good corporate governance and the best interests of shareholders.
Amendment to the 2020 Equity Incentive Plan	Against	The amendment would authorize an additional 350 million shares for issuance, which when issued would dilute current shareholders by 11.4%. As the potential dilution to current shareholders exceeds the limits outlined in policy, we are opposing this proposal.
Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Median Gender and Racial Pay Equity Report	For	Disclosure of the Company's adjusted pay gap and more information on how the Company is ensuring pay equity is in line with policy and would allow shareholders better insight into how the Company is managing and mitigating potential pay discrimination within the Company. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	Against	The policy does not require an independent chair. In this case, the executive chair of the board is the founder and chief technology officer of the Company and served as CEO from 1977 until September 2014. It should also be noted that this proposal topic received 44% support at a previous Company annual meeting, which represented majority support from non-insider shares, and that there are significant governance and compensation concerns at the Company. As a result, the recommendation is 'AGAINST' with reference to 'ABSTAIN'.

Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Special Auditors Report on Regulated Agreements	For	The audit report states that there are no new agreements of this type to be submitted for shareholder approval. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect Anne Lange	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Anne Lange. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Anne-Gabrielle Heilbronner	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Anne-Gabrielle Heilbronner. However, given the information provided, the candidate holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (Director - Orange; Director - Chargeurs; Group General Secretary - Publicis Groupe). Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Alexandre Pierre Alain Bompard	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Alexandre Pierre Alain Bompard. However, given the information provided, the candidate holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (Director - Orange; Chair/CEO - Carrefour). Moreover, nominee Alexandre Pierre Alain Bompard attended less than 75% of the meetings held by the board in the past financial year, and the Company has failed to disclose proper justification, which is against policy. Accordingly, we are voting against the re-election of this nominee.
Elect Momar Nguer	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Momar Nguer. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Elect Gilles Grapinet	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Gilles Grapinet. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.

2023 Remuneration Policy (Board of Directors)	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 18.8% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights, subject to a global ceiling of 28.2% of share capital for all share issuances. This global ceiling for all share issuances exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. The Company has not provided any information regarding the maximum value of convertible debt instruments that may be issued pursuant to Proposals 20 to 25, in contrast to market practice in France.
		As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 9.4% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a global ceiling of 28.2% of share capital for all share issuances. Greenshoe	Against	This authority grants the Company the flexibility to increase an over-subscribed issuance by up to 15%, so long as such increase takes place on the same terms and within thirty days of the initial issuance. In this case, the proposed greenshoe specifically applies to Proposals 20-22, which seek shareholder authority to cumulatively issue up to 28.2% of the Company's share capital, of which up to 28.2% of share capital may be issued with preemptive rights and up to 9.4% of share capital may be issued without preemptive rights. As such, the proposed cumulative limit for Proposals 20-22 exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. The Company has also not provided any information regarding the maximum value of convertible debt instruments that may be issued pursuant to Proposals 20 to 25, in contrast to market practice in France. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Case of Exchange Offers	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 9.4% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a global ceiling of 28.2% of share capital for all share issuances. As such, the global ceiling for all share issuances exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. The Company has also not provided any information regarding the maximum value of convertible debt instruments that may be issued pursuant to Proposals 20 to 25, in contrast to market practice in France. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Consideration for Contributions In Kind	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 9.4% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a global ceiling of 28.2% of share capital for all share issuances. As the global ceiling for all share issuances exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Global Ceiling on Capital Increases	Against	In general, the setting of global limits for issuances should be viewed in a positive fashion, as it serves as an additional level of protection for shareholders' interests, by minimizing the potentially significant dilution of a series of issuance requests to a fixed level. However, in this case, the board will be authorised to set a global ceiling of 28.2% of share capital for all share issuances. As the global ceiling for all share issuances exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Performance Shares	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.

Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Currently, employees do not hold a significant portion of the Company's share capital. Therefore, if the proposed plan is fully implemented, employee shareholdings would remain reasonable and in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Cancel Shares and Reduce Capital	For	This is a routine request in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authorisation of Legal Formalities	For	This is a routine legal formality in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal A Regarding Limit on Board Memberships	Against	The proponent has not made a compelling argument as to why the Company should have its choice of directors limited in this way, given that the legal threshold in France is five board memberships. Moreover, the proposed limit is not in line with policy. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal B regarding Amending ESG Metrics and Potential Dilution of Equity Compensation Plan	Against	The executive remuneration includes a metric weighing 8.25% related to the training access rate in the STI plan, thus showing that the Company takes into account the training rate in the assessment of the executive remuneration. Moreover, the proposed changes appear overly prescriptive. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	For	Although policy does not require that the board chair be an independent director, this proposal is largely focused on the separation of the roles of chair and CEO. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Transparency Report on Global Public Policy and Political Influence	For	Companies should provide sufficient disclosure of the use of company funds for political purposes, including grants made to politically active trade associations, in order to allow shareholders to evaluate the use of such grants as well as the oversight provided over the making of such grants. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Congruency Report on Net-Zero Emissions Policy	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPr"). NCPPr has a history of submitting shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NCPPr describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPr, the Free Enterprise Project, routinely engages companies on issues such as healthcare, immigration, gun rights, energy, taxes, religious freedom, media bias, corporate free speech, and ideological diversity, among other issues, often by questioning executives at annual meetings or through the submission of shareholder proposals. The additional disclosure requested by the proponent does not appear to be a prudent use of corporate resources or that it would provide any added benefit to shareholders. Moreover, while requests for a civil rights audit are generally in line with policy, this proposal has been labeled as "Anti-ESG" due to the shareholder proponent. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. However, it should be noted that the CEO is also its major shareholder. The proposed remuneration policy lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The Company has failed to implement a long-term incentive plan. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. The report does not provide transparency on chosen benchmarks. The board possesses discretion to adjust awards under its short-term incentive plan, departing from the effective achievement level of performance goals. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. However, it should be noted that the CEO is also its major shareholder. The proposed remuneration policy lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The Company has failed to implement a long-term incentive plan. The Company has failed to fully disclose performance metrics under the Annual Bonus Scheme. The Company does not fully disclose measures and models used to evaluate and quantify short-term executive remuneration. The report does not provide transparency on chosen benchmarks. Based on the 2022 AGM vote results there is a fair level of shareholder protest at the Company's remuneration practices. The Company has failed to meaningfully address shareholder dissent. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, if approved, the board of directors will be authorised to repurchase up to 20% of the Company's own shares, which is excessive. Moreover, the minimum price is also not in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Cancellation of Shares	For	The terms under which the Company is considering a cancellation of its repurchased shares does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Deliberations on Possible Legal Action Against Directors if Presented by Shareholders	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. As a result, it is recommended to view this item in a non-critical fashion should it occur. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Additional Share Grant of Board Chair Jacob Frenkel	Against	This is the second consecutive year the Company has proposed such an additional grant, of steadily rising value year-on-year and complete with cash gross-up. While the board's rationale is noted here -- that the board chair is expected to build share ownership in the Company and that such extra allotment "ensures further alignment to the longer-term interests of the Company and its shareholders" (identical rationale for the same grant was given at last year's AGM) -- given this relatively boilerplate reasoning and the already generous cash/equity fee mix offered to the chair (see Proposal 12), we are voting against this proposal.

Ratification of 2022 Financial Statements	For	All of the necessary financial statements and reports are disclosed in the Company's meeting materials. It should be noted that in the opinion of the statutory auditors, the Company's independent auditor, the Company's financial statements and business report have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in Taiwan, 'Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and International Financial Reporting Standards'. To resolve the Proposal for Distribution of 2022 Profits. PROPOSED CASH DIVIDEND TWD 9 PER SHARE.	Against	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. As the proposed dividend pay-out ratio exceeds 100 percent, we are voting against this proposal.
To resolve the Amendments to Articles of Incorporation of the Company	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
To resolve the Proposal for Releasing Directors from the Obligation of Non competition.	For	Releasing the board of directors from these restrictions, which prohibit board members from conducting any activities that can be considered to be competitive with the business affairs of the Company, may lead to potential conflicts of interest for directors. In this case, the Company proposes to release its director from non-compete obligation with respect to their directorships in Companies in an unrelated industry, wholly-owned subsidiaries, controlled subsidiaries, substantial shareholders and their subsidiaries or joint ventures. There is no indication that participation in the operations of such entities will lead to conflicts of interest for directors. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Extraordinary Motions	Against	In Taiwan, many companies place an item for extraordinary motions on their proxy forms. However, shareholders of Taiwanese companies who vote via proxy technically may not exercise their voting rights preemptively for any extraordinary motions raised at the general meeting of shareholders. Instead, proxies have full authority to exercise their discretion in supporting or opposing any such motions. As granting unfettered discretion is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Severance package payments are not limited to a maximum of two-years' salary. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Advisory vote on the frequency of future advisory votes on executive compensation: please vote on this resolution to approve 1 years	For	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

2022 Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Confirmation of 2022 Financial Audit Fees and Appointment of 2023 Financial Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. In addition, the lead auditor is not mentioned. Lastly, the company does not publish for how long lead auditor has already been in office. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Authority to Give Guarantees to Subsidiaries in 2023	For	In this case, the aggregate amount of guarantees provided by the Company and its subsidiaries, including the proposed guarantees discussed in this proposal, would be approximately RMB 1.4 billion, accounting for approximately 79.44% of the net assets of the Company. As such, the proposed guarantees are within a reasonable range. Also the ability to offer guarantees will provide the Company and its subsidiary with the flexibility to access finance capital at a lower rate of interest. This proposal does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendments to Articles	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. Consequently, as these authorizations are within the recommended thresholds, we are voting for this proposal.
Long-Term Incentive Plan	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. While the proposed dilution is in line with policy, there are reservations regarding the vesting terms for relative TSR awards. In this case, the 2023-2025 GROW long-term incentive plan foresees payments of 50% of relative TSR target awards to executives when the Company's performance falls in the third quartile of its peer group, specifically at the 8th position, effectively acting as a guaranteed payout. Shareholders would be better served by performance metrics that require a higher minimum level of performance for payouts to occur, or that at the very least provide only modest payouts for below median performance. Further, such significant vesting in the third quartile is out of line with market and international best practice given the Company's standing in the FTSE MIB index of Italy's largest and most liquid companies. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement a remuneration strategy that adequately aligns executive pay with performance, particularly in the longer term. Specifically, the 2023-2025 GROW long-term incentive plan foresees payments of 50% of relative TSR target awards to executives when the Company's performance falls in the third quartile of its peer group, specifically at the 8th position, effectively acting as a guaranteed payout. Shareholders would be better served by performance metrics that require a higher minimum level of performance for payouts to occur, or that at the very least provide only modest payouts for below median performance. Further, such significant vesting in the third quartile is out of line with market and international best practice given the Company's standing in the FTSE MIB index of Italy's largest and most liquid companies. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Remuneration Report	For	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. In addition, the remuneration paid to the executive board is not excessive and is comparable with industry peers. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares to Service Long-Term Incentive Plan	Against	Please refer to Proposal 0040 for further details on the Company's Long-Term Incentive Plan. At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, this proposal seeks authorization to repurchase and reissue shares to service the long term incentive plan which we opposed. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Deliberations on Possible Legal Action Against Directors if Presented by Shareholders	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. As a result, it is recommended to view this item in a non-critical fashion should it occur. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Elect Antonella Mei-Pochtler	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Antonella Mei-Pochtler. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Appointment of Auditor (KPMG)	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the new auditor. Moreover, rotating auditors is an important safeguard that helps to ascertain the independence of the auditor and may also protect against lack of oversight due to complacency or conflicts of interest between the auditor and the Company. Further, fees paid to the previous auditor are appropriate. While the lead auditor's name is not disclosed, this is acceptable in the context of the auditor rotation. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
2023 Remuneration Policy (Supervisory Board Chair)	Against	The chair's overall remuneration continues to dwarf that paid to the other non-executive board chairs in the CAC 40 and is higher than the average base salary of CEOs of the CAC 40 companies. Given this excessive remuneration, we are voting against this proposal.

2023 Remuneration Policy (Management Board Chair)	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The proposed remuneration policy lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. In 2023, the payout limit under the short-long-term incentive plan for the management board chair will increase by 50%, to 300% of base salary (previously 200% of base salary). Further, the maximum payout opportunity under the long-term incentive plan will increase by 17% from 300% to 350% of base salary for the management board chair. The Company has not provided any compelling rationale for the substantial increase in maximum pay opportunity. More than 20% of shareholders voted against the Company's management chair's remuneration policy at the 2022 AGM and the Company has made no changes to its remuneration policy to address this significant dissent. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

WHITE CARD - Stock Issuance for Merger with IAA	Against	On the whole, it is believed that the proposed merger has some strategic merit and offers the prospect of potentially significant upside. Yet, despite the board's assessment that the transaction is accretive based solely on achieving targeted cost savings, that doesn't appear to be the case when estimating RBA's standalone intrinsic value using more appropriate forecasts and assumptions that better reflect RBA's actual and reasonably expected financial results. The terms and structure of the transaction do not appear to provide either a sufficient margin of safety or a sufficiently compelling value upside for RBA shareholders. Therefore, it is believed that the proposed transaction offers a dubious risk/reward proposition, particularly when compared to what remains a strong and growing RBA standalone business that is performing ahead of management projections and investor expectations. Furthermore, there are serious concerns regarding the process leading up to the transaction, the need to revise the deal terms in an attempt to quell shareholder angst, the potentially misaligned interests and incentives of certain vested parties, the overly conservative RBA standalone forecasts used as an attempt to justify the economics of the deal to existing RBA shareholders, and other unfavorable valuation aspects of the transaction. Ultimately, it is believed that RBA's board and management should remain focused on delivering upon the Company's standalone plan as the better alternative for generating superior shareholder returns and risk-adjusted value going forward. Based on these factors, we are voting against this proposal.
WHITE CARD - Right to Adjourn Meeting	Against	A majority of all of the shares of common stock entitled to vote will constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at the special meeting. Recognition of the 2022 Business Report and Financial Report	For	All of the necessary financial statements and reports are disclosed in the Company's meeting materials. It should be noted that in the opinion of the statutory auditors, the Company's independent auditor, the Company's financial statements and business report have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in Taiwan, 'Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and International Financial Reporting Standards'. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Recognition of the 2022 Earnings Distribution. Proposed Cash Dividend: Twd 10 per Share	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. In addition, the proposed fees to be reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. As such, plan participants are rewarded even if the Company effectively underperforms the market. In this case, the plan foresees payments of 66.6% of relative TSR target awards to executives even when the Company's performance falls in the lowest quartile of its peer group, effectively acting as a guaranteed payout. Moreover, 100% of the award will vest for performance at median level. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Resolution on the appropriation of the net income disclosed in the annual financial statements as at 31 December 2022	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. An acceptable distribution ratio is generally between 20% and 100%. However, as the motion is consistent with the guidelines, considering the situation of the company, this management proposal can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Election to the Supervisory Board: Manfred Wilhelmer	Against	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence of Manfred Wilhelmer. In general, majority shareholders should be entitled to appropriate representation on the Supervisory Board. However, the guidelines state that at least 50% of the members must be considered independent, so the election of non-independent members should be viewed critically. The election of Manfred Wilhelmer should therefore be viewed critically. However, the Supervisory Board has 18 members, but less than 30% of the Supervisory Board is made up of women. As this does not comply with the guidelines, the choice of male candidates is viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the election.
Amendment to Sections 3 and 14 of the Articles of Association	Against	A period of more than two years is to be approved here. There is also no further, additional explanation of under which conditions the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting. Nor is there any written explanation of how the rights in the virtual general meeting are to be structured in the future. It is also planned to vote at the same time on whether Supervisory Board members can participate virtually in the general meeting. Overall, this motion should be viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Extended Patent Exclusivities and Application for Secondary and Tertiary Patents	For	This proposal requests that the board establish and report on a process by which the impact of extended patent exclusivities on product access would be considered in deciding whether to apply for secondary and tertiary patents for the company's products. This request is largely grounded in concerns regarding the impact on secondary and tertiary patents on the price of drugs. While there is scope for additional regulation concerning these matters, it is not clear that such regulation is imminent or that it represents a threat to the company's business at this time. However, proposals seeking further reporting and increased disclosure regarding public health would be a positive step for the Company and its stakeholders. As demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The report does not provide transparency on chosen benchmarks. As part of its incentive arrangements, the Company provides for retesting opportunities. Such a mechanism gives executives multiple opportunities to earn the same awards, generally without any consideration for previous misses. There are retesting opportunities provided for PSUs. A portion of PSUs, 25%, may be banked upon the achievement of quarterly TSR goals. If such quarterly goals are not achieved, awards may yet be earned upon cumulative three- or four-year TSR performance. Similarly, PSUs may be earned in full upon the achievement of three-year TSR. However, if cumulative three-year TSR goals are not achieved, awards may yet be earned upon cumulative four-year performance. Accordingly, the design of PSUs provides executives with multiple opportunities to earn payouts despite previous misses. Such a feature in turn creates a risk that pay outcomes and long-term performance will not be aligned. Although in all cases earned awards are subject to long-term vesting requirements, and awards which may be banked comprise only a small portion of the total vesting opportunity, the Company focuses solely on TSR for PSUs. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

2023 Supervisory Board Members' Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Special Auditors Report on Regulated Agreements	For	The auditors' special report on related-party transactions was available for review in advance of this shareholders' meeting, in accordance with best-practice recommendations. As such, it was possible to determine the routine nature of the business transactions discussed therein. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Cancel Shares and Reduce Capital	For	The terms under which the Company intends to reduce its share capital are reasonable and do not violate policy. Further, this is a routine request in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 29.5% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights. As this exceeds the limit set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Greenshoe	Against	This authority grants the Company the flexibility to increase an over-subscribed issuance by up to 15%, so long as such increase takes place on the same terms and within thirty days of the initial issuance. In this case, the proposed greenshoe is subject to a cumulative limit of 40% of share capital for all share issuances, which exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Consideration for Contributions In Kind	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 7.8% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 40% for all share issuances. As the global ceiling exceeds the cumulative limit for all share issuances set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Case of Exchange Offers	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 7.8% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 40% for all share issuances. As the global ceiling exceeds the cumulative limit for all share issuances set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Global Ceiling on Capital Increases and Debt Issuances	Against	In general, the setting of global limits for issuances should be viewed in a positive fashion, as it serves as an additional level of protection for shareholders' interests, by minimizing the potentially significant dilution of a series of issuance requests to a fixed level. However, if approved this authority would represent a potential cumulative capital increase of 40% of share capital, which exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Currently, employees do not hold a significant portion of the Company's share capital. Therefore, if the proposed plan is fully implemented, employee shareholdings would remain reasonable and in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendments to Articles Regarding Managing Partner's Age Limits	Against	According to policy, executive board members should be no older than 65 at the end of their terms. Given that the amendment would increase the managing partner's age limit from 75 to 78, the proposed age limit would be even less in line with policy. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.
Authorisation of Legal Formalities	For	This is a routine legal formality in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Financial Statements and Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	Against	The Company states that its financial statements provided in the meeting circular have not been audited and may be adjustable upon the completion of independent auditor's audit. As this is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Elect Moriya Kiyoshi	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Moriya Kiyoshi. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. In addition, as the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect KWON Young Ki	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee KWON Young Ki. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. In addition, as the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect Sato Sadahiro	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Sato Sadahiro. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. In addition, as the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Election of Corporate Auditor	Against	As the Company failed to disclose its auditor's report or to confirm whether its financial statements presented in the meeting circular were fully audited, we would normally vote against the members of the audit committee who are up for re-election this year. However, in this case, the Company is governed by a two-tier board. The function of corporate auditors is similar to that of the audit committee, in that they oversee the financial reporting of a company. Since the Company has failed to disclose the information regarding the board of corporate auditors, we are voting against this proposal.
Directors' Fees	Against	The proposed fees are excessive if compared to those paid by the Company's peers. In this case, the Company has failed to outline a need for such a considerable annual cap. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.
Corporate Auditors' Fees	For	Taking into account similarly-sized companies and market position, the Company's corporate auditor fees should be considered as reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

As these dividends may lower the Company's financial resources, we are voting against this proposal.

As such, it was possible to determine the routine nature of the business transactions discussed therein. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Ratification of Co-Option of Alexandre Lahousse	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Alexandre Lahousse. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Ratification of Co-Option of Robert Peugeot	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee Robert Peugeot. However, according to policy, non-executive board members must be no older than 75 at the end of their terms. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Approval of the annual report, the financial statements of SGS SA and the consolidated financial statements of the SGS Group	For	The annual report and annual financial statements are compliant with the group audit report. There are no reservations regarding correctness. There are also no indications that would conflict with an approval of this agenda item. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Advisory vote on the 2022 Remuneration Report	Against	The company has not broken down the management remuneration by member. This is contrary to the guidelines, and we are therefore voting against the motion.
Discharge of the members of the Board of Directors and the management	Against	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against incumbent members of the Board of Directors or the management. However, some key transparency requirements have not been satisfied, and the following points are missing: Management remuneration broken down by member. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
2023 Estimated Continuing Connected Transactions	For	The management and the board should be in the best position to determine what operational decisions are best in the context of the business. This proposal does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
2023 Provision of Guarantee for the Bank Credit Line of Controlled Subsidiaries	For	In this case, the aggregate amount of guarantees provided by the Company and its subsidiaries, including the proposed guarantees discussed in this proposal, would be approximately RMB 10,782,120,000, accounting for approximately 55.45% of the net assets of the Company of the net assets of the Company. Connected Transaction Regarding the Financial Services Agreement to Be Signed With a Company	For	The management and the board should be in the best position to determine what operational decisions are best in the context of the business. It is a common practice in China for companies to make deposit transactions through a financial arm of their parent company or within their groups. Such pooling of the group's cash through an unlisted financial vehicle may give the parent company control over the listed company's finances. In addition, such practices may lead to lax lending practices within the parent group, potentially exposing the shareholders of a listed company to undisclosed risks. However, the nature and the extent of China National Pharmaceutical Group Corporation's control over the Company is also noted. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Authority to Issue Shares w/ o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. However, cumulatively the board may issue up to 15% of share capital without preemptive rights, which exceeds the limit set by policy. Further, the Company has not provided the maximum discount rate in the Company's disclosures. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Repurchased Shares	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 5% of the Company's repurchased shares without preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. However, cumulatively the board may issue up to 15% of share capital without preemptive rights, which exceeds the limit set by policy. Further, the Company has not provided the maximum discount rate in the Company's disclosures. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.
Amendments to Articles	Against	The Company has elected to bundle these article amendments into a single proposal, which prevents shareholders from making an independent determination of each article amendment on its own merits. While many of the proposed amendments are no cause for concern, if this proposal is approved, the board will be authorised to set the notice period for an extraordinary general meeting ("EGM") that contains a special resolution at 14 days. Before the implementation of the new Companies Ordinance, the general meeting notice period for special resolutions in Hong Kong was at 21 days. While this shortened notice period is permitted by the new Companies Ordinance, 14 days is insufficient time for shareholders to receive a ballot, weigh the issues and vote. This notice period may limit the ability of some shareholders, particularly those located overseas, from participating at a meeting in a fully-informed manner. Further, issues raised by special resolutions at extraordinary general meetings are by nature often more complex than routine annual general meeting proposals or ordinary resolutions of extraordinary general meetings, thereby requiring a deeper and more time-consuming level of review. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The long-term incentive outcomes for the CEO in the region of £7 million are excessive, particularly given such outcomes follow prior year outcomes of approximately €16 million. Further, and particularly given the significant shareholder dissent over the duration of the plan, the committee's decision not to exercise its discretion to reduce outcomes in order to ease shareholder concerns is questionable. Further, the committee's response to the 2022 shareholder dissent is seen as reflecting the initial 2017 dissent. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Elect Delphine Mousseau	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Delphine Mousseau. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Authorisation of Political Donations	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. This is primarily technical item. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 66% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposal 16, exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares w/ o Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with authorizations in Proposal 15, exceeds the limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase Shares	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. Consequently, as these authorizations are within the recommended thresholds, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Set General Meeting Notice Period at 14 Days	For	A shortened general meeting notice period is permitted by the UK Corporate Governance Code and the EU Shareholders Rights Directive, provided that a company conforms to specific electronic voting and communication requirements, as is the case here. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Remuneration Policy	For	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. In addition, the remuneration paid to the executive board is not excessive and is comparable with industry peers. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendment to Long-Term Incentive Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
2023-2025 Performance and Restricted Share Plan	Against	Please refer to Proposal 0050 for further details.
		Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. In this case, the Company has failed to disclose of both individual and overall incentive limits, which is not in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Amendment to Restricted Share Plan	Against	Please refer to Proposal 0050 for further details.
		Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital
		Awards under the Restricted Share Plan may only vest in full for the achievement of a single performance target, while they would be forfeited if that same target is missed. The presence of cliff vesting, short performance and vesting period, and the lack of disclosure of clear individual limits, is not in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. In this case, the Company limits severance payments to the CEO at two years of total pay, excluding awards under the Special Awards 2022-2026 plan. Awards under the Special Awards 2022-2026 plan will be calculated by taking into account the average capitalisation value of the Company at the moment of termination of employment. Further, awards under the Restricted Shares Plan will be pro-rated. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. 2023-2025 Performance and Restricted Share Plan - Participants appear to be eligible to receive unlimited compensation under the plan, as no specific limit has been specified in relation to grant sizes under the plan. While the maximum opportunity for the CEO under the Restricted Share Plan is capped at 109% of base salary (€2,500,000), other participants appear to be eligible to receive unlimited compensation. Further, executives appear to be eligible to receive unlimited compensation through the Company's Special Award 2022-2026 Plan. Awards under the Restricted Share Plan may only vest in full for the achievement of a single performance target, while they would be forfeited if that same target is missed. The performance targets attached to awards made under the Company's Special Award 2022-2026 Plan are based upon a single metric. Further, the Company disclosed that in the event that performance metrics will not be achieved for awards under the first tranche, those awards will also vest if performance metrics under the second tranche are achieved. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance criteria for the Special Awards 2022-2026 plan. This LTI does not include ESG criteria. The Company disclosed that in the event that performance metrics will not be achieved for awards under the first tranche, those awards will also vest if performance metrics under the second tranche are achieved. The Restricted Share Plan does not include ESG criteria. In the 2022 Remuneration Report, the Company disclosed that for FY2022, awards under the plan would have vested in full, regardless of the performance achieved under the aforementioned metrics. As a result, 114,766 shares vested for the CEO during the year under review, amounting to €2,075,000, calculated on the average market share price over the 30 days before vesting (equal to €18.08 per share). The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The Company hired a new CEO during the past fiscal year. The new CEO's annualised salary represents a 130% premium to the prior CEO's salary on departure. The Company has failed to disclose STIP and LTIP payout limits in terms of base salary. The CEO was granted a welcome bonus amounting to €8,875,000, of which 75% was paid within the first year of his mandate, amounting to €6,656,250, which is excessive. The board can grant discretionary bonuses. The report does not provide transparency on chosen benchmarks . As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Elect Laura Donnini	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Laura Donnini. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.

Amendments to Article 5	For	In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Directors' liability action	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. As a result, it is recommended to view this item in a non-critical fashion should it occur.
		Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Presentation of the adopted annual financial statements of Salzgitter Aktiengesellschaft and the approved consolidated financial statements as at 31 December 2022 together with the combined management report and the Supervisory Board report	Not voted	There was no vote on this agenda item.
Resolution on the appropriation of net income	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. An acceptable distribution ratio is generally between 20% and 100%. However, as the motion seems to be in line with the company's situation and the strategy is also justified, this proposal by the administration can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of members of the Management Board	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Management Board. There are also no other specific governance issues or guidelines violations that could oppose discharge of the members of the Management Board. The discharge can therefore be considered uncritical. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

Appointment of the auditor of the annual financial statements for the 2023 financial year	Against	In this case, EY is proposed as the audit firm. According to the guidelines, it is a critical factor if there are pending proceedings against the accounting firm or the responsible auditor. In the recent past, E&Y had not automatically been viewed critically, as results from the auditor regulator APAS were not yet available. The latter had filed a lawsuit as a result of the Wirecard scandal and sought to have investigations conducted. Meanwhile, at the beginning of April 2023, it became known that penalties had been imposed by APAS. For example, EY must pay a fine and may not accept any new board memberships from companies that are of public interest for two years. This is based on the finding "that breaches of professional duty were proven during the audit of the financial statements of Wirecard AG and Wirecard Bank AG in the years 2016 to 2018". Existing board memberships, on the other hand, may be continued. Due to these circumstances, the motion should at least be viewed critically, even though the tender and appointment of a new auditor is a lengthy process that can hardly be changed in the short term. (cf. e.g. Börsenzeitung, 3.4.2023, "Prüferaufsicht strafft EY für Wirecard") The responsible auditor is also explicitly referred to by name, as stipulated in the guidelines. Contrary to the guidelines, however, no information is provided on the term of office. A critical view should therefore be taken of the motion overall. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report	Against	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2020 and achieved an approval rate of 98.56%. However, there are still some weaknesses in the system, which is why the report on the system cannot comply with the guidelines either: Target remuneration predominantly fixed No obligation to make a personal investment Dividend is included in the remuneration calculation even if there is no direct link Overall, a very critical view should therefore be taken of the motion. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the new election of the Supervisory Board: Ulrike Brouzi	For	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence and suitability of Ulrike Brouzi. Her election to the Supervisory Board can therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the new election of the Supervisory Board: Bernd Drouven	For	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence and suitability of Bernd Drouven. His election to the Supervisory Board can therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

His election to the Supervisory Board can therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the new election of the Supervisory Board: Joachim Schindler	For	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence and suitability of Joachim Schindler. His election to the Supervisory Board can therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

His election to the Supervisory Board can therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the new election of the Supervisory Board: Susanna Zapreva-Hennerbichler	Against	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence of Susanna Zapreva-Hennerbichler. However, there are concerns about the number of boards she currently sits on. According to the analysis guidelines, no member in an executive position should sit on more than three boards in total. Due to her position at enercity AG, this member of the Supervisory Board should be considered as an "executive"; she sits on five boards, which is contrary to the guidelines. Her election should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. In this case, the company has issued dividends in spite of a net loss for Class A and B shares. Election of Directors; Appointment of Auditor	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification, remuneration and suitability of Anne-Grete Strøm-Erichsen and Eva Swartz Grimaldi. Consequently, one should consider these appointments to be non-contentious. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Consequently, we are opposing thie election of directors Ilija Batljan, Fredrik Svensson, Lars Eric Nils Rodert, Hans Runesten, and Lennart Schuss. Additionally, There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee Sven-Olof Johansson. However, according to policy, non-executive board members must be no older than 75 at the end of their terms. Additionally, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director`s election. While we would normally support the election of some of these nominees, it should be noted that the company is bundling all elections under one resolution. Consequently, we are voting against the election of directors.. Moreover, there is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. Authority to Issue Shares w/ or w/o Preemptive Rights	For	In this case, the board will be authorised to issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital with or without preemptive rights, which is in line with policy. Moreover, the proposed issuances in proposals 17 and 18 are not cumulative. As this issuance is within the limits of policy and is not seeking to issue shares with preferential voting rights, we are voting for this proposal.

Financial Statements and Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	Against	The Company states that its financial statements provided in the meeting circular have not been audited and may be adjustable upon the completion of independent auditor's audit. As this is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Amendments to Articles	For	In this case, there's no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendments. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Elect KIM So Young	Against	Nominee KIM So Young serves as lawyer of KIM & CHANG, which has provided legal services to the Company. The need for the Company to engage in legal services with its directors should be questioned here. Such relationships are creating conflicts for directors, as they may be forced to weigh their own interests in relation to shareholder interests when making board decisions. In addition, a company's decision regarding where to turn for the best professional services may be compromised when doing business with the professional services firm of one of the Company's directors. In addition, as the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Elect KIM Joon Ha	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee KIM Joon Ha. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. In addition, as the board of directors does not comprise an adequate number of independent members, we are voting against all insider and affiliated directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Election of Independent Director to Be Appointed as Audit Committee Member: PARK Jin Hee	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee PARK Jin Hee. However, as the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Directors' Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Restriction of Extraordinary Reserves	For	The reduction is in accordance with the law. The management and the board should be in the best position to determine what operational decisions are best in the context of the business. This proposal does not violate policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. Directors' liability action	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. As a result, it is recommended to view this item in a non-critical fashion should it occur. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Authority to Cancel Shares and Reduce Capital	For	The terms under which the Company intends to reduce its share capital are reasonable and do not violate policy. Further, this is a routine request in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 39.5% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights. Greenshoe	Against	This authority grants the Company the flexibility to increase an over-subscribed issuance by up to 15%, so long as such increase takes place on the same terms and within thirty days of the initial issuance. In this case, the proposed greenshoe is subject to a cumulative limit of 39.5% of share capital for all share issuances, which exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Consideration for Contributions In Kind	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 9.5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 39.5% for all share issuances. Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Appointment of Auditor (FY2024)	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the new auditor. Opinion on Climate Strategy Strategy	For	In this case, the Company has asked shareholders to vote on its climate strategy. The Company has adopted a net zero ambition and has set reduction targets for its Scope 1, 2, and 3 emissions. The Company also provides reporting aligned with the TCFD, information concerning its scenario analysis, and has received third-party assurance on its GHG emissions. Overall, its disclosure is sufficient to allow shareholders to understand and evaluate how the Company intends, at this time, to meet its climate objectives. Regarding this proposal in the context of the board's oversight responsibilities, the Company states the nature of this resolution is purely consultative, and this vote will not be binding. It also states that shareholders are not asked to take responsibility for the climate strategy, which remains the exclusive responsibility of the board and CEO. Further, the Company states that it will take into account the level of support received on this resolution and continue engaging with its shareholders, and should the level of dissent reach 50% or more, the board will seek information on the reasons for which some shareholders may not have supported the proposed resolution to be able to propose a revised climate strategy. The Company states that it intends to repeat this consultation at the 2026 annual shareholders' meeting in order to allow shareholders to express their views on the progress made on the implementation of the strategy and the strategy itself, and it will correspond to the launch of the new cycle of the Company's sustainability impact as the current plan ends in 2025. Overall, the Company has provided thorough information concerning its climate-related considerations and provided shareholders with a basis to understand how it is managing its climate-related risks and opportunities. Accordingly, we are voting for this proposal.

Accounts and Reports; Non Tax-Deductible Expenses	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. Allocation of Dividends	Against	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. In this case, the company has issued dividends in spite of a net loss. As these dividends may lower the Company's financial resources, we are voting against this proposal.
Special Auditors Report on Regulated Agreements	For	The audit report states that there are no new agreements of this type to be submitted for shareholder approval. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
2022 Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: Executive remuneration is not published individually. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. Last year, more than 38% of shareholders voted against the Remuneration of former CEO and current chair, Denis Kessler. 2023 Remuneration Policy (Chair)	Against	At last year's annual general meeting, approximately 38% of the Company's shareholders voted against Denis Kessler's 2021 remuneration as chair and CEO under Proposal 5.00. The Company did not explicitly address the level of opposition received at the last AGM in its latest Annual Report. In this case, the Company has not prorated the LTI outstanding awards for the time served by the chair as executive of the Company. Specifically, Denis Kessler stepped down as the Company's CEO on June 30, 2021 and kept his role as non-executive chair of the board. Generally speaking, it is best market practice not to grant any long-term awards to the CEO in his last six months of service as executive since the Company's performance in the long-term will not be related to his work, rather to the work of the new CEO. Further, the former CEO was granted 100,000 stock options and 125,000 performance shares both in 2019 and in 2020. Shareholders may question the Company's decision not to prorate the 2020 LTI grant awarded to Denis Kessler. The former CEO was awarded performance shares for a three-year period, while he had an executive role within the Company only for one year and half out of the three years. Further, the Company has not disclosed any compelling rationale for its decision not to pro-rate executive Kessler's LTI awards granted in 2019 and 2020. Concerns are heightened by the fact that Denis Kessler stepped down from his role one year earlier than initially planned, and that his outstanding LTI awards will only be partially related to his work, and will be affected by the Company's performance under the new CEOs' management. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
2023 Remuneration Policy (Laurent Rousseau, Former CEO Until January 25, 2023)	For	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. Elect Fields Wicker-Miurin	Against	The Company announced three different CEOs since December 2020, with only two of them actually serving as CEO of the Company. In 2020, Benoît Ribadeau-Dumas was initially selected to replace Denis Kessler as the next CEO of the Company from 2022. However, when the Company announced that Denis Kessler would resign from his role as CEO one year earlier than planned, the Company decided that, given the incomplete transition period, Mr. Ribadeau-Dumas was no longer a suitable candidate and that succession plan needed to be drastically revised. Consequently, Laurent Rousseau was appointed as CEO from the 2021 shareholders' meeting. Prior to being appointed as CEO of the Company, Laurent Rousseau had been the advisor to the Company's chair and CEO since 2010 and the deputy CEO of SCOR Global P&C and member of the Company's executive committee since 2018. On January 26, 2023, the Company announced that Laurent Rousseau would step down from his role as CEO and subsequently leave the Company to pursue other professional opportunities (Press release, January 26, 2023). On the same day, the Company appointed Thierry Léger, the chief underwriting officer of Swiss Re, as CEO of the Company with effect from May 1, 2023. François de Varenne, an executive committee member in charge of investments, technology, transformation and Group corporate finance, was appointed as interim CEO to ensure a smooth succession between the two. Note that Laurent Rousseau had been at the Company since 2010, before resigning from his executive role after one year and seven months as CEO. Overall, the Company changed four CEOs, including the interim CEO, in two years, between June 2021 and May 2023. As a result, there is significant concern that the Company's two-year long C-suite turbulence is the result of what appears to be fairly poor succession architecture. In this case, the nominating committee has done a disservice to the Company's shareholders. As the longest-tenured nominating committee member, it appears appropriate to hold Fields Wicker-Miurin responsible for the apparent deficiencies in the succession planning over recent years. As a result, we are voting against this election of this nominee.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/ Preemptive Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 40% of the Company's current issued share capital with preemptive rights. As this exceeds the limit set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/o Preemptive Rights w/ Priority Subscription Rights	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 52.2% for all share issuances. As the global ceiling exceeds the cumulative limit for all share issuances set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt Through Private Placement	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 52.2% for all share issuances. As the global ceiling exceeds the cumulative limit for all share issuances set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Case of Exchange Offers	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 52.2% for all share issuances. As the global ceiling exceeds the cumulative limit for all share issuances set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Consideration for Contributions In Kind	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 52.5% for all share issuances. As the global ceiling exceeds the cumulative limit for all share issuances set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Greenshoe	Against	This authority grants the Company the flexibility to increase an over-subscribed issuance by up to 15%, so long as such increase takes place on the same terms and within thirty days of the initial issuance. In this case, the proposed greenshoe is subject to a cumulative limit of 52.4% of share capital for all share issuances, which exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Authority to Grant Convertible Warrants (Contingent Capital)	Against	This authority primarily aims to protect the Company against the deterioration of financial markets. The use of contingent convertible bonds ("CoCos") has been growing in Europe in recent years as a means of providing emergency capital buffers for significant financial institutions. Under the proposed authority, contingent convertible warrants would convert automatically into equity capital only in case the Company's capital ratio falls below a specific regulatory threshold. While such a substantial conversion from debt to equity upon a triggering event would undoubtedly have a negative effect on shareholder value, the alternative, namely insolvency or a renewed financial crisis, would have an even harder impact on shareholders. The proposed authority has been developed under the guidance of regulatory authorities to ensure that the Company is able to meet regulatory capital requirements to service compensation plans, mitigating shareholder concerns regarding the potential for abuse. The maximum capital amount for this proposal would be 10% of share capital, subject to the overall cumulative limit on capital increases of 52.4%. As this exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy, the recommendation is "AGAINST" with reference to "ABSTAIN".

Global Ceiling on Capital Increases and Debt Issuances	Against	In general, the setting of global limits for issuances should be viewed in a positive fashion, as it serves as an additional level of protection for shareholders' interests, by minimizing the potentially significant dilution of a series of issuance requests to a fixed level. However, if approved this authority would represent a potential cumulative capital increase of 52.5% of share capital, which exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Compliance of Relevant Laws and Regulations: Connected Transaction Regarding Assets Purchase via Share Offering, Cash Payment and Matching Funds Raising	Against	Please refer to Proposal 2.1 for further details. Having opposed the proposed transaction, we are voting against this proposal.
Overall Plan	Against	It should be noted that Haitong Securities Co., Ltd. was retained to serve as an external financial adviser in relation to the proposed transaction. In satisfying its responsibilities in this capacity, it should be noted that Shanghai LiXin Appraisal Co., Ltd. ultimately arrived at a fair value of RMB 1,868,005,500 for 100% equity interests of Changyi Real Estate, RMB 4,875,831,090 for 30% equity interests of Dongmao Real Estate, RMB 4,589,947,260 for 60% equity interests of Yaolong Investment and RMB 1,985,181,100 for 100% equity interests of Qirong Investment on the benchmark date of November 30th, 2022 via assets based method. As such the proposed consideration of RMB 13,318,964,950 is strongly consistent with the conclusions of Shanghai LiXin Appraisal Co., Ltd. Overall, the proposal appears to be transparent and as such, there are no immediate governance concerns which could be linked to a violation of the guidelines. It needs to be noted though that the board will be authorised to issue up to 767,216,904 A shares of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights to Lujiazui Group and up to 30% of the Company's issued shares by a private placement to a maximum of 35 investors, which exceeds the limit set by policy. Ultimately, a case-by-case decision should be made here, as it is a transaction of great significance and cannot be measured solely by governance aspects or policy elements. Therefore, the proposal should at least be critically scrutinised. We are voting against this proposal after carefully weighing the arguments.

Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	Against	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. As the proposed dividend pay-out ratio exceeds 100 percent, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	For	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. Consequently, as these authorizations are within the recommended thresholds, we are voting for this proposal.

According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Deliberations on Possible Legal Action Against Directors if Presented by Shareholders	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. As a result, it is recommended to view this item in a non-critical fashion should it occur. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The LTI does not include ESG criteria. As this is against policy, the recommendation is "AGAINST" with reference to "ABSTAIN".

Ratification of Auditor	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. The aforementioned notwithstanding, and as stipulated by Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002/Title II, "It shall be unlawful for a registered public accounting firm to provide audit services to an issuer if the lead (or coordinating) audit partner (having primary responsibility for the audit), or the audit partner responsible for reviewing the audit, has performed audit services for that issuer in each of the 5 previous fiscal years of that issuer." In spite of this, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Right to Call Special Meetings	For	The Company currently maintains a provision that would allow shareholders with 20% of outstanding shares the ability to call a special meeting. The board also has in place certain best practice corporate governance provisions, such as the annual election of directors by majority vote and no poison pill. Despite these best practices, and given the Company's size and shareholder base, a 10% threshold appears more appropriate. As this is generally in line with policy, and the fact that the Company can reasonably interpret and implement this proposal within the boundaries of applicable securities laws, we are voting for this proposal.

Presentation of the adopted annual financial statements of SÜSS MicroTec SE, the approved consolidated financial statements as at 31 December 2022, the combined management report for SÜSS MicroTec SE and the group including the information pursuant to Sections 289a and 315a of the German Commercial Code (HGB) and of the Supervisory Board report for the 2022 financial year	Not voted	There was no vote on this agenda item.
Resolution on the appropriation of net income	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. An acceptable distribution ratio is generally between 20% and 100%. Measured by EPS, the distribution ratio is less than 20%. However, since the motion is supported by a dividend policy and it is only the third dividend, this proposal from the management can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of members of the Management Board	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Management Board. There are also no other specific governance issues or guidelines violations that could oppose discharge of the members of the Management Board. The discharge can therefore be considered uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of members of the Supervisory Board	For	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Supervisory Board. There are also no other specific governance issues or breaches of guidelines which could oppose a discharge of the members of the Supervisory Board. This motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the appointment of the auditor and group auditor	For	There are no indications that constitute a violation of the guidelines. This motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the cancellation of authorised capital 2018; creation of new authorised capital 2023 against contributions in cash and/or in kind with the authorisation to exclude subscription rights and a corresponding amendment to the Articles of Association	For	The increase in share capital by €2,500,000.00 would lead to a capital dilution of 13.1% and exclusions of subscription rights are limited to a cumulative total of 10% of the share capital. Furthermore, an overall cap of 40% is not exceeded (no other anticipatory resolutions). As this does comply with the guidelines, this item on the agenda may be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

Resolution on the new authorisation to acquire and use treasury shares in accordance with Section 71(1)(8) of the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG) with the possible exclusion of subscription rights and the possibility of cancelling treasury shares with a reduction in the share capital and cancellation of the existing authorisation	Against	In this case, the company proposes a term of five years. This does not comply with the guidelines, which stipulate a maximum term of two years. This motion should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report for the 2022 financial year	For	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2022 and achieved an approval rate of 98.35%. As the system is consistent with the guidelines and furthermore is presented transparently, the motion can be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on amending the remuneration of the Supervisory Board and a corresponding amendment to the Articles of Association	For	There are no indications that would conflict with this agenda item. The motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on supplementing Section 22 of the Articles of Association with a new paragraph (4) on the possibility of virtual general meetings in future	Against	In this case, the approval period is limited to two years, which is to be welcomed. It is also noted that the protection of shareholders' rights will play a central role in the structure and implementation of the GM. There is also an explanation regarding the conditions under which the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting. It is also explicitly clarified that shareholder rights shall not be limited in comparison to presence. However, since it is clear from agenda item 11 that the physical presence of the members of the committees is not ensured, the amendment to the Articles of Association is viewed critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.

Resolution on an amendment to Section 25 of the Articles of Association to include a new paragraph (6) on enabling the participation of Supervisory Board members in general meetings by way of video and audio transmission	Against	In this case, the shareholders should make a decision on a case-by-case basis as to whether they support Supervisory Board members also being able to participate in the general meeting by means of video and audio transmission and whether this justification seems adequate: "(6) The members of the Management Board and the Supervisory Board should attend the general meeting in person. Supervisory Board members are permitted, in agreement with the Chairman of the Supervisory Board, to participate in the general meeting by means of video and audio transmission in cases where due to legal restrictions, for health reasons, due to their residence abroad or due to an insufficient travel time, the physical presence at the venue of the general meeting would not be possible or only with considerable effort or if the general meeting as a virtual general meeting is held without the physical presence of the shareholders or their authorised representatives at the venue of the general meeting." Since we consider the physical presence of the Supervisory Board members to be essential to the dialogue on the day of the general meeting, we are voting against the motion.

Consolidated Accounts and Reports	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. Accounts and Reports; Non Tax-Deductible Expenses	For	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Further, as for the approval of non tax-deductible expenses, this is a routine matter that will not have a negative effect on the Company's shareholders. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.

2023 Remuneration Policy (Board of Directors)	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Elect Jackwyn L. Nemerov	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualifications of nominee Jackwyn L. Nemerov. However, in this case, the Company has elected to hold its annual meeting by virtual means only and does not allow for the ability of shareholders to ask questions during the meeting and instead only permits shareholders to submit questions prior to the meeting, which is not in line with best practice. Given that the Company has curtailed the ability of shareholders to actively participate at the annual meeting, it is appropriate to hold the chair of the governance committee accountable. Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Supply Chain Due Diligence	For	It should be noted that the Company currently provides meaningful disclosures on its supply chain policies and practices, its standards surrounding involuntary labor, and its assessment process and corrective actions for suppliers. The Company also provides board oversight of its global compliance program. However, the proponent notes that the Company does not conduct or require routine audits of factories to confirm compliance beyond the producers of private label merchandise, which is reportedly a very small portion of merchandise. Moreover, requests for enhanced disclosure of how the Company is managing its human rights-related risks are in line with policy. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Human Rights Risks from Supply Chain Employee Misclassification	For	The misclassification of workers as independent contractors is a persistent issue across the US. A 2000 study commissioned by the US Department of Labor concluded that between 10% and 30% of audited employers misclassified workers, and up to 95% of workers who claimed they were misclassified were reclassified as employees following a review. Workers who are misclassified as independent contractors face a number of risks, as most federal and state labor and employment protections, such as minimum wage, overtime pay, and protection from discrimination and harassment, are only granted to employees. Moreover, misclassified employees face additional tax and insurance obligations. This issue has received significant media attention, prompting responses from senators and state officials. The Company states in its vendor code of conduct that vendors must comply with all applicable laws and regulations, including those relating to wages and benefits. Regarding monitoring and compliance, it states that the Company or its designated third-party auditor or agent has the right to monitor and assess compliance with its principles, and a violation of its code of conduct may result in required corrective action, cancellation of purchase orders, and/or termination of its business relationship. However, requests for enhanced disclosure of how the Company is managing its human rights-related risks are in line with policy. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Paid Sick Leave	For	The COVID-19 pandemic has shown that paid sick leave is a crucial contributor to public health, allowing workers who have been exposed to illness to quarantine, without feeling forced to come to work while contagious. In this case, it is important to consider the potential adverse implications that can arise when a company's workforce is without access to sick leave, consumer expectations regarding safe and hygienic shopping conditions, and changing employee expectations that can adversely impact a company's ability to hire and retain employees should they be found to be insufficient. Moreover, the proponent notes that those most unlikely to have access to paid sick days include Black, Indigenous, and people of color ("BIPOC"), part-time, immigrant, retail, and other service- industry workers, while 48% of Latinx workers and 36% of Black workers report having no paid time away from work of any kind. Given the adoption of this proposal could help mitigate human capital management related risks, we are voting for this proposal.

Spin-off (Separation of Elk Valley Resources)	Against	For those Teck shareholders with more nuanced ESG policies that include carveouts allowing for at least some investment exposure to steelmaking coal and/or thermal coal, those shareholders will have to consider whether a combined Teck/Glencore, and the resulting MetalsCo and CoalCo, would have acceptable ESG profiles that meet the relevant criteria and policies of those individual shareholders (e.g., whether the coal-related revenue is below a specific percentage of Glencore's/CoalCo's total revenue, whether the GHG emissions from Glencore's/CoalCo's thermal coal operations are within an acceptable level, whether Glencore/CoalCo have an acceptable coal run-down strategy, etc.). Alternatively, shareholders who fall into this group could also push for the Glencore Offer and opt to receive the partial cash consideration in lieu of receiving CoalCo shares.

All of this is to say that there are any number of valid reasons that would justify shareholders voting one way or the other on this proposal. This is obviously the case when it comes to any major transaction that goes to a shareholder vote. However, the arguments being presented here by the Company and Glencore, as well as the relevant factors to this situation, seemingly put a great deal of emphasis on nuances that, as a practical matter, fall outside the scope of our typical Proxy Paper analysis for financial transactions.

It should be noted that the Teck Class A Shares are largely owned by the Company's former Chair and CEO (Dr. Keevil) and a publicly-traded Japanese mining firm (SMM), and it is reasonable to presume that neither of these parties are subject to ESG-related investment restrictions. Further, 15 of the current top 25 holders, and 42 of the current top 100 holders of the outstanding Teck Class B Shares are also shareholders of Glencore, which is largely consistent with (i.e., within four percentage points of) the crossholding ratios observed five years ago (Source: S&P Capital IQ).

With conventional evaluation framework in mind, the strategic and financial merits of the competing available alternatives were compared. Based on review, it is believed the Glencore Offer and the Glencore Demerger represent a reasonably compelling strategic alternative that, at a minimum, warrants the Company hitting the pause button on the Separation and engaging in further discussions with Glencore.

		The current preliminary terms of the Glencore Offer appear to imply a relatively attractive market premium and valuation for the Company's Class A and Class B shareholders. It should be also noted that Glencore has not explicitly stated that its current offer terms represent its "best and final" offer, which leaves open the door for additional negotiations and possible improvements to its offer terms. It is also believed that Glencore's recent modification to add a cash component as an election option to the CoalCo shares could substantially resolve at least some of the concerns regarding a Glencore deal exposing Teck shareholders to unwanted ESG-related risks. Further, there is no indication of any immediate and pressing urgency for the Company to have to pursue the Separation at this time. Based on these factors, it is believed that shareholders would be better served rejecting the Separation at this time with a view towards encouraging the Company to engage in further dialogue with Glencore. Ultimately, a case-by-case decision should be made here, as it is a transaction of great significance and cannot be measured solely by governance aspects or policy elements. Therefore, the proposal should at least be critically scrutinised. Thus, the recommendation is "AGAINST" with reference to "ABSTAIN".
Approval of the EVR Stock Option Plan	Against	This proposal contemplates the stock option plan for Elk Valley Resources, pursuant shareholder approval and closing of Proposal 3. Having opposed the proposed Spin-off transaction, we are voting against this proposal.
EVR Shareholder Rights Plan	Against	Please refer to Proposal 3 for further details. Shareholder rights plans generally are not conducive to good corporate governance. Specifically, they can reduce management accountability by substantially limiting opportunities for corporate takeovers. Further, rights plans often prevent shareholders from receiving a buy-out premium for their stock. Having reviewed the terms of the rights plan, it is believed that the plan is reasonable and does not include problematic features such as unnecessary or inappropriate restrictions on permitted bids. However, having opposed the proposed Spin-off transaction in Proposal 3, we are voting against this proposal.

Arrangement Relating to Dual Class Share Structure	For	Upon review, the proposed amendment of the Company's multi-class structure is viewed as largely beneficial to the Company's unaffiliated subordinate Class B shareholders and, crucially, well within the bounds of economic fairness to all parties compared to precedent transactions. The resulting governance implications, with an acceptable sunset period and the absence of any post-sunset special board nomination entitlements to the Principal Class A Shareholders, is a further indication that the proposed transaction appears to be fair to all shareholders, including subordinate shareholders. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	For	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. In addition, the remuneration paid to the executive board is not excessive and is comparable with industry peers. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. Corporate Assembly Fees	For	The proposed fees are reasonable and in line with those paid by the Company's peers. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Nomination Committee Fees	Against	The Company's nomination committee held 30 meetings in 2022 and 34 meetings in 2021. In light of the fees for work on the nomination committee being paid on a per meeting basis and the high number of committee meetings in the last two years, there are concerns regarding the current payment structure. A payment structure as is proposed in Proposal 15.2, where committee members receive a set annual fee, is more appropriate in this case. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Nomination committee fees	For	The proponent has some legitimate grievances in this case. The payment structure proposed by the proponent, where committee members receive a set annual fee, is more appropriate than the Company's current "per meeting" structure. At the very least, one would expect the Company to have in place a cap on the fees a committee member can receive in a single year, which appears not to be the case. As such, and particularly in light of the high number of nomination committee meetings in recent years, we are voting for this proposal.

Adoption of 2023 Share Option Scheme	Against	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. While the level of dilution is acceptable, the following is not in line with best practice or policy: The minimum vesting period for awards granted under the 2023 Share Option Schemes is only 12 months. The 2023 Share Schemes include a provision that provides for accelerated vesting of options, to the extent vested and not already exercised, if the Company changes control. Remuneration Report	Against	The following issues regarding the Company's remuneration report should be noted: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. The Company has failed to implement executive stock ownership guidelines. The proposed equity grant lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The Company has failed to disclose the metrics for STI awards. The LTI awards were determined on a two-year performance and vesting period. Assuming that all shares held by Gek Terna (approximately 37% of the Company's share capital) were voted in favour of the proposal, one can deduce that around 31% of minority shareholders voted against the remuneration report at last year's general meeting. The Company has not disclosed any actions taken to identify or address shareholder concerns. The remuneration policy foresees the grant of equity awards to the CEO, who is also a major shareholder of the Company. Here, the executive chair directly owns 11.06% of the Company's issued share capital. Given the CEO's already substantial ownership, minority shareholders should be sceptical of equity grants to the executive chair. Furthermore, the Company has failed to disclose the exact size of the award granted to the executive chair. As such, this incentive system is not in line with the interests of free float shareholders. The executive chair, Georgios Peristeris, received a base salary increase of 40% for the past fiscal year without a valid reason. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Appointment of Auditor and Authority to Set Fees	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Election of Audit Committee Members	Against	It should be noted that nominees George Mergos and Andreas Taprantzis are currently serving on the board of directors. Nominee Nikolaos Kalamaras does not serve on the board of directors and if elected, will serve as an external member to the audit committee. As the board of directors does not have sufficient gender diversity, we are voting against all male directors. Moreover, in this case, the election of external members is presented as a slate. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

To conduct an advisory vote on the frequency of future advisory votes on executive compensation - 3 years - one can only vote for one item 3a., 3b. or 3c.	Against	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal as it is contrary to both good corporate governance and the best interests of shareholders.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: While the Company discloses a limit to payouts under the profit sharing plan, awards under the performance bonus plan do not have a clear maximum limit disclosed, which makes up the vast majority of the STI awards. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. The Company can grant discretionary bonuses. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance STI criteria, which is solely based on operating profit margin. Further the LTIP is not subject to any performance criteria. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Right to Call Special Meetings	For	In this case, the Company currently maintains a provision that would allow shareholders with 25% of outstanding shares the ability to call a special meeting. However, a 10% threshold for calling a special meeting is appropriate and in line with market best practice, given the Company's size and shareholder base. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Customer Due Diligence	For	The Company faces a number of material risks with regard to its customers' use of its products. As a result, the Company should ensure, on a best-effort basis, that its products are not used in the commission of any activities that could violate laws or international standards. Production of the requested review would provide shareholders with assurance regarding the efficacy of the Company's due diligence processes and is in line with policy. In light of the potential and regulatory risks associated with the use of the Company's products in conflict-afflicted and high-risk areas, support for this precatory proposal is warranted at this time. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Racial Equity Audit	For	It is particularly important for consumer-facing companies, such as the Company, whose operations heavily rely on their customers' trust and loyalty, to address issues of racial equity, including those raised by this proposal. As demands for audits and risk assessments surrounding social issues are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Transparency Report on Global Public Policy and Political Influence	For	Companies should provide sufficient disclosure of the use of company funds for political purposes, including grants made to politically active trade associations, in order to allow shareholders to evaluate the use of such grants as well as the oversight provided over the making of such grants. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Political Expenditures and Values Congruency	For	As discussed in Proposal 6, although the Company provides disclosure regarding its direct and indirect political contributions and lobbying expenditures, demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements. As a result, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	For	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Legal and Policy Center ("NLPC"), which has submitted shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear to be consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NLPC describes itself as a 501(c)(3) that "promotes ethics in public life through research, investigation, education, and legal action," and believes "the best way to promote ethics is to reduce the size of government." As part of the corporate integrity project on its website, the NLPC shares its concerns regarding "woke" corporate executives, for instance posting articles about inclusive content "devaluing" the Pixar franchise or about how the NLPC has reported Visa's chair and CEO to the SEC for ongoing "wokeness." The project also examines a supposed pushback against ESG initiatives, featuring pieces such as one describing corporate America's anti-racism programs as racist against white people and another promoting the NLPC's efforts to nominate a fossil-fuel-supporting director candidate to the board of Exxon Mobil Corporation. Although policy does not require that the board chair be an independent director, this proposal is largely focused on the separation of the roles of chair and CEO. Moreover, the shareholder proponent has put forth adequate justification for their proposal. Such a proposal enhances shareholders rights and is not considered detrimental financially or structurally. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report On Risks From State Policies Restricting Reproductive Health Care	For	This proposal is requesting that the Company produce a report detailing any known and potential risks and costs to the Company caused by enacted or proposed state policies restricting reproductive healthcare and detailing any strategies the Company may deploy to minimize or mitigate these risks. As demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Lobbying Report	For	It appears the Company has provided little meaningful disclosure regarding its lobbying activities. Although the Company has met legal requirements for political expenditure disclosure and has provided information regarding its policies, the Company could reasonably improve its disclosure to provide shareholders with an itemized list of recipients of its political contributions and lobbying expenditures, including payments made to trade associations. Further, given the increased scrutiny placed on corporate political spending, particularly those donations made to trade associations and independent organizations for lobbying purposes, we increased disclosure of trade association memberships and payments thereto could potentially benefit shareholders. As there can be potential negative repercussions from even small grants, such as those made by an association to which the Company has paid membership dues, improved disclosure would benefit shareholders by allowing them to weigh the risks of such donations. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Third-Party Review for Congruency of China-focused ETFs	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPr"). NCPPr has a history of submitting shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NCPPr describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPr, the Free Enterprise Project, routinely engages companies on issues such as healthcare, immigration, gun rights, energy, taxes, religious freedom, media bias, corporate free speech, and ideological diversity, among other issues, often by questioning executives at annual meetings or through the submission of shareholder proposals. This proposal requests that the Company commission and publish a third-party review of whether the Company's China-focused ETFs align with its human rights commitments. However, the Company does not even hold any securities in China National Nuclear Corporation, which appears to represent the bulk of the proponent's rationale for this proposal. In light of the proponent's incorrect statements regarding securities not held by the Company, as well as the Company's existing disclosures, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding a Racial Equity Audit	For	Conducting an audit, such as that requested by this proposal, would help to mitigate the risk of a similar high-profile controversy occurring at the Company. These controversies often result in customer and employee attrition, negative press, significant fines, and regulatory inquiries for the companies involved. Therefore, it is in shareholders' best interests for the Company to proactively identify and mitigate risks that could result in such adverse outcomes. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Fossil Fuel Lending and Underwriting Policy	For	This proposal requests that the company adopt a policy for a time-bound phase-out of its lending and underwriting to projects and companies engaging in new fossil fuel exploration and development. Adoption of this proposal will allow shareholders to more fully assess risks presented by climate change and is in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Absolute GHG Reduction Targets	For	In this case, this resolution is effectively requesting that the Company set an absolute emissions reduction target as opposed to an intensity-based target. The difference between the two types of targets can be meaningful for Companies and shareholders. With respect to an absolute emissions target, a company would be expected to reduce its total emissions by a specific amount. This would mean that, even if a company significantly expanded its operations, undertook a merger, or spun off assets, the reduction target would remain static. However, an intensity-based target generally means that emissions are relative to another metric, such as revenues. This means that a company's target would expand and contract relative to this metric, so if a company sold off part of its business, it would not realize an artificial emissions reduction, and similarly, if a company grows or acquires new assets, the emissions reduction target would take such growth into account. Critics of intensity-based targets contend that adopting a relative target could mean that a company, in theory, could meet or exceed its intended target, but ultimately end up producing more emissions if the company's growth is substantial enough. However, the proponent states that intensity targets will not capture whether the Company's total financed GHG emissions have decreased in the real world. Ultimately, adoption of proposal will allow shareholders to more fully assess risks presented by climate change. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Transition Plan Report for Financing Activities	For	This proposal requests that the Company issue a report on its transition plan "that describes how it intends to align its financing activities with its 2030 sectoral greenhouse gas emissions reduction targets, including the specific measures and policies to be implemented, reductions to be achieved by such measures and policies, and timelines for implementation and associated emission reductions." Ultimately adoption of proposal will allow shareholders to more fully assess risks presented by climate change which is in line with policy. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Median Gender and Racial Pay Equity Report	For	We support that the company should disclose its median gender pay gap across gender, race and ethnicity, including base, bonus, and equity compensation. As demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Civil Rights Audit	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPr"). NCPPr has a history of submitting shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NCPPr describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPr, the Free Enterprise Project, routinely engages companies on issues such as healthcare, immigration, gun rights, energy, taxes, religious freedom, media bias, corporate free speech, and ideological diversity, among other issues, often by questioning executives at annual meetings or through the submission of shareholder proposals. The additional disclosure requested by the proponent does not appear to be a prudent use of corporate resources or that it would provide any added benefit to shareholders. Moreover, while requests for a civil rights audit are generally in line with policy, this proposal has been labeled as "Anti-ESG" due to the shareholder proponent. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Business with China	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Legal and Policy Center ("NLPC"), which has submitted shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear to be consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NLPC describes itself as a 501(c)(3) that "promotes ethics in public life through research, investigation, education, and legal action," and believes "the best way to promote ethics is to reduce the size of government." As part of the corporate integrity project on its website, the NLPC shares its concerns regarding "woke" corporate executives, for instance posting articles about inclusive content "devaluing" the Pixar franchise or about how the NLPC has reported Visa's chair and CEO to the SEC for ongoing "wokeness." The project also examines a supposed pushback against ESG initiatives, featuring pieces such as one describing corporate America's anti-racism programs as racist against white people and another promoting the NLPC's efforts to nominate a fossil-fuel-supporting director candidate to the board of Exxon Mobil Corporation. The additional disclosure requested by the proponent does not appear to be a prudent use of corporate resources or that it would provide any added benefit to shareholders. Moreover, while requests for further information are generally in line with policy, this proposal has been labeled as "Anti-ESG" due to the shareholder proponent. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Shareholder Approval of Advance Notice Provisions	For	Advance notice provisions and related disclosure requirements for shareholder nominations of directors are commonplace at public companies. However, in November 2021, the SEC adopted rules to require the use of universal proxy cards by management and shareholders soliciting proxy votes for their own candidates in contested director elections. These requirements became effective for all shareholder meetings involving a director election from August 31, 2022. In response, numerous companies amended their bylaws to ensure compliance with the new rules as well as to adjust the requirements of their advance notice provisions for director elections. Among them, a small number of companies adopted advance notice requirements imposing unduly burdensome conditions on nominating shareholders. This proposal is aimed at ensuring the Company does not adopt such onerous provisions without first obtaining shareholder approval. Requiring shareholder approval for provisions that could potentially limit their rights is in shareholders' best interests. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Opinion on 2023 Sustainability and Climate Progress Report	For	In this case, the Company has asked shareholders to vote on its 2023 sustainability and climate progress report. Regarding this proposal in the context of the board's oversight responsibilities, the Company states that this consultation responds to certain expectations expressed and contributes to the dialogue between the Company and its shareholders in an area of expertise specific to the board. It also states that the board is thus assuming its responsibility for setting the Company's strategic direction, while at the same time seeking the opinion of shareholders. The Company also provides information concerning how it intends to interpret the vote results for this resolution, stating that, if the resolution is not adopted, it will discuss with the shareholders the reasons that led them, if any, not to support the proposed resolution and will inform them of the results of this process and the measures envisaged to take account of them. The Company has adopted a net zero ambition and has set reduction targets for its Scope 1, 2, and 3 emissions. The Company also provides reporting aligned with the TCFD, information concerning its scenario analysis, and has received third-party assurance on its GHG emissions. Overall, the Company's disclosure is sufficient to allow shareholders to understand and evaluate how the Company intends, at this time, to meet its climate objectives. Having reviewed the circumstances at the Company, it is believed that the Company has provided thorough information concerning its climate-related considerations and provided shareholders with a basis to understand how it is managing its climate-related risks and opportunities. Accordingly, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Issue Performance Shares	For	According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is fully compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Employee Stock Purchase Plan	For	Currently, employees do not hold a significant portion of the Company's share capital. Therefore, if the proposed plan is fully implemented, employee shareholdings would remain reasonable and in line with policy. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Amendments to Articles Regarding the Suppression of Double Voting Rights	For	As a result, the Company will adopt the principle of "one share - one vote" In this case, there is no cause for shareholder concern regarding the proposed amendment. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Scope 3 GHG Target and Alignment with Paris Agreement	For	The Company provides meaningful disclosure concerning the initiatives it has undertaken in order to mitigate climate change-related risks, as well as its emissions. Further, the Company has set interim targets on the way to achieving its net zero ambition, covering Scopes 1, 2, and 3 emissions. The Company has set a net zero by 2050 target for its Scopes 1, 2 and 3 emissions. However, this proposal is targeted at the company's Scope 3 by 2030 targets. In its supporting statement, the proponent does not appear to present arguments solidly centered on why adoption of this proposal would serve to enhance shareholder value or protect investors. However, the Company states in its statement of opposition that the "only way to implement the resolution would in fact be to reduce the marketing activities of the Company," and that: "Drastically reducing the global Scope 3 emissions in absolute value of a company like TotalEnergies, as the proposed resolution underpins, without an evolution of the overall structure of energy demand, would lead to direct that energy demand toward other suppliers, notably the national oil companies of producing countries. This strategy would have no effect on lowering global greenhouse gas emissions, and therefore no positive impact on climate. The implementation of this strategy would be bad for its shareholders, as the Company would have to sell its oil and gas products marketing activities to other operators." In order to reach Net Zero companies must decrease their carbon emissions in all scopes. Companies are responsible for the products they offer and they should not wait to start the transformation until demand for fossil fuels decrease. This will require a significant transformation of the businesses which companies should have started already. Therefore, we are voting in favor of the proposal.

Issuance of Employee Restricted Stock Awards	Against	According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. While the proposed dilution is within policy limits, the following issues regarding the structure of the plan should be noted: Vesting Period Less Than 3 Years. Best practice advocates a minimum performance/vesting period of three years for long-term incentive plans unless a cogent justification of a shorter vesting period is disclosed. In this case, the Company's annual report fails to provide an explanation for the markedly short vesting periods. However, it should be noted that a vesting period of one to two years is common in this market. Description of Hurdles and/or Vesting Schedule. The Company's meeting materials have failed to disclose a clear description of relevant performance hurdles and/or vesting schedules in relation to these hurdles. However, it should be noted that a lack of disclosure is common in this market. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

However, shareholders of Taiwanese companies who vote via proxy technically may not exercise their voting rights preemptively for any extraordinary motions raised at the general meeting of shareholders. 2022 Accounts and Reports	For	All of the necessary financial statements and reports are disclosed in the Company's meeting materials. It should be noted that in the opinion of the statutory auditors, the Company's independent auditor, the Company's financial statements and business report have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in Taiwan, 'Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and International Financial Reporting Standards'. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Allocation of Profits/ Dividends	For	A proposed dividend allocation should be comparable to industry peers and should mirror the financial health of the company. In principle, an acceptable pay-out ratio should be above 20 percent and below 100 percent. The company's aggregate pay-out ratio for the fiscal year is in an acceptable range. Given this, we are voting for this proposal.
Non-Compete Restrictions for Directors	For	Releasing the board of directors from these restrictions, which prohibit board members from conducting any activities that can be considered to be competitive with the business affairs of the Company, may lead to potential conflicts of interest for directors. In this case, the Company proposes to release its director from non-compete obligation with respect to their directorships in Companies in an unrelated industry, wholly-owned subsidiaries, controlled subsidiaries, substantial shareholders and their subsidiaries or joint ventures. There is no indication that participation in the operations of such entities will lead to conflicts of interest for directors. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Extraordinary Motions	Against	In Taiwan, many companies place an item for extraordinary motions on their proxy forms. However, shareholders of Taiwanese companies who vote via proxy technically may not exercise their voting rights preemptively for any extraordinary motions raised at the general meeting of shareholders. Instead, proxies have full authority to exercise their discretion in supporting or opposing any such motions. As granting unfettered discretion is not in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

2022 Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. The chief executive receives a significantly higher base salary than his peers. Further, since 2019, the CEO has been granted on a yearly basis performance shares with a valuation between €8 million and €15 million, which is not in line with industry and market peers. Regarding the deputy CEO's remuneration, his LTI grant, valued at €6,452,270, is substantially larger than the LTI awards for the CEOs at the Company's peers. Following the recent allegations of the Colombian government related to the working conditions of the Company's employees in its Colombian subsidiaries, it could reasonably be expected that the remuneration committee use its discretion and lower the payout for the CSR metrics, in light of the CSR reputational risks experienced by the Company in 2022 that made the Company's share price drop by 33.9% in one single day in November 2022, which has not fully recovered. 2023 Remuneration Policy (Chair and CEO)	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. While the Company's CEO receives a base salary corresponding to the double of the average base salary of the CAC 40 CEOs, the Company is positioned at the bottom of the third quartile of the CAC 40 index in terms of market capitalisation. The Company has not included any more meaningful CSR metrics related to the overview of the human capital management despite the reputational risks experienced by the Company in late 2022 following the investigation made by the Colombian government regarding the employee working conditions at the Company's subsidiaries. Elect Bhupender Singh	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Bhupender Singh. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.
Appointment of Auditor (PricewaterhouseCoopers)	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the new auditor. Moreover, rotating auditors is an important safeguard that helps to ascertain the independence of the auditor and may also protect against lack of oversight due to complacency or conflicts of interest between the auditor and the Company. Further, fees paid to the previous auditor are appropriate. While the lead auditor's name is not disclosed, this is acceptable in the context of the auditor rotation. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Appointment of Auditor (Deloitte)	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor have been disclosed. Moreover, fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and all necessary information regarding the auditor have been provided in the Company's filings. However, as per market practice: The company does not publish how long the lead auditor has already been in office. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase and Reissue Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum price has been disclosed in monetary value only, instead of 10% premium or discount of market price. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Cancel Shares and Reduce Capital	For	This is a routine request in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Consideration for Contributions In Kind	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 4.9% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 33.8% for all share issuances. As the global ceiling exceeds the cumulative limit for all share issuances set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authorisation of Legal Formalities	For	This is a routine legal formality in France. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Approval of the management report, the consolidated financial statements and the annual accounts (single-entity financial statements) of UBS Group AG for the 2022 financial year	For	The annual report and annual financial statements are in compliance with the group audit report. There are no reservations regarding correctness. There are also no indications that would conflict with an approval of this agenda item. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Advisory vote on the 2022 remuneration report of UBS Group AG	Against	The total remuneration of the 12 members of the Executive Board for the 2022 financial year amounted to CHF 106,908,756. There are no indications that could give rise to serious concerns with regard to the guidelines. Overall, the motion may therefore be viewed uncritically. Amendments to the Articles of Association: Voting on virtual general meetings (Article 10a(2))	Against	The amendment to the Articles of Association provides for the possibility of a virtual general meeting. Here, a period of more than two years (or no time limit) is to be approved, which is not in line with the guidelines. However, according to the proposal, it is noted that UBS does not intend to hold its general meetings in a virtual format. It is proposed to include the option only for exceptional circumstances. This procedure appears to be understandable and does not limit the shareholders' rights. As the approval period breaches the guideline, we vote against the application.

2022 Accounts and Reports	Against	The Company's audited annual and consolidated accounts were available for review in advance of this shareholder meeting. However, the policy requires for companies with a high market capitalization (>1 billion euros) to report on greenhouse gases, water, and biodiversity risks via the CDP (Carbon Disclosure Project), as climate change is becoming increasingly relevant in company valuations. Remuneration Policy	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has disclosed its intention to raise fixed salaries in FY2023. The CEO's base salary will increase by 30.0% in the upcoming fiscal year, from €2,500,000 in FY2022 to €3,250,000 in FY2023. The Company's policy allows the board to grant discretionary awards in the event specific situations, such as hiring phases, launch of special projects, achievement of extraordinary results, high risk of leaving for Group executives, critical roles and positions covered in specific corporate functions. As a general rule, these kinds of bonuses are considered as variable remuneration. In the case of Role-Based Allowances for executives, such bonuses are considered as fixed remuneration. In every case, discretionary bonuses are subject to gate conditions and clawback/malus clauses. The Company disclosed that under the new 2023 Group Incentive System, the share price calculation to determine the number of shares to grant under the long-term portion of the plan will be based on the market share price at the beginning of the performance period (average price from the beginning of the year until the AGM approval of the incentive plan), to reduce the possible volatility stemming from a shorter observation period and to take into account availability constraints during the deferral period, as per regulatory requirements. However, to offset the effects of the EBA guidelines and the regulatory prohibition of the Bank of Italy on distributing dividends or paying them ex-post, the Company may apply an adjustment mechanism to discount the share conversion price in case of unavailability of shares, in order to restore the market value. This mechanism may have the potential to increase the number of shares that could be awarded at an equal performance level achieved. As such, shareholders should question the absence of clearly disclosed parameters on how the price discount will affect the number of shares that can be received by the CEO under the long-term portion of the plan. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
2023 Group Incentive System	Against	Please refer to Proposal 0050 for further details of the plan. In this case, there are serious reservations about the terms of the plan. In particular, as discussed in further detail under Proposal 0050, one should question the lack of disclosure of clear parameters for the application of the adjustment mechanism to the conversion of the share price of granted awards and how this will affect the final number of shares to be awarded to the CEO. As such, we are voting against this proposal.

Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Directors' liability action	For	Where there is a violation of directors' duties, a solvent joint stock company can bring a liability action against the directors under Article 2393 of the Civil Code. Although any damages that the court awards are paid to the company rather than to the shareholders that have brought the action, it appears to be in shareholders' best interest to hold a director liable for a breach of his duties. Moreover, fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and all necessary information regarding the auditor have been provided in the Company's filings. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Authority to Issue Shares w/ o Preemptive Rights (Specified Capital Investment)	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 10% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which, if considered cumulatively with the authorizations in Proposals 15 and 16, exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. Presentation of the adopted annual financial statements and the approved consolidated financial statements, the combined management report for the company and the group (including the explanatory report on the information pursuant to Sections 289a and 315a of the German Commercial Code (HGB)) as at 31 December 2022 as well as the Supervisory Board report for the 2022 financial year and the Management Board's proposal on the appropriation of net income for the 2022 financial year	Not voted	There was no vote on this agenda item.
Resolution on the appropriation of net income for the 2022 financial year	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. An acceptable distribution ratio is generally between 20% and 100%. Since the motion complies with the guidelines, this proposal of the administration may be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Resolution on the discharge of the members of the Management Board: Ralph Dommermuth	Against	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Management Board. Last year, however, the company suffered a sharp drop in its share price. Recently, there had been some negative news, which was also significantly related to the mobile subsidiary 1&1 AG. Only a small fraction of the planned grid expansion has been implemented, which is why the requirements of the Federal Network Agency have not been met. On the other hand, the company itself has filed a complaint with the Cartel Office on the grounds that Vodafone is actively hindering the expansion and Vantage Towers is not supplying. The IPO of the subsidiary Ionos (web hosting) has also brought rather moderate success so far. Even if there are no concrete governance violations, the discharge of the Management Board should be viewed critically. As the position of the shareholders has been severely weakened, we are voting against the discharge of the Management Board.

As the position of the shareholders has been severely weakened, we are voting against the discharge of the Management Board.
Resolution on the discharge of members of the Supervisory Board	Against	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against members of the Supervisory Board. However, some key transparency points and/or governance issues are not satisfied, and the following points are missing: Management Board member CVs in compliance with the guidelines (nationality and age missing) Standard length of service for Supervisory Board members Establishment of a Nomination Committee Targets of zero percent of women in the composition of the Management Board Due to some shortcomings with regard to transparency or non-compliance with certain governance requirements, the discharge should be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the election of the auditor of the financial statements and auditor of the consolidated financial statements for the 2023 financial year and, in the case of an audit review, the auditor for interim financial reports for the 2023 financial year and for the first quarter of the 2024 financial year	For	There are no indications that constitute a violation of the guidelines. Resolution on the approval of the remuneration report for the 2022 financial year prepared and audited in accordance with Section 162 of the German Stock Corporation Act (AktG)	Against	The remuneration system was last voted on in 2021 and achieved an approval rate of only 77.71%. It will also be submitted again this year. The last remuneration report achieved only 75.69%. The company takes a stand on the criticism made, which is welcome. In addition, the CEO, Mr Ralph Dommermuth, has waived Management Board remuneration since the 2016 financial year in consultation with the Supervisory Board. Nevertheless, there were weaknesses in the system that can be remedied at the earliest with a new system and the conversion of all Management Board contracts to a system compliant with the guidelines. The report on the system may therefore not be compliant with the guidelines: No share ownership guidelines No ESG in LTI LTI without performance criteria Deviation from G.10, earlier exercise than after four years possible Deviation from G.1-G.5, as the new remuneration system does not apply at all (only for new contracts) No clawback (only for new contracts) No non-financial targets identifiable (in the LTI) Overall, a very critical view should therefore be taken of the motion. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the approval of the remuneration system for the members of the Management Board	Against	The remuneration system will be put to the vote for the first time. However, the remuneration system is still relatively vague and is not consistent with the guidelines in some respects: No share ownership guidelines No ESG in LTI LTI without performance criteria LTI solely linked to share price LTI has no comparative parameters to the market Waiting period of only two years A critical view should therefore be taken of the motion. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the by-election to the Supervisory Board: Franca Ruhwedel	For	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence and suitability of Franca Ruhwedel. Her election to the Supervisory Board can therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

Resolution on the creation of a new authorised capital for 2023 with the option to exclude subscription rights and the corresponding amendment to the Articles of Association	Against	Increasing the share capital by €75,000,000.00 would lead to a 39.1% capital dilution. Furthermore, 20% can be exceeded on a cumulative basis (up to 48.7%). The exclusions of subscription rights are also cumulatively limited to 20 and not 10%. This is therefore not within the scope of the analysis guidelines (max. 20% on a cumulative basis, max. 10% exclusion of subscription rights on a cumulative basis) The motion should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the cancellation of the existing authorisation to issue bonds with warrants/convertible bonds and the related conditional capital for 2020, on the granting of a new authorisation to issue bonds with warrants/convertible bonds and to exclude subscription rights on these bonds with warrants or convertible bonds and on the simultaneous creation of conditional capital for 2023 and the corresponding amendment to the Articles of Association	Against	Increasing the share capital by €18,500,000.00 would lead to a 9.6% capital dilution. However, 40% can be exceeded on a cumulative basis (up to 48.7%). The exclusions of subscription rights are also cumulatively limited to 20 and not 10%. This is therefore not within the scope of the analysis guidelines (max. 20% on a cumulative basis, max. 10% exclusion of subscription rights on a cumulative basis) The motion should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the authorisation of the company to acquire treasury shares also under exclusion of a right to tender and to use them under exclusion of the shareholders' statutory subscription rights as well as on the authorisation to redeem acquired treasury shares and capital reduction	Against	In this case, the company proposes a term of three years. This does not comply with the guidelines, which stipulate a maximum term of two years. This motion should therefore be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Resolution on the insertion of a new section 15a into the Articles of Association: Insertion of Section 15a(1) (virtual general meeting)	Against	In this case, the approval period is limited to two years, which is to be welcomed. There is no explanation regarding the conditions under which the Management Board intends to make use of the possibility of a virtual general meeting. There is also no written explanation of how the rights in the virtual general meeting are to be structured in the future. This motion should therefore be viewed critically. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Recapitalization	For	Allowing one vote per share generally operates as a safeguard for common shareholders by ensuring that those who hold a significant minority of shares are able to weigh in on issues set forth by the board, especially in regard to the director election process. Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Science-Based GHG Targets and Alignment with Paris Agreement	For	This proposal requests that the Company adopt independently verified short and long-term science-based GHG emissions reduction targets, inclusive of emissions from its full value chain, in line with the Paris Agreement's goal of limiting global temperature rise to 1.5 degrees Celsius. The Company currently maintains GHG targets, but this would have them independently verified, likely by SBTi, as the leading organization to provide such a service. The verification of these targets would provide shareholders assurance that the Company's targets were aligned with Paris in a satisfactory manner and this is even more important given that greenhouse gas emissions are a material topic for the Company according to SASB. Ultimately, the materiality of the Company's GHG emissions and that a failure to manage them in a responsible manner could harm long-term shareholder interests. As such targets are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Linking Executive Pay to GHG Emissions Reduction Targets	For	This proposal requests that the Company report on the feasibility of integrating its committed GHG emissions targets, goals, and other relevant sustainability measures as determined by the board into the Company's executive compensation program. Although the proponent is likely seeking the actual inclusion of these metrics into the Company's compensation structure, this proposal is not specifically requesting such an action. As demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Just Transition Reporting	For	Further reporting on these matters would be beneficial to the Company, its shareholders, and its stakeholders by allowing them to more fully understand the Company's considerations with respect to its workforce. Moreover, such disclosure could place the Company at a competitive advantage with respect to attracting and retaining employees, which is an important consideration given the tight labor market. Ensuring these employees' well-being could set the Company apart from others who have not undertaken contemplating and publicly reporting its plans concerning this matter. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report On Risks From State Policies Restricting Reproductive Health Care	For	This proposal is requesting that the Company produce a report detailing any known and potential risks and costs to the Company caused by enacted or proposed state policies restricting reproductive healthcare and detailing any strategies the Company may deploy to minimize or mitigate these risks. As demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Civil Rights Audit	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPr"). NCPPr has a history of submitting shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NCPPr describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPr, the Free Enterprise Project, routinely engages companies on issues such as healthcare, immigration, gun rights, energy, taxes, religious freedom, media bias, corporate free speech, and ideological diversity, among other issues, often by questioning executives at annual meetings or through the submission of shareholder proposals. The additional disclosure requested by the proponent does not appear to be a prudent use of corporate resources or that it would provide any added benefit to shareholders. Moreover, while requests for a civil rights audit are generally in line with policy, this proposal has been labeled as "Anti-ESG" due to the shareholder proponent. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Diversity and Inclusion Report	For	This proposal requests that the Company provide an assessment of the effectiveness of its diversity, equity, and inclusion efforts, specifically concerning outcomes using quantitative metrics for hiring, retention, and promotion of employees, including data by gender, race, and ethnicity. Although the Company's existing disclosures are relatively aligned with its peers, further disclosure would allow shareholders to better gauge the Company's human capital management related risks. Moreover, as demands for increased transparency are generally in line with the basic policy requirements, we are voting for this proposal.

Advisory vote on the remuneration report for the 2022 financial year	Against	Management remuneration is not shown individually. Elect Anthony J. Bates	Against	Nominee Anthony J. Bates has served as a member of the compensation committee during the past several years. The members of the compensation committee have the responsibility of reviewing all aspects of the compensation program for the Company's executive officers, including responding to shareholder concerns. It appears that members of this committee may not be effectively serving shareholders in this regard. Specifically, at last year's annual meeting, the Company's non-binding advisory resolution on executive compensation received support from approximately 75% of votes cast. This vote result is particularly poor considering the significant ownership of the MSD Stockholders and the SLP Stockholders; indeed, it appears that a substantial majority of shareholders not affiliated with the MSD Stockholders and the SLP Stockholders opposed the 2022 say-on-pay. In response, the Company determined to maintain its existing compensation practices. Following the announcement of the Broadcom acquisition at the end of May 2022, the Company has not engaged in a proactive outreach program. If the acquisition is not consummated, the Company expects to resume its shareholder outreach efforts. It is concerning that the board shirked engaging with shareholders despite the notable opposition to its compensation program. Additionally, the Company has again been deficient in aligning pay with performance, as described in detail in Proposal 2. The concerns regarding the Company's pay practices and programs are severe enough to warrant opposition to all members of the compensation committee at this time. However, no member of the committee other than director Anthony J. Bates is standing for election at this year's annual meeting. Consequently, we are voting against his re-election.
Elect Michael Dell	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Michael Dell. Consequently, we are supporting this director's election.

Elect Egon P. Durban	Against	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominee Egon P. Durban. However, given the information provided, the candidate holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (Director on six public boards - VMware, Inc.; Motorola Solutions Inc.; Qualtrics International Inc.; Unity Software Inc.; Endeavor Group Holdings, Inc.; Dell Technologies Inc.). Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.
Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. The first tranche of the fiscal 2023 PSU award (LTI) is based on a single metric. The Company uses TSR as a single metric for 3-year PSU performance multiplier (LTI). The metrics for the remaining two tranches have yet to be determined. The LTI does not include ESG criteria. The Company received approximately 75% support for its advisory vote on executive compensation at the last annual general meeting. This vote result is particularly poor considering the significant ownership of the MSD Stockholders and the SLP Stockholders; indeed, it appears that a substantial majority of shareholders not affiliated with the MSD Stockholders and the SLP Stockholders opposed the 2022 say-on-pay. In response, the Company notes that it is determined to maintain its existing compensation practices. Further, following the announcement of the acquisition at the end of May 2022, the Company has not engaged in a proactive outreach program. If the acquisition is not consummated, the Company expects to resume its shareholder outreach efforts. Despite the impending acquisition, shareholders may reasonably expect a thorough engagement effort from the Company, particularly in light of the heightened levels of shareholder dissent. Additionally, the Company has not provided a meaningful discussion on whether the acquisition itself is preventing it from maintaining these discussions. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt w/o Preemptive Rights and in Case of Exchange Offer	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 9.5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a global ceiling of 53.8% of share capital for all share issuances. This global ceiling for all share issuances exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Shares and Convertible Debt Through Private Placement	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 9.5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a global ceiling of 53.8% of share capital for all share issuances. This global ceiling for all share issuances exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Set Offering Price of Shares	Against	This proposal seeks shareholder authority French companies to issue securities without preemptive rights at a 10% discount, so long as the increases do not exceed 10% of their share capital in any 24-month period. In this case, the proposed discount specifically applies to proposals 19 and 20, which seek authority to potentially issue up to 9.5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, which is line with the limit for share issuances without preemptive rights set by policy. However, in total, the Company's proposed capital increases are subject to a cumulative limit of 53.8% of share capital, which exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Greenshoe	Against	This authority grants the Company the flexibility to increase an over-subscribed issuance by up to 15%, so long as such increase takes place on the same terms and within thirty days of the initial issuance. In this case, the proposed greenshoe is subject to a cumulative limit of 53.8% of share capital for all share issuances, which exceeds the cumulative limit set by policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital Through Capitalisations	For	The successive or simultaneous capitalisation of reserves, retained earnings or additional paid-in capital would benefit shareholders by allowing the Company to increase paid-in capital through a series of alternatives, above and beyond the issuance of shares. Moreover, when companies capitalize reserves, retained earnings or paid-in capital, there is no risk of dilution. This procedure merely transfers wealth to shareholders and does not impact share value. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Authority to Increase Capital in Consideration for Contributions In Kind	Against	In this case, the board will be authorised to potentially issue up to 9.5% of the Company's current issued share capital without preemptive rights, subject to a cumulative limit of 53.8% for all share issuances. As this exceeds the cumulative limit for all share issuances set by policy, we are voting against this proposal.

However, this director will be serving as the combined Chair/CEO in the upcoming year, which is against policy. Moreover, given the information provided, the candidate holds too many mandates to be in line with policy (CEO/Chair - Verizon Communications Inc.; Director - BlackRock, Inc.). Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The LTI does not include ESG criteria. It should be noted that Craig Silliman received a special retention incentive one-off award worth $1,000,034 with a vesting period of 2 years. There are no performance-based vesting requirements on these awards and the short vesting period is not in line with market best practice, given that it does not sufficiently encourage long-term retention. Moreover, this is the second year that the Company has granting a retention award with rather short vesting periods. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.
To conduct an advisory vote on the frequency of future advisory votes on executive compensation - 1 year - one can only vote for one item 3A., 3B. or 3C.	For	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.

Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Government Takedown Requests	Against	The Company has stated that it has not received government orders to shut down or restrict access to its services or communications networks and that, if it received such a request, it would be disclosed in its transparency report. Moreover, it should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Legal and Policy Center ("NLPC"), which has submitted shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear to be consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NLPC describes itself as a 501(c)(3) that "promotes ethics in public life through research, investigation, education, and legal action," and believes "the best way to promote ethics is to reduce the size of government." As part of the corporate integrity project on its website, the NLPC shares its concerns regarding "woke" corporate executives, for instance posting articles about inclusive content "devaluing" the Pixar franchise or about how the NLPC has reported Visa's chair and CEO to the SEC for ongoing "wokeness." The project also examines a supposed pushback against ESG initiatives, featuring pieces such as one describing corporate America's anti-racism programs as racist against white people and another promoting the NLPC's efforts to nominate a fossil-fuel-supporting director candidate to the board of Exxon Mobil Corporation. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding a Policy to Prohibit Political and Electioneering Expenditures	Against	While increased disclosure around political expenditures is in line with policy, explicitly prohibiting companies from legal participation in the political process is not in line with policy. Such participation can benefit shareholders by facilitating regulations and legislation that are favorable and likely to increase shareholder value. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Amendment to Clawback Policy	Against	The company's existing clawback policy does not violate policy. The Company has adopted a relatively robust clawback policy that covers intentional actions that result in financial and reputational harm to the Company and is in line with market best practice. The Company makes a reasonable case that it should not extend its policy to remove the personal culpability component, as it could cause a legitimate business decision to come under scrutiny, which is not the intention of a recoupment policy. Moreover, extending these terms could result in executives taking an overly-conservative approach, which could work to the detriment of shareholders. While companies should not incentivize excessive risk-taking, there is no indication that is the case with the Company's existing policy. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Severance Approval Policy	For	According to policy, severance package payments should be limited to a maximum of two-years' salary, which is not the case for this Company. As a result, the request to require the Company to seek approval for severance payments valued at 2.99 times the sum of salary and short-term bonus is in line with policy. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Independent Chair	For	Although policy does not require that the board chair be an independent director, this proposal is largely focused on the separation of the roles of chair and CEO. Moreover, the shareholder proponent has put forth adequate justification for their proposal. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

As no evidence has been presented that would question the accuracy of these reports, one should consider this item as routine. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Corporate Governance Report	For	This resolution is a routine formality in this market.
Authority to Set Auditor's Fees	For	The fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Appointment of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, the company does not publish for how long lead auditor has already been in office. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Election of Directors	For	There are no evident reasons to doubt the qualification and suitability of nominees Thomas Wilhelmsen and Margareta Alestig. Consequently, one should consider these appointments to be non-contentious. However, it should be noted that the company is bundling all elections under one resolution. Nevertheless, in the absence of any concerns regarding individual nominees, we are voting for these elections.

Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company has failed to link pay with performance. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. Mr. Rainey received substantial awards in connection with his hiring. In total, his new hire-related awards, excluding the PSUs, are approximately $21.5 million (using the Company's disclosed grant date fair value of his sign-on restricted stock). Recognizing that a large amount of the equity compensation Mr. Rainey forfeited from his past employer was subject to performance-based accountability, some portion of the Company's partial make-whole grant should be similarly tied to performance conditions to assure shareholders that the investment in Mr. Rainey is matched by results. However, the May 2022 make-whole award is performance-insensitive and vests over only two years. Meanwhile, the LTIP from Mr. Rainey's past employer in February 2022 would have vested over three years, with half subject to performance-based conditions measured over three years. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Ratification of Auditor	Against	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, the same firm has audited the Company for more than 10 years, which is not in line with policy. Moreover, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Employee Salary Considerations When Setting Executive Compensation	For	It is line with policy for the board to give consideration to how executives are compensated in comparison to how its non-executive employees are compensated. It should also be noted that there are currently pay for performance concerns regarding the Company's executives. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Human Rights Due Diligence Process Report	For	Requests for enhanced disclosure of a Company's human rights-related risks are in line with policy. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Racial Equity Audit	For	Undertaking the requested racial equity audit is in line with policy and would help to identify and mitigate potentially significant risks of a high-profile controversy occurring at the Company. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Racial and Gender Layoff Diversity Report	Against	The Company provides significant disclosure concerning its internal DEI initiatives and considerations. It is not clear that additional reporting by the Company on this narrow matter would provide additional insight to shareholders concerning how the Company was managing this matter. Further, the proponent of this proposal is the National Center for Public Policy Research ("NCPPR"). The NCPPR describes itself as a "communications and research foundation supportive of a strong national defense and dedicated to providing free-market solutions to today's public policy problems" that believes "the principles of a free market, individual liberty and personal responsibility provide the greatest hope for meeting the challenges facing America in the 21st century." A division of the NCPPR, the Free Enterprise Project ("FEP") describes itself as "the conservative movement's only full-service shareholder activism and education program: It files shareholder resolutions, engages corporate CEOs and board members at shareholder meetings, petitions the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) for interpretative guidance, and sponsors effective media campaigns to create the incentives for corporations to stay focused on their missions." This proponent has generally submitted proposals that appear to be focused on E&S issues on their face but are designed to frustrate the company's actions around ESG performance. Further, Company's disclosure regarding its oversight of issues related to diversity, inclusion, and belonging efforts and practices as well as its anti-discrimination efforts are sufficient. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Shareholder Approval of Advance Notice Provisions	For	Advance notice provisions and related disclosure requirements for shareholder nominations of directors are commonplace at public companies. However, in November 2021, the SEC adopted rules to require the use of universal proxy cards by management and shareholders soliciting proxy votes for their own candidates in contested director elections. These requirements became effective for all shareholder meetings involving a director election from August 31, 2022. In response, numerous companies amended their bylaws to ensure compliance with the new rules as well as to adjust the requirements of their advance notice provisions for director elections. Among them, a small number of companies adopted advance notice requirements imposing unduly burdensome conditions on nominating shareholders. This proposal is aimed at ensuring the Company does not adopt such onerous provisions without first obtaining shareholder approval. Requiring shareholder approval for provisions that could potentially limit their rights is in shareholders' best interests. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Risks from Abortion-Related Information Requests	For	This proposal is requesting that the Company issue a public report detailing any known and potential risks and costs to the Company of fulfilling information requests regarding the Company's customers for the enforcement of state laws criminalizing abortion, and setting forth any strategies beyond legal compliance that the Company may deploy to minimize or mitigate these risks. Given the Company's ability to collect and use certain types of customer data such as payment and transaction data, and its collecting and retaining of sensitive personal data on consumers' health, geolocation, internet activity, and purchases, the Company has an especially important role in ensuring its users' data is protected. It should be acknowledged that there are strict laws governing some of the more sensitive information collected by the Company, such as customers' protected health information. Nonetheless, as requests for greater transparency are in line with policy, we are voting for this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Report on Corporate Operations with China	Against	It should be noted that the proponent of this proposal is the National Legal and Policy Center ("NLPC"), which has submitted shareholder proposals that, upon first impression, appear to be consistent with environmental and social proposals that call for information or action on enhancing companies' approaches to environmental and social factors but, upon further review, appear to be designed to inhibit companies' actions in such areas. The NLPC describes itself as a 501(c)(3) that "promotes ethics in public life through research, investigation, education, and legal action," and believes "the best way to promote ethics is to reduce the size of government." As part of the corporate integrity project on its website, the NLPC shares its concerns regarding "woke" corporate executives, for instance posting articles about inclusive content "devaluing" the Pixar franchise or about how the NLPC has reported Visa's chair and CEO to the SEC for ongoing "wokeness." The project also examines a supposed pushback against ESG initiatives, featuring pieces such as one describing corporate America's anti-racism programs as racist against white people and another promoting the NLPC's efforts to nominate a fossil-fuel-supporting director candidate to the board of Exxon Mobil Corporation. Further, the company currently has quite robust levels of disclosure regarding activities in China. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Third-Party Audit of Policies on Workplace Safety and Violence	For	In this case, the Company has faced a number of fines, inquiries and significant media attention on account of the working conditions and safety of its employees. This is particularly true in light of a number of mass shootings that have taken place at the Company's stores, several of which were committed by Company employees. Given these very serious issues, additional scrutiny of the working conditions and treatment that the Company's workers face is warranted and in line with policy. This requested audit could provide some assurance to shareholders that the working conditions are being evaluated by an independent third-party, which is especially critical at this time given the litigation the Company is facing related to worker safety. Having this independent body evaluate workplace safety would likely allow employees to provide an honest assessment of their experiences without the fear of retaliation or retribution and could ensure the Company is able to see all angles of this issue, potentially allowing it to present information that management had previously missed. Accordingly, we are voting for this proposal.

Ratification of Auditor	For	There is no indication of any investigations or pending court cases pertaining to the auditor. Moreover, the fees paid to the auditor are appropriate and are clearly disclosed by the Company. However, as per US market practice, the lead auditor's name and tenure has not been disclosed in the company's proxy materials or annual report. The aforementioned notwithstanding, and as stipulated by Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002/Title II, "It shall be unlawful for a registered public accounting firm to provide audit services to an issuer if the lead (or coordinating) audit partner (having primary responsibility for the audit), or the audit partner responsible for reviewing the audit, has performed audit services for that issuer in each of the 5 previous fiscal years of that issuer."
In this case, we are voting for this proposal.

Shareholder Proposal Regarding Right to Act by Written Consent	Against	Shareholders already have a number of mechanisms by which they may promote change, outside of a consent solicitation. Specifically: The Company allows 10% of shareholders the ability to call a special meeting; The Company has established proxy access rules whereby 3% of shareholders for 3 years are able to nominate director candidates to management's proxy; There is no poison pill in place; and The board is declassified and directors are elected by a majority vote standard. As a result, adoption of this proposal does not appear necessary at this time, as its existing rights sufficiently allow shareholders access to the board and the ability to take action in between annual meetings, should such actions be warranted. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Remuneration Report	Against	The Company's disclosure of its remuneration policies and procedures is in line with policy and applicable legislation. The report gives the impression of having been properly prepared. However: The Company's deferred bonus scheme includes a provision that provides for accelerated vesting of awards under the deferred bonus scheme if the Company changes control. The Company's annual bonus is based on profit growth, multiplied by a factor of 1.5 and paid to a maximum of 45% of salary. Profit growth is calculated before tax, property gains/losses and separately disclosed items. The committee states that it awarded a bonus of 8.25% of base salary to executives based on performance in the second half of the year, compared to a Company forecast. However, the approach taken for executives is aligned with the broader workforce, and the final outcomes are not excessive. The LTIP ("Share Incentive Plan") lacks bonus-malus and/or any recovery provisions. The Company has failed to implement a long-term incentive plan designed for executives that is performance based with clearly defined metrics and targets. Compensation is not linked to materially significant ESG indicator. Less than at least 2 KPIs are used as performance for STI and LTI criteria. Fixed salary increased by more than 10% within one year without a valid reason. On December 1, 2022, the Company announced that Su Cacioppo (Former Personnel and legal director) had received an award of 13,147 shares in the Company at a price of £4.77 on October 11, 2022, following her departure from the Company on October 7, 2022. The Company states that the award matched the number of shares that she would have been entitled to under the Company's Share Incentive Plan ("SIP"). On page 69 of the Company's 2023 annual report, it states that directors must be in office for SIP awards to vest. Therefore, while the quantum of the award is not considered to be particularly excessive, the committee's decision to proceed with this grant should be questioned here as it appears designed to replace an award to which director Cacioppo was no longer entitled. One could expect a greater transparency concerning this award, as well as further detail concerning the nature of the part-time consultancy services which Cacioppo was said to provide the Company for an initial period of 12 months following her departure.

As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting

In addition, the Company has not complied with Provision 21 of the UK Code, which states that an external evaluation of the board should be facilitated at least every three years; instead, the board once again conducted an internal review. In acknowledging its failure to comply with the Code in this regard, the board states that:

" Delegation of a key task of the chairman and of the directors of the board itself to a third party, often with little or no connection with the Company's business and with a very limited knowledge of the directors, may be a dangerous step for a board to take. It is the function of the board itself to evaluate its own performance - and that performance is most evident from the results of the underlying business.

For this reason, it is believed best for the Company to continue with its current system of 'self-evaluation' (2023 annual report, p.76).

The board's rationale in this regard should be questioned here, as current business performance or regular internal evaluations does not justify the lack of compliance with this provision of the code.

As such, it is believed that the chair of the nominating committee should be held accountable for these failings.

Consequently, we are opposing this director's election.

Amendments to Bye-Laws	Against	If approved, the board will be authorised to set the notice period for an extraordinary general meeting ("EGM") that contains a special resolution at 14 days. Before the implementation of the new Companies Ordinance, the general meeting notice period for special resolutions in Hong Kong was at 21 days. However, there is concern with the effect of reducing the notice period for a special resolution from 21 to 14 days, as this authority may limit the ability of some shareholders, particularly those located overseas, from participating at a meeting in a fully-informed manner, due to their generally advanced voting deadlines. While this shortened notice period is permitted by the new Companies Ordinance, 14 days is simply insufficient time for shareholders to receive a ballot, weigh the issues and vote. Further, issues raised by special resolutions at extraordinary general meetings are by nature often more complex than routine annual general meeting proposals or ordinary resolutions of extraordinary general meetings, thereby requiring a deeper and more time-consuming level of review. The Company has elected to bundle these article amendments into a single proposal, which prevents shareholders from making an independent determination of each article amendment on its own merits. As a result, we are voting against this proposal.

2023 Stock Options Incentive Plan (Draft) and its Summary	Against	According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. While the proposed dilution is within policy limits it should be noted that the proposed exercise price discount rate will be capped at approximately 25%, which is excessive. Granting options with exercise prices below the fair market value of the Company's ordinary shares increases the cost of such options. Although the grant of options at a discount is a common practice in this market, in this case, shareholder interests are not being carefully considered in the Company's compensation plan. As this exceeds the limit set by policy, and the Company has not provided the maximum discount rate in the Company's disclosures, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Repurchase Shares	Against	At this time, there is no evidence of any past abuse of this type of authority at the company. However, the maximum and minimum price has not been disclosed. As this is against policy, we are voting against this proposal.
Authority to Issue Repurchased Shares	Against	This proposal is conditional upon the passing of Proposal 5, which we opposed, and the Company has not provided the maximum discount rate in its disclosures, which is against policy. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal.

Adoption of New Share Option Scheme	Against	While the proposed dilution is in line with policy, the following issues should be noted: Performance Targets: The awards granted under the Scheme are not linked to any performance targets. Further, a lack of performance targets for stock option plans is common in this market. Change of Control Provision: The rules of the Scheme includes a provision that provides for accelerated vesting of options, to the extent vested and not already exercised, if the Company changes control. This provision may discourage potential buyers from making an offer for the Company both because the purchase price will be higher and because substantial numbers of employees may earn significant amounts of money and decide to leave their positions with the Company. In short, this sort of provision may not only lower the chances of a deal, but will possibly also lower the premium paid to shareholders in a takeover transaction. Short Vesting Period: There is one year minimum vesting period for awards granted under the scheme. A minimum vesting period of at least two years, if not longer, better align shareholders' interests with those of the management when determining equity-based awards. This is as long-term vesting periods serve to incentivize participants to manage long-term performance, noting that risk-taking in one year may have consequences to shareholder value which do not emerge until years later. Where a company chooses to have a short vesting period - or no vesting period - for awards, the awards may vest prior to the consequences of risk-taking bears out, essentially becoming short-term "guaranteed payments" rather than acting as long-term incentivizing tools. As this is not entirely in line with policy, we are voting against this proposal.

Frequency of Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation: please vote for this resolution to approve 1 year	For	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting for this proposal.
Frequency of Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation: please vote for this resolution to approve 2 years	Against	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal as it is contrary to both good corporate governance and the best interests of shareholders.
Frequency of Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation: please vote for this resolution to approve 3 years	Against	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal as it is contrary to both good corporate governance and the best interests of shareholders.
Frequency of Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation: please vote for this resolution to approve Abstain	Against	Shareholders are better served by having an annual vote on executive remuneration as compensation may change dramatically year to year due to significant changes in variable remuneration. Consequently, we are voting against this proposal as it is contrary to both good corporate governance and the best interests of shareholders.
Amendment to the Equity Incentive Award Plan	For	Remuneration plans should be adequately disclosed and should reward executives for good performance. According to policy, dilution for all compensation plans should be no higher than 10% of share capital. Given that the company's plan is compliant with policy and, in the absence of any evidence of past abuse by the company of this type of authority, we are supporting this proposal.
Amendment Regarding Officer Exculpation	Against	The proposed amendment essentially removes liability for an officer's breach of his or her duty of care, which is counter to the interests of shareholders. In this case, the board has not persuasively demonstrated the need for the proposed provisions. Shareholders should be wary about approving any officer exculpation provisions without compelling evidence that it will benefit shareholders. Therefore, we are voting against this proposal.
Shareholder Proposal Regarding Right to Call Special Meeting	For	In this case, the Company currently maintains a provision that would allow shareholders with 20% of outstanding shares the ability to call a special meeting. However, a 10% threshold for calling a special meeting is appropriate and in line with market best practice, given the Company's size and shareholder base. Therefore, we are voting for this proposal.

Annual report, annual accounts and consolidated financial statements for the 2022 financial year	For	The annual report and annual financial statements are in compliance with the Group audit report. There are no reservations regarding correctness. There are also no indications that would conflict with an approval of this agenda item. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Use of available income	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. In general, an acceptable payout ratio is at least 20%. As the motion is in line with the financial situation of the company, this proposal of the management should be viewed as uncritical. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Discharge of the Board of Directors and management	Against	We are not aware of any pending proceedings against incumbent members of the Board of Directors or the management. However, some key transparency requirements have not been satisfied, and the following points are missing: Personal union between the Chair of the Board of Directors and the Chair of the Audit Committee No participation in the CDP No age limit for members of the Board of Directors Due to some deficiencies in transparency or non-compliance with some governance requirements, the discharge should be viewed very critically. We are therefore voting against the motion.
Amendments to the Articles of Association: Capital reduction by reducing the nominal value of the shares	For	The dividend should be reasonable and reflect the company's financial position. In general, an acceptable payout ratio is at least 20%. As the motion is in line with the financial situation of the company, this proposal of the management should be viewed as uncritical. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Amendments to the Articles of Association: Conditional share capital provision	For	Increasing the share capital by CHF 4,150,177.50 would lead to a 5% capital dilution. This is not within the limits set in the analysis guidelines and can therefore be viewed critically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.
Amendments to the Articles of Association: Resolution on the capital band	For	According to the motion, the share capital may be increased by 10% in the form of the capital band. The subscription rights exclusions are cumulatively restricted to 10% of the share capital across all capital measures, which is consistent with the guidelines. This agenda item may therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of the motion.

Election to the Board of Directors: André Müller (as member and as Chairman)	Against	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence of André Müller. However, the personal union between the Chairman of the Board of Directors and the Chair of the Audit Committee should be viewed critically in accordance with the guidelines. His election to the Board of Directors should therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of this election.
Election to the Board of Directors: Thomas Seiler	Against	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence of Thomas Seiler. However, this member of the Board of Directors has already been a member of the Board of Directors for at least 16 years, which is why a re-election is contrary to the guidelines. A very critical view should therefore be taken of the motion. We are therefore voting against the election.
Election to the Board of Directors: Karin Sonnenmoser	For	There are no indications that would give rise to any doubts as to the competence and suitability of Karin Sonnenmoser. Her election to the Board of Directors should therefore be viewed uncritically. We are therefore voting in favour of this election.

Subject Climate strategy
Content Lufthansa was the first European airline to set itself a climate protection target validated by the Science Based Target Initiative (SBTI) and to visibly intensify its efforts to use sustainable aviation fuels.		Result Lufthansa fulfils our repeated demand for a scientifically validated climate protection target and in doing so is sending an important signal for a credible decarbonisation strategy.

Subject Annual Supervisory Board dialogue
Content We used the conversation to talk about the future composition of the Supervisory Board. We talked about the committee work and criticised the low participation of independent shareholder representatives in the Supervisory Board committees. We also discussed the format (virtual vs in person) of the general meeting.		Result For the Supervisory Board, the staggered board system (staggered terms of office) with a term of office of 3 years will be introduced, which we very much welcome. An ESG committee was formed on 1 January 2023, which is also a positive development. We will receive reports on the work of the new committee in the future. We criticised the fact that the participation of women in the committees could be increased. The criticism was taken on board by the company. Mr Kley is a supporter of the virtual general meeting format and would also like to shift the right to ask questions to the run-up to the general meeting in the future. We described our position, especially the criticism of the virtual format.

During the meeting, the succession of Mr Baumann, the virtual general meeting format and the composition of the Supervisory Board were discussed. Among other things, we called for the opportunity to speak personally to the Management Board and the Supervisory Board at the general meeting.

Result

Mr Maier gave insights into the succession process for Mr Baumann. He also informed us about the changes in the Supervisory Board. Regarding the format of the general meeting, he said that while a general meeting in person was still conceivable, it would tend to be the exception.

In principle, concessions holding companies represent an investment for Ferrovial, but they provide infrastructure for sustainable aviation fuel at their airport holdings and also invest in the expansion of charging station infrastructure at their motorway holdings.

Result

Ferrovial has sufficiently ambitious CO2 reduction targets. It also invests in decarbonisation and Ferrovial has good governance.

Via Veolia IR Ms De Lamaze, we have accelerated communication between ISS and other ISS contacts at Veolia to clarify the "nuclear weapons allegation" which has been repeatedly discussed and is not material in our view. CA100+ Benchmark follow-up

Content

A CO2 price of 100 Euro per ton has been approved by management. The result from the analysis is that many projects already on the pipeline will take place. However, an explicit statement committing to aligning capital expenditure decisions and plans with its long-term GHG reduction target is missing. Bayer does not disclose or have a plan for green revenue targets. There are not comparable examples in the chemical sector, according to Bayer. Circular economy production targets are acknowledged. Bayer has showed interest in a putting a vote for the transition plan since 2021. The vote won't be put in the 2023 AGM agenda because a change in management is taking place at the moment. At the moment no German company has put a transition plan to vote. We would appreciate if Bayer could put the topic for the 2024 AGM agenda. We are willing to do another round of investor to provide feedback.

Result

Bayer has been very willing to engage on the climate topic and has taken positive steps in the past two years. We expect a Say on Climate vote in the 2024 AGM and a commitment to align its CAPEX to 1.5°C by 2023.

According to BP: 40% production guidance and targets did not include Rosneft. With the divestment last year we needed to readjust. We do not see it as a U-turn, only as an readjustment, the press is not accurately selling our plans.

Result

Scope 3 emissions fall slower than they would have under the previous plan. The group did not change its long-term ambition to reduce its emissions to net zero by 2050, and is still committed to using 50% of its spending budget on low-carbon businesses by 2030. A more aggressive emission cuts will be necessary after 2030. The question remains as to whether BP will manage the emission reduction with its low-carbon investments.

On the occasion of the press release of 13 February and the product launch of the "Green Fares" announced therein, we have questions about the high-quality climate protection projects mentioned therein, through which 80% of the flight-related CO2 emissions are to be offset. In order to better assess possible reputational risks from greenwashing allegations in this context, we request additional information on the offset projects.

Result

Lufthansa answers all our queries in detail. We continue to take a critical view of the underlying carbon offsetting projects, even after reviewing the additional information provided to us, and will address this again in the engagement. On a positive note, the Green Fares is not related to the achievement of the SBTi reduction target for 2030. We had the possibility to talk to the Lead Independent Director of the company. We discussed board independence, especially with regard to the audit committee chair, as well as executives' compensation.

Result

We explained our definition of independence and why we still do not consider the majority of the board members to be independent. We pointed out the missing independence for the audit committee chair as this position is especially important. The company wants to move forward in this regard and to have more truly independent board members in the future. During this process, they want to balance board refreshment and knowledge retention which is understandable. They already cut off consultancy agreements with two of their directors which led to a dependent status in the past. Controversy over illegal import of laboratory animals relevant?

The U.S. Department of Justice is investigating companies in the industry for illegally trafficking primates from Cambodia for animal testing by drug developers. Charles River Labs (alleged customer of ThermoFisher) received a subpoena in this regard and this resulted in the stock (CRL.N) dropping on 22 February 2023.

Result

ThermoFisher is not involved, according to the CFO. The operation is relevant at the level of ThermoFisher's customers, but is unlikely to be a major bottleneck to their work there (which in turn could have an impact on TF's business): According to TF, primates are still needed for trials in drug development. However, customers are likely to be more selective with primates in the future (i.e. more thorough preliminary work using mice, rats and pigs).

Moncler has taken our feedback very seriously and confirmed that not participating in KnowTheChain is also viewed critically by other investors. Moncler would like to participate in the initiative in the future, but currently lacks the resources, which is why they are looking to establish transparency at least for the most important categories of the questionnaire. We will discuss which initiatives and rankings we as Union Investment prioritise most highly with Moncler at a separate meeting in early April 2023.

Supervisory Board remuneration and general meeting

Content

This meeting was used in particular to discuss the remuneration structures of Deutsche Bank's Supervisory Board. We also discussed the planned general meetings. We demanded that we be able to speak in person.

Result

Deutsche Bank presented considerations regarding the adjustment of the remuneration system. We gave our opinion on this. Our opinion was based on the criteria for Supervisory Board remuneration set out in the proxy voting policy. In particular, we discussed the appropriateness of meeting fees and variable remuneration. Mr Winkeljohann agreed to take our opinion into account in the further consideration of the adjustment of remuneration. Deutsche Bank is planning a virtual general meeting at which questions must be submitted beforehand. We took a critical stance on this.

Progress on climate protection measures

Content

Together with BASF, they discussed which CO2 reduction measures are already being implemented. It was also discussed what challenges remain for BASF, e.g. with regard to the availability of green electricity.

Result

To reduce CO2, BASF is focusing on the electrification of processes and the use of green electricity. To this end, green electricity is generated in its own wind farms and via PPAs (Power Purchase Agreements), but not yet to a sufficient extent. Political tailwind in the form of fast approval procedures and power lines from north to south would be desirable for BASF.

Climate Ambitions & Green Logistics

Content

DSV recently became more ambitious on Decarbonisation. It has set net-zero goals for Scope 1-3 by 2050. Until 2030 the goals are 50% for Scope 1 & 2 and 30% Scope 3. We spoke about internal ESG management and the new Green Logistics project. Our questions were for example whether DSV believes that customers will pay for more sustainable supply chain/ transportation solutions? Have they seen any evidence of that? On what areas is DSV focusing to decarbonise GHG emissions and what influence do they believe they have on scope 3 emissions?

Result

DSV is still very much a passive actor, offering customers "green logistics solutions" like Virtual Sustainable Fuel Booking Options. Very few customers currently make use of these. DSV recently established operational sustainability organisation under the CEO now, the aim being to integrate and measure ESG like finance. A big issue to tackle is data quality. Most difficult will be emissions reduction from air transport.

Climate strategy

Content

Maersk has set a carbon neutrality target for 2040 and considers this to be science based and aligned with the SBTi (Science Based Target initiative) 1.5 degree pathway. Target validation will follow when the SBTi publishes shipping sector guidance. Maersk's considers its 2030 targets also as aligned with Science Based Targets initiative 1.5-degree pathway. Underlining the aspired transformation, Maersk plans to put the world's first vessel powered by green methanol fuel into operation in 2023. Further 12 large oceangoing container vessels that are able to run on green methanol, should be in operation by end of 2024 and during 2025.

Result

Even in the current post-pandemic downcycle, Maersk continues to be committed to taking leadership in decarbonising logistics. We discussed Maersk's fuel sourcing strategy and ship recycling policy. Maersk invests in developing low-emission fuels, such as methanol. They see evidence of demand for sustainable supply chain solutions all over the world, when the business customers' aim is to offer a climate neutral product B to C.

McDonald's Sustainability Strategy

Content

McDonald's has actively offered a call to discuss its ESG strategy. Our questions focused on its climate strategy and whether the goal of reducing 36% of greenhouse gas emissions related to McDonald's restaurants and offices by the end of 2030 from a 2015 base year is realistic to achieve because at the end of 2021 they met 8.1%. Moreover, we were interested in the scope 3 calculation and target realization. We also touched the topic of animal welfare and whether this indicator would be appropriate for executive remuneration.

Result

In terms of its climate strategy McDonald's told us that they do not expect emissions reductions to be linear. They needed to conduct significant investments in the past, the results of which will be seen in the near future. McDonald's is confident to achieve its targets by 2030. Regarding the animal welfare factor they were more cautious to integrate it within executive remuneration. They highlighted the responsible use of antibiotics in beef and dairy and other measures, but were not directly promising further steps.

Discussion about Airbus nuclear arms business

Content

There was talk about Airbus' involvement in nuclear weapons in order to gain a better understanding of the activities involved. Airbus essentially develops and manufactures the following products related to nuclear weapons through joint ventures:

- The air-to-ground carrier rockets for the French government. Work is already underway here on the successor model, which will be used from around 2035 onwards
- The carrier rockets launched from submarines

Airbus assured us that no nuclear warheads would be produced and that the missiles would only be produced on behalf of the French government as a legitimate nuclear power. Due to the commissioning by the state and the associated contracts, the task of the business segment is not possible.

Result

We were better able to understand the production and commissioning of the French state with regard to nuclear launchers. Unfortunately, the company could not give us the exact sales shares due to the joint venture structure.

Climate Strategy

Content

Implementation of the climate strategy, in particular the Scope 3 target to also reduce the intensity of greenhouse gas emissions from commercial aircraft in operation by 46% by 2035. Are there any interim targets for the SBTI-validated targets that will be reviewed again before 2030 and 2035?

Result

Progress on the climate strategy is published annually. Annual targets for scopes 1 and 2 are part of board remuneration and in line with 2030 Roadmap. Levers for Scope 3 are fleet renewal with up to 30% reduction in fuel consumption and introduction of SAF. Airbus committed to be a catalyst on the demand side, with a 10% SAF share for internal operations in 2023, 30% by 2030 and strategic collaborations with SAF producers. Aviation industry committed to net-zero 2050 and Airbus will do all it can to support the achievement of this goal. SBTI is currently working on a long-term trajectory for this hard-to-abate sector. Airbus will continue to work closely with SBTI and when there is clear SBTI guidance, Airbus will ensure that the development is followed up.

The background to the discussion was the announcement by Deutsche Bank to hold the general meeting this year virtually, making use of the run-up. This means that all questions are submitted and answered in advance. Only enquiries and questions about new matters are possible at the general meeting itself. We are critical of the virtual format and, in particular, the run-up that it devalues the day of the general meeting and the general debate.

Result

We detailed the reasons why Union Investment is critical of the virtual general meeting format and, in particular, the run-up. Prof. Simon justified Deutsche Bank's decision by saying that the quality of dialogue is increasing, that participants in the event have a "real" interest and that the digitalisation of society is progressing. However, Mr Simon does not rule out the possibility that the general meeting will be held hybrid in the future. First of all, more routine will be gained with virtual general meeting formats.

Engagement with KnowTheChain

Content

Moncler has not engaged with KnowTheChain (KTC) so far and thus KTC comes to the conclusion that "Moncler SpA (¿) has taken basic steps to address forced labor risks in its supply chains. It discloses less information than the global sector average. Other European luxury apparel companies such as Burberry or Hugo Boss disclose taking stronger steps. Moncler does not disclose any steps it has taken to address the risks of alleged Uyghur forced labor across its supply chain tiers." We have questioned Moncler's position regarding KTC and request a higher transparency when it comes to human rights risks in the supply chain.

Result

Moncler warmly welcomed our feedback and is inclined to increase its supply chain transparency. However, they are not sure whether they will initiate engagement with KTC or another initiative because they see some issues with the KTC methodology. We highlighted our interest in more granular data referring the supply chain management and would acknowledge at least a minimum dialogue with KTC regarding the most relevant areas.

We discussed the agenda items of the upcoming AGM and reflected on our voting behavior in the prior year. In the discussion, we came across the topic of executive remuneration and the split of the dual role CEO/Chair that the company conducted last year as well as the hybrid format of the AGM.

Result

In the past, we did evaluate the dual role of Chair and CEO critically. In the new governance structure, a new CEO was installed and the previous CEO/Chair remains as executive chair. This development was chosen by the company because of the negative investment feedback received in the past. We discussed the new roles and gave our feedback as German asset manager. With regard to remuneration, the company immensely increased the transparency which materialized in an improved compensation report. Lastly, we commented positively on the hybrid format the company chose for the upcoming AGM.

Content

We welcome the fact that Lufthansa is the first European airline to set a climate protection target validated by the Science Based Targets Initiative in line with the Paris Climate Agreement. However, we see considerable need for improvement with the new "green" fares. Lufthansa should avoid the impression among its customers that they can fly climate-neutral by purchasing emission credits. We need transparency and a strengthening of credibility by the Group also reviewing its lobbying in relation to its own climate goals and making all lobbying activities transparent in a report.

Discussion on sustainable aviation fuels

Content

In addition to fleet renewal, sustainable aviation fuels are the key element for achieving the emission reduction targets within the framework of the climate strategy. In intra-European transport, 6% sustainable aviation fuel (SAF) must be added in 2030. Lufthansa also has voluntary quantities to expand the range of sustainable flights. Lufthansa expects sustainable fuels to prevail over fossil fuels by 2050.

Result

By 2030, alternative fuels based on biological resources will dominate the SAF market. Due to the limited availability of the required raw materials, an aggressive ramp-up of synthetic fuels (e-fuels) needs to take place between 2030-40, given the required fuel volumes. Lufthansa actively supports the development through cooperation and purchase agreements. Lufthansa's purchase agreements with Shell and OMV are among the largest with European airlines to date.

Latest climate report was published in 2021. The company's decarbonisation strategy relies significantly on carbon capture and storage, despite company's investments on the technology being insignificant. Currently, only 40 million tons are captured globally. The CFO has stated that the technology is still far from being commercially available. There are still many unknowns in relation to taxes, CO2 pipelines, price, lack of demand from the chemical sector. Chevron plans to spend $1 billion to grow renewable fuels production capacity aiming to reach 100,000 barrels per day by 2030. Chevron plans to invest $10 billion in lower carbon projects through 2028.

Chevron continues to invest significantly in oil & gas. The climate strategy appears not credible given the high reliance on CCS and the insignificant investment on the technology. Basically, BMW purchases lithium for the current BEV generation (Gen5) exclusively directly from mines in Australia, Argentina and Chile (supply). BMW's research so far has shown no evidence that the supply chain uses products that may have been manufactured by forced labour in Xinjiang.

Climate Strategy

Content

As part of our climate strategy at Union Investment, the particular focus is on those companies in our securities portfolio that - mostly due to their business model - emit a large number of greenhouse gases along the value chain and for which we hold a significant proportion of the outstanding shares or bonds. As a first step we request that Carrefour sets a net zero target on scope 1-3 by 2025. Therefore, we asked the company for dialogue.

Result

Carrefour plans to become carbon neutral of direct operations (Scope 1 & 2) by 2040. It has interim targets for scope 1-3 and aims to reduce indirect CO2 emissions by 29% by 2030. Additionally, Carrefour wants to ensure that their hundred biggest suppliers adopt approaches consistent with the SBTi, and the 30 biggest suppliers take up a climate commitment by 2025. At our next discussion we will ask for an update on the SBTi targets renewal and the scope 3 target setting.

Business in Russia

Content

The meeting was triggered by the publication of a list of Ukraine's anti-corruption agency, in which Unilever, along with other companies, was named an "international war sponsor". According to the Ukrainian anti-corruption agency, this list includes companies that have not yet announced their withdrawal from the Russian market or have not taken meaningful measures to reduce their activities in Russia. The accusation is that the taxes paid in Russia help to finance the war in Ukraine. As a result of this publication, we have been looking for a discussion with Unilever to understand the reasons and assess the reputational risk.

Result

Unilever closely monitors the incident and continuously checks for potential reputational risks. In particular, the behaviour of consumers is essential for this. Unilever is also committed to ensuring the support and care of its employees in Russia. The group employs approximately 3,000 employees in four factories in Russia. After reviewing the options, the company has decided to maintain operations for the time being. The operation is a self-contained system. There are no capital investments, no advertising and no dividend distribution.

Climate strategy challenges in Asia

Content

Telenor has set itself the goal of achieving carbon neutrality in Scandinavian operations by 2030. In Asian operations (India, Bangladesh, Pakistan, etc.), the aim is to achieve a 50% reduction in CO2 by then. Due to its relatively high level of Asian business, Telenor has a higher carbon footprint than competitors such as Telia. We also criticise the fact that no carbon neutrality target for the entire holding company (including scope 1, 2 and 3) was communicated by 2030 and 2040 respectively.

Result

The company justifies the lack of a climate neutrality target across the Group due to poor infrastructure and the relatively CO2-intensive energy supply ("dirty grid") in the Asian countries. They were somewhat dependent on climate policies and supply in their respective countries. Nevertheless, the company is trying to contribute to the green transformation through the promotion/construction of solar or (mini) wind turbines in the Asian markets there. It is currently unlikely that climate targets will be adjusted.

Independence, sustainability skills and remuneration

Content

The conversation mainly focused on the discussion of the independence of the Supervisory Board, in particular the chair of the Audit Committee, the comprehensible expertise of the sustainability experts and the amount of Management Board remuneration. We called for improvements in all three areas.

Result

According to Mr Appel, Ms Kollmann, who chairs the Audit Committee, is independent despite her long service. He criticised the formal criteria underlying the governance assessment in this case. With regard to the published skills of the Supervisory Board, he criticised the current approach and is committed to the publication of the three highest-weighted skills. On Management Board remuneration, he said that, from his point of view, the incentives generated by Management Board remuneration were overestimated. The discussion about the level of remuneration was extremely complex and difficult. At the same time, he pointed out that investments in the common good are only possible through globalisation and that German companies are successful, especially abroad.

Scientific validation Climate Targets & Employee Engagement

Content

As part of our Transformation Rating, we inquired if FedEx is planning on having its climate targets validated by the Science Based Targets Initiative. Also, we discussed probable development of absolute emissions in the coming years and the group's approach to achieving its goal of 30 % Sustainable Aviation Fuel as of 2030, given the capacity constraints. We requested disclosure of annual employee satisfaction survey results and inquired on high employee turnover rates.

Result

FedEx explains the pending validation of its climate targets with the lack of sectoral guidance and change in methodology by the Science Based Targets Initiative. FedEx's climate targets are underscored by its membership in the First Movers Coalition for the Aviation Sector. Increased absolute emissions in recent years were due to extraordinary pandemic effects. In the coming years, emissions are expected to decline, as the 'Network 2.0', 'Drive' and modal shift programs from air to ground transportation take effect. High employee turnover rates represent a normalisation of the pandemic overshoot. FedEx will follow up with information from Human Resources on the results of the latest employee satisfaction survey.

Climate strategy: Scope 1, 2 & 3 emissions targets 2050

Content

The near-term target for scope 1 and 2 has been validated by SBTi: -63% until 2030 compared to 2015. Scope 1 & 2 emissions target aligned with a 1.5°C trajectory. Airbus has identified scope 3 (downstream, use of sold product) emissions as the most dominant share of its total emissions (scope 1, 2 & 3). The near-term target for scope 3 has been validated by SBTi. Target for use of sold products is -46% reduction of CO2 emissions intensity generated by commercial aircraft until 2035. We talked to the Company about climate targets and CO2 reduction targets. Here we asked for more details or explanations.

Zero CO2 target for 2030 for scope 1 and 2. Means less than 10g CO2/kWh of electricity (due to the obligation to keep gas power plant capacity available). Target net zero BEFORE 2040 includes scope 1, 2 and 3. The pending acquisition of PNM Resources (USA) will have a negative impact; among other things, the expansion of pump storage capacity and the release of coal and gas power plant capacity will relieve the burden. Carbon offsets should only be used within the framework accepted by the SBTi with best in class carbon credits. Is plausible due to the uncontrollable CO2 emissions during network operation (compensation for network losses, etc.). In November 2023, the ESG department of Union Investment published a DAX climate study, which analysed the climate performance of all DAX companies. The study was the starting point of a follow-up discussion on feedback and suggestions for improvement for the company under investigation.

Result

The investigated aspects (climate ambition, climate compensation and CO2 reduction between 2017 and 2022) were discussed in more detail with the company. The performance of the company was discussed and suggestions for improvement were made. This concerned, for example, climate as a proportion of Management Board remuneration.

Materiality analysis for CSRD

Content

As a shareholder, we have conducted a materiality analysis with Kion for the most relevant E, S and governance issues.

Result

The analysis was carried out in the form of a 30-minute interview with a Porsche consultant. Since the holding has only a limited influence on the strategy and processes of the investments, we have primarily called for a Scope 1 & 2 climate neutrality target and that they should point to the poor governance of Volkswagen and Porsche AG in their involvement.

Debriefing of the general meeting

Content

We were contacted by the company to discuss our voting behaviour following the 2023 general meeting season. A similar conversation took place in the run-up to the summer general meeting.

Result

We discussed the fact that the Remuneration Committee is not sufficiently independent. We have also criticised the fact that the Chairman of the Audit Committee cannot currently be considered independent. The current structure of the Management Board remuneration was also grounds for criticism. No ESG criteria are included in the long-term variable remuneration component.

Management Board remuneration and Say on Climate

Content

In view of the fact that there is a new head of the Investor Relations department at Bayer, this meeting was used to get to know and highlight key criticisms from a governance point of view. We mainly called for improvements in Management Board remuneration.

Result

We commended the cooperation in the climate field via Climate Action 100 and encouraged Bayer to continue to think about a Say on Climate at the general meeting. The exclusion of the costs of litigation from the Management Board remuneration was also criticised. As aperiodic effects are not expected to be included in the Management Board remuneration in the future, there will be a further discussion in early January 2024 with the Chairman of the Supervisory Board, Mr Winkeljohann.

Walmart pointed out that these were older events in the area of workers' rights. Information is provided to the data suppliers and several engagements take place every year.

CEO substantiates position as "ESG champion"

Content

Demand from CEO Peter Herweck on how to implement the objective of "extending the position as an ESG champion" declared on Capital Market Day. Schneider Electric is already a clear pioneer in sustainability in its own business operations. Herweck still sees potential for improvement in the area of diversity & inclusion and equality, where the goals set for themselves have not yet been achieved. They also want to actively help customers with decarbonisation through electrification and digitalisation.

Result

The positioning as an "ESG champion" in the context of the Capital Market Day was clarified by the CEO with concrete objectives and the company strategy is integrated into it.

Raw materials sustainability risk addressed

Content

The sustainability of the supply chain was discussed during a meeting with various Management Board members. According to the CEO, the goal is to build long-term relationships with raw material suppliers. Particularly when it comes to the extraction of raw materials, it is difficult to find companies with a high level of sustainability. For this reason too, the reuse of raw materials is to become more important.

Result

An increase in the recycling of copper to 30% is likely to be a goal. In 2022, the rate was 10% and the target for 2025 is currently 16%, according to the sustainability report.

In this meeting, we mainly discussed the composition of the Supervisory Board and succession planning for the Management Board. In addition, as in the previous year, the diversity of senior management was discussed as well as the Management Board remuneration and the format of the general meeting. Above all, we called for transparency in succession planning and the introduction of a staggered board.

Result

Mr Jetter outlined the requirements of a successor for the vacant Supervisory Board seat and of Mr Weimer. The succession search for both positions is ongoing. Mr Jetter opposes a staggered board. Regarding diversity, Mr Jetter reported that HR Director Ms Eckert was responsible for the global strategy and that the topic was very important to her. Deutsche Börse is maintaining the virtual format of the general meeting and reports on its own positive experiences. New law on multiple voting rights in Italy

Content

Italy is preparing a new law to introduce multiple voting rights ("Legge Capitali"). The Italian state holds a stake of about 24% in Enel and could therefore continue to exert its influence in Enel if necessary, but mobilise money by selling shares (would be a stock overhang). We have queried the current status of the development.

Result

CEO Cattaneo explained that the law would apply to companies with major shareholders holding at least 60% of the shares, so no immediate relevance to Enel. On the procedure for corresponding companies: The general meeting would have to decide on an amendment to the Articles of Association by a majority of the votes represented at the general meeting.

The audit in Xinjiang was discussed. We also criticised the weak corporate governance (in particular the dependent Supervisory Board, the age structure and competence of the Supervisory Board and the dual function of the CEO).

Result

The weaknesses on the Supervisory Board are known, but are not being addressed. The Supervisory Board will continue to be occupied by family members and representatives of the state of Lower Saxony. We therefore do not expect further development or improvements until the majorities change. We have asked that Mr Blume give up a CEO role and - if it is likely to happen - over a period of several years. VW emphasised that UK and US investors have no problems with the dual role. Content

During the meeting, the topics of Management Board remuneration, the composition of the Management Board and the work of the Supervisory Board were discussed. Above all, we called for an appropriate level of maximum remuneration and transparency in succession planning.

Result

We discussed the increase in maximum remuneration and pointed out the impact of amounts in the double-digit millions. Siemens stressed the relative increase and pointed to evaluating the entire remuneration system. Siemens would like to make improvements with regard to sustainability data in Management Board remuneration. For this purpose, they are particularly concerned with Scope 3 upstream. There were already discussions on succession planning in the Management Board. Enlargement is planned as there are more cross-cutting issues. The topic of sustainability is very broad-based and lived in the Supervisory Board. Sustainability is seen as a basic requirement for any strategic decision, so there is no separate committee on this.

Result

Henkel has been able to give us a deep insight into its biodiversity strategy and which issues are currently being addressed most. It is precisely due to the regulatory pressure from the European Union that made us interested in the company's perspective. Since the shareholders' committee and the Management Board have so far had one woman, we asked about the company's diversity strategy. Management Board remuneration, diversity and the general meeting

Content

The meeting was used to discuss the revisions to the Management Board remuneration system. In particular, we called for an increase in the transparency of the key figures used. In addition, the topic of diversity at the first three management levels and the organisation of the general meeting were discussed.

Result

Deutsche Bank reported that the aim of the changes to the Management Board remuneration system was simplification. With regard to the competitor comparison, a 100% target achievement should now be set slightly more ambitious. The number of possible KPIs has decreased significantly (from >50 to single digits). The valuation of the equity yield is now based on the median rather than the average. CET1 should no longer be so prominently integrated in the LTI as regulatory requirements. Our call for greater transparency in the amount and nature of the key figures has been understood. The general meeting is to be held again virtually. It was also reported that diversity was a high priority, but progress took time.

Remuneration, Management Board composition and employee satisfaction

Content

The discussion mainly focused on getting to know the new chairman of the Supervisory Board, Dr Jens Weidmann, as well as on the topics of Management Board remuneration, the composition of the Management Board and employee satisfaction and the presentation of the path to the net zero target. We called for more precision and transparency. We also discussed the holding of the general meeting. Here we called for improvements in technology and the prospect of a general meeting in person.

Result

Following the introduction of Mr Weidmann, we discussed in detail possible improvements in the governance of Commerzbank. In particular, the topic of Management Board remuneration was examined. It will be voted on at the general meeting in 2025. We stressed the importance of a clear separation between short-term and long-term variable remuneration and the forward-looking focus of the key figures used. With regard to the composition of the Management Board, Mr Weidmann stressed the importance of stability. He wants to strengthen diversity. Since the previous general meeting had major technical disruptions, it is planned to conduct a test with the speakers in advance in the next cycle.

The FX ratio is calculated on the basis of all fund assets, including cash and liquidation of target funds. The following metrics are calculated on the basis of fixed-income assets, including liquidation of target funds and taking account of cash and derivatives: average yield, average coupon, average residual term to maturity, average duration and modified duration. When calculating the average residual term to maturity, floating-rate instruments are taken into account using their maturity date. The average rating is determined using a proprietary calculation method of Union Investment (Union Comp Rating) and is based on fixed-income assets, taking account of cash but not derivatives. All asset allocation overviews and the fund structure are based on the fund's economic assets, including liquidation of target funds. Derivative hedging positions are netted against the fund assets. All asset allocation overviews are presented excluding cash, third-party funds and real estate funds. The fund structure is assigned in accordance with the Union Investment Group's own asset allocation. Allocations may vary from those shown in annual and half-year reports. For sector allocation purposes, MSCI sectors are used for equities and Merrill Lynch sectors are used for fixed-income assets. The distribution yield (expressed as a percentage) represents the coupon in the relevant financial year. This is based on the net asset value at the start of the financial year, adjusted for the distribution relating to the previous financial year.
